Extraordinary Session of 1936.

SENATE

THURSDAY, JULY 23, 1936

The Senate met at 10 o'clock A. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Thomas Kennedy) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. William E. Howard, D. D., offered the following prayer:

"The earth is the Lord's and the fullness thereof, the world and they that dwell therein." This declaration, O God, gives us the philosophy of life Thou wouldst have us accept and the chart by which our lives must be guided if we travel in the course Thou hast planned. This philosophy is simple but comprehensive. It teaches that the treasures of earth and sea and sky have been hidden by Thy hand in the caverns, the depths and the expanses which lie beneath, around and above us. We are to discover and possess them, but they are still Thine. Our mission is to use and increase them; to make the world more beautiful and happy by means of them. We are simply to occupy them until Thou dost command that they be returned with usury.

This philosophy applies also to our personal endowments of body, mind and soul. There are flashes of Divinity hidden within each of us. Our task is to turn their light upon our own and others' lives and to focus the spotlight away from self and upon Thee, the source of our power.

Such a theory of living, believed and practised, would kill the greed and selfishness so prevalent in the world and would draw humanity back to Thee.

O God, inspire us thus to live. In the name of Him who by His life and death glorified His Father and called every man His brother, we ask it. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. SONES, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Centre will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, we would like to dismiss the serious problems which are facing our Legislature with a gesture and a laugh, but the time has come in the administration of the affairs of our government when ignoring our duties or laughing at our responsibilities will not increase the faith of the people of the State in the form of government which we all profess to cherish.

For two months the activities, or rather inactivities of the Republican majority of the State Senate have ridiculed, in the eyes of every citizen of the Commonwealth, our representative form of government. Every class of citizen of this State except a small group have gotten to the point where they disclaim ownership in the membership of this house. They say to themselves: Are these the people who are supposed to represent us? The conduct of the Republican majority in this Senate has unquestionably loosened the faith of the people of this State in representative government which we profess to be our most cherished form of expression of public opinion.

Since the second or third week of May, the Democratic party in this Senate has been endeavoring to persuade the Republican majority to do something; to have a program; to show the people of this State that we, at least, have some degree of moral courage and some intention to perform our legislative functions. Week after week action has been postponed, we could go through the journal week after week and see key bills on the calendar back in committee, out on the calendar again, and back in committee, to no purpose of any kind.

Perhaps if the Republican majority could adjust themselves to their own differences, we might be able to have some action in this Senate, but, are the people of Pennsylvania to look with disgust upon our entire Legislature because of the fact that Mr. Mellon and Mr. Grundy are willing that Mr. Pew should be taxed, and Mr. Pew and Mr. Mellon are willing that Mr. Grundy should be taxed, and Mr. Grundy and Mr. Pew are willing that Mr. Mellon should be taxed, but none of them will concede the fact that they should pay any taxes themselves. Why must our whole representative form of government be imperiled and why must the entire system of this Commonwealth be prostituted because of the internal wranglings of a party caucus.

Before we left this Senate Chamber two weeks ago, the representative of all three of these controlling elements of the Republican party stated very definitely to the Democratic side of the house that the following Monday night the Republican program, as they put it, would be stated upon the floor of this Senate. In pursuance with this agreement the gentleman from Delaware County made his famous statement that the Republican caucus had agreed upon $45,000,000 as their program for direct relief. In addition to this adequate tax legislation would be produced and passed by this Senate to finance the necessary expenditures for old age assistance, pensions for the blind, mothers assistance, flood relief and other necessary expenditures which are pressing the Commonwealth at this time.

Not only the other members of the Senate accepted the statement of the Republican Caucus that the sum of $45,000,000 would be provided by the Republican members of this house, and that that sum was the limit which they would permit to be appropriated for relief purposes, but the people of Pennsylvania accepted the word of the Republican Party.

This week the people of Pennsylvania have learned that the word of the Republican Party can no more be trusted today than it could have been under the Hoover Administration or the Pinchot Administration. The people of Pennsylvania, this week, have seen a perfect demonstration of the fact that, irrespective of promises, commitments or obligations, the Republican Party would sell out the people of this State without any qualms of conscience and with a smile on their countenance the minute the masters of their party machinery cracked the whip. On the 7th day of July, we listened to the Chairman of the Finance Committee detail to the Senate, as the intended action of the Finance Committee and the Republican Party for which he spoke, a tax program involving the sum of $50,500,000, including a corporate net income tax on the basis of 10% and yesterday we have seen reactionaries on the other side of the house completely run out upon their pledged word.

It is idle for anyone to throw up the smoke screen to the fact that the nebulous profits of the State Liquor Stores will provide the much-needed revenue. The Republican majority in this Senate know better than anyone else that the profits of the Liquor Stores are uncertain, and that even in the face of this uncertainty that whatever is raised from the profits from the State Liquor Stores has been, for a year, pledged to secure monies that the Republican majority of this State forced the Administration to borrow to finance the expenditures of the State Government during the past year. We have heard our Republican friends boast about the fact that they are Sunday School teachers and men of the highest moral character. Must it not be a satisfaction to them to know that they recommend to the people of Pennsylvania that they drink themselves into the payment of unemployment relief, old age assistance, mothers assistance and blind pensions and flood relief. The spokesman of the Republican Party yesterday, on the floor of this Senate said to the people of Pennsylvania—if you would have moderate progressive legislation written on the statute books of this State, and monies appropriated to carry into effect this legislation, you must drink more liquor, you must debauch yourself, if necessary. Isn't this a nice message for the moralists on the right to carry back to their Sunday School classes.

I think this is a typical Republican program—this is not a new program for the Republican Party—this has always been the Republican principle of financing security and relief measures. Let us go back to the Special Sessions of 1933 and 1934, when our liquor stores system was set-up. For what purposes were the anticipated profits of the liquor stores appropriated? Old age assistance, blind pensions, mothers assistance, $10.000,000 for State works, in fact everything that these same Republicans did not care to levy taxes for were approved out of the profits of the State Liquor Stores or a total of $65,000,000 was appropriated from the anticipated liquor stores profits in spite of the fact that the Republican's own Budget Secretary, Doctor Logan, only set-up a profit of $10,000,000. In customary Republican fashion, what happened to the profits of the State Liquor Stores? Instead of the liquor stores showing a profit during the Republican Administration, the stores system was so plundered for the benefit of every political henchman, that in the first year of operation the stores ran $15,000,000 "in the red." In the same manner today the majority side of this Senate avoid their obligation to the people of Pennsylvania by trying to chase the same will-o-the-wisp.

The bug has even bitten the only Republican who has shown any touch of liberality throughout this whole session of the Senate. Now we are to plunder the State Employes' Retirement Fund, the Workmen's Compensation Insurance Fund, the Teachers Retirement Fund.

Mr. President, just to digress one minute—in the light of this resolution to take the money of the Teachers' Retirement Fund—I want to call attention to the fact that one of the ways that Governor Landon balanced his budget in the State of Kansas, which he bragged about, was by reducing the salaries of the school teachers 30%.

How are we going to do this? The State cannot do this of its own initiative and does anyone imagine for a minute that the school teachers of the State of Pennsylvania are going to permit the Republican majority of this House to plunder what constitutes for most of them their life savings. Does anyone imagine for one minute that the people in charge of the State Workmen's Compensation Fund are going to run the chance of having those injured from industrial accidents prevented from receiving their compensation with regularities. Does anyone imagine that the employes of our State Government are going to permit their savings and accumulations to be plundered because the Republican majority in this Senate will not keep its word to the people of Pennsylvania?

Mr. President, three weeks ago, I warned this Senate that before this session was over we would see the Republican majority plundering our Game and Fish funds—the only reason that they have not done so today is because they lacked the moral courage to propound such a proposition. We have seen our whole highway system crippled on account of the attitude of the Republican majority in this State Senate. We have seen every borough, township, school district and county in this State embarrassed because the majority in this Senate listened to the voice of their master rather than the voice of the people of Pennsylvania.

The agreement which has been made has become a scrap of paper, an empty promise, never intended to be fulfilled, no taxes are to be levied. We are to break-up with our promises and agreements disregarded. We are to leave our townships, boroughs, school districts, crippled for another year. We are to leave our highways undermaintained and I say to you, Mr. President, that the Republican majority of this Senate must accept the full responsibility of this perfidy from the very night of the opening of this session.

The Governor and the Democratic members of this Legislature have assumed, toward all the problems before us, an attitude of reason, tolerance, and helpful negotiation, but the door has been closed, Mr. President, by the voice of their invisible government and those who listen to such voices must assume the public responsibility for their actions. I say to you, Mr. President, that when the Republican Party goes before the voters of this State this fall with their $1.08 a week ticket that they must say to the people of the Commonwealth, we will promise you anything, but you can't believe anything we say.

REMONSTRANCE

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I wish to present a remonstrance from representatives of the unemployed of Pennsylvania.

The PRESIDENT. The remonstrance will be read and spread upon the Journal.

The remonstrance was read as follows:

To the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

During your session yesterday, one of the Grundy Republican Senators declared that the unemployed in the galleries were interrupting the business of the Senate and that if these interruptions did not cease he would demand that the galleries be cleared.

We desire to make our position clear to the Senate and to the people of Pennsylvania. We have come here not to interrupt the business of the Senate, but on the contrary, to insist that the most important business before it shall be promptly and properly transacted. We have come here because the Senate has failed miserably for twelve long weeks to perform the business for which this special session was called—to provide immediate, adequate relief, without interruption to nearly 600,000 men, women and children of this State.

Today, because of YOUR failure to do your simple duty, these people who constitute 10% of the people of this state, face starvation. This is an emergency of even greater urgency than the emergency of the flood which recently threatened areas of Pennsylvania. A flood of stark starvation is today sweeping over 10% of the citizens of this State.

The voices you hear, and to which you object, are not merely the voices of the several hundred men and women in these galleries. It is the collective voice of the justly embittered people of this State. That voice, you cannot stifle or shut out by clearing these galleries.

Our duty, to which we will firmly adhere, is to insist that you act and act immediately to provide, not stop-gaps, but more permanent legislation for adquate relief on the basis of a 64c per day minimum, for the unemployed of this state who are dependent on relief.

We most respectfully declare, and we ask the people of Pennsylvania to judge us, that we will not budge or be diverted from the purpose which brought us here. If you will perform your duty as required by your oath of office, we will immediately and peacefully depart, just as we came. But, we say, that as long as you fail to do your duty, we and the people of Pennsylvania will consider that you have forfeited the rights and respect which you claim as the highest law-making body of this State.

You concluded your session yesterday, by adopting a resolution which was intended to confuse us. Later, during last night, efforts were made to intimidate us, by several times plunging this chamber into total darkness for hours, thus maliciously exposing to serious injury, the men, women and children who occupy this gallery. One of the women among us was in fact so seriously injured that she required hospital treatment.

Both of these efforts were inspired by the same group in this Senate. Both of these efforts have failed as must all efforts to confuse or intimidate us. They have only served to stiffen our determination and to increase the resentment of the people of this State, to fight out this battle to a finish. We are here for the duration of the war!

My dear Mr. Kennedy:—

I thank you and through you the Senate of Pennsylvania for their gracious action in passing congratulatory resolutions on the occasion of my eightieth birthday.

I appreciate the honor all the more highly because I believe that the passage of such resolutions is unusual and I am highly gratified at the unanimity of the passage of those resolutions.

Gratefully yours,

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I present the report of the Committee of Conference on Senate Bill No. 8, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to section one, article eighteen of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, on the question of personal privilege, on which I rise, I wish to interrogate the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, yesterday made what I consider serious charges against the members of this Senate. I would like the gentleman to state whether or not his charges referred to any Democratic Senators, or whether they referred to any other than regular Republican Senators.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, the matter referred to by me, in my remarks on the question of personal privilege, had reference to the majority group of this Senate.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. PRINCE. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Cumberland, Mr. Prince, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. PRINCE. Mr. President, on the question of person privilege on which I rise, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. PRINCE. Mr. President, if the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, found himself, by accident or invitation, in a caucus of Republican Senators, would he think that there was only one righteous man present?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, not ever being in a Republican caucus, I do not know.

Mr. PRINCE. Mr. President, is the Senator of the opinion that all the honesty, all the virtue, all the patriotism, all the milk of human kindness under this ceiling focuses in the political division in which the Senator has his seat?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. No, Mr. President, I yield to the extent that I still think there are some righteous Republicans.

Mr. PRINCE. Mr. President, from the day that the Senator from Fayette set his foot in this Chamber as a member he has accused his Republican colleagues of fraud, conspiracy, subordination of perjury, malfeasance of office and, I guess, of every crime in the calendar from petty larceny to treason, either as principals or as accessories before the fact. I shall not call the Senator an agitator, a blatherskite or a demagogue, for that would be unparliamentary language; but I will remind the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, that he is himself the beneficiary of the very party which he has traduced and villified, for it was the liberal immigration policy so long maintained by the Republican Party in the plentitude of its power that made it possible for Mr. Cavalcante to become an American citizen, and to sit at this moment in the Senate of Pennsylvania.

This nation, in the past, opened wide its gates to the oppressed and the ambitious of other lands; and so eager and so numerous were they who came, that the gates broad-gauged as they are, were almost jostled off their hinges in the effort to get in. They came from the Fens of Ireland, from the vineyards of France, from the forests of Central Europe and from the frozen regions of the far north. Some of the best of them came from Italy, the land of Columbus and Garibaldi. The Senator from Fayette was born under the crater of the world's most historic volcano, but I fear that the ashes of Vesuvius have obscured his perspective and has superheated his imagination.

The Senator has never outgrown his infancy, he still plays with toys; and his favorite instrument of diversion is the megaphone, through which he incessantly roars. With this discordant vehicle of sound and fury he imitates volcanic eruptions mingled with the raucous yells of the Wild Man of Borneo. I recommend to the Senator from Fayette that he emulate the choice of speech habituated by the more temperate of his Democratic colleagues.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, on my question of personal privilege I rise in defense upon the remarks made by the Senator from Cumberland. I stated once before, on the floor of this Senate, that had the Senator from Cumberland done a certain thing he would have sooner appreciated that the statements made by him on this floor were wrong; and I may inform him at this time that I am not an immigrant; that I was born under the sun here in America, and under the American flag. And the gentleman from Cumberland may well be advised again at this time that I carry the scars of war on my body, in defense of this Government. And the gentleman from Cumberland may well be informed at this time that I started my "infancy" in the Republican Party; but the corruption, dishonesty and un-Americanism that prevailed in that Party made it impossible for me to carry out that same Americanism and patriotism that induced me in my "infancy" to volunteer my services to the flag of this country. And the gentleman from Cumberland may rest assured today that my patriotism has not changed a bit from that same patriotism of 1917, and that my words on the floor of this Senate in condemnation of the conduct of the gentleman from Cumberland, the gentleman from Delaware and the other Republican Senators are because I feel that their conduct is inconsistent with an honest and decent patriotic Americanism.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to, and the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, this bill is an appropriation bill designed to carry $10,000,000. It is one of the partial appropriations such as made heretofore. We want to call the attention of the Senate that no provision is made, if this bill is passed, that we may get ten million dollars to use for the purpose for which it is intended. Not desiring to kill the bill, however, we will vote for it at this time under protest on our side.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Section 6 This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to, and the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, this is what is known as the Tax Anticipation bill, and in its present form as amended by the Republican Senators, is divided into two portions, the effect of which is to enable notes to be sold upon security of tax measures already passed to the extent of $25,000,000. Personally, I do not think that this is carrying out the agreement that we understood was entered into last Monday, but I have no intention of engaging in any quarrels for the personal satisfaction of winning a battle in a situation involving to the people such serious consequences as these. I am of the opinion that we can borrow $35,000,000. Now, the thing to do is to borrow it and distribute the money so that relief may begin as early as possible. I have very serious doubts that it can be done as quickly as is necessary, even by the passage of this bill. I do not think, however, that any of us should interfere, with anything that would help to bring about immediate relief for a considerable period of time.

According to the bills already passed in this Senate, there is available upon the estimates furnished by the Revenue Department, $35,000,000. if and when the taxes are paid. According to the amendment to this bill, the revenue, or security rather of the notes is as follows:

I am reading from Section 4, page 5, Printer's number 202:

"Any loans negotiated under the provisions of this Act shall be secured by the current revenues levied and assessed for revenue purposes of every kind or character accruing to the General Fund of the State Treasury during the two fiscal years beginning June first, one thousand nine hundred thirty-five, but such loans shall first be paid out of new revenue raised by laws enacted at the Special Session of the Legislature in the year one thousand, nine hundred and thirty-six, and from excess revenues and earnings from existing sources", etc.

Obviously this bill paves the way for the Republican majority to carry out the suggestion made by the Senator from Tioga, to borrow money on the contemplated profits of the Liquor Control Board. Doing that raises two questions, legal questions, and I am not going to discuss the validity of either question. I think I agree with some of the rest of the people around here, who think that if we had less lawyers in the Senate, we might be able to get along better — — —

Mr. BUCKMAN. I do too.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I happen to be a lawyer, and I am glad to get the concurrence of another lawyer, the gentleman from Bucks, for the first time in this session.

The two questions that have been raised and discussed by better legal minds than myself are, first, whether or not, having pledged all the revenue for the biennium 1935-37, we can again pledge that. In other words, we issued tax anticipation notes for the biennium 1935-37 as security. We now, under this bill, propose that the same taxes shall become security for this present loan.

The next question is not a legal question: it is whether or not there will be profits that we talked about. I do not know whether the State Stores will do business. I do not know whether whether when we get through the biennium there will be the same amount or revenue as anticipated or whether or not there will be a deficiency, and certainly if there is a deficiency, the holders of the first set of tax anticipation notes will have the right to come in and restrain us from taking any revenues occurring during the biennium of 1935-37 away from them, revenue to which they have the right, or at least they will contend they have the right to look for security. It is bad enough, in my opinion, to make relief dependent upon speculative profits of the liquor stores, and further dependent upon a legal question, but I am making these statements for the purpose of making the following suggestion in the form of a motion:

We have $35,000,000 worth of tax bills that have been passed. I suggest we pass tax anticipation note bills covering $35,000,000, permitting us to borrow $35,000,000 upon the security of this on these notes, and we eliminate a number of legal questions, and then the fiscal officers of this State will have less difficulty in raising the money and will undoubtedly raise it much sooner.

Everyone in the Senate knows that the Department of Justice will be obliged to pass on this question, and if the Department of Justice could firmly believe and honestly believe, that this will raise a legal question to such an extent that the Governor cannot sign the bill, we will only be delaying the preceding.

MOTION TO POSTPONE BILL

Therefore, I ask that action on the bill be postponed for the present, in order to prepare amendments and so that this bill will be in effect, the authorization to borrow $35,000,000 on tax anticipation notes against revenue bills already passed.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. OWLETT and Mr. GRAFF and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—19

Baumer,	Law,	Reed,	Ruth,
Cavalcante,	McCreesh,	(Washington)	Shapiro,
Frey,	McGinnis,	Rice,	Sones,
Huffman,	Miller,	Roberts,	Thompson,

Chapman,	Homsher,	Reed,	Trainer,
Coyne,	Howell,	(Dauphin)	Woodward,
Ealy,	Mallery,	Salus,	Ziesenheim,

So the question was determined in the negative.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the result of this vote shows that there are nineteen people in the Senate who represent nineteen different sections of the State of Pennsylvania who are interested in attempting to give some relief to a critical situation, and have an opinion upon a matter which is of some importance, I think. This vote shows that there are twenty-six Republican Senators who can at any time gather enough votes together to do that which they think they want to do, without regard to the interests represented by the other nineteen Senators, and I have tried and shall continue to try to try to be restrained in any language in discussing these problems, but I think the gentleman from Cumberland will admit that things of this kind make it difficult to maintain a calm and deliberate attitude, and I want to say now, that so far as I am personally concerned, I will not vote for the bill in its present condition, and I suggest that the eighteen other men will vote against this bill, for the time being, for the purpose of postponing it, so that we can at least present our views to the other twenty-six as to how this bill might be amended to have it legal and to avoid any legal difficulty in raising the $35,000,000 which we have only gotten from the Republicans after battling day in and day out, if they vote against this bill, and place the complete responsibility for it in the laps of the twenty-six men who can gather for their own protection the twenty-six votes, but cannot get enough votes for the tax bills which they agreed to pass.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, the twenty-six members who have voted against this motion are consistent with their past conduct to delay giving relief to needy people when they need it. The twenty-six gentlemen who have voted against this motion know well that this bill is of questionable constitutional validity as it now stands amended by them. They know that before this bill can provide any tax anticipation notes, it has to run the gauntlet of a constitutional test, and the bill is going through the constitutional test, the people who are walking the streets and byways of our Commonwealth will continue to starve.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I do not feel that this bill should pass in its present form. We on our side, of course, want to cooperate to put through a bill which will permit us to borrow money on tax anticipation notes. This bill, to say the least about it, or the best, perhaps, is that it is very clumsily drawn. It seems to me that it would be apparent to any lawyer that you cannot go into a bank and borrow money a second time on the same security without the consent of the banker. This bill pretends to pledge the securities that will arise through the tax bills that passed this year, but does not do so. It is the language of the same bill we passed a year ago. It pledges the same security that was used a year ago to borrow $50,000,000, all of which money is still unpaid. It does say that such loans shall be first paid out of the new revenue raised by laws enacted at the Special Session of the Legislature. I am saying that it does not specifically pledge the money that they are now trying to raise, and without that I doubt if any banker of Pennsylvania would take this as security.

Secondly, there was trouble enough a year ago to sell the fifty million dollars of notes on the security of all the revenues of the Commonwealth, not only the revenues raised for Emergency Relief, but all of the revenues. It took months to negotiate those loans, therefore, it seems to me that there will be no difficulty in anybody's mind to come to a conclusion that this bill and the security to be offered must be impeachable. No banker will loan $45,000,000 on questionable security, and this bill is condemned in toto by the Attorney General of the Commonwealth—I am authorized to say that—and it will not meet the conditions, it will not carry out the desires even of the Republican Senators, and it ought not be put through. After all, this is again a piece-meal method of trying to raise $45,000,000, and I think the majority here should have waited at least to consult the minority before these drastic amendments were placed into this bill, and should have gotten the opinion of the Attorney General before the bill was presented to the floor. We certainly cannot, with this, expect to raise any money, and it is needless to say that we will go to the funds controlled by the Commonwealth, the Teachers' Retirement Fund, for instance, and ask them to take spurious security. We cannot do that, and if the bankers do not take it, you are not assisting us in getting this money, and I hope our people will vote this bill down.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, just for the information of the Senate, I desire to state that the amendments to this bill were prepared by the Legislative Reference Bureau, under the direction of John H. Fertig, and in consultation with the State Treasurer and the Auditor General's office, who negotiated the Tax Anticipation notes last year. The amendments to Section Four are amendments specifically drafted in consultation with Mr. Fertig by those departments, both of which were made in an effort to eliminate some of the obstacles when they attempted to float the tax anticipation notes. We are advised by these two departments that this bill in its presen form will enable these notes to be negotiated and will meet the approval of the bankers with whom they anticipate to do the negotiating.

There has never been any suggestion that spurious notes of any kind be sold to any custodial fund in this State. At the present time a large block of the previous tax anticipation notes are held by the State Teachers' Retirement Fund, and this is a fund which every legislator considers inviolate, and there is no thought of tapping those funds. Of course, as everyone knows, there is, however, a thought that if these are the kind of securities which we assume them to be, they would be a good investment for these funds, and they apparently felt so because last year they bought some six or eight millions of them. I thought, however, that the Senate should know how these amendments were prepared and who prepared them.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,

BILL ON FIRST READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the first reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 107 (House Bill No. 156), entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the State Emergency Relief Board for direct relief and expenses defining the purposes for which such moneys may be expended creating public assistance boards in each county, and prescribing their powers and duties; imposing certain expenses on counties prescribing the powers and duties of the State Emergency Relief Board and certain State departments county officers, poor directors and courts of common pleas; prohibiting political activity by employes of the State Emergency Relief Board; and prescribing penalties.

And said bill having been read at length the first time,

Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, early in the day my genial friend from Centre, Mr. Thompson, informed the Senate that little or no money was available from the several funds that I had mentioned in the resolution that I presented on Monday night. He also expressed the fact that this was a raid on these funds. I repeat again that I would be the last one to raid these funds. And let it be understood again, as it was before, that this is not a transfer—there is no mention of transfer made in the resolution—but it is an offer to these several Funds to make a good investment.

Now, I am pleased to report that I have been informed by the Committee on Finance that they have held this meeting pursuant to the resolution, and desire that I report to the Senate that Mr. Fertig and Mr. Byerly, representing the State Employes' Retirement Fund, and Dr. Bache and Mr. Waters, representing the State Teachers' Retirement Fund, and Mr. Bashore, a member of the Governor's Cabinet, representing the Workmen's Compensation Fund—all of these representatives expressed interest in obtaining for investment these tax anticipation notes.

The rate of interest will be agreed upon, because the Board is composed of the Auditor General, State Treasurer and the Governor.

The State Teachers' Fund can produce immediately, for relief—when I say "immediately" I mean tomorrow or the day following—$6,000,000; and by the sale of some bonds and other investments that they have now, which they can sell at a fine profit, they will have available in a few days, or a comparatively short time, $25,000,000 which they are anxious to invest in these anticipation notes.

Mr. Byerly states that from his fund he will have $1,800,000 to immediately invest; and Mr. Bashore, a member of the Governor's Cabinet, informed us that he was anxious and willing to invest $365,000 in these anticipation notes.

Now then, I say, Mr. President, that the money is available. The resolution has passed; the purpose of it has been carried out; these men have met with the Committee on Finance and made a report that they have this money available. They will have other money available in a few days, and they are all in accord that it is a legal, proper investment.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I desire to interrogte the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, gladly.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, how much money did the Senator state was available from the State Workmen's Compensation Fund?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, $365,000.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I believe that compares very favorably with the amount stated by me last evening, does it not?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I believe that is correct.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, how much money is available from the State Teachers' Retirement Fund?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, $6,000,000 immediately, and the possibility of $25,000,000 from the State Teachers' Retirement Fund.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, how much from the State Eemployes' Retirement Fund?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, State Employes' Retirement Fund, $1,800,000.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I believe that figure compares very favorably with the figure stated by me last evening?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, that is correct.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, those amounts are cash, are they not?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I was not present at the meeting of the Committee on Finance—I do not know whether cash or not.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, do I understand that the information of the Senator from Allegheny is entirely second-hand that he received from the Finance Committee?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, that is correct.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, will the Senator from Allegheny again please state the amount of money that is available from the State Teachers' Retirement Fund?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, $6,000,000 immediately, and in the very near future, after the sale of some investments, on which they will make a handsome profit, $25,000,000.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, is that $6,000,000 available in cash?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, the $6,000,000 is available in cash, and the word is, it is available immediately.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, is it not a fact that this money that is to be raised from the State Teachers' Retirement Fund, the $6,000,000, and the $25,000,000 is at the present time invested in securities?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, the $6,000,000, as I understand, is free cash, the other is in securities that can be sold at a handsome profit.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, is the Senator from Allegheny confident that this $6,000,000 is in cash?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, it is my information that it is.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, and that information comes from the Finance Committee?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, that is correct.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, does the Senator from Allegheny understand that the tax anticipation notes will probably bear one or one and one-eighth per cent interest?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I was not present at the meeting. I say immediately, that is the word from the Finance Committee, it came from Dr. Bache, who made the statement.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I ask the Senator from Allegheny whether or not, from his very broad knowledge of public affairs of the State of Pennsylvania, tax anticipation notes of this Commonwealth have, and probably will, bear one to one and one-eighth per cent interest?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I have no knowledge of what arrangement is made for interest, except that the general tone was that it could be adjusted and was satisfactory.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I ask the Senator from Allegheny whether he knows what interest their present tax anticipation notes bear?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I do not.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, does the Senator from Allegheny know at what interest the portending anticipation notes will be issued?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I do not.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, does the Senator from Allegheny consider it a wise plan for the Teachers' Retirement Fund of the Commonwealth to sell securities of the Teachers' Retirement Fund bearing 4% or 4½% interest and reinvest at 1% or 1½% interest?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, that is a decision I do not have to make, that decision will be made by the Boards, who have experience in investments.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I am asking the Senator from Allegheny whether or not, in his experience of large business interests, whether or not that would be a good investment on the part of the Teachers' Retirement Fund?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, the matter of interest is one that will have to be determined by the Teachers' Retirement Fund, those that are responsible for it. The Senator from Centre has me on cross-examination as to whether or not I am a good business man. This is not the place for that question.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, does the Senator from Allegheny desire to avoid the answer to that question?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I do not try to avoid it, no.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I again repeat the question to the Senator from Allegheny as to whether it would be good business to sell securities bearing 4% to 4½% interest and reinvest those funds in other securities bearing 1% or ⅛% interest, which will mature inside of a year.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I frankly say no.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Tioga will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, it is unfortunate that the Senator from Centre did not talk with Dr. Bache, the representative of these funds. I am sure that he would not be at all exercised over their failure to use good judgment in the investment of their funds. Dr. Bache pointed out that during this entire depression, the State Teachers' Reirement Fund has never lost a cent of principal or interest; he also pointed out that the securities which they propose to sell, the basis on which they are now being sold, and on the basis of which they are being held, is about 2% interest rate, and he also pointed out that we could be sure that they would make no investment that would not be a good thing for the fund. It was pointed out that the State of Pennsylvania guarantees these funds 4% return on their money, that if they sold the bonds that they consider now to be at the peak in profit, they would make a large sum of money, bonds which are now yielding, at the present price, more than 2%. He said that Mr. Waters, who is on the Board, stated that he was sure that the State Treasurer, Auditor General and the Governor, would be very glad to make the interest rate on these certificates 2% or 2½%.

I want to assure the Senator from Centre that he does not need to have any concern about the proper management of these funds. The man handling them has nothing but the best interest of those funds in mind.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre.. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, does the Senator from Tioga consider it a good fiscal policy for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to issue these tax anticipation notes at 2% or 2½% to these Employees' Retirement Funds when they can sell the same tax anticipation notes for 1% or 1⅛% to outside sources?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I do, because the funds are funds that the Commonwealth set up for the protection of the teachers and employees who have contributed to them in the past, and the State, anyway, has guaranteed that they get 4% on that money. If they were to be sold to outsiders, of course, I would agree that they be sold at the cheapest rate possible, but when you are merely taking it out of one pocket and putting it into the other, I do not see the point.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, does the Senator from Tioga realize that the difference must be made up out of the pockets of the taxpayers of the State of Pennsylvania?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, but that difference would have to be made up out of the pockets of the taxpayers anyway.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, does the Senator from Tioga appreciate the fact that when these funds sell securities bearing a higher rate of interest and reinvest in securities at a lower rate of interest, that they must dig into the pockets of the taxpayers and make up the difference.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I do not so understand. Apparently the Senator from Centre does not understand that when a bond bearing 4% interest is sold at 115, it is not yielding 4%. If he would consult a banker, I am sure he would find out about that distinction. While these bonds bear interest at 4%, the amount at which they are being sold they yield about 2%.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, does the Senator from Tioga have any information as to what these funds paid for these securities when they purchased them?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I did not get the question?

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, does the Senator from Tioga have any information as to the amount the Funds paid for those securities when they purchased them?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I only know that if they are sold now, they will be sold at a very great profit.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, does the Senator from Tioga realize that if in less than a year these tax anticipation notes will mature and be be paid off, and the Funds must again reinvest this money at the same high price at which they sold these bonds?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I know that they will have to be reinvested when the tax anticipation notes are sold, but I do not know at what rate they will have to be reinvested. The Secretary, however, pointed out that it is the opinion of the Board which they propose to sell, should be sold now anyway, and they have only not sold them because they have not had an opportunity to invest the money, and this would furnish them that opportunity, and they are anxious to get this investment. I suggest that the Senator from Centre talk with these Trustees before he further interrogates any member of the Board about this matter.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcantefi, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, from the conversation that we have heard, it seems to me that it is not so much a desire on the part of the custodians of these Funds to buy tax anticipation notes of the Commonwealth as it is a great desire on the part of the bankers to have these securities owned by these Funds now, rather than to take a chance with these uncertain tax anticipation notes that this Republican majority of this Senate is arranging to turn out. It seems to me that that is the answer to all this. The Republican members of this Senate know that these tax anticipation notes, that they are so eager to sell, are not sound enough for these bankers to buy, but these bankers will buy up these good securities that have been such a good paying asset to these Funds.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I want to make a brief statement amout this: I think that the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, is trying to make a political matter out of this question, and I want to correct the statement made about Mr. Bashore, a member of the Governor's Cabinet. He did not say that he was anxious to get these certificates at all. He made no such statement, he made no statement whatever with respect to that, except that they had about $350,000 or $360,000 for investment. The real pith of this story is that we have no tax anticipation notes to sell, and until this bill passed by the Republican Senate today is corrected, so that it may be certified to by the Attorney General of this Commonwealth, we will not have any tax anticipation notes to sell, either to these Funds or to the bankers; I wish to say that could not be done, as we all know, the bill is in conference and there is no probability of that bill being reported out today. I do not think the legislature is going to be here tomorrow, or any other day, until Monday, and for that reason there is no money available, there is no security here to turn over to anybody to raise money.

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, in reply to the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Byerly stated that they would subscribe $365,000 value of these bonds at any time. That is my understanding of what he said, and I wrote it down as he said it.

HOUSE MESSAGE

JOINT LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE TO PREPARE A PLAN OR PERMANENT ADMINISTRATION OF UNEMPLOYMENT RELIEF

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, informed the Senate that the House has concurred in Resolution from the Senate, as follows:

In the Senate, May 12, 1936.

Whereas a centralized administration of relief is unsuited in some respects to a protracted program of dealing with the consequences of unemployment

Whereas the present constituted agencies for the care of the indigent throughout the Commonwealth are inadequate at the present time to assume the burden of the distribution of funds provided for unemployment relief, and

Whereas, private industry is failing to keep re-employment abreast of industrial and commercial recovery, and

Whereas it appears to be the duty of the Commonwealth for some period in the future to provide against the social consequences of unemployment,

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur) That the President pro tempore of the Senate appoint three Senators and the Speaker of the House of Representatives appoint three members of the House of Representatives to serve as a committee whose duty it shall be to prepare a plan of permanent administration of unemployment relief, which plan shall coordinate the activities of the Commonwealth and its municipal subdivisions, and to draft legislation which incorporate such plan, or plans and to report the same to the regular session of the Legislature in 1937.

Resolved. That the said committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman, requesting and commending any person or persons to appear before them and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of the Courts of this Commonwealth. Each member of said committee shall have the power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the committee. Any person who shall willfully neglect or refuse to testify before said committee or to produce any books, papers, records or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases.

Resolved That the Senate and House of Representatives will appropriate the sum of Five Thousand Dollars ($5000.00) to pay the expenses of the Committee in prosecuting its study of such legislation, the summoning of witnesses, postage, secretarial and clerical hire, the attendance of members at meetings and other expenses.

An Act requiring unemployment relief orders to be presented for payment within a certain period otherwise to be cancelled and the moneys appropriated for their payment to be escheated to the Commonwealth and credited to the current appropriation for unemployment relief purposes.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. BEAN. Mr. President, in view of the fact that in my opinion nothing of a practical nature can be accomplished by staying here any longer this week, I move that the Senate do now adjourn.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House do non-concur in the amendments made by the Senate.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I understand that there are amendments, not only the amendments of the Senate but that there are some amendments that are necessary in the bill as it passed the House and that it will be necessary to throw this bill into a conference committee. Therefore, not because we approve of the motion, I ask that the Republican members of the House go along with the motion to non-concur.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I appreciate the fact that at the present time the gentleman from Delaware representing the minority is seeing the light.

The bill as it has passed the Senate is a vicious piece of legislation, that could not accomplish its purpose. This particular bill provides for the issuance of tax anticipation notes, in the sum of some forty-nine million five hundred thousand dollars and appropriates a certain proportion of it to unemployment relief and the other proportion of it for general purposes. This bill breaks down the issuance of these notes into two categories: Series A and Series B, but irrespective of the break down, Section 4 of this particular bill as amended provides that all the excess revenues from the taxes which were created in the 1935 session and the taxes that formed the general tax structure of the Commonwealth that those excess revenues should be utilized and mortgaged for the repayment of these particular issues. The Democratic members of the Senate and the Democratic members of the House are quite willing, ready and willing to go along with an issue of tax anticipation notes which restricts the issuance of those notes to the sinking funds which are created by the taxes that are passed at this particular session of the Legislature, but we can not concur in the issuance of tax anticipation notes—

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I dislike to rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry upon the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, but it seems to me that we are again straying far afield in the procedure and, therefore, if he is going to debate the whole fiscal policy of this tax anticipation bill, I want to know whether the same latitude will be given to this side of the House.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, may I rise to a question of information?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of information.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, for the information of the gentleman from Delaware, I wish to assure him and the Speaker that no remarks that I will make in the discussion of these amendments will be afield from the particular amendments which are now before the House and with which it is concerned. I feel sure that up to the present time I have not transgressed in that respect.

The SPEAKER. In answer to the question of parliamentary inquiry raised by the gentleman from Delaware, the Chair feels that it has given a great deal of latitude to the speakers on both sides of various questions. If the gentleman who has the floor goes beyond the question before the House, the Chair is entirely willing to give the other side the same rights and privileges. However, the Chair requests that the gentleman who has the floor confine his remarks to the amendments now before the House.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I sincerely wish to renew the discussion on the factual grounds as presented by these particular amendments and the sound legal reasons which are applicable to the motion of non-concurrence that is before the House.

As I started to indicate, this particular bill mortgages the excess revenues of the Commonwealth, which excess revenues are created or arise out of the tax legislation which has existed in the Commonwealth and also by the existing tax measures that were passed at the last session of the Legislature. We issued, one year ago or more, the tax anticipation notes that are now outstanding in the Commonwealth and at the time of issuance the act, under which those notes were issued, provided that the entire revenues of the Commonwealth, the current revenues of the Commonwealth existing at that time were mortgaged for the redemption of fifty million dollars of tax anticipation notes, which are now in existence. This particular act, in Section 4, attempts to use those excess revenues as the sinking funds and the sources out of which the present issue of forty-nine million five hundred thousand dollars of tax anticipation notes are to be paid.

Now, those particular revenues include the excess revenues as I have indicated, and if this bill could be amended, could be so amended or made to conform with the taxes which have been passed in this particular session, amendments to that effect would be very gladly concurred in by this House, if by so concurring in those amendments it would be possible with the thirty-five million dollars of taxes, which the House and the Senate have now passed, we could issue tax anticipation notes against the thirty-five million dollars. If the problem as to excess revenues is to be considered, then that problem should be placed before the House in a different, distinct, separate bill, so that the issuance of the thirty-five million dollars will not in any manner be in doubt. To concur in this bill in its present form would allow the entire issue of forty-nine million five hundred thousand dollars to be subject to grave legal doubt and concern, and there might be a great possibility that if these notes were issued under this particular legislation the bankers would not approve them, because this bill, as I have indicated before, takes into consideration the excess revenues of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

For those reasons and for the reason that it is very necessary at this particular session, prior to adjournment that we have a bill that will meet the necessary requirements of the issuance of tax anticipation notes and in an endeavor to have this bill so cured in a conference committee, whereby the defects that are patently present, can be cured by rectifying amendments, I ask that this House do non-concur in the amendments of the Senate.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I see no reason to prolong the agony by answering the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, with a legal argument which I do not believe would be of any interest to most of the members of the House, because there are always opinions on both sides of an argument. But it seems to me that the gentleman from York has taken a lot of space to say that he was going to non-concur in these amendments. The plain facts are that the bill has been over there and if there is a difference of opinion, the sensible thing seems to be after a conference with some of the Senate and some of the legal authorities who are trying to work the matter out—the sensible thing, it seems to me, is to throw it into conference, and that is the sole purpose that I made the suggestion on my own behalf and for my colleagues in trying to clarify the situation as I saw it.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

APPROVAL OF HOUSE BILL No. 68

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, July 23, 1936.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed House Bill No. 68, Printer's No. 191, entitled, "An Act Authorizing the Department of Forests and Waters to make a survey and investigation with respect to flood control and the coordination of any Federal and State flood control program and making an appropriation."

GEORGE H. EARLE.

VETO OF HOUSE BILL No. 82

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, July 23, 1936.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I return herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 82, Printer's No. 121, entitled "An Act to amend section one of the act approved the thirtieth day of March one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws thirty-four) entitled 'An act to promote the health and efficiency of firemen in cities of the second class by providing for a two-platoon system for firemen in the department of public safety of such cities' as amended by changing the hours of the day and night shifts."

This bill would amend the Act of March 30, 1915, P. L. 34. That act provides for a two-platoon system of firemen in certain cities. The present bill would increase the hours of work of both platoons at the end of each two-week period, when the day and night platoons change tricks. The amendment would equalize the hours of duty and service required by the said act.

Although I am completely in sympathy with the objectives of this bill, the bill does not come within any provision of my call for the Special Session of the General Assembly and is therefore unconstitutional.

For this reason the bill is not approved.

GEORGE H. EARLE.

On the question,

Shall the bill become a law, the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding.

COMMUNICATION AND BILL LAID ON TABLE

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the communication together with the bill be laid upon the table.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor, being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL No. 81

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, July 23, 1936.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I return herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 81, Printer's No. 188, entitled "An Act to amend section one of the act approved the twenty-fifth day of April one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five (Pamphlet Laws eighty-two) entitled 'An act requiring certain cities to allow members of the fire departments twenty-four consecutive hours of rest each week and fourteen day's vacation each year except in emergency cases' by providing that the provisions of said act shall be mandatory and prohibiting any diminution of salary or compensation and exempting cities of the third class from the provisions of said act."

This bill would amend Section 1 of the Act of April 25, 1935, P. L. 82. That act requires certain cities to allow members of their fire departments twenty-four consecutive hours of rest each week, and fourteen days' vacation each year, except in emergency cases. The present bill would make the provisions of the Act of 1935 mandatory, would prohibit any diminution of salaries or compensation, and would exempt cities of the third class from the provisions of the said act.

Although I am completely in sympathy with the objectives of this bill, the bill does not come within any provision of my call for the Special Session of the General Assembly and is therefore unconstitutional.

For this reason the bill is not approved.

GEORGE H. EARLE.

On the question,

Shall the bill become a law, the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding.

COMMUNICATION AND BILL LAID ON TABLE

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the communication together with the bill be laid upon the table.

The motion was agreed to.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Monday, July 27, 1936, at 9:00 P. M.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 6:33 P. M.) the House adjourned until Monday, July 27, 1936, at 9:00 P. M.

SENATE

MONDAY, JULY 27, 1936

The Senate met at 9 o'clock P. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant Governor Thomas Kennedy) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. William E. Howard, D. D., offered the following prayer:

Without faith it is impossible to please Thee, our Father in Heaven; and it is vital to our temporal and eternal interests that we do please Thee. We may do good deeds, bestow great gifts, accomplish mighty achievements and call forth the plaudits of the multitudes and yet fail to receive Thy commendations. We must have that simple faith in Thee which earthly children repose in their parents before Thou canst say unto us "Well done, thou good and faithful servant"; and it is vain for us to profess such faith when we lack it, for Thou dost read the intent of the human heart as we read the pages of an open book.

Humanly speaking, faith is vital in all departments of society. Without it our homes, our business, our government and all institutions which minister to our happiness and well-being would collapse.

May every movement which tends to kill the faith of men in Thee and in one another meet defeat. Speed the day, O God, when all the ends of the earth shall call Thee Father and all men everywhere shall call each other brother.

This we ask, trusting Thy power and willingness to answer, in the name of Thy Son. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. SONES, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

The PRESIDENT. May the Chair say, in starting this session of the Senate, that he hopes the Senators will consider—agree with the Chair—that the supply of personal privilege speeches has been exhausted. I think that will facilitate the work of the Senate.

May I say to those present here this evening that the Chair has no desire to interfere with any evidence of approval or disapproval of the action of the Senate; but in the conduct of the business of the Senate, such as roll calls and other business, the Chair expresses the hope, in the interest of bringing about a speedy and satisfactory conclusion of this Session, that we may have order during the discussion and during the roll calls—and will you help the Chair to accomplish that fact?

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Mr. HARVEY asked and obtained leave of absence for the Senator from Luzerne, Mr. Sordoni.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON SENATE BILL No. 8

To the Members of the Senate and House of Representatives:

We the undersigned Committee of Conference on the part of the Senate and House of Representatives for the purpose of considering Senate Bill No. 8 entitled:

"A JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing an amendment to section one article eighteen of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania" respectfully submit the following bill as our report:

GEORGE L. REED,
BENJAMIN H. THOMPSON,
GLEN R. LAW,
Committee on the Part of the Senate
HOMER S. BROWN,
R. O. MINSKY.
ROBERT E. WOODSIDE, JR.,
Committee on the Part of the House of Representatives

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to section one article eighteen of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

Section 1 Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met That the following amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania be and the same is hereby proposed in accordance with the eighteenth article thereof

That section one article eighteen of the Constitution of Pennsylvania is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1 Any amendment or amendments to this Constitution may be proposed in the Senate or House of Representatives and if the same shall be agreed to by a majority of the members elected to each House such proposed amendment or amendments shall be entered on their journals with the yeas and nays taken thereon and the Secretary of the Commonwealth shall cause the same to be published three months before the next general or municipal election in at least two newspapers in every county in which such newspapers shall be published and if in the General Assembly next afterwards chosen such proposed amendment or amendments shall be agreed to by a majority of the members elected to each House the Secretary of the Commonwealth shall cause the same again to be published in the manner aforesaid and such proposed amendment or amendments shall be submitted to the qualified electors of the State in such manner and at such time at least three months after being so agreed to by the two Houses as the General Assembly shall prescribe and if such amendment or amendments shall be approved by a majority of those voting thereon such amendment or amendments shall become a part of the Constitution When two or more amendments shall be submitted they shall be voted upon separately.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the report?

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I will just take a moment to explain the actual changes in the eighteenth article of the Constitution which are made in this conference report. The words "or municipal" are added to the words "next general," so it reads "next general or municipal election." This was the amendment inserted by the House of Representatives and which we think clarifies the existing interpretation of this article.

The material change other than that which I have referred to consists of striking out the words "but no amendment or amendments shall be submitted oftener than once in five years." In other words, the five-year provision will be stricken out so that in the future, should this amendment be adopted, whenever any Legislature adopts an amendment and the subsequent Legislature adopts the same amendment, it shall go to the people at the next general or municipal election.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, we will note by the History of the Senate, as well as that of the House, that during this Special Session there have been a large, large number of bills introduced seeking constitutional amendments to the present Constitution. The number of bills introduced for the purpose clearly indicates that the present Constitution needs considerable overhauling; and it is because I believe in a revision of the Constitution, the present Constitution, that I intend to vote "No" on this Conference Committee report.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the report?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—39

Aron,	Harris,	Prince,	Scott.
Batchelor,	Harvey.	Rankin,	Shapiro,
Baumer,	Homsher,	Reed,	Sones.

Gelder,	Miller,	Salus,	Woodward,
Graff,	Pierson,

NAYS—4

Cavalcante,	McCreesh,	Pytko,	Reed, (Washington)

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 93 (House Bill No. 134), entitled:

An Act requiring unemployment relief orders to be presented for payment within a certain period otherwise to be cancelled and the moneys appropriated for their payment to be escheated to the Commonwealth and credited to the current appropriation for unemployment relief purposes.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—42

Aron,	Harris,	Pytko,	Salus,
Batchelor,	Harvey,	Rankin,	Scott,
Baumer,	Homsher,	Reed,	Shapiro,
Bean,	Howell,	(Dauphin)	Sones,

Graff,	Prince,

NAYS—1

Kahle,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 102 (House Bill No. 136), as follows:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by adding thereto a section

Section 1 Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met That the following amendment to the Constitution of Pennsylvania be and the same is hereby proposed in accordance with the eighteenth article thereof

That article nine be amended by adding thereto the following section

Section 17 In addition to the purposes stated in article nine section four of this Constitution the State may be authorized to issue bonds to the amount of forty-two millions of dollars ($42,000,000) for the acquisition of lands and buildings and the construction and improvement of State owned buildings and the equipment thereof for the care and maintenance of penal offenders delinquents mental defectives epileptics persons mentally diseased and tuberculosis patients and for the construction and equipment of buildings at the Pennsylvania State College

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to amend page 2, line 3, by inserting after the word "diseased" the following: "the sick and the injured"

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

The PRESIDENT. Does the Senator from Schuylkill wish to explain his amendment?

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. President, I have been requested by several members of the Senate to explain the purpose of this amendment. This resolution, when it came over from the House, through inadvertence, neglected to state that a portion of these $42,000,000—if this Session should pass it, and the next session, and it then goes before the people and they approve it,—that a portion of the $42,000,000 can be used for institutions that take care of the sick and injured. The very proof of that—that it was the intention of the sponsors of this bill, Messrs. Cohen and Turner,—I refer the members of the Senate to a statement dated June 29, 1936: "H. R. 136 COHEN AND TURNER. Proposing Amendment to State Constitution to authorize a $42,000,000 bond issue for construction at State Owned Institutions under jurisdiction of Departments of Health and Welfare. Will provide approximately:"—Now, the members of the Senate will note, in scanning over the list of institutions, that we give to the

Ashland State Hospital	$170,000.00
Blossburg State Hospital	96,000.00
Coaldale State Hospital	262,370.00
Connellsville State Hospital	46,367.00
Hazleton State Hospital	777,195.57
Locust Mountain State Hospital	267,472.95
Nanticoke State Hospital	152,457.00
Philipsburg State Hospital	173,500.00
Scranton State Hospital	941,500.00
Shamokin State Hospital	118,300.00

Now, if the members of the Senate will refer to House Resolution No. 136, they will note this language:

"Section 17. In addition to the purposes stated in article nine, section four, of this Constitution, the State may be authorized to issue bonds to the amount of ofrty-two millions of dollars ($42,000,000) for the acquisition of lands and buildings, and the construction and improvement of State owned buildings and the equipment thereof, for the care and maintenance of penal offenders, delinquents, mental defectives, epileptics, persons mentally diseased and tuberculosis patients, and for the construction and equipment of buildings at the Pennsylvania State College."

I respectfully submit that none of the institutions that are enumerated in this circular of June 29, 1936, that I have mentioned here this evening, fall under any qualifications mentioned in this resolution as it came over from the House. It was the clear intent of the sponsors that these institutions become part and parcel of this general scheme, which can profit by passage at this Session and the next regular Session, and provided it be approved by the people, of this $42,000,000 program.

And it would be, I would say,—well, the height of silliness for us to say here that we are going to spend $42,000,000 for penal offenders, epileptics and mental defectives, and, in the next breath, neglect those that are sick and injured. It surely was not the intent of the sponsors of this resolution that that should be the purpose wrought by this resolution.

In taking the matter up with those in authority in the House, they were of the opinion, including one of the sponsors, that this resolution—that the language contained therein would take care of the sick and injured; and after drawing their attention—word for word—to this resolution, they agreed it does not take care of institutions that take care of he sick and injured. Hence, I do not think there is a man in this Senate who should vote against this amendment.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Schuylkill, Mr. Staudenmeier.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Schuylkill, Mr. Staudenmeier, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, is it the intent of this amendment that this money shall be applied only for wholly-owned State institutions?

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. President, wholly-owned State institutions.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I should be obliged to object to the granting of unanimous consent, because by the wording of this Act this will mean there will be additional funds granted to State-aided institutions. There is nothing in the wording, as the resolution is now prepared, to prevent the Senator's amendment applying also to the institutions receiving State aid. Those who will read the Act will notice it provides for $42,000,000 for the acquisition of lands and buildings, and the construction and improvement of State-owned buildings, and the equipment thereof, and then deals with the care and maintenance of penal offenders, and so forth. If the two words "sick and injured" are inserted, it would mean this money would be used for the purpose of helping State-aided institutions. There is no intent in the minds of the framers of this resolution as to state-aided institutions—to cover that. State-aided institutions receive benefits from this Legislature every two years, and are already provided for on the per diem basis.

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. President, in answer to the Senator from Philadelphia, I would respectfully draw to his attention that the institutions I have enumerated are wholly-owned institutions; they are not Sate-aided hospitals, they are State-owned hospitals, and come within the very language of this resolution.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, may I further interrogate the Senator from Schuylkill, Mr. Staudenmeier.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Schuylkill permit himself to be interrogated further?

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, will the Senator be willing to correct his amendment so that the words "sick and injured in State-owned hospitals" will be added?

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. President, I certainly have no objection to adding that language to the amendment, but I respectfully submit that in the fore part it refers to State-owned institutions. Let me read it here· "Section 17. In addition to the purposes stated in article 9, section 4, of this Constitution, the State may be authorized to issue bonds to the amount of forty-two millions of dollars for the acquisition of lands and buildings and the improvement of State-owned buildings . . ."

Rather than have any doubt about this matter, I will be glad to go with the Senator tomorrow and take it up with the Legislative Reference Bureau.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. President, in deference to the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, and any other member of the Senate who may have any doubt as to the effect of this amendment, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 102 (House Bill No. 136), go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

CONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL No. 102

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of Senate Bill No. 102 (House Bill No. 136), on third reading, entitled:

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order.

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 102 (House Bill No. 136), as follows:

Section 1 Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met That the following amondment to the Constitution of Pennsylvania be and the same is hereby proposed in accordance with the tighteenth article thereof

That article nine be amended by adding thereto the following section

Section 17 In addtiion to the purposes stated in article nine section four of this Constitution the State may be auhorized to issue bonds to the amount of forty-two millions of dollars ($42,000,000) for the acquisition of lands and buildings and the construction and improvement of State owned buildings and the equipment thereof for the care and maintenance of penal offenders delinquents mental defectives epileptics persons mentally diseased and tuberculosis patients and for the construction and equipment of buildings at the Pennsylvania State College

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, I object to immediate consideration—I have no objection to immediate consideration, but I question the advisability of adopting these amendments.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, will state his point of order.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, my point of order is, this bill is on third reading, and unless the amendments are inserted by unanimous consent, the amendments cannot be inserted at all.

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. President, I respectfully call to the attention of the Chair that no objection was offered to the amendment.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Beaver did not object.

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, I did not object to the consideration of the amendment. I would object to the immediate adoption of these amendment, then, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair is of the opinion that the Senator from Beaver is rather late with his objection. The Chair rules that no objection has been made to immediate consideration. That is the decision of the Chair.

Mr. BATCHELOR. All right, Mr. President. Of course, I want to speak against the adoption of the bill then.

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. President, I take it now—I am merely asking for information—raising a point of information: There is nothing before the Senate except that the Chair will direct that the bill lie over for printing.

The PRESIDENT. If the Senate agrees to the amendment.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I renew my point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, will state his point of order.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, unless the amendments are actually inserted, on third reading, they cannot be inserted unless the vote be reconsidered on second reading.

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. President, I again draw to the attention of the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, that no objection was made to the insertion of the amendments.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair did not hear any objection, not even by the Senator from Beaver.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, while I do not exactly understand what you mean, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Beaver, Mr. Batchelor, will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, I understood the Chair to ask if there was any objection to immediate consideration of these amendments, and I said that I did not object to immediate consideration but that I did object to the amendments.

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. President, with the explanation that the Senator from Beaver has now given, I imagine that the parliamentary procedure is in form.

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. President, I move to reconsider the vote by which the bill No. 102 passed second reading.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. President, I voted "aye".

Mr. HARVEY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. HARVEY. Mr. President, I voted "aye".

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. President, I move to reconsider the vote by which the title was agreed to.

Mr. HARVEY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the title?

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. President, I move to reconsider the vote by which the first section of the bill was agreed to.

Mr. HARVEY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

The first section of the bill was read as follows:

Section 1 Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met That the following amendment to the Constitution of Pennsylvania be and the same is hereby proposed in accordance with the eighteenth article thereof

That article nine be amended by a 'ding thereto the following section

Section 17 In addition to the purposes stated in article nine section four of this Constitution the State may be authorized to issue bonds to the amount of forty-two millions of dollars ($42,000,000) for the acquisition of lands and buildings and the construction and improvement of State owned buildings and the equipment thereof for the care and maintenance of penal offenders delinquents mental defectives epileptics persons mentally diseased and tuberculosis patients and for the construction and equipment of buildings at the Pennsylvania State College

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. President, I move to amend page 2, line 3, by inserting after the word "deceased" the following: "the sick and the injured".

Mr. HARVEY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section as amended?

It was agreed to.

The title of the bill was read as follows and agreed to:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by adding thereto a section

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

MOTION TO ADJOURN

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until tomorrow at twelve o'clock noon.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

(Prolonged interruption from the gallery)

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The PRESIDENT. Let me say to those in the Hall that the Conference Committee on the tax anticipation notes is now meeting and will likely be in session all night. The Appropriation Committee reported bills out tongiht and will meet in the morning. Therefore, under the parliamentary rules of the Senate nothing can be done until these committees report back to the Senate. The Chair has recognized the motion to adjourn until noon tomorrow, and it is hoped that these committees may be able to report.

The Chair has no alternative but to put the motion. The motion is to adjourn until noon tomorrow.

ORDER OF THE DAY CALLED

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, it being twelve o'clock midnight, I call for the order of the day.

QUESTION OF QUORUM

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, there are four members who are requesting the call of the roll to ascertain whether or not a quorum is present.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia raises the question of a quorum.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, my question is that no quorum being present, the motion to adjourn cannot be taken, and since I am here, I expect all the rest of the members of the Senate to be here. I shall make a further motion when this question is determined. I shall not attempt to compete with the noise from the gallery, and I suggest that the gallery subside so that we may be able to transact business; therefore, I ask that the roll be called for the purpose of ascertaining whether there is a quorum present.

The PRESIDENT. The roll will be called to ascertain whether or not a quorum is present.

The roll was called and the following were present: Messrs. Aron, Batchelor, Buckman, Cavalcante, Chapman, Ealy, Frey, Gelder, Graff, Harris, Homsher, Huffman, Lanius, McCreesh, Owlett, Pierson, Pytko, Ruth, Saus, Scott, Shapiro, Thompson (Centre), Thompson (Westmoreland), Trainer.

The PRESIDENT. The roll call shows twenty-four members present, which is less than a quorum.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I now desire to read Rule 35: "When, upon a call, which may be demanded by not less than four Senators, it is found that less than a quorum is present, it shall be the duty of the President to order the doors of the Senate to be closed, and to direct the Clerk to call the roll of the Senate, and note the absentees, after which the names of the absentees shall again be called, and for those whose absence no excuse, or an insufficient excuse, is made, may, by order of a majority of the Senators present, be sent for and taken in custody by the sergeant-at-arms, or his assistants appointed for the purpose, and brought before the bar of the Senate, where, unless excused by a majority of the Senators present, they shall be reproved by the President for neglect of duty."

I now call for the Chair to act in accordance with Rule 35.

The PRESIDENT. The Secretary will announce the absentees.

The absentees were as follows:

Messrs. Baumer, Bean, Bennett, Clark, Coyne, Harvey, Howell, Kahle, Law, Mallery, McClure, McGinnis, Miller, Prince, Rankin, Reed (Dauphin), Reed (Washington), Rice, Roberts, Rodgers, Rupp, Sones, Sordoni, Staudenmeier, Woodward and Ziesenheim.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair instructs the sergeant-at-arms to gather together the absentees.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I and four other Senators raise the question of a quorum.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I object. Rule 35 has not yet been executed. Rule 35 requires that the sergeant-at-arms be sent for the absent members to make excuses. They have not yet been sent for, and I have heard no report from the sergeant-at-arms.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, it does not say anything of the kind. It says, "by action of a majority." I renew my call for a test vote on a quorum being present, and I ask that four Senators stand up and join me.

The call was seconded by Messrs. Homsher, Reed (Dauphin), Chapman and Batchelor.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia will state his point of order.

Mr. SHAPIRO. The motion made by the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, is out of order, because Rule 35 has not yet been executed. It requires more than the mere bringing in of a quorum. The Rule requires, as I read it, that sergeant-at-arms shall be sent to bring in the absent Senators, and they shall be brought to the bar of the Senate to give excuses, and until they do so the Rule has not been executed.

The PRESIDENT. The latter part of the Rule referred to by the Senator from Philadelphia provides that the Chair shall ascertain if a quorum is present, then the roll of the absentees shall be called, and in the meantime the absentees are to be sent for. The majority vote of the Senate is necessary, in the latter part of the Rule, to require appearance before the bar of the Senate.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I renew my call for the presence of a quorum, which has already been seconded.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call on the previous question.

The PRESIDENT. The Rule provides that the absentees shall again be called, then a majority vote of the Senate shall decide as to what shall be done with those not responding to the absentee call.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I now move, in accordance with Rule 35, that the absent members, with the exception of Senator Prince, whose absence we all can understand there is a reason for, be sent for by the sergeant-at-arms.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, will state his point of order.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, my point of order is that a majority of the Senate has answered to the roll call, and there is a previous question pending before the House, for which I now call.

The PRESIDENT. The Chairs feels that the point raised by the Senator from Bucks is not well taken, by reason of the fact that the motion of the Senator from Philadelphia is to carry out the purpose and principle of raising the question of no quorum, and that its natural sequence provides that they shall be sent for in accordance with the motion. It is up to a majority of the Senate to decide on that motion. The motion is made by the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, seconded by the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. McCreesh, that the absentees who did not respond shall be sent for by the sergeant-at-arms.

MOTION TO ADJOURN

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until twelve o'clock noon tomorrow.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair has ruled that the motion of the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, is the natural sequence to the point of no quorum. It is therefore in order. The motion is that the absentees be sent for.

On the question the roll will be called and the Clerk will proceed.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I understand that we are voting on the motion made by me that the absent Senators be sent for.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair informs the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, that his understanding is correct.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. SHAPIRO and Mr. McCREESH and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—10

Cavalcante,	McCreesh,	Ruth,	Thompson,
Frey,	Pytko,	Scott,	(Centre)
Harris,	Rupp,	Shapiro,

NAYS—19

Aron,	Gelder,	Lanius,	Rodgers,
Batchelor,	Graff,	Mallery,	Salus,
Buckman,	Homsher,	Owlett,	Thompson,
Chapman,	Howell,	Pierson,	(Westmoreland)
Ealy,	Huffman,	Reed,	Trainer,
		(Dauphin)

So the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I call for my previous motion, which was made at ten minutes to eleven and has not yet been put by the Chair.

The PRESIDENT. The question is on the motion made by the Senator from Bucks, that the Senate stands adjourned until twelve o'clock tomorrow noon.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I propose to ask for a roll call on this motion, and I propose to vote against the motion. My reason—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. BUCKMAN. I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Bucks will state his point of order.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, the motion to adjourn is not debatable.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, since we are indulging in technicalities, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, will state his point of order.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, my point of order is that there is a motion before the House that is not debatable, and the question of personal privilege is not in order.

The PRESIDENT. A motion to adjourn is not debatable.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I gave the orders to a gentleman who—

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, is the Senator afraid to tell his name?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I am not afraid to tell the Senator from Tioga, or anybody else on the floor. I do not know the gentleman's name, but I, or anybody else, can very quickly—

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I should be very glad to have the Senator from Tioga interrogate me.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I should like to ask the Senator from Philadelphia who he spoke to a little while ago, asking that the crowd in the gallery keep quiet.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the gentleman who came down here to address the Senate last week—I do not know his name, but I understand he is one of the unemployed, very much interested. If the Senator from Tioga is interested in him, I think he wil give the Senator fuller details.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, if he is the man who organized this hunger march.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, if I organized the hunger march the Senator from Tioga would not be as comfortable as he is now.

Mr. President, for the benefit of the Senator from Tioga and the rest of the members of this Senate, I do not know a single person in this group; but I do know what I am here for, and that is to answer the call of this Session, which was to provide relief and take care of the other matters in the call.

Mr. President, if some more Republican Senators walk out, I will call for a quorum again.

Mr. President, my reason for insisting again—

Mr. President, if we are going to play marbles, I can play marbles, and I know how to play marbles. Last Thursday—

I view with alarm any gifts from the Senator from Beaver.

The PRESIDENT. The roll was asked for on the motion to adjourn. Evidently a poll was taken, which the Chair is unable to accept.

Let us have order, please. Let me say to you, you are not helping the unemployed or the reilief situation just at this moment.

Just a minute. Request was made by the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, and others, that the roll be called on the motion to adjourn. Now, there was a poll taken, which, as I said, the Chair is unable to accept. There is only the alternative left of proceeding with the roll in order, as demanded by the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, and the clerk will proceed.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

ADJOURNMENT

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. SHAPIRO and Mr. OWLETT, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—21

Batchelor,	Graff,	Owlett,	Rupp,
Bean,	Homsher,	Pierson,	Salus,
Buckman,	Howell,	Reed,	Thompson,
Chapman,	Huffman,	(Dauphin)	(Westmoreland)
Ealy,	Lanius,	Roberts,	Trainer,
Gelder,	Mallery,	Rodgers,

NAYS—10

Aron,	Harris,	Ruth,	Thompson,
Cavalcante,	McCreesh,	Scott,	(Centre)
Frey,	Pytko,	Shapiro,

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

The Senate adjourned at 12 midnight until 12 o'clock noon, Tuesday, July 28, 1936.

No such works or improvements shall be erected under the provisions of this act in any municipality not joining in the erection or construction thereof, unless such municipality shall first consent thereto.

Nothing contained in this section or in this act shall be deemed to authorize any municipality to erect or construct any dam for flood control or other purposes.

Section 3. No such works or improvements involving an expenditure by any municipality or municipalities of more than three hundred dollars ($300) shall be erected, constructed or provided, except by contract let to the lowest responsible bidder after due advertisement once a week for two successive weeks in at least one newspaper of general circulation: Provided, however, That no contract shall be required to be let for the performance of the work on any such work or improvement wher the cost of the labor shall be paid by the Federal Government or any agency thereof, without cost to the municipality or municipalities.

Any municipality shall have power to acquire any private property, easements or rights of way deemed necessary for the erection or construction of any such works or improvements by purchase or by the right of eminent domain, and shall have power to enter upon, injure and destroy any private property deemed necessary. The proceedings for the condemnation of property and for the assessment of damages to property taken, injured or destroyed shall be in accordance with existing law providing for the assessment of damages and benefits where property is taken, injured or destroyed by such municipality for municipal purposes.

Section 6. Any municipality shall have power to provide for the assessment of benefits against private property located within its corporate limits, benefited or to be benefited by such works or improvements. No assessment of benefits shall be made against private property unless, in the opinion of the board of viewers making the assessment, such property will be benefited by the prevention or lessening of future flood damage. The fact that private property has been damaged by flood, arising directly or indirectly from the waters of the creek, stream or river on which the work is being done or improvement provided, shall be conclusive evidence that benefit will accrue to such property by reason of the works or improvements to be provided under the authority of this act. No exemption from benefits shall exist for any private property by reason of the fact that the same does not abut on any such work or improvement or on the creek, stream or river carrying the flood waters.

Section 7. The court of common pleas of any county shall, upon the petition of any municipality located within such county, appoint a board of three viewers from the county board of viewers, whose duty it shall be to assess all benefits to private property to be occasioned by such works or improvements after the same are completed. It shall be the duty of the authorities of any such municipality to furnish to each board of viewers so appointed, a complete set of any official plans which it may have adopted, showing the proposed works and improvements and the private property within its corporate limits which will be benefited by such proposed works or improvements.

Section 8. The viewers having been duly sworn or affirmed, faithfully, justly and impartially to decide and a true report to make concerning all matters before them or to be submitted to them, and in relation to which they are authorized to inquire, and having viewed each parcel of private property which it appears will be benefited, shall hear all parties and their witnesses, and shall determine the benefits, if any, to accrue to each such parcel of private property, and shall prepare a schedule of such property, showing the amount of benefits assessed against each parcel of property.

Section 9. The viewers shall give notice to all persons against whose property benefits have been assessed of a time and place when and where the viewers will meet and exhibit their schedule, and hear all exceptions thereto. Such notice shall be given by registered mail, addressed to the last known post office address of the owner or reputed owner of the property, and by publication once a week for two weeks in at least two newspapers of general circulation in such municipality or in the county, if so many be published therein. The failure of an owner to receive the registered notice shall not be deemed to invalidate the proceedings, but in such cases the notice by publication shall be deemed sufficient.

Section 10. After hearing all parties and their witnesses and after making whatever changes in their schedule are deemed necessary, the viewers shall prepare a revised schedule of benefits to private property and file a copy of the same in the court of common pleas of the county. When the report of viewers is filed, it shall be confirmed nisi, and notice thereof shall immediately be given by the board of viewers by publication once in the newspapers in which the notice of the hearings before the viewers was published. Such notice shall state the date of the filing of the report, shall contain the schedule of property assessed, and shall state that unless exceptions are filed thereto, or an appeal to the court of common pleas is taken therefrom, within thirty days from the filing of the report, the same will be confirmed absolutely.

Section 11. Within thirty days after the filing of the report of viewers, any person interested may file exceptions to the same or may appeal to the court of common pleas and demand a jury trial.

Each person filing exceptions or taking an appeal, shall except to or appeal from so much of the report only as affects property in which he has an interest, and the part of the report of the viewers not excepted to or appealed from, shall be confirmed absolutely after said thirty day period.

Section 12. Where exceptions to a report of viewers are filed, the court shall proceed to hear and determine the same in the manner exceptions to reports of viewers are generally proceeded with within the county. Where an appeal is taken, it shall state the grounds upon which it is taken and shall be accompanied by an affidavit that it is not taken for the purpose of delay, but because the appellant believes that injustice has been done.

Upon the trial of any appeal, or the hearing of any exceptions, in case the appellant or party excepting does not obtain a verdict or decree more favorable than was the report of viewers, he shall not recover any costs.

The court of common pleas shall order what notices shall be given in connection with such proceedings, by exceptions or appeals, and may by rule or otherwise, prescribe the form of the pleadings.

The court may also, in proper cases, consolidate proceedings by exceptions or by appeals, into a single proceeding.

Section 13. Any person aggrieved by an order of court upon exceptions filed or the determination of the case where a jury trial was demanded, may, within thirty days after such final order or determination and not thereafter, appeal to the Supreme or Superior Court, as the case may be.

Where an appeal is taken to the Supreme Court and an appeal is also taken to the Superior Court, and the appeals in both cases are substantially the same or involve the same questions, the Superior Court may certify such appeal to the Supreme Court to be heard with other appeals from the same report.

The Supreme or Superior Court shall consolidate all appeals coming before it from the same report and hear them as one case except that cases arising from exceptions shall not be consolidated with those arising from appeals.

Where an appeal is taken to the wrong court, such court shall certify the same to the court to which it should have been taken.

Section 14. All assessments of benefits shall become due and payable to the municipality when the works and improvements have been completed, which date shall be fixed by the official order of the corporate authorities of the municipality, notice of which order shall be published by the board in the newspapers in which notice of the hearing before the viewers was published, by one insertion.

Any person may pay any part or all of the benefits assessed against him to the municipality before the due date thereof. If such payment is made within one month after the amount of the benefits have been finally ascertained, a discount of ten per centum of the amount thereof paid shall be allowed. All benefits or any part thereof, paid after such one month period and before the date of the completion of the works and improvements, shall be subject to a discount of five per centum of the amount paid. All assessments of benefits or parts thereof, remaining unpaid when the improvements are completed, shall bear interest at the rate of six per centum per annum from the date of the completion of the works or improvements until paid.

The municipality shall send by registered mail, addressed to the last known post office address, a statement of the amount due by each person, after the same has been finally ascertained, together with a notice of the discounts allowed by this act for prompt payment, and when, or approximately when, interest will be added to the amount due.

Section 15. All assessments for benefits against private property shall remain a lien thereon from the time the report of viewers is filed in court until paid, unless the liens thereof be lost by failure to revive the same. It shall be the duty of the municipality within six months after its order that the works and improvements have been completed, to file in the office of the prothonotary of the proper county, liens for all benefits assessd which remain unpaid. But no such lien shall be filed unless the municipality shall first notify by mail, addressed to the last known post office address of the owner or reputed owner of the property against which an assessment has been made, of its intention to have said lien filed if payment of the amount due is not made before a time prescribed by the municipality. Such lien shall be filed in the same manner as is provided by law for the filing of municipal claims and shall have priority over all other liens, except taxes and other municipal claims, and except also mortgages and judgments of record prior to the time the report of the viewers was filed in court.

Such liens shall be revived, prosecuted to judgment, executed and collected by the municipality in the same manner in all respects as is provided by law in the case of municipal claims.

Section 16. In order to enable municipalities to erect and construct the works and improvements authorized by this act, if benefits are to be assessed against private property as herein provided, the municipality may issue improvement bonds based solely upon the assessment of benefits made or to be made by reason of such works and improvements and imposing no municipal liability.

Section 17. Nothing contained in this act shall be construed to repeal the provisions of any law, the enforcement of which is vested in the Department of Health or the Sanitary Water Board, or the provisions of any law, the enforcement of which is vested in the Department of Forests and Waters or the Water and Power Resources Board.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Extraordinary Session of 1936.

Vol. 19. HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, JULY 28, 1936. No. 42.

SENATE

TUESDAY, JULY 28, 1936

The Senate met at 12 o'clock noon.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant Governor Thomas Kennedy) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. William E. Howard, D. D., offered the following prayer:

O God, when Jesus was born in Bethlehem a heavenly choir announced His advent by singing to the shepherds who watched their flocks by night on the Judean hills "Peace on earth good-will among men." When Jesus was about to lead his disciples and go back again to heaven he gathered them about him and said "Peace I leave with you, My peace I give unto you."

Whatever may be our belief concerning the Man of Galilee, O God, we must concede that in His life, His association with men and His teachings he was the "Prince of Peace." He went about doing good. No man or woman was too rich or too poor to be received by Him. We need the spirit of this Great Teacher today. Until His message of love and peace rules the world, the world will be in turmoil; and this spirit cannot rule the world until it rules our individual lives.

May the peace of God which passeth understanding be the crowning motive of all our lives. Amen.

An Act authorizing and directing the Department of Forests and Waters to investigate survey and report on the location and availability for purchase of certain lands suitable for reforestion with flood control as the objective

Whereas the continued efficiency of any water impounding dams which may be constructed by the State or Federal Government as flood control projects is dependent upon reducing to a minimum the silt deposited in them and

Whereas A forest cover with its honey-combed soil and thick humus bedded surface is the most effective agent known to prevent soil erosion and the silting of streams and dams and to retard the water run-off and

Whereas There are upwards of two million three hundred thousand acres of submarginal idle and abandoned farm lands in this State located largely on the upper river water sheds which are subject to serious soil erosion and rapid water run-off which constitute a growing menace during flood seasons and are of little value for reforestation and

Whereas The rate of fire damage on private unmanaged and unattended wild lands is six times that on State-controlled forest lands and such burned-over lands constitute an additional menace from soil erosion and water run-off therefore

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the Department of Forests and Waters is hereby authorized and directed to make an investigation and reforestation survey with flood control as the objective of all private forest lands and all abandoned farm lands and submarginal lands their location availability for purchase and their approximate purchase prices together with all lands in any of the above classes on which the taxes imposed by political subdivisions are delinquent or which have been sold to counties because of insufficient bids at tax sales

The investigation and survey shall include the three watersheds of the Commonwealth the Susquehanna watershed the Delaware watershed and the Ohio watershed including lands draining directly or indirectly into the Susquehanna River and its North and West Branches and the Juniata River the Delaware the Lehigh and Schuylkill Rivers and the Ohio Allegheny Monongahela and Beaver Rivers

Section 2 The Department of Forests and Waters shall make a complete report of its investigation and reforestation survey to the next General Assembly convening in January one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven not later than February first one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven so that the General Assembly may be fully advised in order that appropriate legislation may be enacted with a view of adopting a comprehensive flood control program

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to, and the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

NAYS—0

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the House is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 102 (House Bill No. 136), as follows:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by adding thereto a section

Section 1 Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met That the following amendment to the Constitution of Pennsylvania be and the same is hereby proposed in accordance with the eighteenth article thereof

That article nine be amended by adding thereto the following section

Section 17 In addition to the purposes stated in article nine section four of this Constitution the State may be authorized to issue bonds to the amount of forty-two millions of dollars ($42,000,000) for the acquisition of lands and buildings and the construction and improvement of State owned buildings and the equipment thereof for the care and maintenance of penal offenders delinquents mental defectives epileptics persons mentally diseased the sick and the injured and tuberculosis patients and for the construction and equipment of buildings at the Pennsylvania State College.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to amend Section 1, page 2, line 3, by inserting after the word "persons" the word and; also page 2, lines 3 and 4, by striking out the words "and tuberculosis patients"

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, this is an amendment to save the State about $5,000,000. You will find for these State-owned institutions there is about $5,000,000 set aside for a new tuberculosis sanitarium. I have been in touch with the Department of Welfare, and they feel that some of the hospitals for the sick and injured can be transformed into tuberculosis hospitals, which would be operated at the same expense. It is a perfectly common sense proposition and it will save the State a considerable sum of money. And the bill can be introduced at the regular session of the Legislature. It has the agreement of the Department of Welfare.

Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer these amendments.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. President, I object.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears objection.

MOTION TO GO INTO COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I ask that the Senate now go into the Committee of the Whole for the purpose of considering these special amendments.

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. President, I desire to speak on this motion to go into Committee of the Whole. If I understand this amendment—if I am wrong, I should be glad to have the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, correct me—the amendment would cut out the funds for the erection of a building to take care of the tuberculosis patients, the thought in back of the amendment being that one of the hospitals that takes care of the sick and injured at the present time could be changed into a tuberculosis sanitarium. Is that correct?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, that is correct.

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. President, and members of the Senate, day after day—and I am sure this is the experience of practically every member of this Senate—people are coming to our offices and writing to us asking to get into a tubercular institution. It seems to me that if there is a need for any institution at all it is a need for an additional tubercular institution, and to take a chance upon the authorities taking over something that is now being used for the sick and injured, and converting it into a tubercular institution,—I think that is playing with fire, to use plain language.

We need a new tubercular sanitarium—there is no question about that; there is not a person can get up on this floor and deny that. It is needed just as much as, if not more than, the other institutions that are enumerated in this resolution; and I, for one, am unalterably opposed to taking a chance on the Welfare Department or any other agency converting an institution that is now used for one purpose and changing it from that purpose to a tubercular institution. As I have said before, that is playing with fire; and we should not, at a time like this take any chances of that type.

If my good friend, the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, should offer these amendments because of any quarrel with the institutions that are taking care of the sick and injured, that are State-owned, there is a remedy for that; but we should not be confronted here with the make-shift method of getting rid of them by saying that they can be converted into tuberculosis institutions. I say here, without fear of successful contradiction, that there is just as much need today for your State-owned hospitals that take care of the sick and injured as when they were first constructed. To say that the State-owned hospitals can be thrown upon the communities on which they exist, or can be converted for some other purpose, is absolutely foolhardy.

Take, for instance, a county like Schuylkill, with three State-owned hospitals, you might say filled to capacity,—in many cases by people who could not pay for hospitalization. Can any of those hospitals be thrown upon the communities, or does the Senator advocate that one of them should be converted into a tubercular institution? Carbon has one, at Shamokin; Luzerne has one at Wilkes-Barre; and Lackawanna has one at Scranton, and so on. Every one of them is absolutely needed; and if we are going to cut off these institutions at this time, my friends, the State of Pennsylvania is going to pay far more for people who could have been taken care of in the first instance by proper hospitalization. And then, not having received that hospitalization, they become wrecks upon the sea of life, and become public charges in a greater sense than they are when the disease is in its inceptive period.

Folks, that is not saving money. To my mind that is throwing away money. And to come in here and to say that this resolution should be amended so that some of these State-owned hospitals that take care of the sick and injured can be converted into tubercular institutions—oh, if it is the last thing I had done in this Senate, I would oppose that motion with every ounce of energy within me!—because it is not a fair method.

If they want to get rid of these State-owned hospitals, let them come out in the open and have the fight here, not use these methods of subterfuge, and this thing of going into Committee of the Whole. Why, the moment I came over here in 1933, not dry behind the ears—in German they say nicht drocha hinder die ora—I was confronted with this going into Committee of the Whole; and to my amazement I found—and I did not appeal from the Chair; perhaps I should have at that time—that the motion for this Senate to resolve itself into Committee of the Whole carries with it, if that motion is carried, the amendment; that is, if the motion is carried the amendment is agreed to. I never heard of any such ridiculous parliamentary procedure in my life. And that is still the procedure in this Senate, and I warn my fellow-Senators that if this motion for the Senate to convert itself into a Committee of the Whole carries, those amendments are carried, and not another word can be said here about them.

I am just warning you—not warning, I am entreating, I am beseeching the good will of my fellow-Senators, to vote this motion down, because you are not going to get another vote on it. If you vote to resolve yourselves into a Committee of the Whole, then you are voting to insert these amendments. Vote against this motion, and you are voting these amendments down.

Folks, let us—let us be men here, let us stand on our two feet, and let us say in no uncertain way that we are opposed to methods of legislating of this type; and I sincerely and earnestly ask each and every one of you to vote this motion down.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, this is a resolution for the purpose of changing the Constitution, and it is a resolution that was very fully considered in Committee, where a resolution of this kind should be considered in detail, and it seems to me that it is not a proper place for the purpose of trying to change the character of a resolution that carries with it $42,000,000. Speaking for myself right now, I am not sure just what this amendment proposes to do, but I am quite sure there are others on the floor here who are not sufficiently advised to vote intelligently on an amendment of this importance. As I gather the argument, it would seem to me that what the amendment proposes to do is a matter for the Legislature. That is to say, if this resolution goes through in its original form, if the Legislature desires to change and modify a State Hospital to use it for something else, that is up to them. It is not a matter that should go into the Constitution. Again I want to say that this was fully considered at several meetings of this committee. This resolution was fixed up in a manner satisfactory to everybody on the committee, and at this time it ought not to be changed here. I hope this motion, carrying the amendment, is voted down.

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, I agree with the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman. This resolution was very thoroughly considered in committee, and after reporting it from that committee, it had two readings in this Senate. The resolution was amended last night, which, in my opinion, very materially changes the purpose for which the resolution was presented to this Legislature, and that was to take care of the needs of your mental hospitals, your tuberculosis hospitals and institutions like Polk, which we know are overcrowded. Last evening amendments were offered to this resolution to include ten state medical and surgical hospitals, as it was said, to take care of the sick and injured of Pennsylvania. Now that was not the purpose of it at all, it was not to take care of the sick and injured in Pennsylvania, it was to take care of the sick and injured in five particular counties of the State of Pennsylvania, and to tax the other sixty-two counties of the State of Pennsylvania to provide the funds with which to take care of the sick and injured in those five particular counties, and three of those particular hospitals are in one county. I am not going to take up all the time of the Senate this morning, but if anybody will turn to the last report of the Auditor General, or, as a matter of fact, to any reports of the Auditor General, you will see the tremendous amount of money that is appropriated every biennium to take care of the sick and injured in five particular counties of the State of Pennsylvania. Just in Schuylkill County, one hospital there received almost $400,000, another hospital has received something over $300,000, and another hospital there received something over $200,000, all in one county. Let us see what that means to the rest of this State. I have in my hand the report of the Welfare Department of the State of Pennsylvania, which calls attention to the fact that the appropriation to ten state-owned hospitals having 884 beds for patients, amounted to $2,470,301.00, whereas the appropriation to 158 state-aided hospitals having 19,964 beds for patients, amounted to $5,365,375.00. In other words, the State of Pennsylvania provided during that biennium an amount equal to $2,794.00 for every bed in these state-owned institutions, whereas to the state-aided hospitals was appropriated an amount of $268.00 per bed.

Now, I am in this position, Mr. President, I would like to have a joint resolution here authorizing the people to vote on a bond issue to provide money for our tuberculosis hospitals to hospitals for mental defectives, and to such institutions as Polk, etc., but when it comes down to asking the people of the State of Pennsylvania to adopt a constitutional amendment to borrow money to take care of the hospitals in five counties of this State, I think it is just too ridiculous to talk about it here.

I think there is one thing more, it is going to defeat the very thing we want, because I am quite sure that the people of Pennsylvania are not going to have placed a bond issue upon them to supply money for those ten state-owned hospitals in five counties.

I would like to read what Governor Fisher recommended in this regard: "It is apparent that the State is not warranted in expanding the plants of these state hospitals to provide community service, other than that for which they were designed." And there are a lot of other things about these hospitals. I do not know whether the members of this Senate know it or not, but in some of these hospitals you will have a staff there that will not permit any other physician in that community to practice in that hospital. I think it is high time that amendments such as the Senator from Philadelphia, Dr. Woodward, offered, be considered by the Senate.

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. President, it appears that the Senator from Beaver has created some misleading impressions, as he has just told you what money was appropriated by the State of Pennsylvania to these state-owned hospitals, but he has neglected to give the figures of the amount of money that is returned by the state-owned hospitals to the State of Pennsylvania. I do not say that he has deliberately neglected to do that, but the Senate must not forget that these are state-owned institutions, and every cent collected in these hospitals naturally goes back to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. So it is not a one-sided picture, it is not like a privately owned or state-aided hospital, because there it is just a matter of the State giving aid and getting nothing in return, but these institutions are part of the property of Pennsylvania, just like this Capitol is, if any revenue were obtained by renting out some portion of the Capitol, the State will get that. Any revenue that comes to the state-owned hospitals, the State gets that. I just want to point that out, I do not want to unduly delay this motion.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I have in my district one of those state-owned hospitals, and I just want to correct another impression that I am afraid the Senator from Beaver, Mr. Batchelor, gives to this Senate, when he charges the total expenses of these hospitals to the five counties in which they are located. In my county, the Blossburg State Hospital draws from five or six neighboring counties, and that is practically the only institution in that whole section of the State in which medical and surgical care can be obtained by the citizens, and everyone who is able is compelled to pay for the services rendered there, and, as the Senator from Schuylkill pointed out, that money goes into the State Treasury of Pennsylvania. These institutions are State institutions, the State owns them, and it would be a real shame and a blot on the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania if they are allowed to go down and to stop rendering the service they are rendering to the people of this State.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I think the Senator from Philadelphia and the Senator from Beaver have endeavored to lead the Senate into a terrifically wrong impression as to the purport of this joint resolution. In the first place, we are spending our time arguing about State-owned institutions in the nature of hospitals, whereas these amendments only propose to strike out what affects tubercular patients in this resolution.

I cannot help but marvel at the Senator from Philadelphia's appalling inconsistency. It has been only a few months since we heard him crying around in this Senate for the State of Pennsylvania to take over his institution at Byberry, which is operated by Philadelphia County, and which has been plundered politically down there to a point where it could not be operated successfully. He wants to hang it around the neck of the State of Pennsylvania. Now he comes in here today with a resolution to provide funds for the greatest need that we have in this State, namely, to take care of our tubercular patients—we all know a person cannot be admitted to a tubercular institution today until some patient in that institution either dies or gets well, this waiting list is tremendous; it contains almost as many now as are in the institutions; and yet he comes here with an amendment to this resolution asking us to toss this whole crowd of people aside.

This resolution has got to be before this Legislature, has got to be before the next Legislature, and if it is voted on favorably by the people it has got to come back here for an appropriation bill; and I cannot see any reason or justification for us to quibble around here about a matter of this kind this morning, when two years hence, or less than two years, we have to fight it out when the appropriation bill comes up. Certainly no one can present a sound argument against the helping of tubercular patients of this State. These State-owned institutions are not concerned in the amendments to this resolution only the future of tubercular institutions is unvalued. I ask that the amendments be voted down by a vote against this motion to resolve ourselves into a Committee of the Whole.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I want to call the attention of the members of the Senate to the fact that this resolution allocates no money to any institution or group of institutions. That will have to be done later. I think that the resolution should be left as it is, to cover practically all of the state-owned institutions, so that when the time comes to allocate money, it may be done properly and to those institutions that need it most, including the tuberculosis hospitals and, if necessary, the hospitals for the sick and injured.

The PRESIDENT. The motion is that the Senate resolve itself into a Committee of the Whole for the purpose of considering special amendments.

Mr. KAHLE. Mr. President, I am surprised that the Senator from Philadelphia, Dr. Woodward, a physician in this Senate, would bring forth amendments to cut out protection for the care of tubercular patients, when we know they are in such need today. When we look at them on the one hand, we know that we have many degenerates. Those degenerates have been placed there because of the sins of their forefathers. It is a condition, of course, that cannot be remedied by the inmates, but they have care, they have help, and so forth; but on the other hand, he asks to strike out the amendments that would care for the tubercular patients of this State, those that have no way or no recourse to prevent the disease that has come upon them, and are we going to neglect them by cutting out these with an amendment which prohibits the protection of those who are suffering from disease and are striving for help, and to be restored back to their normal condition again? I think it is very unwise that we should ever consider such an amendment.

MOTION WITHDRAWN

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, with the permission of my seconder, I will withdraw my motion.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Beaver, Mr. Batchelor, agree to withdraw his second?

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, I will.

The motion is withdrawn.

ERRATUM

CONDOLENCE ON THE DEATH OF FORMER SENATOR JOSEPH O. CLARK

Mr. GRAFF offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, July 22, 1936.

It is with profound sorrow that the members of the Senate of Pennsylvania learn of the death of Joseph O. Clark, of Glen Campbell, Indiana County, a member of this body from Indiana and Jefferson Counties from 1920 to 1924.

Senator Clark was born in Montgomery Township, Indiana County, September 7, 1871, was reared on a farm and was educated in public and private schools of his community. Early in life he engaged in mercantile, lumber and real estate business and for years was extensively engaged in oil and natural gas operations in Oklahoma and Kansas and with the development of bituminous coal properties in Central Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Texas.

Mr. Clark in 1920 was elected to the Senate of Pennsylvania from Indiana and Jefferson Counties to succeed the late Senator Wilbur P. Graff. During his term in that body the members paid high tribute to Senator Clark's ability and judgment by their dependence upon his opinions and he by his attention to duty and wise consideration of pending legislation rendered signal service for his constituents and for the people of Pennsylvania. Senator Clark took an active part in Republican party affairs and in 1922 was chosen Secretary of the Republican State Committee of Pennsylvania.

The members of the Senate wish to express their great sorrow over the passing of Senator Clark and in adopting this minute of respect to emphasize their high regard for him as a citizen and a legislator.

It is hereby resolved that a copy of this minute be sent to the family of Senator Clark.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. MORAN RESOLUTION No. 53.

In the House of Representatives, July 27, 1936.

Whereas, There are sinister forces which have been active during the special session of the Legislature to force upon the people of Pennsylvania a tax program for unemployment relief purposes to fall heaviest upon those least able to pay; and

Whereas, These forces obtained amendment in the Senate of certain tax measures submitted at the present special session of the Legislature which, in their original form, were designed to impose taxes upon those best able to pay and which, in their amended form, bear too heavily upon those least able to pay; and

Whereas, It is a settled principle that to be equitable, a government must assess taxes upon the basis of ability to pay; and

Whereas, It will be necessary at the convening of the next regular session of the General Assembly for measures to be introduced to raise moneys for unemployment relief purposes; and

Whereas, Methods and means must be devised and safeguards obtained to avoid further imposition of taxes upon the small real estate owner, the farmer, the tenant and small business men; and

Whereas, It is evident that special interests who wish to escape their fair share of community responsibility will attempt to crack the whip as they so evidently have done during this special session of the Legislature; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Speaker of the House of Representatives, the body of the General Assembly which is charged by the Constitution of the Commonwealth with the duty of originating tax measures, appoint a committee of five members who shall investigate the ways, means and methods of evolving a tax program which will place the burden upon those best able to pay and who shall further investigate the means, methods and devices that were employed during this special session by the opponents of a program of taxation based upon ability to pay in order to shift the burden upon those least able to bear it, and further investigate and report to the next regular session of the General Assembly a tax program designed to fulfill the above general purposes; and be it

Resolved, That the said Committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its Chairman, requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before it and to answer any question touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the committee may deem necessary. Provided, That the committee shall not have the power to subpoena any Federal official or any records of the government of the United States. Such subpoenas may, except as herein otherwise provided, be served upon any person and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of the Courts of this Commonwealth. Each member of said committee shall have the power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the committee. Any person who shall wilfully refuse or neglect to testify before such committee and to produce any papers, books or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases; and be it further

Resolved, That in the event that the power hereby conferred upon the said committee to subpoena witnesses and enforce its subpoenas during the recess of the House shall be held by any Court to be unconstitutional, the said committee shall nevertheless continue its work and take the testimony of such persons as shall voluntarily appear before it.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

Br. Mr. JOHN E. BROWN. RESOLUTION No. 54.

In the House of Representatives, July 27, 1936.

Whereas, the House, by Resolution No. 6, Serial No. 48, resolved that it was the sense of the House of Representatives that all married women employed by the State Emergency Relief Board, who were not in need of employment be replaced by the employment of competent persons, residents of this Commonwealth, who are without employment and in need of work, therefore be it

Resolved, That the State Emergency Relief Board be directed to furnish to the House of Representatives, not later than July 29, 1936, a statement showing the replacements made by said board in compliance with the terms of said resolution.

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the State Emergency Relief Board by the Chief Clerk of this House.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

BILL SIGNED BY THE SPEAKER

Bill numbered and entitled as follows having been prepared for presentation to the Governor, and the same being correct, the title was publicly read as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 134.

An Act requiring unemployment relief orders to be presented for payment within a certain period otherwise to be cancelled and the moneys appropriated for their payment to be escheated to the Commonwealth and credited to the current appropriation for unemployment relief purposes.

Whereupon,

The SPEAKER, in the presence of the House, signed the same.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

Mr. CARSON asked and obtained leave of absence for himself for the remainder of the week after today's session.

Mr. JAMES L. SNYDER asked and obtained leave of absence for himself for the remainder of the week after today's session.

Mr. MOOMAW asked and obtained leave of absence for himself for tomorrow's session.

Mr. ATKINS asked and obtained leave of absence for himself for the remainder of the week after today's session.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. TERRY. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Wyoming will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. TERRY. Mr. Speaker, I merely want to know when the Ways and Means Committee will sit to consider House Bill No. 126.

The SPEAKER. That is entirely a matter for the committee to decide.

Mr. TERRY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the Chairman of the Committee, the gentleman from York, Mr. Flinchbaugh.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from York permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FLINCHBAUGH. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. TERRY. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from York know of any influence that is keeping this bill in Committee?

Mr. FLINCHBAUGH. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Wyoming, Mr. Terry, there is no particular influence that is keeping the bill in Committee. I recall having one protest from the County of Allegheny in opposition to the bill. There has been no agitation either against or for the bill particularly. I might state, without divulging any secrets of the Committee, that repeatedly as Chairman of the Committee, I asked the Committee whether there is any inclination on the part of the Committee to consider further revenue raising measures, and the Committee always, practically unanimously, was averse to considering any additional revenue raising measures in the hands of the Committee.

Mr. TERRY. Mr. Speaker, I take it from what the gentleman from York says that there is no hope of getting this bill out of the Committee, is that right?

Mr. FLINCHBAUGH. Mr. Speaker, I would say to the gentleman from Wyoming that I wouldn't say that there is no hope of getting the bill out of Committee. If there is any opinion in the House that the bill ought to be considered, I will be glad to call a meeting of the Committee and consider this or any other measures, but, knowing the temper of the Committee, I doubt very much whether it is possible to get any additional revenue raising measures out of the Committee.

I would like, Mr. Speaker, to give this a little further consideration. If I recall rightly, I had this bill up with some of the legal lights of the House, and if I recall rightly there is some question about the legality of the bill.

Mr. TERRY. In other words, that means no.

Mr. FLINCHBAUGH. Mr. Speaker, as an answer to the gentleman from Wyoming, I would say——

Mr. TERRY. I have no further questions.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will not carry on a conversation or discuss the bill. The interrogation is proper.

The gentleman will ask his questions of the gentleman from York, and the gentleman from York will answer any questions if he so desires.

MOTION

Mr. TERRY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to make a motion.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Wyoming, Mr. Terry, please come to the desk?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman frm Woyming, Mr. Terry, to explain this tax bill on trust estates to the House?

Mr. TERRY. Mr. Speaker, I withdraw my motion temporarily.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. JAMES W. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until tomorrow at 12.00 o'clock noon.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 12:45 P. M.) the House adjourned until Wednesday, July 29, 1936, at 12.00 o'clock noon.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Extraordinary Session of 1936.

Vol. 19. HARRISBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY, JULY 29, 1936. No. 43.

SENATE

WEDNESDAY, July 29, 1936

The Senate met at 2 o'clock P. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Thomas Kennedy) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. William E. Howard, D. D., offered the following prayer:

Our Father and our God, make us honest and consistent in our judgments of the lives about us. We can only see the outward appearances of these lives and are therefore prone to make misjudgments and deal unjustly with them. Thou dost know the intent and purpose of every heart, so Thy judgments are true and righteous altogether. Is it not then wise, O God, for us to refrain from condemning our fellow men and to remember that Thou dost declare "Vengeance is mine, I will repay, saith the Lord."

It is said of our Master, "Having loved His own He loved them to the end." By so doing He bound His followers unto Him with bands of steel, transforming them into heroes and martyrs. Even those who betrayed denied and forsook Him He won by love.

Grant that those who misunderstand each other and hopelessly disagree may strive to honestly see each the other's view-point and thus come to know and trust one another. How false is the doctrine, "Might is right." How divinely true the declaration "Right is might." May faith in and obedience to this slogan lead the cause of righteousness to speedy victory. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when on motion of Mr. BAUMER, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

profound reverence and with a sense of our iniquities, that we may realize that Thou art our Father and we are Thy children. We thank Thee for the land of plenty in which we live; we thank Thee for Thy manifold blessings that Thou didst bestow upon our nation since its inception, since in every generation Thou hast given us leaders who have believed that the fear of God is the beginning of wisdom.

Our Father and our God, let Thy Spirit make possible a rebirth of the serious mindedness of heart and soul of our forefathers, so that once more the welfare of a people be the supreme law of the land. May we rediscover Thy blessed truth, that blessed is that nation whose God is the Lord.

Let Thy blessings rest upon the President of the United States, the Governor of this State and all others in authority, and imbue them with Thy Spirit, that they may realize their responsibility, and that the governed may also know their responsibility, and that we all realize that fundamentals do not change but applications of truth do. So may we rediscover anew that spirit of brotherliness, of good will among men, to the glory of God and the welfare of His people. Amen.

RESOLUTION

Mr. JAMES W. PATTERSON offered a resolution which was filed with the Clerk under the rules.

RESOLUTION NO. 40

Mr. HARKINS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 40, Printer's No. 205.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, July 10, 1936.

The adoption of the unicameral system for legislative bodies in the State of Nebraska and in the Irish Free State indicates a trend away from the bicameral systems. Bills have also been introduced from time to time in the General Assembly of Pennsylvania proposing constitutional amendments to bring about a change to the unicameral system in this Commonwealth.

It is therefore fitting that the subject be carefully considered and studied so that this House may be well advised as to all of the benefits and detriments incident to a unicameral State legislature, before venturing to pass upon the adoption or rejection of so drastic a change in the legislative branch of the State Government; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Speaker of the House of Representatives appoint seven Members of this House to serve as a committee to study the unicameral system as applied to legislative bodies, and to report its findings and recommendations to the House of Representatives at its regular session in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. HARKINS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to call the attention of the members of the House to the fact that this resolution merely provides for an investigating committee for the purpose of studying this unicameral system. It does not provide for any powers other than the power of studying the question and making recommendations to the House of Representatives at the next session. For those who might object to the appointment of this committee if there were an appropriation attendant upon this bill, let me advise you that there is no appropriation, so that those of you who object for that reason should no longer bject.

The objection was raised a moment ago to the fact that under the conditions as at present this plan is unconstitutional, and there is no use to study something that is unconstitutional. The purpose, of course, is to advise the members of the House, of all features and all the factors that enter into the unicameral system. I believe that there is a large number of people in Pennsylvania who believe that the unicameral system of government would be better than the one under which we now function, and I feel that the report will present facts upon which the Legislature can act with regard to this question, having the facts before them.

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Harkins.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Harkins, permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. HARKINS. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, I would like the gentleman from Allegheny to tell the members of this House how it will be possible to investigate conditions in the Irish Free State without a trip to the Irish Free State. That is the resolution.

Mr. HARKINS. Mr. Speaker, in connection with that interrogation, of course I recognize the fact that if I needed information about that, I would go to people who would be well able to tell me, and in consideration of that, and the fact that it will be lot of expense to go to the Irish Free State, which trip is not anticipated. If it becomes necessary to get the information concerning that, I myself will consult the interrogator, and I am sure he will be able to assist me. All of the expense necessary to get the information needed in this connection will be only the mailing expenses, and I think I still have enough proceeds to take care of that.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, there are a lot of reasons, in my judgment, why this resolution ought to be defeated, and one of them is that all of the members of the House should have a chance to be promoted, and if we had such a system as this in this Commonwealth, then Mr. Dent and Mr. Haluska would not have the opportunity of satisfying their ambition to go to a higher house. Therefore, for the benefit of your own members as well as the people of the Commonwealth I ask that you vote "no" on this resolution.

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin, I wish to assure him that if we ever have a possibility of getting rid of the Senate, I am sure the Democratic candidates elected to that office will be glad to give up their chance to serve therein.

Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, this resolution should pass this House. As the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Harkins, just said, there is no appropriation attached to the resolution. It is an attempt to gather some data that we can get together before the next session, and we would like to have the pleasure and privilege of presenting this data to the next General Assembly. Lord knows we have every reason in the world to kick against the bicameral system, especially in this State. There is one very good reason that we should have a unicameral system, and that is exactly what this special session has performed in the three and a half months that we have been in session. There is no real logical reason today for a bicameral system,—but we won't go into that. We will just say, give this resolution the break that it deserves. This is worthy of being passed strictly on its merits.

Mr. McCREARY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it is only natural, gentlemen, that I should be in favor of this resolution, because I introduced one exactly like it in the 1935 session, and it was never allowed out of committee. Consequently now that it is on the floor of the House I would like to see it discussed on its merits, as the sponsor suggested, for this reason: this same bill was introduced in the Nebraska Legislature in 1935 and was passed and is now law, and it is going into effect in the 1937 Legislature of that State. Further, gentlemen, it was introduced by George W. Norris, United States Senator from that State, and George W. Norris is the man who talked about invisible government under which this State is now suffering. Now, gentlemen, that is an exposition of the two houses in this legislature.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia will state his point of order.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I ask that the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, stop interfering with the Republican gentleman from Erie, Mr. McCreary.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I wish to explain to the House that I called to Mr. McCreary's attention the fact that Mr. Norris, Senator Norris, was the individual who opposed hidden governmen. I also explained to the gentleman from Erie, Mr. McCreary,—

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I object.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Erie, Mr. McCreary, has the floor. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. McCREARY. No sir, not until I get through, Mr. Speaker. Whatever I wanted to say I could have said in a few minutes' time. I just wanted to speak in favor of this unicameral legislation, calling your attention to the fact that our present special session was a good example of what two Houses can do to the taxpayers of this State. $465,000 is the estimated cost of this special session, thirteen long weeks, and still we haven't come to a conclusion, even with the help of the Alliance Workers army. And that, gentlemen, is the sinister exhibition of what the two Houses in this State have caused up until the present time. My idea is to have one House, keep that House responsible and hold them responsible for what they do in this Legislature.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WITKIN and Mr. EROE.

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

BILL SIGNED BY THE SPEAKER

Bill numbered and entitled as follows having been prepared for presentation to the Governor, and the same being correct, the title was publicly read as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 15.

An Act ratifying confirming and validating the transfer of money from the State Stores Fund and the Motor License Fund to the General Fund and providing for the subsequent return from the General Fund of the transferred money.

Whereupon,

The SPEAKER, in the presence of the House, signed the same.

RESOLUTION No. 50

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No: 50, Printer's No. 206.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, July 21, 1936.

Whereas, the Grand Jury of the County of Philadelphia, impaneled for the August Term, one thousand nine hundred thirty-five and thereafter, continued as a special grand jury, and, after careful investigation, did make its presentment to the Court of Quarter Sessions of said county, in which said Grand Jury made certain findings as to abuses, imperfections, insufficiencies and defects and evils in the Magistrates System of Philadelphia, and recommended the study of appropriate legislation to correct the same, so far as practical, and to that end recommended the establishment of a commission to study its presentment and to draft and recommend to the Legislature of one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven such legislation as might be necessary to correct the evils found to exist; and

Whereas, in said presentment it was recommended that the commission be composed of the following:

Four citizens, one to be selected by the Governor of Pennsylvania, one by the Mayor of Philadelphia, one by the Philadelphia Bar Association, and one by the Criminal Justice Association;

Three members of the Grand Jury, to be selected by the Grand Jury;

Two representatives of the District Attorney of Philadelphia, to be selected by the District Attorney;

Two representatives of the Attorney General of Pennsylvania, to be selected by the Attorney General; and

Two magistrates, to be selected by the Board of Magistrates; and

Whereas, pursuant to said recommendation the respective appointments were duly made and the commission organized and thereafter the commission elected to its membership the Controller of the City and County of Philadelphia; and

Whereas, it is desirable to augment said commission by the addition of members of the Legislature, and to give said augmented commission an official status; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That the commission created as recited in the foregoing preambles, together with two members of the Senate, to be appointed by the President Pro Tempore, and two members of the House of Representatives, to be appointed by the Speaker, be, and it is hereby, designated a legislative commission to study and investigate the Magistrates System of the City of Philadelphia, and to report to the General Assembly of one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven its recommendations as to such changes, revisions or improvements in the law as it may find to be necessary or desirable; and be it further

Resolved, That the said commission shall have power to issue subpoenas, under the hand and seal of its chairman, requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before it and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the commission, and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the commission may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of the courts of this Commonwealth. Each member of said commission shall have the power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the commission. Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to testify before said commission, or to produce any books, papers, records or documents, shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the resolution before you is establishing a very bad precedent. I would have no objection whatever to the appointment of a commission to investgate the magisterial system, but I certainly must object to allowing prvate societies and private movements to select members of that commission. If the members of the Legislature are not able to select an entire commission, then none of the members of the Legislature should be on the commission. It is a very, very bad precedent to allow any of these reform organizations or letterhead organizations to pick out this person or that person and then come up here and ask that they be given authority of law to go snooping around. If there is to be any real investigation it should be made by a commission appointed by the members of the House, and in no other way.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it is rather embarrassing to be compelled to disagree with my Republican colleague from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, but I firmly and honestly believe that this resolution is a proper one and ought to be passed. I believe that the commission that is presently appointed to do this job, if you may call it a commission, is a commission that is most meritoriously selected. It is composed of some of the best citizenry of Philadelphia, and I believe that the addition to that commission of two members of the House and two members of the Senate to observe the proceedings of that commission in order that they may be better able to advise the House and the Senate in the next session of the Legislature, would be a most proper thing to do.

I, therefore, ask the membership of this House to vote in favor of this resolution in order that we may not be recorded as endeavoring to thwart the progress of this commission that has been appointed and that has already organized. I believe that the commission, when it shall finally complete its report and have made it to the next session of the Legislature, will have made a good job.

I, therefore, regret that I am compelled to disagree with my colleague from Philadelphia, and I will ask those members of the House who think that I am right to vote in favor of this resolution. A vote against it might be construed as a vote against the correction of evils that exist in the magisterial system and that ought to be corrected.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. TUMELTY and Mr. PFAFF.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

Mr. McCREARY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 46, Printer's No. 210.

The resolution was twice read considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, July 20, 1936.

Amend House Resolution Number forty-six Serial Number sixty-nine dated July fifteen one thousand nine hundred thirty-six to read as follows

Whereas, The Reconstruction Finance Corporation has announced reductions in interest rates to various classes of borrowers ranging from five percent (5%) to four percent (4%) on industrial loans four percent (4%) to three and one-half percent (3½%) for insurance company loans and four percent (4%) to three percent (3%) for closed banks and

Whereas, The small individual business man, the farmer and the home owner is in most cases still required to pay the legal rate of interest when forced to the necessity of borrowing money from banks and other financial institutions therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That the Speaker of the House of Representatives be authorized to appoint [a committee of five] three Members of the House and the President Pro Tempore of the Senate be authorized to appoint three Members of the Senate who together shall constitute a joint legislative committee whose duty it shall be to make a study of the existing rates of interest and the trend if any towards lower rates of legal interest in order to ascertain whether or not it is feasible and timely that legislation be adopted reducing the legal rate of interest in this Commonwealth [from] below six percent (6%) [to four percent (4%) or some other rate]

Resolved, That said committee shall make a report to the next regular Session of the Legislature with its recommendations

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. JOHN E. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. JOHN E. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inquire, if a member is not present——

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Delaware will state his point of order.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is addressing the Chair without his coat on.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken.

Mr. JOHN E. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I mean no disrespect to the Chair and to the members of the Assembly, but I do believe that the time has become so important in the history of Pennsylvania that it doesn't matter so much whether you have your coat on as how you think and how you act. My parliamentary inquiry was one that only concerns those who are absent without obtaining leave of absence. Do they draw their mileage? I am in earnest about this.

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes to refer the inquiry to the Chief Clerk of the House who has control of the mileage.

Mr. JOHN E. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, what I want to say is that the rest of the members of the House have been down here sweltering for about thirteen weeks. We have members that do not even present themselves on the floor of the House. I do not think it is fair.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. GERARD. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until tomorrow at 3.00 p. m.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 6.40 p. m.) the House adjourned until Thursday, July 30, 1936, at 3.00 p. m.

PRAYER

The Honorable FRANK W. RUTH, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, our Heavenly Father, we come to Thee this evening. We pray that through the power of Thy Holy Spirit Thou wilt teach us the true meaning of friendship. May we say:

"Let us live in a house by the side of the road,
Where the race of men goes by;
The men that are good; and the men that are bad,—
As good and as bad as I.
We would not sit in the scorner's seat,
Nor hurl the cynic's ban;
Let us live in a house by the side of the road
And be a friend to man."

We ask in the Master's name. Amen.

PETITIONS

PROTESTING AGAINST DELAY IN APPROPRIATING ADEQUATE RELIEF FOR UNEMPLOYED OF PENNSYLVANIA

The Chair cleared his table and laid before the Senate protest of the Philadelphia Citizens' Committee of Unemployed Needs and numerous other citizens of Philadelphia protesting against delay in appropriating adequate funds for Pennsylvania's unemployed.

OPPOSING INCREASING IN CIGARETTE TAX

The Chair also laid before the Senate telegram from the Philadelphia Division of National Association of Tobacco Distributors opposing increase in the cigarette tax.

Also a telegram from the Retail Tobacco Dealers of Philadelphia, Harry A. Tint, President, opposing increase in the cigarette tax.

COMMUNICATIONS

The Chair cleared his table and laid before the Senate the following telegram:

Philadelphia, Penna., July 29, 1936.

Hon. Thomas Kennedy, Lieutenant Governor, Harrisburg, Penna.

We earnestly ask your influence in opposition to any increase in the Cigarette Tax. If this tax should be increased it would result in an increased price to the consumer and thus increase the movement to purchase cigarettes in interstate commerce free of the state tax. There are more than eighty thousand retailers of cigarettes in Pennsylvania who would thus be injured.

Please remember that eight cents of the cost of a fifteen cent package is already taxes six cents to the Federal Government and two cents to the State. We ask your cooperation in preventing what would be an increase to the point of injustice in the sales tax on this commodity.

Philadelphia Division of National Association of Tobacco Distributors by Nelson F. Eberbach, President.

The Chair cleared his table and laid before the Senate a communication from R. B. Mateer, as follows:

1869 Wynnewood Road,
Philadelphia, Pa.

President and Secretary, Penna. Senate,
Harrisburg, Pa.

Gentlemen:

It is about time to throw the scums—women children and communists males out of the galleries of our Senate Chamber.

Those individuals have responded to a spend-thirft appeal and have made of our legislative halls nothing but a political shambles.

These individuals demand work! Well they would not take it when offered. The men would down work here in Philadelphia because they would have to get off the dole. The women continue to have children so that more relief will be accorded a lazy, shiftless, ignorant lot of individuals, and gentlemen it is about time to tell them "by the sweat of your brow shall you eat bread." That and no other way.

The shiftless demand cash and believe in laziness, but gentlemen how about a tax payers' strike? Have you ever considered what will happen when those of us who are working lay down on the job? We can buy nearly every thing outside of Pennsylvania and we can permit taxes to accumulate our real estate, and demand a moratorium and get it. And then what will you do for the scum who should be whipped out of Harrisburg and out of our country?

R. B. MATEER.

COMMITTEE TO MAKE A STUDY WITH REGARD TO REDUCING LEGAL RATE OF INTEREST FROM SIX PER CENTUM TO FOUR PER CENTUM

He also presented extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives which was twice read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, July 15, 1936.

Whereas, The Reconstruction Finance Corporation has announced reductions in interest rates to various classes of borrowers ranging from 5% to 4% on industrial loans, 4% to 3½% for insurance company loans, and 4% to 3% for closed banks; and

Whereas, The legal interest rate in this State is 6%, a rate which has prevailed since 1858 prior to which a rate of 8% prevailed for a period of 135 years; and

Whereas, Large business concerns are, through the policy of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, and because of their credit, enabled at this time to borrow money at rates well below the established legal rate; and

Whereas, The small individual business man, the farmer and the home owner is in most cases still required to pay the legal rate of interest when forced to the necessity of borrowing money from banks and other financial institutions; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Speaker of the House of Representatives be authorized to appoint a committee of five Members of the House, whose duty it shall be to make a study of the existing rates of interest and the trend, if any towards lower rates of legal interest in order to ascertain whether or not it is feasible and timely that legislation be adopted reducing the legal rate of interest in this Commonwealth from 6% to 4% or some other rate;

Resolved, That said committee shall make a report to the next regular Session of the Legislature with its recommendations.

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, I move the resolution be referred to the Committee on Banking.

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Two representatives of the Attorney General of Pennsylvania, to be selected by the Attorney General; and

Two magistrates, to be selected by the Board of Magistrates; and

Whereas, pursuant to said recommendation the respective appointments were duly made and the commission organized and thereafter the commission elected to its membership the Controller of the City and County of Philadelphia; and

Whereas, it is desirable to augment said commission by the addition of members of the Legislature, and to give said augmented commission an official status; therefor be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the commission created as recited in the foregoing preambles, together with two members of the Senate, to be appointed by the President Pro Tempore, and two members of the House of Representatives, to be appointed by the Speaker, be, and it is hereby, designated a legislative commission to study and investigate the Magistrates System of the City of Philadelphia, and to report to the General Assembly of one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven its recommendation as to such changes, revisions or improvements in the law as it may find to be necessary or desirable; and be it further

Resolved, That the said commission shall have power to issue subpoenas, under the hand and seal of its chairman, requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before it and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the commission, and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the commission may deem necessary. QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. KAHLE. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Clarion, Mr. Kahle, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. KAHLE. Mr. President, I have received a telegram announcing the death of Hon. Thomas Brown, an ex-member of the House. A resolution has been offered in the House, and, due to the fact that we have a man in our midst who served with him, I consider it appropriate to offer a resolution also in the Senate.

In offering the following resolution upon the death of the late Honorable Thomas Brown of Clarion County, I desire to make the following brief statement: He and our President Pro Tempore, Honorable John G. Homsher, were the two surviving members who voted for the erection of the present beautiful State Capitol Building, in which we are now located, after the disastrous fire of 1897. Mr. Brown became a member of the House in 1899, and served with Senator Homsher during the Sessions of 1901 and 1907. In my many personal contacts and conversations with Mr. Brown he frequently reminisced most delightfully of his friendship and acquaintance with Senator Homsher, whom he held in the highest esteem.

I, therefore, deem it a rare privilege at this time to offer this resolution on the death of former Representative Brown, not only because of his worth as a former legislator and a citizen, but for the additional reason of his close acquaintanceship and admiration for the Honorable John G. Homsher, whom we all hold in the highest esteem.

Mr. KAHLE offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate of Pennsylvania, July 30, 1936.

Whereas, Word has been received that on the twenty-eighth day of July, 1936, God in His infinite wisdom removed from the midst of his family and friends the Honorable Thomas Brown, a Member of this House from Clarion County during 1898 and 1900, and again in 1906; and

Whereas, The late Thomas Brown was born in Ireland January 27, 1850, came to the United States in his youth and located in Mercer County, Pennsylvania, was educated in the public schools and in night school. He later moved to Clarion County and was identified in private business there where he made many contacts and friends. He was active in civic affairs, having served as a Member of the School Board for twelve years and as President of this Board, was Justice of the Peace for nine years, was road supervisor, and was a Member of the Democratic County Committee at various times, and Chairman of the County Convention; and

Whereas, It is only fitting and proper that official note of the sad event be inscribed in our records as a tribute to his memory; therefore be it

Resolved, That the citizens of Clarion County have lost a brilliant but modest, a kind but courageous man, respected and admired by all who knew him, and whose public record will always be remembered; and be it further

Resolved, That the Senate of Pennsylvania express its grief and sincere sorrow for the death of Thomas Brown, and direct the Chief Clerk to forward a certified copy of this resolution to the survivors of this former Member of the House.

RECESS

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for five minutes.

Let us pray: for the members of the General Assembly striving honestly to solve the problems of this Commonwealth; and for those who, impatient of results, may be misguided or misled and prone to incorrect judgment.

Almighty and everlasting God, the Comfort of the sad, the Strength of sufferers, and the Help of all who flee to Thee for succour; let the prayers of those that cry out of any tribulation come unto Thee; let the clouds of fear and despair vanish before the rising winds of faith, hope and love, that this day may mark the beginning of a new era of ever growing understanding and co-operation. O God, grant that we may have eyes to see the dawning of a new day as the Sun of righteousness rises to bless His people with healing in His wings. Grant us all, grace to love and to understand, grace to live together in the unity of the Spirit and the bond of peace; and whatsoever for our unworthiness we dare not, and for our blindness we cannot ask, vouchsafe to give us, God and Maker of us all. COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Extraordinary Session of 1936.

Vol. 19. HARRISBURG, PA., MONDAY, AUGUST 3, 1936. No. 46.

SENATE

MONDAY, AUGUST 3, 1936

The Senate met at 9 o'clock P. M.

The PRESIDENT (Pro Tempore John G. Homsher) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. William E. Howard, D. D., offered the following prayer:

O Lord, we live in a confused and perplexed age; an age of restlessness and impatience. Each individual seeks to attain his own goal; each group strives to achieve its particular end; each nation plans for its own aggrandizement and glory. Thus has all the world become a mass of frenzied activity, each unit self-centered and unconcerned regarding the universal weal.

In the midst of this confusion Thou dost move, striving to speak to us all. But the clash of opposing interests sounds so loudly that Thy voice is often unheard. Quicken our ears to hear the message "Be still and know that I am God; I will be exalted in the heavens; I will be exalted in the earth." We need the quietude of prayer. We need to hear the sound of Thy voice and feel the loving touch of Thy hand. Thou dost love us all with a love surpassing that of a mother for her child. Thine is a perfect love and perfect love casteth out fear.

No worthy enterprise can be led to successful consummation by hatred. But love will show the way to a solution of all our problems, for love leads us to God and "God is love." Help this Senate and help us all to trustfully place our hand in Thine and to honestly say, "Whithersoever Thou dost lead I will go." We ask it in the name of Him who is the perfect expression of Thy perfect love. Amen.

CONDOLENCES ON THE DEATH OF HONORABLE ROBERT SELLERS FRAZER

Mr. COYNE offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, August 3, 1936.

Members of the Senate learn wth great sorrow of the passing of the Honorable Robert Sellers Frazer, until recently Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, and earlier President Judge of the Court of Common Pleas of Allegheny County and for two terms a member of the House of Representatives.

Justice Frazer was born in Fayette City, Pennsylvania, September 18, 1849, the son of Caleb T. and Sarah Baker Frazer. He was educated in the public schools and the Western University of Pennsylvania and was admitted to the Allegheny Bar in 1873. In 1877 Mr. Frazer was elected a member of the House of Representatives, serving until 1881. In 1896 he was elected a judge of the Common Pleas Court of Allegheny County, being chosen President Judge of that Court in 1900 and serving 14 years until elected associate justice of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court in 1914. In 1930 Justice Frazer became Chief Justice and retired early this year, as he stated, "to rest, read and relax."

Nothwithstanding his eminence Justice Frazer won universal regard by his modesty, his genial nature, his fairness, his sound judgment and his great consideration for the younger members of his profession. There was deep reverence for Justice Frazer in all walks of life and among all classes of his profession he earned an enviable reputation for his common sense, his high attainments and his uniform kindness to all with whom he came into contact. The career of Justice Frazer will remain imperishable in the annals of the Pennsylvania judiciary.

Members of the Senate wish to give expression to their high regard for Justice Frazer in this minute of respect and they extend to the family and friends their sincere sympathy.

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. YOURISHIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House I just want to give my reasons for intending to vote "no" on this bill. This is the gross receipts bill and exempts natural gas companies, and there are other exemptions. Sometime ago this House passed a fuel oil tax bill and sent it over to the Senate, and inasmuch as fuel oil and natural gas come in direct competition with anthracite coal, I intend to vote "no" on this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken.

Mr. GATES. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman insist upon having the roll verified?

Mr. GATES. Mr. Speaker, I withdraw my request for a verification of the roll.

Mr. BAINE. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman insist on the roll being verified?

Mr. BAINE. No, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. JOHN E. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman insist on a verification?

Mr. JOHN E. BROWN. No, Mr. Speaker.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. GATES. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. GATES. Mr. Speaker, the vote has been recorded, why not count it?

The SPEAKER. The vote will be reported to the House as soon as the Clerk has tallied it and reports it to the Chair.

Mr. MASON. I might call the attention of the Speaker to the fact that it has been quite some considerable time since the roll was called. Under the circumstances and in the confusion I think that the roll should be called again, and I so suggest.

The SPEAKER. The roll has been called in the regular manner and the Chair is awaiting the report of the Clerk.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Extraordinary Session of 1936.

Vol. 19. HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, AUGUST 4, 1936. No. 47.

SENATE

TUESDAY, AUGUST 4, 1936

The Senate met at 2 o'clock P. M.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE (Mr. John G. Homsher) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. William E. Howard, D. D., offered the following prayer:

Holy Writ teaches us, O God, that we are "shapen in iniquity"; and that "in sin did our mothers conceive us." We bear Thy image and also the image of the world; and the world is at enmity with Thee. The spark of divinity burns in all our breasts but is often so covered by the debris of sin as to be almost extinguished. Breathe upon the feeble embers, O Lord, until they glow and burst into flame, transforming each of us into a beacon-light revealing the way of eternal life unto ourselves and those about us. May the faith we profess and the lives we live be consistent. May our aim and effort be to please Thee rather than ourselves or our fellowmen.

Direct the deliberations of this body of legislators during this hour to the glory of Thy name and the betterment of our Commonwealth. In the name of our Savior we ask it. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. WOODWARD, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, as I understand, both the major parties have agreed on the amount for relief and also the taxes to be levied for that purpose, and the final adjournment of this session is only delayed because of a difference of opinion on three other matters. The resolution presented last night, fixing Thursday as the day for final adjournment, can only be prevented by the disagreement on these three points, namely, the question whether or not the law shall be changed in the manner of appointing trustees of the Mothers' Assistance Board; secondly, the question of whether or not relief, and the administration thereof, shall be returned to the local communities; and, thirdly, the question as to how the Unemployment Insurance Bill shall be administered.

I admit that these things are vitally important, very important; that it is highly necessary that Mothers' Assistance be taken out of politics, and that members of these boards should not be removed for political purposes. We have shown by figures—and they have not been contradicted by the report from the Department of Welfare—that 152 women have been removed during this Administration before their terms expired. We have shown that 125 whose terms did expire were removed. We have shown that in 13 years previous, before the law was changed giving the Governor the right to remove and appoint, that only two removals had been made. That has not been contradicted on this floor, and there is on the table a resolution providing for an investigation in this matter.

Then we have the matter of relief by the local communities. Many Senators here believe that it can be better, more efficiently and economically administered by local relief.

And, thirdly, we have, as I said, the question of the administration of unemployment insurance.

Now, I believe that all of these things are important; but here is what is going to result: Since we have agreed on the tax program, since we have agreed on the amount necessary for relief, I say again this session can only be continued, and our failure to end this session on Thursday will be, because of this disagreement.

Now, I want to make my position clear. I am perfectly willing to recede on all of these points. If the Democrats want the appointment of the trustees of Mothers' Assistance for the next few months, let us give it to them; if they want the appointment of the administrators of the Unemployment Insurance Fund, let us give them the patronage that goes with it; if they still want to administer relief from a central place here, through SERB, at a great expense to the taxpayers, let us let them have it rather than let this program fall. If we do this, if the Republican members give in to the Democrats, it means only one thing: It means the Republicans have ended this session; it means if there is a breakdown in relief the Republicans cannot be charged with it. If we recede from these things, I tell you it does not mean a sacrifice of principle, it is only postponing the fight on these things for which we stand; and I, for one, in the November Election, am going to fight for the taking of Mothers' Assistance out of politics; I am going to fight for the taking of Unemployment Insurance out of politics; I am going to fight for the return of the administration of relief to the communities, where it can be better and more efficiently administered.

I say, on all of these things I will recede without sacrificing one iota of principle; and I believe the Republican Party is big enough and strong enough to say, "We believe in these things, but because we believe this session should end—because it is costing the taxpayers thousands of dollars a day—we are not going to be stubborn and fight over patronage." Whatever patronage goes to the Democrats over these things, let them have it; but let the people decide in November whether the Republican Party was right in their policy, or the Democratic Party.

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 38 (House Bill No. 54), on third reading, entitled:

A Supplement to Act No. 57-A, approved the nineteenth day of July, one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (Appropriation Act of 1935, Page 41), entitled "An act making an appropriation to the Department of Welfare for Old Age Assistance," making an appropriation for the payment of old age assistance to applicants in counties which do not have sufficient funds available to pay assistance to such applicants and suspending the provisions of this act in case Federal grants for old age assistance shall fail for any reason go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, before acting on this bill, Senate Bill No. 38, House Bill No. 54, the Old Age Pension, I must confess that I am confused as to what this bill will really do. We have information from the State Administrator that $1,750,000 is not necessary to take advantage of the Act of Congress. We are told that the money is not necessary, that sufficient money will be on hand to clean up the waiting list of old age and mothers' assistance, and I would ask that this go over in order for the purpose of finding out just what this bill will do.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 40 (House Bill No. 50), on third reading, entitled:

A Supplement to the act, approved the nineteenth day of July, one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (Pamphlet Laws, one thousand three hundred fifty-one), entitled "An Act making appropriations to carry into effect the provisions of an act, approved the tenth day of July, one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws, eight hundred ninety-three), entitled 'An act providing for assistance to certain mothers; providing for the appointment of boards of trustees for the several counties of the Commonwealth, and for the appointment of a State Supervisor and assistants, and fixing the salaries of such State Supervisor and assistants; defining the powers and duties of board of trustees, including the power of appointing assistants and investigators, and the distribution of funds at their disposal; providing for the apportionment of the State appropriation among the several counties, and requiring counties coming under the provisions of the act to appropriate certain moneys; and providing penalties,' as amended," making an appropriation for the payment of mothers' assistance to applicants in counties which do not have sufficient funds available to pay assistance to such applicants and suspending the provisions of this act in case Federal aid for dependent children shall fail for any reason go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

he Senate proceeded to the second reading and con-deration of Senate Bill No. 127 (House Bill No. 169), titled:

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I move to amend section 1, page 2 by inserting between lines 9 and 10, the following: "'Alcohol and Alcoholic Liquids.' Alcohol and all distilled, redistilled, recovered liquids or substances and any compound or admixture thereof which contain any alcohol by volume and are capable of being used for beverage purposes after manufacture, production, distillation, redistillation, rectification, blending or recovery;" also page 2, line 13, by striking out all of said line; also page 2, line 22, by striking out the word "twenty-four" and insert in lieu thereof "one-half of one"; also page 2, by inserting between lines 27 and 28, the following paragraph: "'Manufacturer.' Alcohol, alcoholic liquids, distilled spirits and rectified or blended spirits as defined in this section." Amend bill, page 3, by striking out all of lines 13 to 29, inclusive

Mr. HARVEY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I desire to explain the purpose of the amendments offered. On July 30th, last week, at a meeting with the Governor, Attorney General Margiotti, the Secretary of Revenue, John B. Kelly, Judge Harry A. Kalodner, of Philadelphia, the Secretary to the Governor, Robert L. Myers, Jr., the Budget Secretary, Guy H. Swope, State Treasurer, Charles H. Waters, Senators Warren R. Roberts, Harvey Huffman, John J. McClure, Theodore L. Bean and G. Mason Owlett, an agreement was entered into and a program submitted to the Democratic and Republican caucuses. This agreement called for a tax of five cents a gallon on all liquor distilled in Pennsylvania to be paid by the distillers.

This bill, as it comes to us, is for four percent. (4%) on all liquors sold in Pennsylvania, and is imposed upon the seller, and will be absorbed by either the Liquor Control Board or the consumer.

It does not seem to me that any part of the agreement entered into can be so wilfully broken. I cannot see much difference between this tax placed on distillers and other taxes which we have levied in this Session. It has been said that this is a tax on industry in Pennsylvania. I would like to ask the members of this body what we have been doing here, if we have not been taxing industries in Pennsylvania. I can foresee the future, if we continue our present policies, when Pennsylvania will be a typical "prairie" state and industries will go to some other place, and I would like to know what fear the distillers of Pennsylvania have, what their arguments are, that they should avoid these taxes when other corporations are taxed.

Let me read for a minute this tax program: We levied this personal property tax, the 3-mill property tax, to be paid by the people of Pennsylvania. The 3-mill increase in the corporate loan tax, to be paid by corporations of Pennsylvania, the tax on joint inheritance to be paid by the people of Pennsylvania, the 10% liquor tax to be paid by the people of Pennsylvania, which will already have the effect of increasing the price 15% to the consumer, and I might say, in passing, that this bill in its present form now before the Senate increases it another 4%; taxes on shares of banks and trust companies of Pennsylvania, corporate net income tax from 6% to 10%; increased taxes on gross receipts of utilities, for six months, from fourteen to twenty mills; the gross receipts tax is paid by these corporations, and yet the distillers, and there are twenty-five distillers, this powerful group—that can come here and dictate to the members of the House of Representatives that this bill shall be changed.

It would be very interesting to know who is going to pay this tax. I have been told that some people of Pennsylvania in a very high position will be affected by this tax—probably they can answer this question better than I can.

Mr. President, I ask for the adoption of the amendments.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I understand that all the distillers in Pennsylvania belong to the Democratic Party. They are all very generous contributors to the Democratic Campaign Committee, so I submit that this change is to what might be called the "still small voice" of the Pennsylvania distillers. That is all.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, every time a tax is proposed against the distillers, or against the liquor interests of Pennsylvania, there is trouble about it. It is true that at the conference last week all of us agreed on a tax against distillers of five cents a gallon. The proposal was an attempt to find some method to raise about $1,500,000 additional necessary to carry out the $45,000,000 program. It was suggested that this tax be imposed; it was agreed upon and very little consideration was given to it. Since that time it has developed that a five-cent per gallon tax upon distillers in Pennsylvania would be an unnecessary hardship, for the reason that they will not be able to compete with outside distillers in selling their product outside of Pennsylvania; therefore, a more equitable tax was proposed, and that is, that the liquor interests be taxed the amount of 4% ad valorem, on the value of their product. That is to say, a seller going to the Pennsylvania Liquor Stores will have to pay 4% of the value of his product as a tax that applies to a Pennsylvania owner or seller as well as to the outside people.

The tax proposed last week would only have penalized the distillers in Pennsylvania. The change we made last night will impose the tax on all people who sell in Pennsylvania, and the most of us think it is a more equitable tax than the other one proposed.

Now, then, with respect to the agreement: I wish to say that before this change was made in the House last night, the Democratic caucus suggested that the Democratic side of the Senate who had sat in last week, interviewed and talked over the change with the Republican members who were at the same interview. Mr. McClure, Mr. Owlett and Mr. Bean were invited to sit in the caucus. Mr. McClure did not appear, the other members did, and it was unanimously agreed upon among us that the change should be made, and after that agreement was effected by the conferees, the change was made in the House.

This tax is designed to be paid by the man who sells the liquor to the liquor store, and it is not designed that the Liquor Control Board should absorb the tax; that is to say, it will not interfere with the business of the liquor stores and it will not diminish their profits. When a man comes into a liquor store and wants to sell, for instance, $10,000 worth of liquor to the liquor store, he will be advised that the tax on that which he sells to the liquor store will be 4%, or $400.00, which he pays, and not the liquor stores.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, a few moments ago spoke about the "still small voice." I want to read a telegram from the "still small voice" that the Senators listen to so readily. This telegram is from the Mayor of Philadelphia, the Honorable S. Davis Wilson. It reads:

"Proposed tax of five cents per gallon on whiskey and gin manufactured in Pennsylvania will result in a loss of millions of dollars in real estate and other taxes received from Pennsylvania distillers and deprive the Pennsylvania farmers of ready local market for their grain about ninety per cent of whiskey and gin manufactured in Pennsylvania is sold in bulk to rectifiers and bottlers in other states Philadelphia furnishes the greater part of Pennsyvania's production if Philadelphia distilleries can not remain competitive it will result in shutting down of the plants discharge of thousands of employees in distilling industry and in all industries furnishing supplies barrels bottles cartons printing etc. I therefore protest against passage of proposed legislation.

S. Davis Wilson, Mayor of Philadelphia"

I respectfully request the Senator to heed the "still small voice" of authority from the City of Philadelphia and follow the request of the Mayor, S. Davis Wilson.

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President, did the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, in conversation with the Governor, mention when this tax was proposed?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I did.

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President, was that tax on liquor proposed by the Republican side or the Democratic side?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, it was proposed by Honorable Herbert B. Cohen, the leader of the Democratic party in the House of Representatives; and it was called after him a good tax.

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President, the reason I ask that question—I am glad that it was not proposed by a Republican member—is because I think it is a very bad tax, and I think the amendment to this bill is a very good amendment. I know something about what they are doing, and how they are getting their money, in this State, from liquor. I do not know if there is any other State in the union getting as much profit from liquor as the State of Pennsylvania. There are some products sold by the liquor stores of Pennsylvania from which they are getting $8.00 profit on one case, beside the tax imposed upon them. I think it is a very fair tax. I do not care what they are making whiskey out of, whether sugar, potatoes or molasses; but I know that the people who are making the whiskey in the State can make new whiskey, at a cost of 35¢ a gallon. The Michigan distillers sell their whisky, a day old, at 36¢ a gallon. And if you propose a tax of 5¢ a gallon on the product of the Continental Distilling Company, they would have to close their place, and about 0 people would be thrown out of employment. The amendment is good because it is for four per cent., and everybody pays it. I am talking about the amendment of the House. The amendment in the House is a good amendment and will give the people in this State who are making whiskey a chance; and if you impose a five-cent tax on those making whiskey in Pennsylvania and do not impose anything on those making whiskey outside of Pennsylvania and selling it in this State, it will mean that those employes I have spoken of, of Pennsylvania distillers, will be out of work. I am opposed to this amendment of Senator McClure's because it would create that condition. Now, simply because somebody, some official, in this state is interested in a product that is sold to the manufacturer of whiskey—that is no reason why we should impose a hardship on the rest of the people of this State; and I hope this amendment of Senator McClure's will be voted down.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I do not usually take a great deal of interest in liquor legislation, but it seems to me there may be a conflict of the different Mayors of the State. It seems to me the Mayor of Philadelphia is for this bill as it came from the House. It has occurred to me that it might be well to ascertain how Mayor McNair of Pittsburgh feels about it, what his position is on this proposition. It might also be well to get the opinion of the ex-Mayor of Johnstown, Honorable Eddie McCloskey, so as to make a comparison of the positions of the different Mayors on this tax.

Mr. REED (Washington). Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. REED (Washington). Mr. President, was this tax, of five cents a gallon, a part of the agreement entered into by the joint committee last week?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, it was.

Mr. TRAINER. Mr. President, on the question of five cents a gallon, to be paid by the distillers, and Section II of the Act, that puts a tax of four per cent. on the article, the situation would be that if the State of Pennsylvania buys a case of whiskey from some rectifier or distiller for $8.00, the tax would be $4.32, or 32¢ additional. As there are three gallons in a case, it is a matter of pretty near 11¢ a gallon in place of 5¢ a gallon under this bill as the bill reads.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I am not interested in any distillery and I do not drink much liquor; and I am not interested in what Mayor McNair thinks about this bill; but I think there is some misunderstanding as to the purpose of the amendment.

I think it was pointed out—the Senator from Delaware will correct me if I am wrong—at the conference at the Executive Mansion, it was pointed out by the Governor and some of the other gentlemen on the Democratic side, that this would be an unfair tax in its original form, and that is why it was changed, and that is why I am opposed to it, and I wanted to explain that. I have read the bill in its original form. It imposed a tax of five cents on all liquor distilled in Pennsylvania, irrespective of where it was sold. If the price of liquor, as I have been informed, and as it has been pointed out here today, as it was in 1930, is an average of 35 cents a gallon, a profit of three cents a gallon, it would be impossible for Pennsylvania liquor manufacturers to continue to manufacture liquor and sell it in other states. The present tax, while it is 32 cents, is immaterial, because, as I understand it, the liquor dealers are not opposed to a tax on liquor sold in Pennsylvania; what they are opposed to is a tax on liquor manufactured for use in Pennsylvania, but the viciousness of the tax in its original form, was that it imposed a discriminatory burden on Pennsylvania manufacturers when they go into other states, and that the amendment puts this in a more equitable form.

I should like to point out to the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, I do not know what lobby was working on this bill to have it changed, but I noticed that there was a powerful lobby working against what I think was a more equitable tax on the chain stores. They employed the highest paid lawyer in Philadelphia to point out that that tax would be unconstitutional. It seems to me everybody, both Republicans and Democrats, agree if this bill were considered over the week-end, that it would be a vicious and discriminatory tax. I am not holding a brief for the Mayor of Philadelphia, but am interested in Philadelphia industries, and I would like to point out that in Philadelphia we have one of the largest distilleries in the state, and it would be a great loss to the manufacturers in Pennsylvania, because if the tax in its original form were passed, they would be compelled to shut down every distillery for the next year. It seems to me on that basis there is no sense in passing such a tax. They pay ten mills capital stock tax, twenty-five thousand dollars license fee to the state, and pay a government tax on liquors. It seems to me they are not getting any courtesy than any other taxpayer in the State of Pennsylvania.

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I am glad to learn from Senator Huffman and Senator Shapiro that this is an equitable tax. We have been here fifteen weeks talking about equitable taxes, and at last we have found one; but this tax is only equitable because, in its present form, it does not tax the distiller—the twenty-five distilling companies in Pennsylvania—but it spreads that tax over the number of 10,000,000 of our population who drink liquor. In other words, this tax, in its present form, is nothing more or less than a sales tax.

The Governor of Pennsylvania has, time and time again, stated that he wanted to tax on ability to pay. These distillers seem to have a great deal of money, and I cannot understand why they cannot pay a cent and a quarter a quart, I cannot understand why they cannot pay a cent and a quarter a quart, on whiskey, to the State of Pennsylvania. But now they take the position that this must be an equitable tax, this must be a sales tax, and this tax must be spread over all the people of Pennsylvania.

Mr. Huffman also referred to the conference which was held last night. I was aware that there was a meeting last night, and I happened to be in the adjoining room; but I want to say to the Senator from Monroe that I had no notice of the meeting, I was not invited to the meeting; otherwise I would have gone in and would have said in the meeting what I have said on the floor of this Senate.

And, in conclusion, I want to make my position clear to everyone here—that if this agreement is to be broken, I then feel free to use my discretion in voting on the other tax measures and other legislation which is coming before this session, which was part of the agreement in the Governor's mansion. I hold that right if this amendment is not adopted.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, in reply to the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, I would like to say that I have found this telegram, which was evidently mislaid: It says, "My dear George: House Bill No. 169 cuts quite a hole in the income of the Earle Estate. I respectfully suggest that you shift this tax on to the consumer. Yours, Pennsylvania Sugar Company."

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I stated a moment ago that Senator McClure, Senator Owlett and Senator Bean were in a conference in Room 249. I sent a boy from the adjoining room, to the three men, to come out to a meeting with Mr. Roberts and myself. Two of them came out. It is not possible for me to believe that Mr. McClure did not get that notice. The other two gentlemen came out immediately. They said he had notice. I heard nothing of this until this morning. So much for that.

Mr. McClure now says he feels free, because there was an agreement broken, to vote against all the other taxes, and do as he pleases. Why did he not suggest some better tax, if he does not like this? Why did he not suggest, in the fifteen weeks we have been here, some taxes that he thought would be satisfactory? Why does he at this moment, right at the close of this session, after he has agreed to put through a liquor tax—he agreed to it just as much as Mr. Cohen did; he was very glad last week, I think, to grab at anything to make up the $45,000,000 he felt was reasonable; I believe he felt that tax was reasonable, and I believe everybody else in the room except Senator McClure believes now that the change in that liquor tax is a more equitable tax and a more satisfactory tax than the one proposed last week—why should he fuss about it?

I want to say this about the inuendoes as to the Pennsylvania Sugar Company. Senator McClure is guilty of it, and Senator Woodward is. The Pennsylvania Sugar Company is referred to because it is said that Governor Earle has an interest in it. The implication is that by changing the character of the tax from the way it was agreed upon last week to the present form, as it is now in in the bill, the Governor will profit by it. Allow me to tell you how much he will profit. The Pennsylvania Sugar Company has a capitalization of $5,000,000. Sugar companies have a by-product; this particular one has a by-product, and from that they manufacture rum, a small quantity of rum. They have a capitalization of $5,000,000; the Earle Estate, of which the Governor is a member, owns $10,000 worth of the $5,000,000 capitalization; the Governor himself owns $3,500 worth of stock in the same company; therefore, his direct and indirect interest in the Pennsylvania Sugar Company, as shown by the percentage that $3,500 is of the $5,000,00 capitalization, I would say his interest would amount to about fifteen cents. The amount of the by-product last year ran into $250,000, on their total business of $40,000,000. You may figure out for yourselves the amount that would mean to one having holdings of $3,500 out of a capitalization of $5,000,000. As a matter of fact, when we come to calculate the tax on the sale of this rum by-product of the Pennsylvania Sugar Company, under this proposed tax that we are discussing now, we find it will cost this company more money than the tax that you now are trying to re-establish, as we agreed upon last week.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I desire to ask the Senator from whom he secured the figures as to Governor Earle's holdings, from which he has just read.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, direct from the sugar company.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, the Senator from Monroe did not, then, receive them from the Governor?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I did not, no, sir; I did not even talk to him.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, does the Senator from Monroe have the holdings in the various other companies in Pennsylvania which the Governor has?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I have not, no.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, may I further ask the Senator what was the purpose of securing these figures from the sugar company, to give to the Senate?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, because I had heard it rumored, early this morning, that this statement was going to be made.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, whether or not, to a company engaged in the sugar business the manufacture of rum is of an economic proposition.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, that is a question the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, will have to decide for himself, I think.

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I again want to state, in view of the remarks of the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, that I had no notice of any meeting last night.

I understand, when he came over to Room 249, the office of the Secretary of the Senate, there was a Republican caucus in session, and the Republicans were all present; and if any notice was to be given to me of that meeting, I feel sure that some of my Republican colleagues would have called my attention to the fact that I was wanted in the other room to attend the meeting.

Mr. TRAINER. Mr. President, in voting on this bill, being the president of a distilling company, in the judgment of the Senator from Fayette, am I entitled to vote on it?

I vote "present."

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. GRAFF and Mr. McCLURE and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—13.

Buckman,	McClure,	Reed,	Staudenmeier,

The fourth section of the bill was read as follows:

Section 4 It shall be the duty of the board to transmit to the department on or before the fifth day of each calendar month the taxes collected during the preceding calendar month and such other information as may be necessary to effectuate the provisions of this act at which time it shall also be the duty of the board to pay to the State Treasurer through the department the tax imposed upon such liquor by the provisions of this act for said month

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I move to strike cut the entire section and insert in lieu thereof the following:

Section 2. A tax payable by manufacturers as defined in this act is hereby imposed upon the privilege of manufacturing, producing, distilling, redistilling, rectifying, blending or recovering alcohol, alcoholic liquids or spiritous liquors within this Commonwealth during the calendar year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six, which tax shall be measured by the amount of alcohol, alcoholic liquids or spirituous liquors manufactured, produced, distilled, redistilled, rectified, blended or recovered during the said year, and shall be computed thereon at the rate of five cents (5c) per proof gallon; Provided, That where alcohol, alcoholic liquids or distilled spirits liable to tax under this act are used in this Commonwealth in the production or manufacture of rectified or blended spirits, a credit against the tax herein imposed shall be allowed to the manufacturer thereof to the extent of the tax imposed with regard to the alcohol, alcoholic liquid or distilled spirits so used. Double taxation is not intended, its being the legislative intent to impose tax but once with regard to alcohol, alcoholic liquids and distilled spirits manufactured within this Commonwealth.

Section 3. This tax shall be in addition to all other taxes imposed by the laws of the Commonwealth.

Section 4. No tax shall be imposed under the provisions of this act upon the privilege of manufacturing, producing, distilling, redistilling or recovering any alcohol, alcoholic liquids or distilled spirits for manufacturing pharmacists or chemists or other persons for use in the manufacture or compounding of preparations unfit for beverage purposes, or upon the privilege of manufacturing, producing, distilling, redistilling or recovering alcohol in the manufacture or production of denatured alcohol in accordance with the laws of the Congress of the United States and regulations issued pursuant thereto.

Section 5. For the purpose of ascertaining the amount of tax payable under this act it shall be the duty of every manufacturer liable to pay tax under this act on or before the fifteenth day of February, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven to transmit to the department upon a form prescribed, prepared and furnished by the department, a report under oath or affirmation of the amount of alcohol, alcoholic liquids and spirituous liquors manufactured, produced, distilled, redistilled, rectified, blended or recovered by him during the calendar year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six. Such report shall also set forth—

(a) True copies of the manufacturer's returns of operations to the Federal Government in the calendar year one thousand nine hundred thirty-six or such part or portions of said returns as the department may designate.

(b) Such other information as the department may require.

The failure of any manufacturer liable to pay tax under this act to procure or receive any report form shall not excuse him from making a report.

Every manufacturer at the time of making the report required herein shall pay to the department the tax due to the Commonwealth by him. The amount of all taxes imposed under the provisions of this act shall be due and payable at the time the report is required to be filed with the department under the provisions of this act and shall bear interest at the rate of twelve per centum per annum from the date they are due and payable until paid except that any taxes found due as the result of an appeal to the court of common pleas or any appellate court shall bear interest at the rate of six per centum per annum from the date such taxes are due and payable until paid. Provided, however, That any manufacturer may pay the full amount of such tax or any part thereof together with interest due to the date of payment without prejudice to his right to present and prosecute a petition for resettlement a petition for review or an appeal to the court if such payment is accompanied by a protest that the whole or any part of such payment is not justly or legally due. If it be thereafter determined that such taxes were overpaid the department shall enter a credit to the account of such manufacturer which may be used by it or assigned to any other person for use in the payment of any obligation to the Commonwealth.

If any manufacturer shall neglect or refuse to make any report as herein required or shall knowingly make any false report an additional ten per centum of the amount of the tax shall be added by the department to the tax determined to be due.

Section 6. (a) If the department is not satisfied with the report and payment of tax made by any manufacturer under the provisions of this act it is hereby authorized and empowered to make a determination of the tax due by such manufacturer based upon the facts contained in the report or upon any information within its possession or that shall come into its possession.

(b) Promptly after the date of any such determination the department shall send by registered mail a copy thereof to such manufacturer. Within thirty (30) days after the date of any such determination such manufacturer may file with the department a petition for redetermination of such tax. Every petition for redetermination shall state specifically the reasons which the petitioner believes entitle him to such redetermination and shall be supported by affidavit that it is not made for the purpose of delay and that the facts therein set forth are true. The department shall within ninety (90) days after the date of any determination dispose of any petition for redetermination. Notice of the action taken upon any petition for redetermination shall be given to the petitioner promptly after the date of redetermination by the department.

(c) Within thirty (30) days after notice by the department of the action taken on any petition for redetermination filed with it the manufacturer against which such determination was made may by petition request the Board of Finance and Revenue to review such action. Every petition for review filed hereunder shall state specifically the reason upon which the petitioner relies and shall be in such form as the Board of Finance and Revenue shall prescribe. The petition shall be supported by affidavit that it is not made for the purpose of delay and that the facts therein set forth are true. The Board of Finance and Revenue shall dispose of such petitions filed with it within ninety (90) days after they have been received and in the event of the failure of said board to dispose of any such petition within ninety (90) days the acton taken by the department upon the petition for redetermnation shall be deemed sustained. The Board of Finance and Revenue may sustain the action taken on the petition for redetermination or it may redetermine the tax due upon such basis as it shall deem according to law and equity. Notce of the action of the Board of Finance and Revenue shall be given by mail or otherwise to the department and to the petitioners.

(d) The department or any person aggrieved by the decision of the Board of Finance and Revenue or by the board's failure to act upon his petition for review within ninety (90) days may within sixty (60) days appeal to the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County from the decision of the Board of Finance and Revenue or from the decision of the department as the case may be in the manner now or hereafter provided by law for appeals in the case of tax settlements.

(e) If any manufacturer shall neglect or refuse to make any report and payment of tax required by this act the department shall estimate the tax and determine the amount due by him for tax penalties and interest thereon as prescribed herein from which determination there shall be no right of review or appeal.

Section 7. (a) The department is hereby charged with the enforcement of the provisions of this act and is hereby authorized and empowered to prescribe, adopt, promulgate, publish and enforce rules and regulations not inconsistent with this act relating to any matter or thing pertaining to the administration and enforcement of the provisions of this act and the collection of taxes, penalties and interest imposed by this act. Such rules and regulations shall have the same force and effect as law and violations thereof shall be punishable in the same fashion as violations of provisions of this act.

(b) The department or any agent appointed by it is hereby authorized at any time to examine the books, papers, invoices, other records and manufacturing equipment pertaining to and stock of alcohol, alcoholic liquids, distilled spirits and rectified or blended spirits in and upon any premises where the same are placed, stored or sold either by manufacturers or any other person to verify the accuracy of any report required to be made by this act or payment of or liability for the tax imposed by this act. Any person in possession of such beverages is hereby directed and required to give the Secretary of Revenue or his duly authorized representative the means, facilities and opportunity for such examinations.

The department is hereby authorized to furnish any information obtained by it in the exercise of its duties under the provisions of this act, concerning alcohol, alcoholic liquids, distilled spirits and rectified or blended spirits manufactured, produced, distilled, redistilled, rectified, blended or recovered in this Commonwealth to the proper authorities of this or of any other state territory or the United States and to obtain similar information from the proper authorities of any other state territory or the United States.

Any information gained by the department as a result of any returns, investigations or verifications required to be made by this act shall be confidential, except for the purposes herein set forth and any person divulging such information shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than one hundred dollars ($100.00) or more than one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) and costs of prosecution or to undergo imprisonment for not more than six (6) months or both, in the discretion of the court.

(c) Whenever any person acting for or on behalf of the department shall in good faith institute legal proceedings for any violations of the provisions of this act, and for any reason shall fail to recover costs of record, such costs shall be a charge upon the proper county as shall such costs in the event defendant is imprisoned for failure to pay fine or costs, or both, and shall be audited and paid as are costs of like character in said county.

(d) The powers conferred by this act upon the department relating to the administration or enforcement of this act shall be in addition to, but not exclusive of, any other powers hereofore or hereafter conferred upon the department by law.

Section 8. Each manufacturer shall maintain and keep for a period of two (2) years such record or records of its business within this Commonwealth and other pertinent papers as may be required by the department.

Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall upon conviction thereof be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) and costs of prosecution, or to undergo imprisonment for not more than six (6) months or both, in the discretion of the court.

Section 9. (a) Any person who shall wilfully and corruptly make a false and fraudulent report shall be guilty of wilful and corrupt perjury and upon conviction thereof shall be subject to punishment as provided by law. Such penalty shall be in addition to any other penalties imposed by this act.

(b) Any person who wilfully fails, neglects or refuses to make a report and to pay the tax as herein prescribed, or who shall refuse to permit the department to examine the books, papers and records of any manufacturer liable to pay tax under this act, or who shall violate any rule or regulation prescribed, adopted and promulgated by the department under the provisions of this act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) and costs of prosecution or to undergo imprisonment not exceeding six (6) months or both, in the discretion of the court. Such penalty shall be in addition to any other penalties imposed by this act.

(c) Upon the conviction of any person of any of the misdemeanors described in this section, the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board at the request of the department, may revoke any permit issued by it to such person.

Section 10. The provisions of this act are severable and if any of its provisions shall be held unconstitutional, the decision of the court shall not affect or impair any of the remaining provisions of this act. It is hereby declared to be the legislative intent that this act would have been adopted had such unconstitutional provisions not been included herein.

CONSIDERATION OF SENATE RESOLUTION NO. 37

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of Senate Resolution No. 37, appearing on page 49, of the Senate History, which was reported from Committee on July 20th.

Mr. BEAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The resolution was read as follows:

APPOINTMENT OF SENATE COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE POLITICAL ACTIVITY OF WORKS PROGRESS ADMINISTRATION

In the Senate, July 10, 1936.

Whereas, On May 18, 1936, the Senate adopted a Resolution (known as Senate Resolution No. 1) authorizing the appointment of a Committee to make an investigation of the organization, administration and functioning of the Works Progress Administration in Pennsylvania; and

Whereas, Pursuant to said Resolution the President pro tempore of the Senate on May 18th appointed a Committee of five members of the Senate, which organized promptly and proceeded to perform its duties under said Resolution; and

Whereas, On June 3, 1936, while said Committee was conducting a hearing and examining witnesses who desired voluntarily to inform the Senate of certain abuses in the administration of the Works Progress Administration in Pennsylvania, there was served upon the Committee a Restraining Order issued by a judge of the District Court of the United States for the Middle District of Pennsylvania, enjoining the Committee from further proceeding in the performance of any of its duties under said Resolution; and

Whereas, After argument the District Court of the United States granted a temporary injunction further restraining the Committee from performing its duties under said Resolution; and

Whereas, The Committee is advised by its counsel, specially retained by it to represent it in the injunction proceedings, that counsel believe that the action of the District Court would be reversed upon appeal and the injunction vacated, but that an appeal would be futile because said Resolution requires the Committee to complete its duties and report to the present Special Session of the Senate, and the appeal could not be heard and disposed of prior to the adjournment of this Session; and

Whereas, The work of the Committee prior to the issuance of a Restraining Order as aforesaid had revealed gross abuses in the functioning of the Works Progress Administration in Pennsylvania, and particularly an effort by those controlling the Works Progress Administration unlawfully and unconstitutionally to interfere with the freedom of the electors of Pennsylvania to register and vote as they please, and to impose upon persons in need of work relief, an unlawful and unconstitutional requirement that they register as members of a particular political party; and

Whereas, It is necessary in order that appropriate remedial legislation may be enacted, that the Senate obtain further information relating to these and other abuses now being perpetrated in Pennsylvania, in violation of the Constitution and laws of Pennsylvania, and in violation of the rights of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania as a sovereign State.

Resolved, That the President pro tempore of the Senate is hereby authorized to appoint a Committee of five members of the Senate whose duty it shall be to conduct an investigation of the wide-spread reports that electoral freedom, guaranteed both by the Constitution of Pennsylvania and the Constitution of the United States, is being denied to the unemployed who require relief, and the further wide-spread reports that citizens of Pennsylvania are being compelled, in order to obtain relief or work-relief, to register as members of a particular political party, and that the elections of this Commonwealth are being corrupted by the granting of relief or work-relief to persons not in need thereof, as a consideration for partisan political activity;

Resolved, That the said Committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its Chairman, requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before it and to answer any question touching matters properly being inquired into by the Committee and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the Committee may deem necessary. Provided, That the Committee shall not have power to subpoena any Federal official or any records of the government of the United States. Such subpoenas may, except as herein otherwise provided, be served upon any person and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of the Courts of this Commonwealth. Each member of said Committee shall have the power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the Committee. Any person who shall wilfully refuse or neglect to testify before such Committee and to produce any papers, books or documents, shall be subject to the penalties provided by the Laws of the Commonwealth in such cases;

Resolved, That the Committee shall hold hearings in Philadelphia and in Pittsburgh, and if it deems it necessary, in other cities of the Commonwealth in which the aforesaid abuses are believed to be current;

Resolved, That said Committee shall make a report to the Senate at its next Regular Session and that the powers hereby conferred shall be exercised by the Committee during the recess of the Senate, as well as during the Sessions thereof;

Resolved, That in the event that the power hereby conferred upon the said Committee to subpoena witnesses and enforce its subpoenas during the recess of the Senate shall be held by any Court to be unconstitutional, the said Committee shall nevertheless continue its work and take the testimony of such persons as shall voluntarily appear before it.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I do not think that there is anything that has been done by this Senate in this fifteen weeks session that has been more open to ridicule than the attitude of this Senate, and this special committee on the question of the Works Progress Administration. We had one resolution offered to this Senate to appoint a committee to investigate the Works Progress Administration. The legitimacy of that resolution was full debated and the point of order was raised on the floor of this Senate that the resolution was a deliberate infringement of the exercise of the powers of the Federal Government, and was calculated not to benefit any federal program, but was to make loose, irresponsible political capital. At that time the Chair ruled that the resolution was not in order. The Senator from Bucks, the Republican floor leader, appealed from the decision of the Chair in this Senate, and the majority of the Senate voted in support of the resolution to investigate the Works Progress Administration. Since that has occurred we have seen what a dismal fiasco the first WPA investigating committee has turned out to be. The committee got under way, held a couple hearings, and an injunction was granted against the committee by the Federal Court of the Middle District. The committee still flaunted the Constitution, the laws and the courts of the United States, as well as public opinion, and proceeded, in spite of the injunction, to continue its hearing. Finally, after the Federal Court threatened to cite for contempt the members of this committee, the committee desisted from the further prosecution of its investigation. This resolution that is offered today is only another subterfuge to try to accomplish the same thing which we all know we are unable to do under the decision of the Federal Court of the Middle District of Pennsylvania. Why this committee, which was appointed under the former resolution, which had the same sponsor as this resolution, who also was the Chairman of this special committee—if this committee is so sure of its ground, why did they not appeal from the decision of the Court of the Middle District to the Circuit Court of the United States? Why must they come in here and vex this Senate in probably its closing week with a matter which we know, and which the Court of the United States has declared to be illegitimate and irresponsible.

But, Mr. President, apart from the legal aspect of the resolution, let us consider what was accomplished under the first investigating committee. I wonder if this committee intends to bring more witnesses before it like the star witness of the recent illegal investigation. I am referring to one witness by the name of Irwin A. Williamson. Mr. Williamson, who gave practically all the testimony during the hearing which Mr. Owlett held here in Harrisburg, in defiance of the Federal Court's restraining order. Mr. Williamson, who was dismissed seven months ago had a WPA supervisor's job. He was dismissed from this job as incompetent and inefficient, a general nuisance and a trouble maker. I might point out that the WPA inherited Mr. Williamson from a previous work relief program of the Pinchot administration. Mr. Williamson came into the WPA organization on a fraudulent application and statement of experience and previous employment. This just came to light recently. Mr. Williamson, the committee's star witness stated in his application that he had been associated with Admiral Byrd as secretary of personnel on the Admiral's Antarctic Expedition. Admiral Byrd's office never even heard of Mr. Williamson. He also stated that he had been employed by Sir Hubert Wilkins as a diver on his submarine Nautilus on its trip to the North Pole. Sir Hubert's office never heard of Mr. Williamson. He also stated that he had been employed by Harvey Firestone and by the New York Times. He stated that he was special correspondent for the Times on the Graff Zeppelin. Firestone's office never heard of Mr. Williamson, the New York Times heard of him not as an employe or correspondent, however, for he was never on the newspaper's payroll, at least, under his right name. The Times heard of him when he was arrested in Philadelphia on a mail fraud charge, for trying to promote an expedition to South America in a boat which, a Federal Court Judge, who presided over one of the hearings in the case, declared he would "have difficulty in crossing the Delaware River." That is the same Mr. Williamson who, according to the Philadelphia Evening Ledger, disappeared when Federal marshals siezed his craft on which he proposed to explore the South American waters. It is the same Mr. Williamson who is in his WPA application asserted that he was a member of the Explorers' Club of New York City and the Press Club of America. The Explorers' Club of New York never heard of Mr. Williamson, and nobody has ever heard of the The Press Club of America. This Mr. Williamson, while still in the employ of the WPA, made charges that the WPA officials were fostering Communism. The following is a stenographic record of a conference State WPA Administrator Edward N. Jones granted Mr. Williamson to give Mr. Williamson an opportunity to present his evidence:

Mr. Jones: "I am going to ask Mr. Williamson a question."

"In your letter to Mr. Emerick, State Supervisor of Emergency Education, under date of January 31st, you make the following statement: 'Communism is developing fast and furious in our program. We are carefully selecting persons and workers in other fields who are well known Communists in the City of Philadelphia and have been associated for some time with the party.' I am asking you, Mr. Williamson, to name the persons you refer to in this paragraph as being well-known Communists in the City of Philadelphia."

Mr. Williamson: "I can only tell what Miss M———"

Mr. Jones: "You answer my question. You have made the statement that they have carefully selected well-known Communists from the education project in Philadelphia, and I am asking you to name such persons you had in mind when you wrote that letter."

Mr. Williamson: "I could not name them with Communistic attitudes."

Mr. Jones: "Answer my question, please. I am asking you again for the last time to name me any such persons."

Mr. Williamson: "Then I could not."

Mr. Jones: "I do not think there is any use going further."

That's the type of witness Mr. Owlett had in his first alleged investigation of WPA.

Is that the type he wants to bring in again?

Witnesses like this Mr. Irwin A. Williamson—a psychopathic case—a man with a police record.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, in all the extravagant statements made by the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, we are all interested when he tells us the deep concern with which this Earle-Guffey-Lawrence machine views the investigation.

Now, I want to say, Mr. President, this resolution has nothing to do with the former WPA investigation. I call the Senate's attention to the fact that this resolution recites what took place under the former investigation conducted by this Senate, and authorizes a new committee to be appointed by the President Pro Tempore of this Senate, of five members, whose duty it shall be to conduct an investigation—of what? Of the widespread reports that electoral freedom, guaranteed to them by the Constitution of Pennsylvania and the Constitution of the United States is being denied to the unemployed who require relief, and other widespread reports that citizens of Pennsylvania are being compelled, in order to obtain relief, or work relief, to register as members of a particular political party; and that the elections of this Commonwealth are being corrupted by the granting of relief, and work relief, to persons not in need thereof, as a consideration for partisan political activity.

Now, Mr. President and members of this Senate, if the sovereign State of Pennsylvania is to have no right to ascertain where and how its electorate is being debauched, if we have no right to find out what is being done with Federal moneys to control elections, it is about time we learn it, and learn it right away. This is a sovereign Commonwealth, the right of determining who shall vote, the right of determining free elections in this Commonwealth, we have never granted it to the Federal Government, and I pray God that we will never grant it to the Federal Government, and this investigation, Mr. President, is to determine and determine solely what is being done in this State and in its elections, and to compel the unfortunate people of Pennsylvania who need relief and need work relief, to walk up and register and vote as they are told, if they are going to get this relief.

Now we have heard much about playing politics with human misery. That has been the continual talk of the left side of this Senate all during this session, about cutting off relief, playing politics with human misery, and I say to you, Mr. President, that if we do not now have a right to find out from volunteer witnesses what is being done to debauch our electorate, we ought to know it, and that is all this does.

Now the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, asks why we did not take an appeal from the decision of the Federal Court. I think you are all familiar with what happened. When this committee was discovered to have this witness, Mr. Williamson, that they talk so much about, and whose testimony, by the way, has never been denied by anybody; they talk a lot about who he is, but not one single person has come up to deny a single thing that he said, nor a single thing that was in the affidavits that were filed in the Federal Court. Now what happened when it was found that Mr. Williamson was ready to tell the whole SERB story, or what was happening in the WPA? They brought up from Washington Mr. Dickinson, the "big gun" who argued the Guffey coal case; they brought a whole retinue of lawyers who had two floors in the Penn Harris Hotel in this city; they brought this matter before the Federal Court and secured a restraining order. Now we have bowed to that restraining order. We say that it is apparent in this day of the New Deal that we are not going to be permitted to find out anything about what happens to the taxpayers' money that goes down to Washington. We all suspected that that was true a long time ago, but this investigation proves one thing, namely, that when money is paid to the Federal Government in the form of taxes and is turned over to the President of the United States and to Jim Farley to spend, they can spend it just as they please and nobody has a right to say anything about it. Now that fact we learned in this other investigation. Mr. President, we are going to find out, if this resolution is adopted, whether or not the electorate of Pennsylvania can be debauched with money, whether or not the sovereign state of Pennsylvania has a right to control, as it was never denied it had, the elections of this state, whether the sovereign state of Pennsylvania has a right to say that our citizens shall be free to register as they please, to enroll in whatever party they please, and to vote as they please. That is the inalienable right of the citizens of this country, and we are going to find out whether it is going to be continued, and I ask the Senate to vote for this resolution.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I cannot help but feel, listening to the remarks of the Senator from Tioga, that if one could believe all that he said, he would have the opinion that the State of Pennsylvania had seceded from the United States of America. Perhaps the Republican machine in this state has seceded from the United States of America, they seem to have seceded from everything that is progressive and constructive and everything that is American in public life.

It amuses me when the Senator from Tioga speaks about freedom of press, freedom of speech, and that nobody denies Mr. Williamson's statement. Mr. President, men stood down there at the door of the committee room, pounded on the door of that committee room, to testify in their own behalf and deny the slanderous and libelous statements that this witness had made against them, and they were refused admittance into that committee room, and I brought that up on the floor of the Senate two months ago, and that charge was never denied at that time. I say, Mr. President, it comes with poor grace to talk about such things when you have a committee, that is a packed jury, that only hears one side, and in all of this committee's investigation there was only one side of the investigation heard, and only one side of the case will be heard by this committee. Is that the sort of thing that is going to keep freedom of elections, freedom of the press, freedom of speech in Pennsylvania, or does that sound more like the machine of a generation ago in Philadelphia, where they toss the ballot boxes into the Schuylkill River and things of that sort? When the Republican National committeeman talks about the freedom of election, I wonder if he wants the kind of freedom of election that the Vare machine had in Philadelphia for generations. If that is the kind of freedom of elections he is pleading for, I say to you, Mr. President, this committee, in its investigation, will not add to the freedom of elections in this state, but will tend to do just what the other committee did, it will debauch the respectability of this parliamentary body and debauch freedom of elections, rather than help freedom of elections.

Now, if this resolution is only calculated to protect those that are on relief, why does it not say so? The State of Pennsylvania is raising by taxation all of the money that is being spent for direct relief in this state. We have a perfect legal right, the Senate and House, buy a concurrent resolution, to investigate, to go into it in any form, and find out whether this relief is being used to interfere with the right of suffrage; why is not that brought up? Why do we not stick to the place where we can do something? If we want to be emissaries in the cause of clean elections, let us be emissaries where we can possibly do some emissary work, and not go out over the hill where we cannot do anything. The WPA cannot be investigated. Why do we not hear from our senior Senator in Pennsylvania at Washington? Why does he not start an investigation in the Senate of the United States? That is what he is down there for, if he thinks the WPA is not behaving right. We have a Republican Senator from this State, he has been down there for a year while the WPA has been in progress. We have had no investigating committee in Congress, no investigating committee sponsored by Senator Davis. That is his function. He is elected to go down to Washington to do that, that is not the function of the State of Pennsylvania. Mr. President, I say to you that this is just one more demonstration of what has occurred in our fifteen weeks of the session. There has been nothing but political jugglery and fumbling right from the start to the finish.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I do not want to let go unchallenged the statement of the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, that Senator Davis, the senior Senator from Pennsylvania, has done nothing to investigate the WPA. I think everyone who is up on what has been going on at Washington knows that the resolution introduced in the Senate of the United States by Senator Davis to investigate the WPA in the United States, and how it is being used for political purposes, and what happened to the resolution? It was referred to a Senate Committee and there it died, and Senator Vandenberg and a number of other Senators urged that that resolution be passed, and that an investigation be made and the light of day be thrown on this WPA, and they never got any place with it, because Mr. Farley gave orders that it was to be kept in the dark. Now if we are going to have a discussion on this matter, let us stick to the facts as they are, let us not misrepresent the facts.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, it is obvious to anybody that this proposition is a political one. Before November this Committee will act—and I suppose it will consist of four Republicans and one reluctant Democrat—and it will act to make fodder for the November election. But I am only interested in learning that the Republican Party has now decided that it is interested in seeing there will be no corrupt elections. The bad faith of that statement is obvious by our record last year. Anybody that claims this is an attempt on the part of the Republican Party to see that elections in Pennsylvania are not debauched and not corrupt may just look at the record of last year, when a bill was prepared—the Corrupt Practice Act—introduced in the Senate by a Republican Senator, and killed in the Senate Committee, the Republican Committee on Elections.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I probably do not take the same attitude on this resolution as many members of this Senate do. I feel that if there is going on in this Commonwealth the practice enumerated by the Senator from Tioga, that that condition should be exposed. We all should be apprised of that condition, and I would not hesitate a moment to vote for a resolution that will expose that condition, and this resolution does not effect that particular purpose. The resolution through its entirety demonstrates that it is drawn up by an individual who either is trying to evade the real purpose deliberately or ignorantly. Now in order for us to investigate the conditions enumerated by the Senator from Tioga, it would be necessary to go to the very point where this condition starts, to the very point where the relief applicant is denied his relief unless he registers in the proper political party. This resolution appears in its entirety to be drawn up by an individual who is not familiar with the structure of this relief adminstration in this State of Pennsylvania. The man that drew up that resolution is not familiar with the WPA setup. Anybody that is familiar with the WPA setup knows that no person can get on WPA work unless his name comes through the National Re-employment Service, and that no name comes into the National Re-employment Service unless that name comes from the SERB in the various counties, and that the names that come into the National Re-employment Service are those individuals who have shown an actual need and are found on the rolls of the SERB. Now I say again, and repeat, because I want to emphasize the fact, that the individual who drew up this resolution, is either ignorant of the system of WPA and National Re-employment Service and SERB, or else he has introduced this resolution absolutely in bad faith and is not sincere in what he is attempting to accomplish, for if he were sincere, and if he had drawn up this resolution with a full knowledge of the setup that we have, he would know that he should include in this resolution also the SERB, from the inception, the very place where the applicant starts in his application for relief, direct relief, and then he is certified over to the National Re-employment Service, and then by the National Re-employment Service assigned to WPA work. This resolution does not attempt, it does not have a word about investigating the point where an applicant first and makes contact to get on relief, and I would like to know from the Senator from Tioga why he has excluded the SERB from the investigation contemplated in this resolution.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, the Senator from Fayette has stated the procedure as it is supposed to be conducted under WPA. The trouble is that he has forgotten to explain how it is actually run. Now it is true that the WPA was supposed to furnish work relief for those on the SERB rolls, but the investigation which was made by our committee, which was so peremptorily stopped by the Federal Government, showed us, even as far as we had gone, that instead of taking these people from the SERB rolls, and instead of putting on WPA people that were entitled to it, it was used solely for political purposes to the extent that was explained on the floor of this Senate, that a man was brought from New York State and given a $3600 job on WPA, so he would be here in Harrisburg to be near his friend, the Governor; and it was also told of a woman, a Democratic committeewoman in Montgomery County, who got a $6,000 job. The Senator from Allegheny says that it is only a $5,000 a year job. She was given supervision over some sewing circle, and so it goes all along the line, instead of taking people off SERB work, they are taken off the rolls of active political workers in each political precinct, and this 10% which they are allowed to take from outside the relief rolls, those people have been put on. The investigation showed that as soon as a project is approved and workers are supposed to take decent jobs in the place of this dole, they are left on the relief roll until the political sponsor has their names taken off.

Now those are the facts, and that is why this resolution was/is drawn in its present form, because it is not conducted as it is supposed to be conducted, and everybody knows that it is not.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, while I do not represent the City of Philadelphia, nor the alleged Republican Mayor of that city, there has been a statement made on the floor of this Senate of which I doubt the truth, and I would like to interrogate the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I will.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, the Senator from Centre has stated that the ballot boxes in the City of Philadelphia were thrown into the Schuylkill River, and I would like to ask him when that took place, what facts he has to back it up.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I cannot name the particular election, but it was given a lot of publicity in the Philadelphia newspapers. There was a magistrate by the name of Renshaw who was running for reelection, and as the papers carried it at that time, there were a great many of the controlled wards in Philadelphia where the election boards had received their orders to give Renshaw no votes at that election, and the election boards left and filled out the returns before they opened the ballot boxes on the morning of the election, the ballot boxes, with the ballots in them, it developed in the testimony, were thrown into the Schuylkill River, and fake election return sheets were returned, except in certain precincts, and when the orders came out about noon of that day, that there was to be this investigation, then the Republican City Committee gave orders to make out new return sheets, and some of them had made out new return sheets, and that is where the investigation started.

I think that ought to answer the question of the Senator from Bucks, and in connection with this, I might just add, the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman's own newspaper organ, just a few weeks ago, I presented it here and read it on the floor of the Senate, spoke in most laudatory terms of the WPA work it is doing, and I called the attention of the Senate at that time to the fact that the ownership of this newspaper, which was so laudatory in its praise of the WPA,—the President of that newspaper was none other than former U. S. Senator Joseph Grundy.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, the reply of the Senator from Centre is very complete; if true, I doubt the truth of it, however, and while, as I say, I do not represent the City of Philadelphia, I feel that he has made a very grave charge against the City of Philadelphia, and I think that some of the Senators who do represent that city should more fully answer. I merely raised the question because I visit Philadelphia almost daily in my business, and I never knew that Philadelphia was that corrupt, even under Republican control.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, someone must rise to defend the City of Brotherly Love. I simply want to state that the City spent thousands of dollars dredging the Schuylkill River and it has not yet recovered the ballot boxes.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, while this matter has been brought up, and I have sat here this session and have to my entertainment heard many political charges, one against the other, how corrupt the Republicans are, how corrupt the Democrats are, and if all these things be true, I do not know why someone did not get together and drive all Republicans and Democrats out of Pennsylvania and start a new government. Some people in their anxiety to make political speeches, suffer from hallucinations, they suffer from brainstorms, and sometimes, in the moment of debate, do not stop to think. Now, our friend, Senator Thompson if he had stopped to think, I do not believe would have made the statement that he did. If he read what he said he read, he must have read it in the nighttime, during a dream. There never was an event in the City of Philadelphia such as he spoke of, there never were any ballot boxes in the city of Philadelphia—in my time—and it runs back many years—thrown into the Schuylkill River. According to my recollection in politics in Philadelphia, there never was a time that a single ballot box was missing in any election held in the city of Philadelphia in the last thirty years, at least that I can recollect, and I think, in all fairness, in all honesty, and in all sincerity, without finding any fault at all with my friend down there, that he ought to have the manhood and the honesty and the courage to get up on this floor and at least say he was not quite familiar with the circumstances, and that maybe he made a mistake; I know he made a mistake, but maybe he did not know until now, and, as he has the facts before him, while it is not a very important thing, I think in the spirit of fairness he ought to do it.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, if it is not a fact that the Democratic members of the conference held last week insisted on the removal of these amendments to this bill before they would agree on the program for the $45,000,000 of relief, and for the winding up of this session.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, yes sir.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, my position in regard to this matter is well known. There is scarcely a member of this Senate, Democrat or Republican, that has not expressed his utter disgust with the way in which the Emergency Relief Board is conducting the administration of relief. To take out this amendment simply means that this wasteful, extravagant, inefficient bureaucratic system is to go ahead. The State of Pennsylvania has lost untold millions of dollars by the method in which relief is administered by the SERB; and these Senators, Democratic and Republican alike, ought to put themselves on record as being opposed to the continuance of this system. I ask for a roll call.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I have tried to find out something about this relief administration by the SERB and by the counties. I do not know which is the better method, but I do think it is very important that we should before we do anything, make up our minds as to which is the better method. In Philadelphia County what is being suggested may not be, and I do not think is, the best method. I am sure there are other counties in which return of relief to the localities would not be the better method. We have a system of government which provides legislation for counties according to their needs and to, at this time, right before the advent of a General Session, change a system which has been in operation for at least five years, to my mind is inadvisable.

Under the terms of this bill as it now reads this transfer would occur December 1, 1936; and a month after that the Legislature would meet. It would be impossible for anybody to determine, from a change which occurred a month before, which was the better method of procedure. I want to call the attention of the members of this Senate to this fact. If you will read the reports which I have taken, and have been digesting, of the Committee which investigated the administration of poor relief in Philadelphia—you talk about expenditures, and about abuse, by the State, it might be interesting to read the excerpts that I have taken from these reports, which appeared in the newspapers,—and I am not going to burden you by giving you many of them. Take the report of Herman J. Tahl, member of the Legislative Committee investigating Poor Boards, who charges first for extravagance in the administration of relief, and reveals through the Krekstein report that in addition to paying 35c and 25c eggs the Boards also paid 38c for 33c butter, 15c for 6¼c tomatoes, 35c for 27c coffee and 15c for 10c beans.

"Krekstein's report revealed that the Bristol Township Board dealt with 29 grocers in 1931 spending $74,600 and that 22 of these grocers got only $19,000 worth of business.

"In Byberry Township the Krekstein report revealed that Talbot Relief Funds were being handled from a private account and that the Roxborough Poor Board had in its almshouse 16 inmates and supported in addition a steward, a matron and two children and one "in law" who enjoyed de luxe living quarters with 5 bedrooms, bath, dining, living and reception rooms."

From the Philadelphia Record of December 22, 1932, comes this excerpt: "City Controller Hadley receives report from his auditors that Germantown Poor Board purchased 400 quarts of liquor and 4800 cigars in 1931. John Marsden, President of the Poor Board said he did not even know the liquor had been bought."

"Expenditures by the Oxford-Lower Dublin Board of an average of more than $2000 a year for its members in attendance as delegates to conventions."

"Cost of maintaining inmates in the almshouses of the three boards exceeds by more than 60 per cent similar expenditures in other counties."

"Purchases of large stocks of cigars, whiskey and ginger ale by the management of these institutions."

"Description of the Germantown almshouse at Rittenhouse Street and Pulaski Avenue as 'a magnificent estate' of five and one-half acres, with a laundry five times too big for an institution of its size and a $23,000 stable garage, used to house two cows, one horse and two automobiles—one of them useless."

"Members of the Germantown Board, informed by their solicitor that they were not entitled to salaries under the law, voted themselves compensation of $1600 in 1931 for fulfilling the regular duties as secretary, treasurer and committee chairmen, rotating their services in these positions so that each of the nine managers received several hundred dollars during the year."

"The per capita cost, including capital expense of these three poor boards in Philadelphia for the care of inmates in their almshouses, according to Mr. Krekstein, was $586.97 in 1931."

"The per capita cost throughout the State, according to figures furnished by the State Department of Welfare is 96 cents a day or $351.86 a year."

"The Oxford-Lower Dublin Board spent $2000 for attendance at the annual convention of poor board directors in 1931 in Altoona Ten delegates were authorized to attend. Those who attended were the eight directors, a steward and the matron."

"The Germantown Poor Board spent $109,665 for major improvements to an institution housing 93 inmates in 1926. Included in these improvements were a boiler room for $35,000, a stable for $23,000, linoleum for the main building $63,000 and $95,000 for an enclosed front porch. They spent, in 1931, for landscaping and trimming hedges $533 of this amount $82 was paid at the rate of $7 a day for the services of a hedge trimmer despite the fact that a farmer is employed and one of the inmates acts as a gardener.

"In 1931 the Germantown Poor Board bought 20 cases of whiskey for $1000 which was an average of $11 worth of whiskey for each inmate. The audit report brought out that 58,000 cigars at 11c each were purchased and consumed by the managers of the institution."

There are at present in the Mt. Carmel Poor District, in Northumberland County, three law suits, filed by persons from whom clothing and things of that character were purchased; and it might be interesting for you to note some of the items from exhibits accompanying the Statements of Claim. These are some of the items and I have copies of these exhibits, which I have for the attention of the members who want them:

Three suits of clothes, furnished to one person, at a cost of $150.00. One coat, for a lady, $77.00. Two pairs of shoes, purchased in one day, for one man, $16.50. Sweater, $12.00. Waist, $6.85. Two pairs of ladies stockings $9.00. Two blankets, $25.96. Two pairs of shoes, one costing $11.65 and the other $14.47. One pair of shoes sold to an individual for $11.00, and the storekeeper added 10% tax. One dress, $27.00. One dress, $30.00. Some unmentionables at $4.80. Between March 7th and Sept. 4th, to one person, shoes, and so forth, totalling $140.00.

There are thousands of items—I have given you a sample of them from these copies. You can make comparison between the county boards. In the Mount Carmel district, on preliminary examination of the books of the Poor Board it was not possible to arrive at an exact amount due the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for the several institutions in which they have inmates, due to the fact that no accounts payable control is kept in their ledgers, and from their books an account is not owing until such time as they see fit to set it up on their books. From their books the following amounts are institutions as of January 1, 1936:

Allentown	$191.16
Danville	49,589.73
Torrance	59.67
Selinsgrove	206.22
Pennhurst	1,800.65

It seems to me that an attempt at this time, in a Special Session, to upset a system, turn it from the State to the individual localities, with a record such as this as a background, is dangerous, and certainly not a careful way to legislate with regard to funds involving $60,000,000. I think this amendment to the bill, allowing this matter to stand for the time, is the wisest move this Senate could take.

Mind you, I do not take the position that the present system is the best system; but I do know that men of intelligence, integrity, honesty and ability are studying this question. There is to be issued a second report of the Goodrich Committee, a complete report. You may not agree with the Committee's suggestions, but certainly they should be considered, and not regarded lightly. And to turn this over at this time, particularly in Philadelphia County, would be dangerous.

I want to say to the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, in discussing this very problem and bringing in the other, that I listened to the Senator from Centre, and I want to say that I am ashamed to admit that many of the things he said were true. Everybody that lives in Philadelphia knew of the Zero Division Scandal in Philadelphia, and everybody in Philadelphia likewise knew of the Poor Board Scandal; and those who are here in the Senate should see to it that nothing occurs, again, nothing should be done that permits the situation in Philadelphia to go on.

Let me say further, to you in Philadelphia, that we have only five poor boards, that cover only five of the forty-eight wards; so, if you do return it to the poor boards in Philadelphia you leave a large section of the city uncovered, and any administration of relief in those wards not covered by the poor boards would have to be put in charge of the Welfare Department of the city.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, the enemies of this bill in its present form are visibly unfair and greatly agitated over the favorable results that will ensue to the people of this Commonwealth should the bill become law.

The bill does not place the administration of unemployment relief in the hands of Directors of the Poor, to be administered by them through the system they now use for the administration of their laws; the bill specifically creates a "Public Assistance Board" in each county of this Commonwealth, consisting of five members.

In the selection of these members the bill follows the opinion of all the people of this Commonwealth as well as the members of this Senate, that the problem of unemployment relief is the problem of Democrat and Republican alike. In counties where the people have elected to public office a Republican administration, the Democratic membership of this General Assembly has no just right to impose upon those people a Democrat administration of unemployment relief. And in counties where the people have elected Democrats to administer the County Government, the Republican membership has no just right to impose upon them a Republican administration of relief. The American principle of local self-government prevents such course. The Democratic membership of this House cannot with one breath admit that relief is a bi-partisan problem and with a succeeding breath deny a bi-partisan administration of it. In the selection of the Board the bill recognizes all these inescapeable conclusions, and also the rights of the taxpayers of this Commonwealth to have a voice in the selection of persons who will be entrusted with the expenditure of millions upon millions of taxpayers' dollars. A fair study of the bill will show that the selection of the five members of the Board is made in a manner to positively insure a bi-partisan administration substantially responsible to the taxpayers of the several counties.

It is amazing indeed to listen to the arguments that politicians will resort to in order to confuse a main issue, when that issue deals with perfidy on the part of one party or another. The bill before us at this time does not place the administration of unemployment relief in the hands of the Directors of the Poor, and any intelligent man reading this bill from beginning to end cannot come to any other conclusion than that this bill does not send back the administration of unemployment relief to the poor boards, to be administered under the systems of the poor boards.

The bill is very specific in its terms, wherein it creates a Public Assistance Board in every county. And then the bill, in providing for the selection of the five members of the Public Assistance Board in the county, seeks to take advantage of the opinion that is prevalent in both major parties that we must soon come to the point where the lone municipality must be given some responsibility in the administration of Emergency Relief funds. In the selection of these members the bill follows the opinion of all the people of this Commonwealth, as well as of the members of the Senate, that the problem of unemployment relief is the problem of the Democrats and Republicans alike.

Now, Mr. President, I am in accord with the remarks of the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, when he said in order not to place any obstacles in the way of a peaceful and prompt conclusion of this session the Democrats and Republicans should get together, and the Democrats should recede from their stubborn position on the bill, and the Republicans should cooperate, as far as eliminating this same Emergency Relief Board in the interest of taking this relief problem back to the local communities. I am in full accord with any program that is harmonious, and I will expedite the work of this Special Session to the best of my ability.

Mr. President, throwing all partisanship aside, and merely in a frank and openminded manner, I should like to just point out certain things in this bill which in my opinion are absolutely serious. I am frank to admit that when this bill came out of committee, and was printed, and was put on my desk and I read over it, realizing that I had suggested an amendment to it in committee, it was pretty hard for me to recognize those amendments to that bill as my amendments in a certain part of it. One particular part of it was that amendment made to the bill which limits the administrative cost of relief to eight per cent. It is true that the amendment recommended by me to the committee did contain a provision limiting the administrative cost to eight per cent. of the relief appropriation, but in making that limitation we were mindful of the fact that that limitation applied to a system as provided in my amendment, where we would create a new board in each county, and there utilize the work of the three poor directors that get $1500 each a year, and some less than that,—to make them work for their money, and also throw some portion of that administrative cost upon the county; and with that taken into consideration, then the amendment to this bill, limiting the administrative cost to eight per cent., would be reasonable; but as this bill is now before us, it limits the administrative cost of the present system of relief to eight per cent., and that is not in the amendment made by me, or recommended by me to this committee. I say that amendment is a very bad amendment. That amendment may have within it the tendency, now, if it is passed, to disrupt the administration of direct relief in this State. If you cut down its administrative cost at this time limiting it to eight per cent., that may cause an interruption of this direct relief; and I say that is not my amendment, and that particular amendment is a very bad amendment, considering the fact, as I have stated, that the eight per cent. limitation was intended to apply to the system that would send the administration of relief back to the local counties.

Now then, there is another very bad feature to this bill, and this is a very serious defect in this amendment. Now, you may giggle, but this is a very serious defect in the amendment made by Senator Scott, and that is the "non-political" amendment to the bill. If you gentlemen will turn to the bill—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Mercer, Mr. Law, will state his point of order.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, the Senator is not discussing the amendment.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, yes, the amendment to the bill.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair requests the Senator to confine himself to the amendment.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, the "non-political" amendment to the bill is what I was speaking on. I wish to confine myself, however, to the making of this amendment, and I am trying to show that under the present status of this bill—trying to show the relationship between the amendment that is being sought at this time and Section 6 of the bill, that they are related with each other, and that the two of them, that is, the amendment that Senator Huffman wants to strike out, and Section 6, cannot be in the same bill at the same time.

Mr. President, Section 6 of the bill, the "non-political" section, says no investigator, clerk or other employe of the State Emergency Relief Board shall be a member, and so forth, of a political party. Now, if you bear in mind that the way this bill now stands, with amendment recommended by me, it creates a board separate from the State Emergency Relief Board, so that you have both the State Emergency Relief Board and the Public Assistance Boards of the counties. Now, this Section 6, a "non-political" section, makes it a misdemeanor for the members of the State Emergency Relief Board to do certain things but does not cover members of the Public Assistance Boards.

Now, you examine this carefully—I am bringing this to the attention of the Senate because I feel, on the same principle that if you have one rotten apple in a barrel of good apples it will make all the other apples rotten. As to this amendment I recommended, there is no Democratic argument of any kind that can induce me to believe that the amendment is not something desirable and something that ought to be done; but with these other two objectionable features in this bill, this amendment is absolutely inocuous. Section 6 makes it a misdemeanor for the members of the State Emergency Relief Board to engage in politics, yet leaves the Public Assistance Boards and their employes absolutely free to engage in all kinds of politics.

Now, Mr. President, I hope that I have made myself clear that my amendment on this bill, creating Public Assistance Boards, and Section 6 here—they cannot stand in the same bill together unless there is also an amendment to Section 6. But the only way that Section 6, the "non-political" section, can stand in this bill would be to remove my amendment; and I have great confidence in the members of this Senate that they do see the point that I am trying to make, and that I am trying to make in all sincerity.

Now, another thing that has happened here in connection with this bill is this, Mr. President: Both Republican members and Democratic members of this Senate have been trying to make of this amendment of mine, creating these Public Assistance Boards, a trading post,—to trade it off for anything else, the Republicans for one thing and the Democrats for another thing. The amendment suggested by me for this bill was not meant to be a trading post for either the Democrats or the Republicans; it was suggested by me in all sincerity. Now, I have all confidence that should the motion to strike my amendment from this bill be carried—I have implicit confidence in the integrity of His Excellency, the Governor of this State, that he will carry out the promise that he has publicly stated here to the press, that he will give such a system a trial in these twenty or thirty counties that he has named, I do not have their names now; I have confidence he will do that; I have confidence in his integrity; and I am not going to be stubborn in my insistence upon this amendment if it means delay in our final adjournment. We have quibbled too long in trivial matters, and now that we have come to something real serious, we are coming to the end of the session. But I sincerely feel that the sooner this Senate, this General Assembly, adjourns the better it is going to be for the people of this Commonwealth. I think we have heard them enough up to this time.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I had not intended to talk on this bill, but after listening to the Senator from Fayette I am wondering whether he is trying to build up an alibi or talk for the particular amendments that he has been pressing for in season and out of season apparently during this special session of the legislature. We hear from all those who oppose this particular piece of legislation that they are all for it in theory, they are for it eventually; but if they are for it eventually, why not now? The Senator from Fayette has told us that the Governor has promised to try out this particular feature in about thirty counties of the Commonwealth. Thirty-seven counties of the Commonwealth have but 12,000 cases on relief out of the total of 169,869 cases on relief; for the week ending July 25th, thirty-seven of the sixty-seven counties had 12,000 cases, approximately, and the other more than 150,000 cases came from the other thirty counties in Pennsylvania.

Now, if we are going to try that experiment in those counties where it is not needed, then it is going to be a useless experiment. On the 13th day of July, when we first commenced to talk about compromise at a Republican caucus which was attended by the floor leader of the Democratic Party in this Senate, it was agreed, and this memorandum was written in long-hand at that time: "The Democratic and Republican members of the Senate have agreed, as a compromise, that the sum of $45,000,000 be appropriated for relief needs to the 31st day of January, 1937; this amount to include refundment of the amounts transferred from various special funds during this Special Session. The said sum to be allocated by the Board from month to month over that period."

Mr. President, I am very sure that unless some such amendment as that known here as the Cavalcante Amendment—although, personally, I would favor the amendment proposed by the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward—but unless we have some amendment of that sort, we are never going to honestly meet the conditions set forth in this memorandum. We are spending, at the present time, $6,000,000 a month for relief. We cannot do it and stay within the amount that was agreed upon. The only way it can be done is to allocate to the various counties the amounts that are going to be paid by the Commonwealth and then tell those counties, "The rest of the responsibility is yours."

At the present time the rural counties of Pennsylvania are taking care of their unemployables very largely. Some of the other, larger counties of Pennsylvania—for instance, in particular, the county of Philadelphia—have most of their unemployables on the relief rolls, and we are asked to tax the people of the rest of Pennsylvania to take care of the unemployables in Philadelphia, while we are locally asking our property owners to also take care of the local unemployables at home. That is not going to long continue, and unless we can find some way of cutting this relief down, unless we can approach it on a practical business basis, in which the administrators of relief say, "We are not going to allow any man to suffer who is financially unable to support himself, nor are we going to allow those who are able to support themselves to come in on this relief program," we are going to endanger all relief in Pennsylvania, and we are going to eventually have the system break down, and those who are needy are going to go without relief from the State of Pennsylvania. We cannot put the taxes on for a system that will not work out.

Now, I simply want to call your attention to the fact that unless we have some sort of amendment such as this, placing part of the responsibility back locally, placing part of the cost of administration back locally, then we are simply going to be shipwrecked.

I have in my hands, Mr. President, a list of employes of the State Relief Agency here in Harrisburg. Page after page has been listed. On this first page there are salaries of $3,856. The highest salary on the list is $666.67 a month; the lowest salary on that list—and there is only one in the classification—is $85.00 per month. There were only four or five in the whole classification under $100.00. On page 2 there is over $3000 expended. The highest on this page is $375. There is another at $335, and another at $250. On the next page there is $2430 being spent for employes. The highest in classification are two at $200 a month. On the next page there is $3195 being spent, with the highest classification at $495 a month—a very goodly salary, if you will ask me, in these times. Another of $250 a month, another of $200—two additional one at $200 a month, and many more at $125 a month. The next, another $3000 page has one salary of $550 a month, another salary of $250 a month—and so it goes.

Mr. President, I have only read you four pages, but here is five, six, seven, eight, nine—and the large salaries are not all in front, because on page 9 is a salary of $325 a month; on page 10 there are two salaries at $275 a month, another at $275, another at $285, three more at $375 a month. Here is page 11 with one that strikes my eye at $335 a month, several at $275 a month. Here are pages 12 and 13—here is one at $550 a month, another at $300 a month. Here are pages 14 and 15—a "secretary" at $300 a month strikes my eye; another at $300 a month strikes my eye; various others at $225 and $212 a month. And we go right on to page 16 and I find exactly the same thing, with, at the top, a salary of $375 a month. And then on page 17—we find on page 17, as usual, some high-class employes receiving $200 a month and upward. On page 18 the same story is told. On page 19 the same story is told; and on page 20, page 21, page 22, page 23, page 24, page 25 and page 26.

Mr. President, while we are compelled to have a list like this in Harrisburg, duplicated by another list, which I handed to one of the Philadelphia Senators, which I think is equally large, and has some equally large salaries included in it, a large part of the money that we are taxing from the people of Pennsylvania is not going to these people who are asking for relief. It is not a case, Mr. President, under our present condition, of taxing the rich to feed the poor, but a case of taxing the rich not only to feed the poor but to feed a whole lot of people in an agency of relief that is entirely too elaborate for any necessity of the case.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator whether it is his understanding that by striking out, or by the amendment offered by the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, that the Governor of Pennsylvania would have any opportunity of trying local relief out in any counties.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I have no written agreement in the matter; I read it in the newspapers,—that is what the Governor has said.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator how it would be possible under the existing bill for any pending amendment to the bill for the Governor to make any trial of it.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, in answer to the Senator from Dauphin I may say that, in my opinion, I think the Governor has been in a position to do that very thing since the day of his inauguration. I do not think we need to pass any legislation to give him the power to do that; he has already had that power, has it even now, under the State Emergency Relief Board headed, or designated, by the Act of Assembly, on which the Democrats predominate. I think they have had that power.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Then, Mr. President, it is the thought of the Senator that the Governor has sufficient power at the present time to go into Fayette County or Dauphin County or any other county he may choose and set up an agency to set up relief locally, without any additional authority being given him?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, provided the other members of the State Emergency Relief Board, or the majority of them, will go along with him on that; because I know of no Act of Assembly that prescribes the system of administration.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I thank the Senator from Fayette.

I am not prepared, Mr. President, to ask you whether or not the position of the Senator from Fayette is correct, but I am, personally, unwilling to take the position that by any act or any vote of mine I am going to acquiesce in permitting this whole matter of relief, in any one of ten or twenty or thirty counties, to be up to the Governor. I think that we are a nation and a State which ought to abide by law, and it should distinctly be fixed in the law how relief is to be administered.

Personally, Mr. President, I was greatly impressed by the early part of the speech of the Senator from Fayette. I thought he presented an able and all-sufficient argument in favor of the amendment which the Committee on Appropriations wrote into this bill at his suggestion; and, believing that, I intend to vote against the present, pending amendment to rip the Cavalcante amendment out of this bill.

For the past several years in this Senate we have been debating this question. During the regular session of 1935, in the Committee on County Government and in the Committee on State Government, bills were introduced and Senators expressed themselves at that time without regard to party. In view of the proposition that the only way in which relief could be solved in this Commonwealth was to put it back into local agencies, the reason those bills did not pass was because of a difference of opinion as to method, some believing it should go back to the poor boards and some to the creation of agencies.

Now, the Senator from Fayette has introduced an amendment which has been wrttten into this bill, and which, so far as I can learn, has met with nothing but favor on the part of Senators. There may be some merit to the criticism of poor boards, which was uttered by the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, but I call attention to the fact that the poor boards he was referring to are not even recognized in this bill. It may be of interest to the Senator from Philadelphia to cast reflections on elected officials, but I resent the imputation, in those remarks, that there are not honest and efficient poor boards in Pennsylvania. I challenge the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, or any other Senator on this floor, to make any such charge against the Poor Board of Dauphin County, or to show that one dollar of public money was ever expended by that Board improperly, or not according to law.

But we are not turning this over to poor boards, we are creating special boards; and in counties, like Dauphin and Fayette—fifty counties, I believe—where the poor district is co-extensive with the county, we recognize the poor board, but have two members to be appointed by the State Emergency Relief director. We therefore create a new agency, and in Philadelphia and in other counties, where the districts administered by the poor boards are not co-extensive, we raise a new board; and I wonder if the Senator from Philadelphia is ready to say that the judges of his own county are incompetent and inefficient, so that they cannot appoint three members, three citizens of Philadelphia as members on that board, to act with two others to be named by the State Emergency Relief director.

I say, Mr. President, the time has come when this Senate should act on this matter. Last year we passed in this Senate the Batchelor Bill to put it back into the poor boards, by a large majority. We passed a bill, which was introduced, as I recall, by the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, creating agencies something like this. It is time we stop fooling with this question, it is time we recognize the only way we are ever going to have honest and efficient relief in this Commonwealth is by putting it back where it belongs, in local agencies; and I hope, therefore, that the pending amendment, which would rip out the advance step which has been taken by the Senator from Fayette, in creating a system of local administration —I hope this amendment will be voted down.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I cast no reflections on the Poor Board of Dauphin County, because I do not know anything about their activities. I specifically confined my accusations to records. I do cast reflections upon the members of the Poor Board in the counties to which I referred, who were guilty of the practices I referred to.

I do say that the judges of the Courts of Common Pleas of Philadelphia are competent to appoint proper people. I also, with equal force, say that it is not unknown to me that even the judges of Common Pleas Courts have made political appointments, and it is not unknown to the rest of the members of this Senate—those of us who read the papers; I go no further than that. And I do say my objection to this—and I never said it went into the poor boards, I went into the question of referring this back to the localities long ago, and I pointed out one fact, and that is this: That in Philadelphia, even if the judges were to appoint non-political heads, when this Assistance Board, or whatever name you give it, while there would be a restriction upon the SERB, prohibiting them from being politically-minded, or making political appointments, there would be no restriction in Philadelphia or any other county upon the Board there making the appointments politically; they could go out and offer jobs to local workers, to workers on relief.

The Senator from Tioga, has just offered a resolution which he says is intended to take politics out of relief. The same Republican side has offered a resolution which puts into relief administration the political activity in local relief territories, because in one provision it says there shall be no politics in the State administration of relief, but since we say nothing about it with regard to the local administration, there may be and will be all the politics you want; and I say, to make that change stops any forward step, and any value that there is in the amendment offered by the Senator from Fayette. It does not announce —and I say it with all due respect to the judges—it is not announced that judges have made political appointments, and in view of that fact, and the condition in which this bill is, which enables this to be thrown into the hands of a political party in my county, whether you call it a poor board or an assistance board, I am opposed to this amendment.

Mr. RODGERS. Mr. President, there seems to be a question in the minds of some of the Senators as to whether the State Emergency Relief Board can create county assistance boards. If you will recall, gentlemen, under the second Talbot Act mechanics were set up at that time, when we created the State Emergency Relief Board, which is a Board having great powers. You are still operating, as I recall, under the second Talbot Act—the mechanics set up at that time; and the State Emergency Relief Board can set up in the various counties county assistance boards—and we did have county assistance boards at one time; and the power of those boards was gradually withdrawn, and centered more and more in Harrisburg, until many of the boards refused to act, and many of you gentlemen recall that circumstance.

Now, under the present Act, as I recall it, that is, the Act creating the State Emergency Relief Board, they have power to create these county boards, and I see no necessity for any amendment in this Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, in view of this prolonged discussion, and in view of the fact that I intend to vote for this amendment, I want to speak for the record, because I am in thorough accord with what was said by the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, and the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed.

I am thoroughly convinced that we will never get rid of this tremendous overhead in the administration of relief until it is returned to the local districts. We are confronted by a condition and not a theory; it will never be accomplished by the Governor and the Democratic leaders of this State, they will not agree to a settling of this relief question, and to the final adjournment of this Senate and House, unless that amendment is taken out of this bill. No, they have the Governor and they have the House, and if it is not taken out nobody knows how long we will be here rehashing this over; and the only answer, as I see it, to this question is with the polls next November, when the Republican Party, and the members of this House and Senate come back here next year, with the control of both the House and the Senate, we will be in a position to put this back where it should be—in the hands of the local communities.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, is not the attitude of the Democrats in the Legislature that this is a very commendable way to handle relief, or the best way? The position we are taking is not that, but that the amendment in this bill is not the best way, either. This amendment provides that it shall go into effect—the amendment now in the bill—the first of December. This experiment provided for by the so-called Cavalcante amendment would be in effect one month and one month only before the regular Session. We have said, on our side, publicly and frequently, that we are willing that a board be set up, a board that will be non-partisan and a board that will efficiently handle this large sum of money, believing that we do not have the best board or the best scheme at the present time; but I want to point this out: Speaking for myself, I am not in favor of the poor boards, now or any other time. I do not propose to go back two hundred years in development and allow the old English system to take effect in Pennsylvania, to handle this Emergency Relief money. I know too much about poor boards. There are some good ones, but the majority of them are political; and this amendment provides that the poor boards handle this money, because they are in the majority on the Board—the Emergency Relief Board appoints two, and there are more than two in every one of the counties where there would be a poor board, whether it be in the townships or in the county.

I say, that is not an improvement on the present system, after all,—besides the matter of money involved here. Plenty of practicing lawyers sitting here on the floor today know how the old Poor Masters of the townships and boroughs handled their poor. Though I may not have had much experience here, I, after all, do want to mix, along with the economy, some humanity; and this amendment does not provide for it, and I think it should be cut out.

Mr. TRAINER. Mr. President, the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, has referred to our Poor Boards in Philadelphia. I just simply want to state here to the assembly gathered, and to you Senators, that I have had the honor and the pleasure of living in the Byberry Township Poor District for the last 29 years, which is administered by a Philadelphia Board, and it has been my great pleasure to say that they are an honest Board; and in the 29 years I have not paid $25.00 in taxes.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. EALY and Mr. GELDER and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—29

Aron,	Law,	Rice,	Sones,

BILL ON THIRD READING

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of Senate Bill No. 38 (House Bill No. 54), on third reading, entitled:

A Supplement to Act Number fifty-seven-A approved the nineteenth day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five (Appropriation Act of one thousand nine hundred thirty-five page forty-one) entitled "An act making an appropriation to the Department of Welfare for Old Age Assistance" making an appropriation for the payment of old age assistance to applicants in counties which do not have sufficient funds available to pay assistance to such applicants and suspending the provisions of this act in case Federal grants for old age assistance shall fail for any reason

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 38 (House Bill No. 54), as follows:

A Supplement to act number fifty-seven-A approved the nineteenth day of July one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (Appropriation Act of one thousand nine hundred thirty-five Page forty-one) entitled "An act making an appropriation to the Department of Welfare for Old Age Assistance" making an appropriation for the payment of old age assistance to applicants in counties which do not have sufficient funds available to pay assistance to such applicants and suspending the provisions of this act in case Federal grants for old age assistance shall fail for any reason

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That in addition to the current appropriation for old age assistance made to the Department of Welfare by the act to which this is a supplement the sum of one million seven hundred fifty thousand dollars ($1,750,000) or as much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated out of the General Fund to the Department of Welfare for expenditure during the biennium ending the thirty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven for old age assistance in the manner provided by law except as otherwise provided by this act The sum hereby appropriated shall be set aside as an emergency reserve fund to be distributed upon written requisition of the Secretary of Welfare to applicants who may be approved as eligible for assistance under existing law Provided That the application of each such applicant has been approved and presented to the Department of Welfare by the Board of Trustees of the Mothers' Assistance Fund of the county wherein the applicant resides and that the board certifies there are not available to such county out of moneys already appropriated and allocated to it sufficient moneys to provide old age assistance to such applicant

Section 2 The purpose of this act is to make sufficient State appropriations available to enable the Department of Welfare to grant assistance to all aged persons eligible to receive assistance under the Old Age Assistance Law of this Commonwealth and to receive Federal grants for old age assistance under Title one of the Social Security Act

In the event that Title one of the Social Security Act shall be held unconstitutional by the Supreme Court of the United States or shall be repealed and Federal grants for old age assistance shall fail for such or for any other reason whatever then so long as Federal grants for old age assistance shall not be available to this Commonwealth no moneys shall be distributed by the Secretary of Welfare from the appropriation made by this act to applicants who have been approved as eligible under the Old Age Assistance Law and the foregoing provisions of this act shall in such cases be suspended so long as Federal grants for old age assistance shall not be available to this Commonwealth

Section 3 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, a short time ago I asked that this bill go over in its order for the purpose of securing information. The bill provides for an appropriation of $1,750,000. from two sources of the State administration. I find contrary opinions, one that the money is necessary and one that it is not, and the thing in which I am interested is that I want to know whether or not it will provide, in its present form, or in the form to which it is intended to change it, Mr. President, will clear up the waiting list of those eligible for pensions. The same argument will apply, if you will pardon the digression, to the other bill which went over in order, the Mothers Assistance bill, and I desire to interrogate the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, as to whether or not he can supply me with the information.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I will. I understand it is from the Attorney General that the information comes that we do not need to make the appropriations at this time. I think the bill provides that the 5,000 people on the waiting list would be taken care of; however, I want that to be confirmed or amplified, and I would like these bills to go over in their order and take them up tomorrow morning.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I am perfectly satisfied to let them go over in order if I am assured that information will be given by the Attorney General's office or from other proper sources, that the elimination of this appropriation of $1,750,000 in the case of old age pensions, and the $300,000 in mothers' assistance if the elimination of these appropriations will still leave us in position to cover the waiting list in both cases. If the Senator from Monroe desires time, we will give it to him, but I want to state here and now that we must be assured that the elimination of these two appropriations will not cause a breakdown in the mothers' assistance and the old age pensions.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator withdraw his request to take up the bill, and allow it to go over in its order?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, yes.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I am inclined to think that these bills require attention and that they be not allowed to go over in order. I think the Senator's request can be answered by reference to the Social Security Act of the Federal Government. The Federal Act provides that the Federal Government will match the State dollar for dollar for old age pensions, and I thought the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, might want to find this out, therefore, I might give him this information.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair desires to inform the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, that there is nothing before the Senate at this time.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, if the Federal Government matches the amount of money we are now spending —the appropriations that we made in 1935, rather in 1933, '35 and '36, the State of Pennsylvania will be enabled to take care of its old age cases, but it will need $1,750,000. It can accomplish it without appropriations in this Special Session to take care of these 55,000 cases by accelerating moneys which would be spent in April and spending them for this period of 1936; these moneys will be spent in April, May and June, so that no appropriation need be made now or at the next General Session, before the end of the biennium, otherwise all the money given by the Federal Government and all the money given by this Senate is expended, and we will find ourselves in April with not only 55,000 new cases on the list receiving no money, but all of the present old cases in the State receiving no money. I am sure that it is the opinion of the Attorney General, with whom I have discussed the matter today, that the Senate of Pennsylvania has one of two things to do; one of them is to appropriate the money now, that is, to provide the necessary legislation, or place itself on record that it is the sense of the Senate that the money shall be appropriaed at the next Session, and consent to the acceleration of the expenditures by the Welfare Department the moneys which would otherwise be spent in April and May for the months beginning now and ending in April, and if the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, does not expect action on this bill, I have prepared a resolution which will cover the situation, and I, therefore, offer the following resolution:

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO APPROPRIATIONS FOR OLD AGE ASSISTANCE

Mr. SHAPIRO offered the following resolution which was twice read:

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

In the Senate, August 4, 1936.

Whereas, there are at present waiting lists of approximately 55,000 residents of the Commonwealth entitled to Old Age Assistance; and

Whereas, the Commonwealh would have to expend the additional sum of $1,750,000 called for by House Bill No. 54 in order to procure sufficient Federal money which, together with the aforesaid sum of $1,750,000 would be sufficient to furnish Old Age Assistance to those persons on said waiting lists during the remainder of the current biennium; and

Whereas, it is the sense of the General Assembly not to provide this additional sum called for by House Bill No. 54 at this special session, but to do so at its forthcoming regular session in 1937; and

Whereas, it will, therefore, be necessary for the Department of Welfare, in order to take up such waiting lists at the present time, to accelerate payments from the existing appropriation for Old Age Assistance with the result that such appropriation will be exhausted by the first of April, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven:

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur), That it is the sense of this Special Session of the General Assembly that the Department of Welfare accelerate payments from its current appropriation for Old Age Assistance in order to match sufficient Federal moneys which, together with the State appropriation, will enable the department to furnish in the manner provided by law, Old Age Assistance to all eligible applicants therefor, including those who are now on the waiting lists in the various counties because of insufficient State funds; and

Resolved further, That it is the sense of this General Assembly that the General Assembly at its forth-coming regular session in 1937 appropriate at least $1,750,000 to the Department of Welfare which, together with contributions received from the Federal Government to match this sum, will enable Old Age Assistance to be furnished to all eligible applicants therefor during the remainder of the 1935-1937 biennium.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I am sure that we all have a very high opinion of the ability of the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, and his general knowledge of the social welfare problems and others, and we are equally sure that the distinguished Attorney General is very capable in giving us his opinions, but in view of the fact that the Welfare Department, not the Attorney General's office, administrates his relief, and also in view of the fact that as late as July 29, 1936, the Secretary of Welfare, Mr. John D. Pennington, wrote, apparently very much concerned:

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Department of Welfare, Harrisburg, July 29, 1936.

Senator Frederick T. Gelder,
Chairman, Senate Appropriations Committee,
Senate of Pennsylvania,
The Capitol, Harrisburg.

Dear Senator Gelder:

I have been informed by a member of the Department of Welfare that the reason you have not reported out of the Appropriations Committee the so called Mothers' Assistance Bill and the Old Age Assistance Bill, which are respectively H. R. 50 and H. R. 54, is that you believe I am not deeply interested in these two social security measures because of the priority given to the correction of fire and other hazards to life and property in institutions within the Department of Welfare and also because of the immediate necessity to provide ample funds for those entitled to blind grants.

This alleged impression is absolutely erroneous it is my desire that the Mothers' Assistance and the Old Age Bills be enacted by this Extraordinary Session of the General Assembly to relieve the distress of eligible widowed mothers and their dependent children who number with their dependents approximately 21,000 persons, and to comfort the eligible aged women and men, totaling 55,000 who have virtually reached the end of their lives.

I am at a loss to understand how this fallacy has become a virtually accepted fact and I reiterate that the Mothers' Assistance and the Old Age Assistance Bills are extremely essential legislaton to relieve the distress of prospective beneficiaries by giving them this form of security which will afford the necessary relief and relieve the uncertainty which has distressed these residents of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and citizens of our Nation.

It is my earnest wish and desire that you report these two appropriation bills out of your committee so as to enable Pennsylvania to take advantage of the proffered Federal assistance and to relieve the mental anguish and the pressing distress which these two measures would alleviate.

Copies of this letter have been sent to each member of the Senate Appropriation Committee for their information.

Respectfully,

John D. Pennington,
Secretary of Welfare.

Now, Mr. President, the members of the Senate Appropriation Committee having received this letter, and feeling that they would not under any circumstances want the mothers' assistance to fall, or the old age assistance to fall, for want of these appropriations, have immediately reported these bills out. We understand that the Attorney General and His Excellency, the Governor, walked out on the Secretary of Welfare at about the time he was writing this letter, by saying that these appropriations were not necessary, and in view of the fact that the Secretary of Welfare has these Funds under his control, the Appropriation Committee would like to know from the Secretary of Welfare whether or not the facts as he stated them in his letter are correct, or whether the facts that we have read them in the newspaper, and given by the Attorney General, are correct, and in order to ascertain to a certainty that the resolution of the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, asks is the information that we seek, I object to immediate consideration and ask that the resolution be be printed.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I do not ask for immediate consideration of this resolution, I ask that it lie over for printing. I have discussed the matter with the Secretary of Welfare.

MOTION TO PRINT RESOLUTION

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I move you that the resolution be referred to the Committee on Appropriations, and that it be printed for the information of the Senate.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

MORE POWER TO THE STATE SENATE

Although it has been presented to the public in the shape of a compromise, the relief deadlock at Harrisburg was broken by Governor Earle's receding from his arbitrary and unwarranted stand. He agreed to accept a joint resolution transferring $3,000,000 from special funds for immediate relief needs.

The governor could have done this two or three weeks ago, but that would not serve his political ends. It would not have called for "hunger marchers." Communists would not have had the opportunity to camp in the Senate gallery and howl derision at the Republican members.

This was a sorry exhibition in the enlightened state of Pennsylvania. From all reports these so-called hungry marchers were recruited and transported to Harrisburg for this express purpose. While there they were fed by the state under orders from Governor Earle.

There is no reason why the legislature should not enact the necessary tax measures and adjourn early next week. About $45,000,000 will have to be provided for direct relief until February, when the next regular session will have to get down to raising more revenue for relief and again raising taxes. There does not appear to be any end to relief.

The governor has emerged from this controversy with some of his tail feathers plucked. When he called the special session he demanded $80,000,000, with $71,000,000 of this for relief. To this amount the Republican senate said "No." Then the governor came down to $55,000,000 and again the Republican senate sail "No."

At this stage the administration started to call out its political reserves. Professional agitators were told to get busy. The senate gallery was invaded by mobsters who demanded $100,000,000 for relief. Finally the governor came down to $45,000,000, and rather than prolong the agony the Republican senate agreed to this figure although it knew that $35,000,000 would have been sufficient.

As a matter of fact the Republican senate's figure provided for relief payments at the prevailing rate of $1,200,000 a week. This would furnish an average of $30 a month for each of the 171,000 families now on the relief rolls.

With $35,000,000 sufficient to take care of relief until next February, according to the state's own figures as to numbers and cost, why did Governor Earle insist on $71,000,000? The only possible answer to this is that this is a campaign year. There are a lot of votes among those 171,000 families. Then it was proposed to win a lot of sympathetic votes by placing the Republican senate in the light of denying food to the hungry.

Why should the Republican senate wish to starve the unemployed? Why should anyone wish to starve them? Until Earle was elected two years ago this state had gone 44 years without a Democratic governor. Under all those years of Republican rule did anyone ever go hungry in Pennsylvania?

The Republican members of the senate simply took the stand that adequate relief could be furnished without robbing the taxpayers. They have made a splendid fight in face of all the state and federal pressure the New Dealers could muster. Not for a minute did they allow themselves to be intimidated by that disgraceful display of mob rule in the galleries. To them the decent, taxpaying, law-abiding and forward-looking people of this great state owe a debt of appreciation and gratitude.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. REED (Dauphin), from the Committee on State Government, reported as committed, the following resolution:

SENATE COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE INDIANA STATE NORMAL SCHOOL

In the Senate, July 21, 1936.

Whereas, On June 29, 1936, the Senate adopted a resolution (known as Senate Resolution No. 3) authorizing the appointment of a Sub-Committee of five members of the Committee on Education to make an investigation of the attempts that are being made to interfere with the orderly management of educational institutions that are receiving financial assistance from the people of this Commonwealth, notably the Indiana State Teachers' College, and to report as speedily as possible to the Senate now in Extraordinary Session the results of its inquiry; and

Whereas, Pursuant to said resolution the President pro tempore of the Senate on June 30, 1936, appointed a Sub-Committee of five members of the Committee on Education to conduct said investigation; and

Whereas, Since the appointment of said Sub-Committee the press of business of the Senate in conducting its legislative activities in this Extraordinary Session has been such as to render impossible a meeting of this Sub-Committee to conduct hearings in order to fulfill its commission; and

Whereas, One of the members of the Sub-Committee has been so ill that he has been unable to participate in its activities; and

Whereas, The Sub-Committee has received such information that it deems it wise to pursue said investigation, in order that the evils complained of may be uncovered and appropriate remedies therefor suggested; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Sub-Committee of the Committee on Education heretofore appointed by the President Pro Tempore of the Senate, under and by virtue of Senate Resolution No. 3, to conduct a searching investigation of the situation complained of in said Senate Resolution, be continued and that said Sub-Committee shall make a report to the Senate at its next regular session; and be it further

Resolved, That the said Sub-Committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman, requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before it and to answer any question touching matters properly being inquired into by the Sub-Committee, and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the Sub-Committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of the courts of this Commonwealth. Each member of said Sub-Committee shall have the power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the Sub-Committee. Any person who shall wilfully refuse or neglect to testify before such Sub-Committee or to produce any books, papers, records or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases; and be it further

Resolved, That the powers hereby conferred shall be exercised by the Sub-Committee during the recess of the Senate as well as during the sessions thereof; and be it further

Resolved, That in the event that the power hereby conferred upon the said Sub-Committee to subpoena witnesses and enforce its subpoenas during the recess of the Senate shall be held by any court to be unconstitutional, said Sub-Committee shall, nevertheless, continue its work and take the testimony of such persons as shall voluntarily appear before it.

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39 which requires concurrent resolutions reported from committee, to lie on the table be suspended and that the Senate do now proceed to the immediate consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I object.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears objection. The resolution will lie over under the rules.

HOUSE MESSAGE

HOUSE INSISTS UPON ITS NON-CONCURRENCE IN AMENDMENTS MADE BY THE SENATE TO HOUSE BILL No. 19

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced informed the Senate that the House insists upon its non-concurrence in the amendments made by the Senate to House Bill No. 19, entitled:

An Act to amend section three of the act, approved the sixteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (Pamphlet Laws two hundred eight), entitled "Corporate Net Income Tax Act," by increasing the rate of tax for a limited period of time.

APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL NO. 19

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I move that a Committee of Conference be appointed to confer with a committee of the House of Representatives (if the House shall appoint such committee) to consider the differences existing between the two Houses in relation to House Bill No. 19, entitled:

An Act to amend section three of the act, approved the sixteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (Pamphlet Laws two hundred eight), entitled "Corporate Net Income Tax Act," by increasing the rate of tax for a limited period of time.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Ordered, That Messrs. McCLURE, OWLETT and FREY be said Committee on the part of the Senate, and that the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

MOTION TO RECESS

Mr. RODGERS. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now recess for fifteen minutes, and that a meeting be called of the Committee on Judiciary General for consideration of the Flood Control bill, House Bill No. 70.

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, will state his point of order.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, being Chairman of the Committee on Judiciary General, it has not been the custom for a meeting of that committee to be called by anyone except the Chairman, and I make the point of order for the reason that it contains two subjects, and after that has been disposed of, I desire to offer amendments.

Mr. RODGERS. Mr. President, almost everyone of the differences has been reconciled in this bill. There is no reason at all for anyone to object to it.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I raise the question that the point of order is not debatable.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair rules that the point of order is well taken.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I move to amend the motion made by the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Rodgers, that the Senate do now take a recess for fifteen minutes, to make it read that the Senate do now adjourn until tomorrow a 1:00 o'clock P. M., in order that the Judiciary General Committee may hold a meeting at 12:00 o'clock noon.

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. RODGERS. Mr. President, there is a question in my mind whether this bill is not being jeopardized by the delay—

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, neither the motion nor the amendment to the motion is debatable.

The PRESIDENT. The point of order is well taken.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion as amended?

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. RODGERS. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, the question of personal privilege is not in order at this time. There is a motion to adjourn.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair informs the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Rodgers, that the question of personal privilege is not in order at this time. The Chair understands the motion is to amend so as to read that the Senate do adjourn until tomorrow afternoon at one o'clock.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motions as amended?

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, for the purpose only of reading bills the first time, in order not to delay the ajournment of this session, I will withdraw my motion, or ask it be suspended. I do not intend to withdraw it to permit the question of personal privilege to be discussed at this time.

Mr. RODGERS. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Bucks Mr. Buckman.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I will be very glad indeed.

Mr. RODGERS. Mr. President, I desire to ask the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, if he is not fearful that this bill may die for lack of time?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I am absolutely not fearful of any thing of the kind, or I would be in favor of staying here until midnight. I have no desire to delay the holding of this meeting. I had hoped to have an opportunity to have it this afternoon, but there was so much "hot air," by both Republicans and Democrats, on the floor of this Senate I could not even get to first base on it.

Mr. RODGERS. Mr. President, is it my understanding that there will be a meeting of the Judiciary General committee tomorrow?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, that is absolutely right.

Mr. RODGERS. Mr. President, and that will not jeopardize the bill.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, it certainly will not. The bill has already passed two readings and there will be ample time to print the bill, if necessary. If it comes out of committee it can pass with the proper amount of votes. I understand also there is a bill on the calendar carrying an appropriation covering this bill, that has already had two readings.

MOTION TO ADJOURN WITHDRAWN

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I withdraw my motion to adjourn temporarily.

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I withdraw my second to the motion.

Mr. RODGERS. Mr. President, I withdraw my motion for a recess.

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I withdraw my second to the motion.

The PRESIDENT. The motions for adjournment and recess have been withdrawn.

MOTION TO READ BILL THE FIRST TIME

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, I move that the bill reported from committee at today's session be read the first time.

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON FIRST READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the first reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 119, entitled:

An Act relieving real and personal property of recipients of mothers' and old age assistance from liability for assistance received.

And said bill having been read at length the first time,

Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

PRAYER

The Reverend OSCAR F. R. TREDER, Rector Saint James Church, Bedford, Pa., offered the following prayer:

O Father of all, Whose spirit ever strives in the souls of men, we thank Thee that Thou hast made us heirs of all the ages of Thy creative effort, and called us to share some part of Thy burden of redemption. Glory be to Thee O Lord, for Thy divine compassion which carest for us despite our weaknesses, cowardice, and self-love; for the discipline of life, for the endurance which is learned through drudgery; for the work which is its own reward; and for the difficulties which are the material of victory; because through the turmoil of life, we find Thy peace; because for the adventure of life, we need Thy strength; and because in the supreme adventure of death, we have Thy blessed hope.

And now, O Lord, we beseech Thee, that Thou wilt give men skill and enterprise in husbanding the resources of the earth, that all Thy children may have meat enough; that the condition of men's daily toil may not starve the souls whom Thou hast made for Thyself; that Thou wilt give us all a deeper sense of our membership of one another, so that the bonds of our economic life may be the expression of our fellowship in Thee. And that these, our just legislators and faithful counsellors, may gravely, soberly, and with a godly spirit, enact always things just, and things wise, and things which pertain to the general good, we beseech Thee to hear us, good Lord. Amen.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. BRADLEY. RESOLUTION NO. 57.

In the House of Representatives, August 4, 1936.

Whereas, The report filed on May 5, 1936, by the special committee appointed to investigate the Gilberton mine disaster, which occurred January 31, 1935, finds that this disaster was due to a flagrant violation of the State Mining Laws on the part of the operators of that colliery in that proper air conditions were not maintained, that illegal mining practices were engaged in, and that if the operating company had on the day the accident occurred worked the colliery in strict accordance with the State Mining Laws this accident would have been averted; and

Whereas, This report was brought to the attention of the Department of Justice and the Department of Mines after the same had been filed; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Department of Justice and the Department of Mines be requested to furnish to this House of Representatives information whether any steps have been, or are being, taken to bring prosecution against those persons who it is alleged were responsible for the conditions which the investigating committee concludes was responsible for this accident;

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the Department of Justice and the Department of Mines by the Chief Clerk of this House.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

COMMITTEE GRANTED PERMISSION TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. CHERVENAK asked and obtained permission of the House for the Committee on Constitutional Amendments to meet during the session of the House.

STATEMENT BY MR. TURNER

Mr. TURNER asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, we have had a lot of amusement this afternoon, but I am really very serious about this statement that I want to make at the present time. It is not a very long statement, and I trust that you will bear with me while I read it.

STATEMENT BY ELLWOOD J. TURNER

Behind the recent differences as to the estimates of revenue lurks a danger of which the Legislature seems blissfully ignorant, and concerning which the people of the Commonwealth should be informed for it strikes at the very vitals of democratic government.

To the Legislative branch of our government, both State and Federal, is given the power to appropriate and to tax. Except to exercise the power of veto, the Executive has no other function pertaining to the enactment of appropriation or revenue raising measures.

There has grown up in the Legislature of Pennsylvania a cowardly practice of leaving almost all the appropriation bills go until the end of the Session, when the legislature adjourns, goes home and leaves them on the Governor's desk to veto or reduce in amount as he sees fit. By this practice, it may be seen that the Governor becomes the arbiter of appropriations. During a Session the "jockeying" is to determine whether the Governor will approve appropriation bills, or the amount which he will approve. This leads to subservience to the Governor, and is a surrender of legislative prerogative without the benefit of constitutional amendment.

Now if we permit the estimates of revenue of an executive department (The Department of Revenue) to determine the amount that any tax measure will yield, and permit that practice to become fixed in our law, the Legislature will have surrendered a part of its taxing power, and that perhaps the most important part.

For we have just seen how the assertion that the estimates of revenue made by the Department of Revenue must be taken as final, can force the Senate to pass tax measures it does not believe to be necessary. While it is true the Legislature could refuse to introduce or pass tax bills, when money is necessary for governmental purposes, as a practical matter how could it hold out against the statement by the Department that the revenues would not yield the amount stated to be needed to run the State government.

I was alarmed last week to find that it was the opinion of not only the Executive Branch but of many members of the Assembly that there was support in law for the statement that the estimates of revenue as given by the Department of Revenue were binding. That Department estimated the revenue to be received from the tax bills which the Senate agreed to pass at approximately $5,500,000 below the estimates of the Senate Finance Committee. Therefore, the deadlock occurred because the Governor said give me $5,500,000 more from other tax bills. And the Senate majority said no, you have enough funds. A compromise was effected by raising some of the Department's estimates. But only after all relief had been stopped as a weapon to enforce acceptance of the Executive's estimates.

There is no provision of law, either by statute or court decree, that the Legislature must be bound by the estimates of any branch or department of government other than themselves.

The proponents of the theory that the Revenue Department estimates are controlling, point to the case of the Commonwealth vs. Liveright (Talbot Act Case, 308 Pa. 35). While the Court does speak of "anticipated" and "estimated revenues", nowhere does it say that the the estimates of revenue that are to be taken are those of the Governor or the Department of Revenue.. And no doubt, in view of the fact that there is no Constitutional provision on the subject, and no act of the legislature thereon, that the Supreme Court could so determine. Such a decision would be an invasion of legislative domain.

In the Talbot Act case, Mr. Justice Kephart, in the majority opinion said:

> "The control of the State's finances is entirely in the Legislature, subject only to the constitutional limitations; and except as thus restricted is absolute. Unless expressly prohibited or otherwise directed by that instrument, appropriations may be made for whatever purposes and in whatever amounts the law making body finds desirable. The Legislature in appropriating is supreme within the limits of the revenue and moneys at its disposal."

Every student of government knows that political liberty has advanced as the people, through representatives in legislative bodies, have controlled the purse strings. Evidently so well fixed was this in the minds of the framers of our Federal Constitution that a summary survey of the "Federalist" papers fails to disclose any discussion of the right of Congress to appropriate and tax

Apparently the opponents as well as the proponents considered it beyond question.

In these New Deal days of centralization of government and expansion of executive power, are we of this Legislature to let this question of estimates of revenue become fixed by practice until we have surrendered to the Executive everything pertaining to revenue raising but the right to introduce bills which have been prepared by the Executive Department and handed to members of the House for introduction. The Democratic controlled Ways and Means Committee of the House; made no attempt to arrive at its own estimates, but rubber stamped those submitted by the Governor.

The Democratic majority in this House supinely passed, in most cases with the minimum of time required, tax bills which the Governor gave them.

Thank heaven the Republican Senate not only took time to study them, but had the intestinal fortitude to make its own estimates of revenue and fight for them.

Having surrended our control over appropriations, will the people of this Commonwealth permit the "Little New Deal" to extend the Executive power to the dictation of the amount and kind of taxes to be raised.

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL NO. 18.

An Act making an appropriation to the State Emergency Relief Board for direct relief, work relief, and expenses; defining the purposes for which such moneys may be expended; and prescribing the powers and duties of the State Emergency Relief Board and certain State Departments.

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section 1, page 1, line 5, by striking out at the beginning of said line the words and figures "forty million five hundred seventy-seven thousand seven hundred eighty-nine dollars ($40,577,789)" and inserting in lieu thereof the words and figures: "ten million dollars ($10,000,000)."

Amend Section 4, page 2, line 21, by striking out after the word "of" the words and figures "one hundred ninety-five thousand dollars ($195,000)" and inserting in lieu thereof the words and figures "Eighteen thousand seven hundred fifty dollars ($18,750)."

Amend bill on page 4, by inserting an entire new Section 6. in line 9, after the word "act" as follows: Section 6 The action of the Governor the Auditor General and State Treasurer in making the sum of three million dollars ($3,000,000) of the appropriation made by section one of this act available for expenditure for unemployment relief by the State Emergency Relief Board prior to the effective date of this act in accordance with Concurrent Resolution Serial Number eighty-seven is hereby ratified confirmed and validated Amend Section 6, page 4, line 10, by striking out after the word "Section" the figure "6" and inserting in lieu thereof the figure "7".

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House concur in the amendments of the Senate?

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker. I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Eberharter.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Allegheny why it is necessary to pass two appropriation bills, one, I believe, for ten million dollars, and the other for twenty-two million dollars in House Bill 156, I believe, that is now in the Senate, instead of passing one bill to cover the whole thing.

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the question of the gentleman from Berks, this bill has a ratifying, confirming and validating clause which the other bill does not have.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman whether under the circumstances, this bill being passed ahead of the other bill, being approved by the Senate whether it is not in the nature of a further stop-gap legislation?

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker, no it is not.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman whether the passage of this bill at this time will make possible the immediate resumption of relief, I understand it having stopped last night?

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the question of the gentleman from Berks, in my opinion this will make money immediately available after the three million dollars which has already been transferred, has been expended.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Allegheny to elucidate his last answer. I frankly admit I do not understand it.

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman, I am very sorry that the gentleman cannot understand me. If he wishes, I will endeavor to make it more understandable to him.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, will the passage of this bill without further legislative action make relief immediately available?

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker, I cannot say that it will, as a definite fact, make money immediately available as of to-day, because that rests on the question of whether or not there is any money in the General Fund. If there is any money in the General Fund, it will be immediately expended for relief.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman what is the advantage of passing this bill before we have the other main appropriation bill carrying the $22,000,000.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, are we going to get through here? There is a lot of monkeying being done by this House.

The Speaker. The Chair is unable to answer the question. Is the gentleman from Berks through with his interrogation?

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman has not answered the last question.

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Berks kindly repeat his question.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, what is the advantage of passing this $10,000,000 appropriation bill before we receive from the Senate the main appropriation bill for $22,000,000?

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker, I answered that question, I thought, by saying that this bill has in it a clause which validates and ratifies the action previously taken by this House and by the Senate in transferring the funds from the General Fund to the special fund.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, is the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Hoopes, allowed to ask an unlimited number of questions or can we stop him by moving the previous question?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman has a right to ask as many questions as he desires.

Mr. SCHWAB. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

The SPEAKER. The Chair does not hear the required number of seconds.

The Chair feels if the members would permit the gentleman to answer the questions, we would be able to proceed with the business before the House. The Chair feels that the gentleman is entitled to be heard and asks that he be not interfered with in his interrogation.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I think possibly I can make my position clear by making a brief statement on the bill, as I understand it, and then let the gentleman reply if he sees fit.

I can understand the reason which he has given for passing two separate bills, but it does not seem to me that the answer which he gave answers the question as to why we should consider this bill before the Senate has acted upon the major appropriation bill of $22,000,000.

As I understand it, there was supposed to have been an agreement between the two major parties in this House and in the Senate upon a program, but I hear rumors that that understanding is not entirely clear to both sides and may not be carried out in full. It seems to me that if we pass this $10,000,000 appropriation at this time, we are opening the door for a delay that may keep us around Harrisburg for a couple of weeks to come. I can see no advantage in it because, as I understand it, it will not result in renewing relief immediately until anticipation notes have been sold and certain other steps have been taken to realize funds from tax measures, and those bills as I understand, have been held up in conference, and despite the agreement have not yet been reported back to us. What is the advantage of considering this bill at this time? Why not lay it upon the table until we get the main appropriation bill and put them both through at the same time so that we will know where we are?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, I did not hear the remarks of the gentleman from Berks in their entirety, but I gathered from what I did hear that he objects to the passage of this bill prior to the passage of the major appropriation bill.

This bill for the appropriation of $10,000,000 is part of the $45,000,000 program, and with the passage of this $10,000,000 bill there will still remain some $22,000,000 to be passed. I certainly do not know why the Senate has chopped up the various appropriation bills into this particular form, one for $10,000,000 and the other for $22,000,000. Nevertheless, those are the bills that we have before us upon which we can act. This bill, however, contains a validating clause, which validates the action of the fiscal officers of the Commonwealth in having appropriated $3,000,000 for unemployment relief under the resolution that we passed this last Thursday. This amendment will not appear in the $22,000,000, so that if we are going to validate the action upon the part of the fiscal officers, it must be done by this particular bill because that clause will not be in the other bill.

I agree with the gentleman from Berks that it is not necessary to pass so many appropriation bills to accomplish the same purpose, but I would also say to the gentleman from Berks and to the membership of this House that the obnoxious feature that has been contained in the $22,000,000 bill, namely the return of the administration of relief to the various local communities has been removed, and the bill has come from the Senate, in the sum of $22,000,000, without that particular amendment. So in concurring in this appropriation for $10,000,000, we are in reality concurring in an appropriation, and at the same time validating the acts of the fiscal officers in transferring the $3,000,000 pursuant to that resolution.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the gentleman from York stated that he did not hear my remarks in their entirety. I agree with him that he could not have, because he missed entirely the point I tried to make, but I would like to ask the leave of the House to state it briefly. I did not raise that question in the first place, but the gentleman from Allegheny did so and I considered that satisfactory. The question I am raising now is what is the advantage to this House in passing this $10,000,000 appropriation before receiving from the Senate the $22,000,000 appropriation. I understand there is some doubt about whether there is complete agreement between the leaders of the two major parties upon all of the details of this legislation and there may be some hitch. I can see no advantage in putting ourselves in the bag by passing this bill at this time. It will not restore relief immediately for the reason there is no money in the General Fund and we have not yet sold tax anticipation notes in order to raise the money. It seems to me that the logical thing to do with this bill would be to hold it until we receive the $22,000,000 bill and have an agreement on it, and we will then vote on them both at the same time and we will know where we are. This way we don't know where we are. We have been fooled often enough.

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, insofar as the $22,000,000 bill is concerned, there are some details upon which the House and the Senate are not in complete agreement. However, as far as the amount is concerned, they are in complete agreement.

There is one advantage I can see in passing this bill now before the House immediately, and that is this: immediately upon the passage of this bill the fiscal officers can get some money in the interim. There is also, I understand, a small amount of money in the Treasury. It may take a couple of days for this appropriation bill of $22,000,000 to be passed. By passing this bill immediately there will be this money available perhaps one or two days sooner for unemployment relief expenditure.

MOTION TO LAY BILL ON THE TABLE

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I move that the bill with the amendments be laid upon the table.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia will state his point of order.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, the motion is out of order. The motion to table the bill, together with the amendments is improper because there is already a motion before the House to concur in the amendments made by the Senate.

The SPEAKER. The point of order of the gentleman from Philadelphia is not well taken. The motion to lay on the table is a privileged motion.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, as I understand it, the motion to lay on the table is not to lay the motion of the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Eberharter, on the table, but to lay the bill, together with the amendments, on the table. I, therefore, take it that a motion would have to be made by the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Hoopes, to lay the motion to concur on the table, in order to be in order. The motion before the House is a motion to concur. If the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Hoopes, wants to lay that motion upon the table, he can so move, but I take it, he cannot move to lay the bill, together with the amendments, on the table when there is already a motion for concurrence. Furthermore, I call the Speaker's attenion to the fact that the motion to lay on the table has not been seconded.

The SPEAKER. A motion to lay on the table does not require a second. The motion is a privileged motion and therefore is in order.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, if he can now give me the information I asked from him formerly on Resolution No. 16, Serial No. 20, regarding the expenditure in pumping out flooded mines?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, sometime ago the gentleman from Delaware introduced a resolution requesting certain information, and at that time I informed the gentleman from Delaware that I would be glad to secure for him that information without the necessity of presenting the resolution for adoption by the House. I have done so and the gentleman from Delaware has thanked me profusely for so doing.

Recently the gentleman from Delaware again made a request that I should give him the amount of those expenditures about which he is concerned, up to date.

That request, if I am not mistaken, was made in the course of the past few weeks. The membership of this House can very well realize the burdens that have been placed upon my time with the result that I have not had an opportunity to consult with the Department of Health and to get those figures for the gentleman from Delaware, but, I assure him, I will be only too glad tomorrow to make overtures to the Department of Health in order to obtain the figures for him.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE (Mr. John G. Homsher) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. William E. Howard, D. D., offered the following prayer:

Our Father and our God, the Senate of Pennsylvania stands upon the threshold of a new legislative day. Before entering upon its duties we pause to bow our heads before Thee and open our hearts unto Thee. May our short devotional period be more than a mere gesture. During this quiet moment speak unto us, O God, and help us to speak unto Thee in blessed reality. May we receive the inspiration which must have touched the soul of him who wrote:

"So here hath been dawning another new day;
Soul, wilt Thou let it slip useless away?
Out of eternity this new day was born,
Into eternity at night will return."

A new day means new opportunity and new hope. It means another step toward life's ultimate goal. It is a small section of eternity wrapped up into twenty-four hours for our help and convenience. May this day be utilized to serve Thee and our fellowmen to the glory of Thy great name. Amen.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. TRAINER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to amend section 1, page 2, lines 20 and 21, by striking out the words "alcohol other than denatured alcohol unfit for beverage purposes and any"; also page 2, line 22, by inserting after the word "purposes" the following: "other than alcohol, denatured alcohol and neutral spirits"

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I object.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears objection.

MOTION THAT THE SENATE RESOLVE ITSELF INTO COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE FOR THE PURPOSE OF SPECIAL AMENDMENT

Mr. TRAINER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now resolve itself into Committee of the Whole for the purpose of Special Amendment.

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The PRESIDENT. The Chair desires to announce that a vote to go into Committee of the Whole carries with it the amendment; a vote not to go into Committee of the Whole is a vote not to insert the amendment into the bill.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, this bill has received a great deal of attention both in the committee and on the floor; and I trust that at this time the Senate will not consent to any amendment which will injure the integrity of the bill.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I should like to call the attention of the members of the Senate to the fact that if this amendment is adopted it will not only affect the amount of income anticipated and therefore break up the tax program, but will result in including in the bill that which was intended to be excluded, namely, alcohol used for medicinal purposes. It strikes me as an inept thing to do at this time, after the bill has received the consideration of the committee and has been shaped into its present form.

Mr. TRAINER. Mr. President and the Senator from Piladelphia, Mr. Shapiro, the amendment to the bill is intended to protect the manufacturing medicinal drugs and other interest; and as far as the alcohol is concerned it has nothing to do with it, and it would still come under the Liquor Control Board. It is merely to protect the drug, tobacco, and other manufacturers that do not have anything to do with beverage alcohol.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the amendment of the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Trainer, leaves the bill so that it now imposes a tax upon any liquid usable—not "used" but "usable"—for beverage purposes which contains more than 24% of alcohol.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. TRAINER and Mr. ARON, and were as follows, viz:

Gelder,	Pierson,	Ruth,	Ziesenheim,
Harris	Prince,	Salus,	Homsher,
Harvey,	Pytko,	Scott,	Pres. Pro. Tem.

So the question was determined in the negative.

And said bill having been read the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TRAINER. Mr. President, I want to call the attention of the members of the Senate to the bill to be passed. The first item in it is the time element, and when is it going to run out? The second question is, I just offered an amendment to protect the drug and the tobacco and the various other manufacturing interests that are not interested and cannot afford to pay any four per cent additional tax to the State Board. The amendment that you just voted down puts every drug concern, outside of the State of Pennsylvania, buying alcohol at 26c a gallon less than what a Pennsylvania institution can buy it, and it means that the Pennsylvania drug interests, from the largest to the smallest, cannot begin to compete with any outside-of-the-State-competitor.

To those of you who are candidates for reelection, and are looking to the support of the man on the street, the bill also means the stoppage of the selling over the bar of a 10c whiskey to a poor, hard working man who thinks he needs it after his day's labor; and it is the best method you have made to get support for the third party people against you; when the poor has no opportunity to get what he thinks he is entitled to; and no tap room keeper is going to be able to sell liquor at the price when you are paying an additional four per cent tax on it, plus the present high marked-up price of Liquor Control Board.

It is the old case here, now, of robbing Peter to pay Paul. You are asking $1,400,000 from this bill. The bootleggers worked, in the old days, anywhere from a thousand per cent profit down to nothing. This four per cent raise in the price of whiskey is giving them encouragement to go on. There are just now in the State of Pennsylvania 80 enforcement officers, and are intending to have 125 more; and it is going to encourage bootlegging to the limit again; and when you stop to consider when what is going to be the difference in the cost of keeping of the prisoners in the various jails for this violation, what is sgoing to be the difference n the cost of keeping them and the $1,400,000 which is suppored to be given for the poor man, who will get so little of it it won't be worth talking about.

I would suggest that if you want to hit everybody and anybody, why don't you put a tax on water, so we can all get in? That would be the greatest thing we could do. This tax can be made, and this bill defeated, and it will never be missed because it is going to amount to so little that it is not worth while talking about in the end.

But I just want to conclude, gentleman, and I know, when I am addressing you, gentlemen, that it means the death of the bill. In my six years' experience in the Senate I have never taken the floor—I think this is about the eighth time—to speak about anything on the liquor proposition which has not been licked, and if this is licked it wont be any new dose to me; and, as far as I am politically concerned, I have been knocked down and have been able to get up every time and go back for another fight, and I will be able to come back to this fight again, and it will make no difference to me; and I want to serve notice to my friends on this side—a week ago when they wanted to put 10c a gallon on it, and they asked my vote to pass another bill and said they would take off the tax, that there would be no further tax on liquor, they have broken faith, they haven't kept their word with me; and I do not propose to keep my word with them. I did not attend the caucuses in the last session, and, in all probability, I have attended my last caucus in the Republican Party.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

Whereas, The Commonwealth would have to expend the additional sum of $1,750,000 called for by House Bill No. 54 in order to procure sufficient Federal money which, together with the aforesaid sum of $1,750,000 would be sufficient to furnish Old Age Assistance to those persons on said waiting lists during the remainder of the current biennium; and

Resolved (If the House of Representatives concur), That it is the sense of this special session of the General Assembly that the Department of Welfare accelerate payments from its current appropriation for Old Age Assistance in order to match sufficient Federal moneys which, together with the State appropriation, will enable the department to furnish in the manner provided by law, Old Age Assistance to all eligible applicants therefor, including those who are now on the waiting lists in the various counties because of insufficient State funds; and

Resolved further, That it is the sense of this General Assembly that the General Assembly at its forthcoming regular session in 1937 appropriate at least $1,750,000 to the Department of Welfare which, together with contributions received from the Federal Government to match this sum, will enable Old Age Assistance to be furnished to all eligible applicants therefore during the remainder of the 1933-1937 biennium.

CONSIDERATION OF SENATE RESOLUTION No. 7

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I desire to call up Senate Resolution No. 7 reported from the Committee on Judiciary General on July 22d.

The resolution was read as follows:

SENATE COMMITTEE TO ANALYZE REPORT ON MOTHERS' ASSISTANCE BOARDS PRESENTED PURSUANT TO SENATE RESOLUTION SERIAL NO. 33

In the Senate, July 16, 1936.

Whereas, By Senate Resolution, Serial No. 33, a report was requested from the Department of Welfare asking certain information with respect to the resignation and dismissal of members of the Boards of Trustees of the Mothers' Assistance Fund; and

Whereas, A report has been submitted by said Department, which is not responsive to the resolution, and from which a clear understanding of the facts cannot readily be gathered; therefore be it

Resolved, That the President Pro Tempore of the Senate is hereby authorized to appoint a committee of five Senators whose duty it shall be;

(a) To analyze the said report of the Department of Welfare filed pursuant to Resolution, Serial No. 33;

(b) To ascertain the accuracy of the statements made in said report;

(d) To examine the records of the Department of Welfare for the purpose of supplying the information required to make said report in accurate form;

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, will the Senator from Allegheny tell us how many Republicans were on the old boards?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I cannot answer that question.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, does the Senator from Allegheny know of a single Democrat on the old boards?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, yes, I do.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, will you tell us how many?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I cannot, I did not inquire about their politics.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, does the Senator from Allegheny know the percentage of Democrats and Republicans?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I do not; I never inquired into their politics.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, does the Senator from Allegheny feel that the present Governor has a right to make appointments on these boards when the terms expire?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I do.

Mr. McGINNIS. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, tell us why he desires the information asked for in the resolution?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, some few weeks ago I stood on this floor and stated that there had been wholesale removals of trustees of the mothers' assistance boards. I submitted to the body a report which included amazing figures. From the year 1923, when the law was changed giving the Governor the right to appoint and remove, up to 1935, there were only two removals before the expiration of the terms of the trustees, and under the present administration there have been one hundred and twenty-five women, who have given many years of their lives in administering this splendid piece of legislation, were removed without cause. Many had been asked for their resignations, and when the requests were refused they were dismissed. In addition to that, a greater number, one hundred and fifty-three, had been replaced when their terms expired. That was my reason for presenting the resolution. I asked for certain information and when the report was made it was not satisfactory; it did not contain the information desired. This resolution now provides for a committee to investigate and reconcile these figures to ascertain whether my figures are correct, or the information given by the Department of Welfare, and to find out the information that was not supplied in the report.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, does the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, aver that that information is in the hands of the Department of Welfare?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, if it is not in the hands of the Department of Welfare, this committee can ascertain what department has it and make a request for it.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I want to remind the Senator from Allegheny County, Mr. Harris, that they had an election in Pennsylvania two years and the people of this State decided that the Republican Party, which had ruled this state for nearly fifty years, should not have the governing power of this state any longer, and it seems to me that in view of that election, that every time there is a change, every time there is an appointment to any institution in Pennsylvania, or to any board, there must be an investigation. To me this strikes like very poor sportsmanship, and I want to say that after the Democratic Party has been in power in Pennsylvania for fifty years and the Republicans should get in power again, if I should get up and offer a resolution like this one, I would be ashamed of myself. Mr. President, do you know that in Pennsylvania today, among the Federal and state employes, there are about 49,000, and of that number 32,000 are either Republicans or appointed by Republican Governors.

Mr. President, I want to say to you that I do not think there was ever an administration in any state in this Union that was as fair, impartial and non-political as this administration. Mr. President, I want to say to you that in the emergency relief there has not been a single change. In other words, the Republican Party in this state, when it set up the emergency relief, appointed every single one and there has not been a single change, except it might be in the head, and even then our Democratic Governor appointed a Republican to manager the emergency relief in Pennsylvania, so that the 14,000 handling emergency relief have been left exactly as the Republicans appointed them; and I want to say to you that the Governor of Pennsylvania could by right, and by the vote of the people, discharge 49,000 people in the State of Pennsylvania. Did he do it? No, he left the 14,000 that were administering relief exactly as they were, and I want to ask our Republican friends on the other side if they can find any fault with that, if there is any politics in that, when a Democratic Governor left the 14,000 employes on the payrolls that the Republicans put on emergency relief.

Then comes WPA: Under the Federal Act the Democratic Administration could appoint ten per cent of that number, men and women in sympathy with the Act. That is what the Act provides, and let me tell you, Mr. President, if Boies Penrose or any other leaders of the Republican Party had had that chance, instead of appointing the 10%, they would have appointed 29,000 Republicans to manage WPA. But in this administration what happened? Instead of appointing the 10%, they appointed 16,000—they could have appointed 29,000—and of the 16,000, eight thousand (8,000) were on the emergency relief rolls, relief rolls which are managed today by the Republicans of Pennsylvania. When that list was furnished by the WPA, of the 16,000, eight thousand were taken off those rolls, furnished by the Republicans. The 8,000 were appointed—I do not care whether you call them Democrats or Republicans, but I do say that the Act says that they should be in sympathy with the bill and with the administration. How would you manage your business, how would any man manage his business, would he appoint an enemy to run his business? Would he appoint somebody who was not in sympathy with that business?

Yesterday there was a resolution offered here to investigate WPA, although the Federal Court decided that we had no right to do so. Now, Mr. President, I want to say to you, that that resolution yesterday, if there was ever a resolution offered in the Senate of the United States they would be held in contempt of court—to investigate WPA, an organization in which we could have put 29,000 Democrats on the payroll, and of the 16,000 they have on the payrolls that were checked up, as I said the other night, 16,000 were Democrats, including 8,000 taken off emergency relief. I want to say to you, Mr. President, that instead of this administration being unfair, it has been most fair, it has been most impartial, the most non-partisan administration of any state in the Union, and every time there is a change made in a hospital, or in a school, with every man a Republican on the board, every trustee on the board, every state institution, every man and every woman, from top to bottom, was Republican for forty or fifty years, and now, when the Democratic Party is in power, and after the voters in this state say by their votes "we have turned this government over to the Democratic Party, not to the people who have wrecked it or ruined it for forty years," then when there is a change, when their terms expire, there must be an investigation in the mothers' assistance boards. I want to say to you that after we have been in power for forty or fifty years, if I am here and will get up and offer a resolution like that one, I want you to throw me out of the window.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I have never in my ten sessions in this body believed in engaging in personalities. The Senator from Allegheny Mr. McGinnis, said that he would be ashamed to present such a resolution; he also said that he hoped that if he did, they would throw him out of the window. The Senator from Allegheny has a very eloquent voice and a very forceful manner of speaking, and I can recall that twenty-five years ago, when the Mothers' Assistance League was organized in Allegheny County, and I was the Vice-Chairman of that body, we issued an invitation to all of the citizens of Allegheny County to join in the movement to pass this legislation, and for many, many years that organization took a deep interest in Mothers' Assistance, and I can say with pardonable pride that session after session I presented an appropriation bill for mothers' assistance, and in all of the twenty-five years, never a single time in any way at all did I hear the eloquent voice of the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, raised in behalf of this legislation, not a single time, not once to me personally nor to any organization did this man ever raise his voice, and it was not until he became a member of this body that he began to take an interest. And I know the other members from Allegheny County know what I say is the truth, that I have given my time and my energy and whatever talent I have had in the building up of this, and I would be unfaithful to my duty if I did not protest against bringing the mothers' assistance into politics, and I say to the Senator from Allegheny County, Mr. McGinnis, that I am not ashamed of presenting this resolution, and I will say this—and I know I should not say it—I would like to see him throw me out of the window.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, with the greatest of pleasure.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, does the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, intend to give the impression that the former Governors of this State did not use politics in the selection of Boards of Trustees of the Mothers' Assistance Funds?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I do not know what was in the minds of the former Governors.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, does the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, know whether former administrations in the selection of Boards of Trustees of the Mothers' Assistance Funds was on the merit basis?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I cannot reply, and I think that question is rather silly, for I do not know what was in the minds of the former Governors.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, does the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, know of any law or any part of the Constitution that prohibits the Governor of this State to make changes in the Boards of Trustees of Mothers' Assistance Funds, or to ask for their resignation?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I know of no law that prohibits them from removing them before their terms expire, or filling their places at the expiration of their terms.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, well, then, what is the real objection of the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, to the Governor requesting the resignation of the members of Boards of Trustees of the Mothers' Assistance Funds, if in his judgment he regards them as incompetent to fill the position?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I will say for the fourth time that my objection is based on the wholesale removals which indicate that politics is being used. I cannot conceive that one hundred and twenty-five women who gave their time and energy in this work—some of them served for a score of years—, should be removed without cause.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I take it then, from the conclusion drawn by the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, that he objects to the removal of Republican politics from the Boards of Trustees of Mothers' Assistance Funds.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I again say that I have never inquired into the politics of any of the Trustees.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, then how does the Senator from Allegheny know that there is any politics played in the requests for resignations or dismissals of the Boards of Trustees of the Mothers' Assistance Funds?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I say again that it is self-evident that politics is being played when so many are removed in such a space of time.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I thank the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, the Senator from Fayette is quite welcome.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, it seems to me there ought to be an "amende honorable" for the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, and I, therefore, suggest that the Senate go into recess for forty years to enable the Senator to prepare his resolution, and that the sergeant-at-arms be instructed to open the window.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I rise to a question of information.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed, will state his question of information.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, on June 29th the Senate adopted a resolution requesting the Budget Secretary to inform the Senate at the earliest possible moment the number, names and addresses of persons on the Administration payrolls on June 15, 1936, on the per diem basis, and the amount of such per diem pay, according to the departments in which such persons are employed. I desire to ask whether any communication has been received by the Budget Secretary.

The PRESIDENT. The answer is the Senate has not received any reply.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Dauphin will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I simply desire to call the attention of the Senate to the fact that this resolution was adopted by the Senate on June 29th, and, according to page 44 of the History of Senate Bills, a copy of the resolution was transmitted to the Budget Secretary on July 1st. Therefore this resolution has been in the hands of the Budget Secretary for one month and two days.

I knew, when this resolution was passed, that it would take a great deal of time and a large amount of clerical service in order to ascertain the facts required by this resolution as to the vast army of employes on the State payrolls on the per diem basis, but I did not suppose, Mr. President, that it would require over a month to secure that information.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I should like to interrogate the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Dauphin permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I shall be very happy to.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I should like to ask the Senator from Dauphin if my understanding is correct, that he is one of the conferees on the Mothers' Assistance Bill.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I am.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, will the Senator be willing to say whether there will be a report made by that Conference Committee tonight or tomorrow?

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I do not know. I am very glad to meet with the House conferees at any time.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Well, Mr. President, the Senator from Dauphin is not prepared to say, then, that the report will be made today on that bill?

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I am not prepared to say whether it will be made today or not.

MOTION TO CONSIDER SENATE BILL No. 40 (House Bill No. 50)

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of Senate Bill No. 40 (House Bill No. 50), entitled:

A Supplement to the act approved the nineteenth day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five (Pamphlet Laws one thousand three hundred fifty-one) entitled "An act making appropriations to carry into effect the provisions of an act approved the tenth day of July one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws eight hundred ninety-three) entitled 'An act providing for assistance to certain mothers providing for the appointment of boards of trustees for the several counties of the Commonwealth and for the appointment of a State Supervisor and assistants and fixing the salaries of such State Supervisor and assistants defining the powers and duties of boards of trustees including the power of appointing assistants and investigators and the distribution of funds at their disposal providing for the apportionment of the State appropriation among the several counties and requiring counties coming under the provisions of the act to appropriate certain moneys and providing penalties' as amended" making an appropriation for the payment of mothers' assistance to applicants in counties which do not have sufficient funds available to pay assistance to such applicants

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 40 (House Bill No. 50), as follows:

A Supplement to the act approved the nineteenth day of July one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (Pamphlet Laws one thousand three hundred fifty-one) entitled "An act making appropriations to carry into effect the provisions of an act approved the tenth day of July one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws eight hundred ninety-three) entitled 'An act providing for assistance to certain mothers providing for the appointment of boards of trustees for the several counties of the Commonwealth and for the appointment of a State Supervisor and assistants and fixing the salaries of such State Supervisor and assistants defining the powers and duties of boards of trustees including the power of appointing assistants and investigators and the distribution of funds at their disposal providing for the apportionment of the State appropriation among the several counties and requiring counties coming under the provisions of the act to appropriate certain moneys and providing penalties' as amended" making an appropriation for the payment of mothers' assistance to applicants in counties which do not have sufficient funds available to pay assistance to such applicants and suspending the provisions of this act in case Federal aid for dependent children shall fail for any reason

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That in addition to the current appropriation for assistance to certain mothers made to the Department of Welfare by the act to which this is a supplement the sum of six hundred thousand dollars ($600,000) or as much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated out of the General Fund to the Department of Welfare for expenditure during the biennium ending the thirty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven for assistance to poor and dependent mothers in the manner provided by the act approved the tenth day of July one thousand nine hundred nineteen (Pamphlet Laws eight hundred ninety-three) and its amendments except as otherwise provided by this act The sum hereby appropriated shall be set aside as an emergency reserve fund to be distributed upon written requisition of the Secretary of Welfare to applicants who may be approved as eligible for assistance under the act approved the tenth day of July one thousand nine hundred nineteen (Pamphlet Laws eight hundred ninety-three) and its amendments Provided That the application of each such applicant has been approved and presented to the Department of Welfare by the Board of Trustees of the Mothers' Assistance Fund of the county wherein the applicant resides and the board certifies that there are not available to such county out of moneys already appropriated and allocated to it sufficient moneys to provide assistance to such applicant

Section 2 The purpose of this act is to make sufficient State appropriations available to enable the Department of Welfare and boards of trustees of all counties of this Commonwealth to grant assistance to all mothers eligible to receive mothers assistance and to enable the Commonwealth to receive Federal grants for aid to dependent children under Title four of the Social Security Act

In the event that Title Four of the Social Security Act shall be held unconstitutional by the Supreme Court of the United States or shall be repealed and Federal grants for aid to dependent children shall fail for such or for any other reason whatever then so long as Federal grants for aid to dependent children shall not be available to this Commonwealth no moneys shall be distributed by the Secretary of Welfare from the appropriation made by this act to applicants who may be approved as eligible for assistance under the act approved the tenth day of July one thousand nine hundred nineteen (Pamphlet Laws eight hundred ninety-three) and its amendments and the foregoing provisions of this act shall in such cases be suspended so long as Federal aid for dependent children shall not be available to this Commonwealth

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, unless we amend this bill tonight, as I view it, Mothers' Assistance in Pennsylvania, so far as any improvement is concerned, will fall. Further, we have no provision for taking care of the eight counties in the State that do not have Mothers' Assistance. Furthermore, unless this report be made by the Conference Committee tomorrow—and I do not want to wait that long—we will not receive the national appropriation for Mothers' Assistance in Pennsylvania.

MOTION TO GO INTO COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE FOR THE PURPOSE OF SPECIAL AMENDMENT

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I intend to offer an amendment to this bill now, and in order to reach that point I move that the Senate do now resolve itself into Executive Session in Committee of the Whole for the purpose of special amendment.

Mr. ROBERTS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The proposed amendment was read, as follows:

Amend Title, page 1, lines 1 to 6 of title, by striking out the following: "A Supplement to the act approved the nineteenth day of July, one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (Pamphlet Laws one thousand three hundred fifty-one), entitled 'An act making appropriations to carry into effect the provisions of an" and insert in lieu thereof:

Any person who shall violate any of the foregoing provisions shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall, upon conviction thereof, be punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500) and forfeit his position or office.

Section 2. That section three of said act, as amended by the act, approved the twenty-second day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (Pamphlet Laws, three hundred seven), is hereby further amended to read as follows:

Section 4. That section seven of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 7. In order to prevent the alienation of the citizenship of those who may receive the benefits under this act, no family shall be a beneficiary thereunder unless the mother [has been a resident continuously of the State for a period of two years and of the county in which she applies for assistance for a period of one year] is a resident of the State at the time of making application for such assistance, and unless the child assisted (1) has resided in this Commonwealth for one year immediately preceding the date of application for such assistance, or (2) was born in this Commonwealth within one year immediately preceding the date of the application for assistance and whose mother has resided in the Commonwealth for one year immediately preceding the birth.

No family entitled to receive the benefits of this act in any county shall be deemed to have lost its residence in such county within one year after removal therefrom, but any such family shall, if it returns to the county in which it was entitled to receive assistance within said year, be immediately entitled to assistance in such county.

Section 5. That section nine of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 9. The [combined] maximum [payment] assistance allowed by any board of trustees shall in no case exceed [twenty] eighteen dollars per month for the first dependent child and [ten] twelve dollars per month for each additional dependent child in the same family. A mother shall be entitled to assistance under this act for an unborn child in like manner as for other children if she has one or more children living which entitle her to the benefits of this act.

Section 6. That section ten of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 10. Before any payment is made to any family under the provisions of this act, a complete report of such family shall be made in quadruplicate giving the name of the mother, the number of children with their full names, their ages and place of residence. One copy of such report shall be placed on file in the office of the board of trustees as a record, and, if the application is approved, one copy shall be forwarded to the [State Supervisor] Department of Welfare, and two copies shall be forwarded with each application for a warrant for the use of the Auditor General and the county treasurer. The copies forwarded to the Auditor General and the county treasurer, shall be sworn to by the investigator, and shall be approved by a majority of the board of trustees. The affidavit on any such report may be taken before any member or employe of the board.

Section 7. That section fourteen of said act, as amended by the act approved the twenty-seventh day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (Pamphlet Laws one thousand one hundred seventy-five), is hereby further amended to read as follows:

Section 14. [No county shall receive its allotment of the State appropriation available for any year under the classification appointed by the act making an appropriation to carry into effect the provisions of this act, unless such county has accepted the provisions of this act, and has placed at the disposal of the board of trustees, a sum equal to the amount available from the State appropriation for such year] It shall be mandatory upon each county of the Commonwealth, to place at the disposal of the board of trustees, a sum equal to the amount available from the State appropriation (exclusive of Federal moneys for such county for such year: Provided, That if any county is financially unable to place at the disposal of the board of trustees, a sum equal to the amount available from the State appropriation for such county in such year, the county commissioners of that county shall file a written application with the Department of Welfare on a form prescribed by it, asking further appropriation of State funds to that county of a sum equal to the whole or any portion of the amount already allocated under this act to said county for said year, such further State appropriation to be in lieu of all or a part of the appropriation required by this act to be made by said county for said year. The Department of Welfare shall thereupon conduct an administrative inquiry on a day and at a time fixed, of which at least ten days' written notice shall be given to all parties interested, and shall hear the testimony of the county commissioners and of such other county officials and other persons as the department may, in its discretion, require to appear before it, and, after considering the financial condition of the said county, the department shall determine whether the said county is entitled to the additional State appropriation requested, or any part thereof, in lieu of an appropriation by the said county, and the department shall thereupon allocate from any appropriation available for the purpose, whatever amount the department shall have determined.

Section 8. That section fifteen of said act, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 15. [On the first day of June of the second fiscal year following each State appropriation, the State Treasurer shall apportion among the various counties which have accepted the provisions of this act before the end of the first fiscal year, a sum equal to the amount apportioned to such county during the first fiscal year, according to the aforesaid classification, including therein all unexpended balances from the previous fiscal year credited to the several counties accepting the provisions of this act, which unexpended moneys shall remain available during the second fiscal year for use by the counties to which theretofore credited, and excluding all moneys apportioned to the several counties which have not availed themselves of the provisions of this act, he shall likewise exclude from said apportionment all moneys appropriated for the second fiscal year for counties which have not accepted the provisions of this act before the end of the first fiscal year.] Any mother of a dependent child may, within six months after notice by the county board of trustees that her application for assistance has been refused or that the assistance, if formerly a beneficiary, has been discontinued, take an apeal from the action of the county board of trustees to the Department of Welfare. The department, on a day and at a time fixed by it, of which at least ten days' written notice shall be given to all parties interested, shall hear such testimony as may be offered for and against the allowance of assistance or for and against the continuation of assistance, and shall determine whether or not the said mother is entitled to assistance, if an applicant, or to the continuation of assistance if a beneficiary. The Department of Welfare shall report its findings to the county board of trustees, from whose action the appeal has been taken, which board of trustees shall carry into effect the order of the department. The action of the department on any appeal shall be final.

Section 9. That section sixteen of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 16. [All funds set aside from year to year for counties which have not availed themselves of the provisions of this act, shall be set aside into a surplus fund. The surplus fund shall be available during the second fiscal year in the counties which have availed themselves of the provisions of this act before the end of the first fiscal year, but no county shall be entitled to an amount from such fund in excess of twenty-five per centum of the aggregate sum apportioned and set aside by the State Treasurer to that county for the two year period, and no such county shall participate in such surplus fund unless it shall, in addition to the appropriations hereinbefore required, appropriate a sum equal to the amount which it desires from the surplus fund] The Department of Welfare is empowered and directed to cooperate with the Federal Social Security Board in carrying out the provisions and purposes and in administration of title four of the act of the Congress of the United States, approved the fourteenth day of August, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five, entitled "An act to provide for the general welfare, by establishing a system of Federal old-age benefits, and by enabling the several states to make more adequate provisions for aged persons, blind persons, dependent and crippled children, maternal and child welfare, public health, ad the administration of their unemployment compensation laws; to establish a Social Security Board; to raise revenue; and for other purposes," and is further empowered to make such reports in such form and containing such information as the Federal Board may, from time to time, require, and to comply with such orders and regulations as the said board may, from time to time, make to assure the correctness and verification of such reports.

Section 10. That section eighteen of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 18. [A detailed report of the number of beneficiaries, the amount expended and the advantages and disadvantages of the system, with recommendations for improvement, shall be made by the State Supervisor to the General Assembly at the beginning of each session of the General Assembly. All contributions received hereunder from the United States government shall be paid into the State Treasury through the Department of Revenue, and credited to the current appropriations to the Department of Welfare for the payment of assistance to mothers eligible for assistance under the act.

Section 11. That said act is hereby further amended by adding thereto the following section:

Section 18.1. The purpose of the foregoing amendments is to bring the Mothers' Assistance Law of this Commonwealth, in accord with Title four of the said Social Security Act, and to enable the Commonwealth to receive Federal grants for aid to dependent children.

In the event that Title four of the said Social Security Act shall be held unconstitutional by the Supreme Court of the United States, or shall be repealed and Federal grants for aid to dependent children shall fail for such or for any other reason whatever, then so long as Federal grants for aid to dependent children shall not be available to this Commonwealth, the Department of Welfare and the boards of trustees of the several counties of this Commonwealth, shall administer this act in accordance with the following provisions of this section, and to the extent of any inconsistency, the foregoing provisions of this act shall, for the time being, be suspended.

"(1) It shall not be mandatory upon each county of the Commonwealth to place at the dsposal of the board of trustees, a sum equal to the amount available from the State appropriation for such year, but no county shall receive its allotment of the State appropriation available for any year under the act making an appropriation to carry into effect the provisions of this act, unless such county has placed at the disposal of the board of trustees, a sum equal to the amount available from the State approprition for such year.

(2) The Department of Welfare shall have no power to receive and consider, in accordance with section fourteen of this act, as amended, written applications from county commissioners of counties financially unable to place at the disposal of the board of trustees, a sum equal to the amount available from the State appropriation for such county in such year asking further approprition of State funds to that county, nor any power to allocate any such additional appropriations to such counties.

(3) No family shall be a beneficiary hereunder, unless the mother has been a resident continuously of the State for a period of two years and of the county in which she applies for assistance for a period of one year.

(4) The combined maximum payment allowed by any board of trustees shall in no case exceed twenty dollars ($20) per month for the first child, and ten dollars ($10) per month for each additional child. A mother shall be entitled to assistance under this act for an unborn child, in like manner as for other children, if she has one or more children living which entitle her to the benefits of this act.

Section 12. That section two of said act, and the amendment thereto, be and the same is hereby repealed.

Section 13. The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment, and shall be retroactive to the first day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, the amendment presented provides for the conditions that are contained in Senate Bill No. 59, which is before the Conference Committee. The amendment now contained in Senate Bill No. 50 is stricken out and there is substituted the substance of Senate Bill No. 59 as I have said. If this amendment be adopted, we will be in line for taking care of the eight counties that do not have Mothers' Assistance at the present time, and it will protect us so that we will get the national appropriation.

As I said before, unless this amendment is adopted tonight, or unless this Conference Committee will report tomorrow, we will be deprived of both these items; and I do not want to wait until tomorrow, because this bill may not be amended and passed tomorrow.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I desire to ask the Senator how much of the Brancato Bill is now being written into this bill by amendment.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, the items covering the provision for the eight counties, for the appointment of trustees,—all of the items that, as I understand, the Conference Committee has tentatively agreed upon, including the amendment offered by the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Scott.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, may I ask, then, what the purpose is, in view of the fact that there is a Conference Committee, in amending this bill at this time?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, for the reason that the Senator from Dauphin will not say that there will be a report on that bill tomorrow; and we may not amend this bill on the calendar tomorrow, it has to be done today.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I have made the statement,—I have made it to the public press, and I have made it repeatedly, that I shall not permit this Senate to adjourn without a conference report on the Brancato Bill; and I see no purpose whatever in the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman's, in view of that statement that I have made—that I made to the Democratic members of that Conference Committee—in bringing in this amendment; and I ask that this amendment be voted down.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, the Senator from Dauphin has made a statement now that he did not make a few minutes ago. As I understand, now the Senator is saying that he will cooperate to make a report on the Brancato Bill tomorrow. May I ask the Senator from Dauphin if that is his statement?

May I ask the Senator for an answer?

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, certainly.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I understand the Senator now says he will cooperate to return a report on that bill tomorrow, or before the Legislature adjourns.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, in answering that statement, I will say that I intend to call a meeting of that Conference Committee tomorrow. And I say to the Senator from Monroe, I resent the imputation in his remarks that I have ever been other than cooperating in this matter.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I do not intend to make any implication at all. I asked the Senator from Dauphin, before I introduced this amendment, if he intended to make his report tonight; and I did it for the obvious reason that if we adjourn tomorrow, this bill cannot be amended tomorrow. I take it now he intends to make a report tomorrow—cooperate with the other members of the Committee, making report tomorrow; and with that understanding I will withdraw the amendment.

The PRESIDENT. The amendment is withdrawn.

Mr. PYTKO. Mr. President, I would like to say a word in fairness to the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed, and for the information of the Senate. The Senator from Dauphin is the acting chairman of that Conference Committee on the Brancato Bill. As chairman he has requested me and one of the House conferees to meet with the Senate conferees this afternoon at four thirty. We had made that arrangement last night, and the members of that Conference Committee had practically reached an agreement, they are in accord; but at the instance of one of the minority members they were requested to meet tomorrow so we would have a unanimous version of the content of that Committee report on that bill. Senator Reed and three other members of that committee are in agreement, and I believe we will have a Conference Committee report tomorrow.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Monroe withdraws the amendment?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, yes.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 5, 1936

The House met at 5:00 P. M.

The SPEAKER (Roy E. Furman) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Reverend JAY HARTZELL ARNOLD, Pastor of Westminister Presbyterian Church, York, Pa., offered the following prayer:

Our Heavenly Father, here in this capital city and in this Legislative Hall, we recognize Thee as the only true and living God, the God of all the nations, who hast created us by Thy power and redeemed us by Thy grace. We recognize Thy sovereignty and worship Thee because Thou alone art to be worshiped, loved, and adored.

Our hearts overflow with gratitude as we meditate upon the gift of our lives and the continuance of the same. We cannot measure nor comprehend the marvelous implications of life with its manifold opportunities, responsibilities, and privileges. Enable us to walk by faith through its kaleidoscopic scenes.

Thou hast ordained powers in this world for the exercise of authority, the administration of justice and the welfare and happiness of mankind. We are stewards in whatever sphere of activity our lot is cast. Since faithfulness is the test of stewardship, help us all to be faithful.

Bless the work of these, our servants, to whom we have delegated authority as our representatives. They are here in our stead. Help them to act wisely, plan carefully, and think clearly.

These days call for the best in the souls of men—yea, enable us to plan and think and act beyond our own powers. May we not lean on the arm of flesh nor trust in mere earthly wisdom.

Make us valiant servants as we face the exacting duties of our respective offices. May we not be mere servants of men but servants of the Most High God. May we not be mere puppets in the hands of men but may we be inwardly compelled by our highest institutions. May we so live and act that the end of our days of service will be like the effulgence of a glorious sunset emblazoned with splendor surpassing all our dreams.

The prayer we offer in the name of Jesus, our Savior. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday when, on motion of Mr. JOHN A. SMITH, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal approved.

MEMBERS OF KEYSTONE BOYS' STATE INTRODUCED

The SPEAKER. This General Assembly has been honored this afternoon by a splendid group of young men who are now standing in back of the rail. These young men are part of a huge movement under the sponsorship of the Ameican Legion and of various civic organizations throughout the State which are lending their aid to this movement. This group is primarily interested in government and the workings of government. From their group they have elected different state officials, and they conduct government as it should be conducted in their camp which is located at Mt. Gretna. We are highly honored to have them here, and we hope that they will be benefited greatly by observing the proceedings of this House. I am sure that if the members of this House have occasion to go to Mt. Gretna they will benefit by noting the work of these young men.

These young men, I am told, are all outstanding, especially in scholastic work.

We have now with us the Governor of the group who has been duly elected, Mr. Carl Savino, of Scranton, whom I wish to introduce to the members of the House of Reprentatives.

Mr. CARL SAVINO. Mr. Speaker and members of the House of Representatives, it is my pleasure to be the first governor of the boys of the Keystone State, and as governor of this group, I can assure you that we intend to emulate the present government of the State of Pennsylvania. I thank you.

The SPEAKER. The Chair, on behalf of the House, wishes to thank the Governor, Carl Savino, the other officers who have been elected by this group of boys, and all the boys that are a part of this movement. We ask you to come back and see us again.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. HOOPES. RESOLUTION No. 58.

In the House of Representatives, August 4, 1936.

Whereas, A reading of the Democratic and Republican Platforms for the 1936 Presidential Campaign should convince anyone that these parties offer no basic remedy for the very serious economic problems confronting our country; and

Whereas, The Socialist Party in its Platform proposes not only measures to ease the conditions and increase the security of the farmers and industrial workers in the near future, but also a broad program to change our social system, so as to remove the causes of present social evils; and

Whereas, The 1936 Socialist Party Platform reads as follows:

"FOR A SOCIALIST AMERICA

The Socialist Party of the United States pledges itself anew to the task of building a Socialist society, in which the industries of the country shall be socially owned and democratically managed for the common good; a society in which security, plenty, peace and freedom shall be the heritage of all.

Eight years ago the people of this country voted to continue the "Old Deal" of the Republican party. The attempt of the "Old Deal" to preserve the rights of the few who own most of the nation's wealth plunged the nation into the worst depression in our history.

Four years ago the majority of the voters of the United States threw their support to the "New Deal" of the Democratic party. Under it, big business was given almost unheard-of powers. Untold wealth was destroyed. Prices rose. Profits advanced. Wages lagged. Twelve million men and women are still jobless. Hunger and destitution stalk throughout the land.

The "New Deal", like the "Old Deal", has failed.

Under the "New Deal", more vicious attacks have been made on our civil liberties than at any period since the days immediately following the World War. Gag and "loyalty" bills have been rushed through our legislatures. Union organizers have been seized, kidnapped and killed. The militia has been used to crush attempts of labor to organize. Lynching, race discrimination and the use of violence have continued unabated. Against these infringements of human rights the Democratic party administration has kept an ominous silence as did the Republican administration before it.

Under both the "Old Deal" and the "New Deal", America has drifted toward insecurity and war—the logical results of capitalism. For under capitalism, the many live by working in the city and on the land. The few who own the means of production and distribution employ the workers only if they can extract a profit from their labor. With their scarcity wages, the workers are able to buy only a part of the goods which they produce. Goods pile up. Factories close. The country is plunged into another depression. The capitalists attempt to keep up their profits during the depression. Workers are dismissed. Hours are lengthened. Wages are slashed. The workers are compelled, in order to save themselves from utter poverty, to make demands upon the government for appropriations for relief and public jobs, and upon industry for wages adequate to maintain their standard of living. These demands are resisted by the propertied class—fearful of parting with a share of their unearned wealth.

The need and the demand for greater appropriations and higher wages increase. The struggle between the House of Have and the House of Want becomes ever more intense. In order to render the masses powerless big business seeks to deny them their constitutional rights. Fascist trends develop—trends that only a powerful and militant labor movement on the economic and political fields can successfully stay.

War, under a declining capitalism, becomes an ever greater menace. The owners look toward imperialist conquest of backward nations as a means of diverting attention from unrest at home, and of gaining new markets, new investment areas, new sources of raw material.

This has already caused us to increase our military expenditure to three times as great as before the World War, and if unchecked can have but one ending—an international war.

In Socialism alone do we find the solution of our problem. Under Socialism, industry could be socially owned and democratically administered, by workers, consumers and technicians. The workers would no longer be forced to pay tribute to private owners and their political lackeys. The merit system would be applied universally. The workers would be able to buy back the goods they create. Industry, finding a market for these goods, would run without periodic breakdowns. Unemployment and the wastes of unplanned industry would cease. Every useful worker would be assured of high living standards, short hours, freedom and liberty and a chance to enjoy a good life. Industrial autocracy and war would pass. And economy of scarcity would give way to an economy of abundance.

On the basis of the present capacity to produce, a socialized society will make it possible to

1. More than double the present annual production of wealth which properly distributed would provide every family with a minimum income of $2,500 to $4,000 per year.
2. Guarantee jobs to all persons willing to work and at the same time reduce the hours of labor to 30 or less per week.
3. Guarantee security for all persons against old age, sickness and accident.
4. Provide a fine, modern home for every family in the city or on the farm.

Such a society cannot be obtained without a mighty struggle. The struggle must be waged by both workers and farmers—organized into labor and farmer unions, cooperatives, and their own political party.

To improve the conditions of life and labor and thereby to weld together the strength and solidarity of the masses, the Socialist party pledges itself to fight for the following immediate steps:

1. Constitution

We propose to amend the Constitution to fit our needs through the Farmers and Workers' Rights Amendment, ending the usurped power of the Supreme Court to declare social legislation unconstitutional and reaffirming the right of Congress to acquire and operate industries. We also propose to change the Constitution to make future amendments less difficult. We pledge continued support of the Child Labor Amendment.

2. Social Ownership

We propose the social ownership and democratic control of the banks, mines, railroads, the power industry, and all key industries.

3. Relief and Social Security

We propose an immediate appropriation by Congress of funds to insure adequate Federal relief to the unemployed, and a comprehensive program of useful public works at union wages, especially the immediate launching of a public housing program for the complete elimination of the nation's slums, and a Federal system of unemployment, disability and maternity insurance and adequate old age pensions.

4. Youth

We propose the passage of the American Youth Act to meet the immediate educational and economic needs of young people; adequate Federal appropriations for public schools and free city colleges with a view to making possible a full education for all young people. We oppose the C.C.C., the National Youth Administration and other governmental agencies dealing with the youth problem which threaten the wage and living standards of organized labor.

5. Labor Legislation

We propose the establishment of the thirty-hour week; the guarantee of the right of collective bargaining by all workers in industries and occupations—public and private; the abolition of injunctions in labor disputes; the prohibition of company unions, company spying and private guards and gunmen; the prohibition of the use of the police, deputy sheriffs and militia and federal troops against labor.

6. Taxation

We propose a drastic increase in income and inhertiance taxes and the introduction of the capital levy.

7. Agriculture

We propose:

A. That immediate relief be provided for debt-laden working farmers by advancing government credit on such terms as do not threaten the farmer with the loss of his farm.

B. That farm prices be stabilized at cost of production to the working farmer, such stabilization to be made by the representatives of organized working farmers and consumers.

C. That the marketing, processing and distribution of farm products be taken over by bona fide cooperatives and other agencies to be created for this purpose.

D. That social insurance be provided against crop failures.

E. That abolition of tenant and corporation farming by the establishment of a use-and-occupancy title for family-sized farms and the conversion of plantations and corporation farms into cooperative farms.

8. Civil Liberties

We propose the abolition of all laws that interfere with the right of free speech, free press, free assembly and the activities of labor in its struggle for organization and power; the enforcement of constitutional guarantees of economic, political, and social equality for the Negro and all other oppressed minorities; and the enactment and enforcement of a Federal anti-lynching law.

9. Militarism and War

Not a penny, not a man to the military arms of the government. We reaffirm our opposition to any war engaged in by the government. We propose the elimination of military training from our schools; the abandonment of imperialist adventures of a military or economic nature abroad; the maintenance of friendly relations with Soviet Russia; and the strengthening of neutrality laws, to the end that we may avert immediate wars while fighting for the attainment of a social order which will eliminate the basic causes of war."

Now, therefore be it Resolved by the House of Representatives that we urge all Pennsylvania voters to read and study the Socialist Platform before going to the Polls on November 3.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By MESSRS. CAPUTO, REISING and NAGEL.

RESOLUTION No. 59

Resolved, That the said committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman, requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before them and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee, and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of the courts of this Commonwealth. Each member of said committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the committee.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, as I understand it, the last vote on this bill was the vote to concur in the Senate amendments, and is it not, therefore, the proper procedure to reconsider that vote if we want to get the measure before the House for amendment?

The SPEAKER. In answer to the parliamentary inquiry raised by the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, the Chair wishes to advise the gentleman that the House concurred in the Senate amendments on July 29. The bill was then messaged to the Governor. A recall resolution was introduced on July 30; the bill was returned to the House on August 4, and a motion was made to lay the bill, together with the communication from the Governor, on the table. Therefore, the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Weiss, is in order in his motion to take the bill, together with the communication, from the table and then to make a motion to reconsider the vote by which the bill passed finally.

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend title, page 1, last line of title, by striking out the strike-out brackets before the word "and" and after the word "appropriation"

Amend section 3, page 3, line 24, by striking out the strike-out bracket after the word "act"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House?

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

In the Senate, August 4, 1936.

Whereas, There are at present waiting lists of approximately fifty-five thousand residents of the Commonwealth entitled to Old Age Assistance and

Whereas, The Commonwealth would have to expend the additional sum of one million seven hundred fifty thousand dollars called for by House Bill Number fifty-four in order to procure sufficient Federal money which together with the aforesaid sum of one million seven hundred fifty thousand dollars would be sufficient to furnish Old Age Assistance to those persons on said waiting lists during the remainder of the current biennium and

Whereas, It is the sense of this General Assembly that this additional sum called for by House Bill Number fifty-four should be provided for by the General Assembly at its forthcoming regular session in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven and

Whereas, It will therefore be necessary for the Department of Welfare in order to take up such waiting lists at the present time to accelerate payments from the existing appropriation for Old Age Assistance with the result that such appropriation will be exhausted by the first of April one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That it is the sense of this special session of the General Assembly that the Department of Welfare accelerate payments from its current appropriation for Old Age Assistance in order to match sufficient Federal moneys which together with the State appropriation will enable the department to furnish in the manner provided by law Old Age Assistance to all eligible applicants therefor including those who are now on the waiting lists in the various counties because of insufficient State funds and

Resolved, Further, That it is the sense of this General Assembly that the General Assembly at its forthcoming regular session in one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven appropriate at least one million seven hundred fifty thousand dollars to the Department of Welfare which together with contributions received from the Federal Government to match this sum will enable Old Age Assistance to be furnished to all eligible applicants therefor during the remainder of the one thousand nine hundred thirty-five and one thousand nine hudred thirty-seven biennium.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

The SPEAKER. The resolution is referred to the Committee on Rules.

Legislative Journal.

Extraordinary Session of 1936.

Vol. 19. HARRISBURG, PA., THURSDAY, AUGUST 6, 1936. No. 49.

SENATE

THURSDAY, AUGUST 6, 1936

The Senate met at 10 o'clock A. M.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE (Mr. John G. Homsher) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. William E. Howard, D.D., offered the following prayer:

O Lord, our God, there is an end to everything under the sun, our joys are fleeting and our sorrows pass away as time flies on. Man himself is here today and gone tomorrow. No work of human hands is lasting; moth and rust corrupt what we build. Thieves break through and steal our treasures. Our human associations are formed but soon to be dissolved.

The Senate of Pennsylvania, O Lord, will never again meet under the exact conditions which prevail at this hour. The weeks during which this Special Session has sat have made new friendships and deepened and quickened old friendships. Bless what has been done here, overrule for good any mistake which may have been made. May we all go home with a deepened love for God, for home, for our Commonwealth, for our Nation and for one another. In Thy providence, bring us at last into the true fellowship which shall last forever in that city which has foundation, whose builder and maker is God.

For the sake of Him, whose name is above every other name, we ask it. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. WOODWARD, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

PRELIMINARY REPORT OF JOINT LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE PUBLIC RELIEF IN PENNSYLVANIA

Mr. RODGERS. Mr. President, in 1935, in this Assembly there was appointed a committee of three Senators and three Representatives, in accordance with Resolution No. 110, to investigate public relief in Pennsylvania. In submitting a report of the committee, three members of that committee dissented, and I am presenting herewith a report of the other three members of the committee, which is to be printed in the Journal.

(For Report see Appendix)

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, for the benefit of the members of the Senate and the record of this Session, I desire to read at this time a letter received from former Attorney General Schnader, confirming, in writing, his opinion to us with reference to the use of the excess profits of the State Liquor Stores:

Schnader & Lewis, 1719 Packard Bldg.,
Philadelphia, July 30, 1936.

Honorable G. Mason Owlett,
State Senate,
Harrisburg, Pa.

Dear Senator Owlett:

As requested by you I shall confirm in writing the opinion which I expressed to you orally last week regarding the extent to which money in the State Stores Fund is available for appropriation by the present Special Session of the Legislature.

You informed me at that time that the contention was being made that the State's income from the operation of the State Stores had been pledged under the Act of June 22, 1935, P. L. 442 as a part of the security for the repayment of tax anticipation notes issued under that Act.

The Act of June 22, 1935, P. L. 442, authorized the issuance of $50,000,000 of tax anticipation notes to defray the current and other expenses during the two fiscal years beginning June 1, 1935.

The question upon which you consulted me, arises out of two inconsistent provisions of the Act.

Section 2 (c) provides that:

"The current revenues of the biennial fiscal period beginning the first day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-five are pledged for the payment of principal and interest of such notes. * * *"

If this provision could properly be construed to apply to all of the Commonwealth's current revenues without limitation, the result would be that the moneys accruing to the Motor License Fund during the biennium, the moneys accruing to the Game Fund and to the Fish Fund, and to every other special fund,—including the State Stores Fund,—would be pledged for the payment of the tax anticipation notes issued under the Act of 1935. And as the section speaks of "the biennial fiscal period" it would also be necessary to take the position that until the $50,000,000 authorized by the Act of 1935 has been paid in full, it would be impossible to issue any further tax anticipation notes and secure them by pledging any of the revenues accruing to the Commonwealth during the current biennium. At least any pledge of the current revenues for a second issue of tax anticipation notes would be a second lien upon such revenues.

Such a construction would render it impossible to issue marketable tax anticipation notes at this time as the Legislature is planning to do.

That it was not the intention of the Legislature in 1935 to tie its own hands in disposing of revenue accruing under later legislation or to include special fund revenue or even certain General Fund revenue in the security provided for the payment of tax anticipation notes issued under the Act of 1935, becomes clear upon a reading of Section 4 of the Act, which is as follows:

"Section 4. Any loans, negotiated under the provisions of this act, shall be secured by the current revenues, levied and assessed for revenue purposes, of every kind or character accruing to the General Fund of the State Treasury during the two fiscal years beginning June first, one thousand nine hundred thirty-five, and shall be paid out of such revenues, and so much of such revenues as may be necessary for the payment of principal and interest of such loans are hereby specifically appropriated * * *"

The use of the words "levied and assessed" in this Section is of the greatest significance.

These words not only limit the pledge as to time by including only the revenues levied prior to the approval of the Act of June 22, 1935, but they also limit as to character the funds pledged for the payment of tax anticipation notes issued under the Act of 1935.

License fees and numerous other forms of revenue are not "levied and assessed" and it is too clear to require discussion that the profits arising from the operation of the State Stores are not "levied and assessed."

These profits arise from voluntary purchases made by the public and could not under any reasoning be regarded as revenues levied and assessed.

I have not discussed the question whether, under any circumstances, the profits of the State Stores could be regarded as "revenue." Even if such profits are revenue, they were clearly not pledged by the Act of June 22, 1935, and a discussion of this question would be entirely irrelevant.

For the reasons I have given I am clearly of the opinion that the Act of June 22, 1935, did not pledge the profits from the State Stores Fund for the payment of tax anticipation notes issued under that act.

Very truly yours,

W. A. SCHNADER.

I think it will be interesting to the members of the Senate to watch the new appointments to the State Liquor Stores, and what happens to these excess profits after this Legislature closes.

An Act to amend section three of the act, approved the sixteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (P. L. 208), entitled "Corporate Net Income Tax Act," by increasing the rate of tax for a limited period of time.

Which was laid on the table.

HOUSE NON-CONCURS IN AMENDMENTS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 156 AND APPOINTS COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE

He also informed the Senate that the House has non-concurred in the amendments made by the Senate to House Bill No. 156, entitled:

and has appointed Mr. Eberharter, Mr. Brownfield and Mr. Weideman, as a Committee of Conference on the part of the House to confer with a similar committee of the Senate (if the Senate shall appoint such committee) to consider the differences existing between the two Houses in relation to said bill.

APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE

Mr. GELDER. The motion was agreed to.

Ordered, That Mr. Gelder, Mr. Graff and Mr. Rice be said committee on the part of the Senate, and that the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

CONTINUING SENATE COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE INDIANA STATE NORMAL SCHOOL

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, I desire to call up Senate Resolution Serial No. 43, on page 52 of the History of the Senate.

The resolution was read as follows:

In the Senate, July 21, 1936.

Whereas, On June 29, 1936, the Senate adopted a resolution (known as Senate Resolution No. 3) authorizing the appointment of a Sub-Committee of five members of the Committee on Education to make an investigation of the attempts that are being made to interfere with the orderly management of educational institutions that are receiving financial assistance from the people of this Commonwealth, notably the Indiana State Teachers College, and to report as speedily as possible to the Senate now in Extraordinary Session the results of its inquiry; and

Whereas, Pursuant to said resolution the President pro tempore of the Senate on June 30, 1936, appointed a Sub-Committee of five members of the Committee on Education to conduct said investigation; and

Whereas, Since the appointment of said Sub-Committee the press of business of the Senate in conducting its legislative activities in this Extraordinary Session has been such as to render impossible a meeting of this Sub-Committee to conduct hearings in order to fulfill its commission: and

Whereas, One of the members of the Sub-Committee has been so ill that he has been unable to participate in its activities; and

Whereas, The Sub-Committee has received such information that it deems it wise to pursue said investigation, in order that the evils complained of may be uncovered and appropriate remedies therefore suggested; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Sub-Committee of the Committee on Education heretofore appointed by the President pro tempore of the Senate, under and by virtue of Senate Resolution No. 3, to conduct a searching investigation of the situation complained of in said Senate Resolution, be continued and that said Sub-Committee shall make a report to the Senate at its next regular session; and be it further

Resolved, That the said Sub-Committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman, requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before it and to answer any question touching matters properly being inquired into by the Sub-Committee, and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the Sub-Committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of the courts of this Commonwealth. Each member of said Sub-Committee shall have the power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the Sub-Committee. Any person who shall wilfully refuse or neglect to testify before such Sub-Committee or to produce any books, papers, records or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases; and be it further

Resolved, That the powers hereby conferred shall be exercised by the Sub-Committee during the recess of the Senate as well as during the sessions thereof; and be it further

Resolved, That in the event that the power hereby conferred upon the said Sub-Committee to subpoena witnesses and enforce its subpoenas during the recess of the Senate shall be held by any court to be unconstitutional, said Sub-Committee shall, nevertheless, continue its work and take the testimony of such persons as shall voluntarily appear before it.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Beaver, Mr. Batchelor.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Beaver, Mr. Batchelor, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, is the purpose of this resolution to impose upon and require a sub-committee of the standing Committee on Education to perform special work during the recess of the Senate, as well as during the sessions thereof?

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, my answer to the Senator from Fayette is that I believe that the resolution speaks for itself.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, and is it the intention of the Senator from Beaver Mr. Batchelor, that the purpose of this resolution is to require the sub-committee of the standing Committee on Education to perform special work during the recess of the Senate?

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, in answer to the question of the Senator from Fayette, I would say that the resolution is printed and speaks for itself.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, the Senator from Fayette has read the resolution, and is he under the impression that it imposes upon the sub-committee of the standing Committee on Education to perform special work during the recess, or am I mistaken in that?

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, I think that the Senator from Fayette has enough intelligence to read and understand the resolution.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, apparently the Senator from Beaver, Mr. Batchelor, does not want to answer specifically the interrogations made. He is the author of this resolution and surely has in the recesses of his own mind the purposes which he expects to arrive at by the passage of this resolution.

Mr. PRESIDENT, I now rise to the question of parliamentary inquiry.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Fayette will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, the Senator from Beaver, Mr. Batchelor, the sponsor of this resolution, has stated that the resolution speaks for itself, the resolution states that the purpose, or intention, of the resolution is to impose upon a sub-committee of the Committee on Education of this Senate special work to be performed during the recess of the Senate, as well as during the sessions thereof. On page 203 of the Pennsylvania Manual, under the decisions of the Senate (Decision No. 100) we find that "On the passage of a resolution authorizing the Committee on Mines and Mining, of the two Houses, to make certain investigations, the President Pro Tempore * * * decides that as all committees of the Senate were to be appointed by the President Pro Tempore, and as the resolution provided for the appointment or naming of a committee, it involved a suspension of the Rule, and required a two-thirds vote to pass the same; an appeal was taken from said decision and the Chair sustained."

Now, this resolution imposes special work on the sub-committee of the standing Committee on Education of this Senate, and the Ruling made in this Senate under the decision cited by me requires a two-thirds vote for the adoption of such a resolution. Am I correct in my opinion that the present resolution will require a two-thirds vote for its passing?

The PRESIDENT. The question of the Senator from Fayette is so lengthy that the Chair has not been able to understand it thoroughly, and in order to answer it will have to request it be put in writing. It is a very long question of parliamentary inquiry; or does the Senator to let it go as part of the debate"

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, may I be informed whether it is the opinion of the Chair that the resolution—I would like to know what the purpose of the resolution is.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator's inquiry is so lengthy that the Chair requests that it be put in writing.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, the President might satisfy the inquiry by answering the inquiry whether or not a two-thirds vote would be required for the passage of this resolution.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair must insist that the Senator from Fayette place the inquiry in writing.

RECESS

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I move at this time that the Senate recess for a period of fifteen minutes, so that we may determine whether this resolution will require a two-thirds vote of this Senate for its passage.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, presents a point of order, which will be read:

The point of order was read as follows:

"Since the resolution imposes special work on the subcommittee of the standing committee on Education during the recess of the Senate, a two-thirds vote is required for its passage, for the reason that the subject matter of the resolution involves a suspension of the rules, as decided by a decision of this Senate on pages 803-811 of the Senate Journal, 1897."

The PRESIDENT. The Chair rules that the decision does not apply in the Senate; the only questions that require a two-thirds vote are appropriations for charitable institutions, or the suspension of rules on executive nominations.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I just want to make a few brief remarks on this resolution. Right at the head of the stairs—

The PRESIDENT. For what purpose does the Senator from Centre rise?

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I wish to speak on the question of the adoption of the resolution.

The PRESIDENT. On the resolution or on the ruling of the Chair?

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, on the resolution.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Centre will proceed.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, as we come up the marble stairs leading up to the Senate and the House of Representatives, at the head of the stairs leading into the Senate Chamber is a statue of the god-father of my Republican colleagues on the left, their political god-father being the late Matthew Stanley Quay. The late Senator Quay had one oft-quoted remark which has come down to us historically. That remark was "What is the Constitution among friends?" This Batchelor resolution, and the resolution that was acted upon yesterday sponsored by the Senator from Tioga, are a perfect continuance of the policy instituted by Matt Quay for the Republican Party in any exigency to deliberately disregard the Constitution of the State of Pennsylvania or, as a matter of fact, of the United States.

Now, I just want the members of this Senate to consider for a minute how ridiculous one provision of this resolution is, and the same provision was in the Owlett resolution passed yesterday. We seem to have adopted this sort of resolutions as a course of conduct. Reading from the last paragraph: "Resolved, That in the event that the power hereby conferred upon the said sub-committee to subpoena witnesses and enforce its subpoenas during the recess of the Senate shall be held by any court to be unconstitutional, said sub-committee shall, nevertheless, continue its work and take the testimony of such persons as shall voluntarily appear before it." In other words, in the language of the late Matt Quay, it does not make any difference whether it is constitutional, whether it is legal, whether it is orderly, whether in conformity with the actions on the part of this Senate, or anything else," we will just flaunt the constitution and all forms of American system in the face of the public, that is to say, we will go on with our political snooping—we do not care for anything that is going on in the history of this country. Mr. President, I say that a resolution like that, and the passage of a resolution containing a provision of this kind, is ridiculous to the extreme, and it demonstrates perfectly to what length a political organization will go in that form of political chicanery.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Beaver, Mr. Batchelor.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Beaver, Mr. Batchelor, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, this resolution states that attempts are being made to interfere with the orderly management of educational institutions, and I would appreciate it if the Senator from Beaver would advise us what those attempts are.

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, on the 28th of June last, this Senate adopted a resolution authorizing the appointment of a committee to make a certain investigation—that is the Graff resolution. Now, this resolution simply asks the Senate to extend the authority of that committee, which because of certain reasons stated in this resolution simply asks the Senate to extend the authority of that Committee because of certain reasons stated in this resolution. That is all this resolution does.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, does the Senator from Beaver mean to tell this Senate that he does not know of a single instance of an attempt to do what this resolution says is being done?

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, the resolution says that the Sub-Committee has some information.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, will the Senator give us a single instance?

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, if the Senate itself wants to make this investigation, I am quite sure that the committee appointed will receive all the information that is available.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, does the Senator from Beaver admit that he has no foundation for this resolution?

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, on the contrary, I say we have an abundance of information on which to base this resolution.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, will the Senator from Beaver give us a single instance of interference with the educational institutions of Pennsylvania?

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, I just want to reiterate what I said to the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, that if the Senate wants to make this investigation, I will be glad to supply all the available information.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, does the Senator ask this Senate to vote on a resolution to investigate our educational institutions, or interference with them, without a scintilla of evidence to support that resolution?

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, I will answer the Senator from Allegheny by saying that the Senator from Beaver says that there is aboundant evidence to justify this resolution.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, what is it? I do not ask for a voluminous report, I merely want a single instance.

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, I repeat what I said before, that if the Senate wants to make this investigation, I will be glad to furnish it with all the available information. If this committee makes an investigation, then I think the committee should proceed in an orderly manner to make the investigation.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, will the Senator from Beaver advise us the names of that committee?

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, the committee that was appointed—well, I do not think that I can recall the names of the committee that was appointed, but I believe that Senator Frey is one of them, I believe Senator Chapman was one and Senator Thompson from Westmoreland was one, and Senator Bennett from Indiana County was one.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, does the Senator from Beaver know that Senator Frey is not on the Education Committee.

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, I did not appoint the committee.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, so that every other member on that committee is a Republican—is that right?

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, I presume they are, yes.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, and the members of the Education Committee there is not a single Democrat of the Education Committee on this sub-committee—is that right?

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, Senator Frey is on the committee. Now, Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, yes.

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, I would just like to ask the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, what objections there would be to making an investigation of the attempts that are being made to interfere with the orderly management of educational institutions.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, if there are any attempts, I will vote for the resolution, but if no one on this floor can tell me of any attempts to do these things, I think it is just clap-trap and political camouflage. This resolution is similar to a number of resolutions, I believe a half a dozen, that have been offered in this Senate since I came here. These committees go out after we adjourn, they go out ostensibly with some official sanction and power, because I feel, personally and legally, they have no more right to go out and conduct what pretends to be an official investigation than four or five men who want to form a committee outside of this Senate; but the fact that it has the name of a Senatorial Committee has the effect of making the public believe it has some official standing, but so far these committees start out after we adjourn—we have no control over them—to conduct hearings they pretend to be official, but they have never made a single report. However, it is good newspaper copy, because when a Senatorial investigation committee comes into a town, of course, there is a lot of good news copy. As I recall, in the original resolution which was offered it was stated that this applied to the Indiana Normal School, and Dr. Foster was not retained as President at the last meeting of the Board. Now, he is a Republican, and I do not know of another single Republican in the State of Pennsylvania that was not retained in our educational institutions, although everyone of them could have been removed. Dr. Foster, at the last meeting of the Alumni Association of Indiana College, converted that meeting into a political rally, and he and John Fisher, former Governor, were the principal speakers, and they attacked the Trustees. Two members had previously asked for a meeting of the Board, to consider the retention of Dr. Foster, and when he turned this Alumni Association meeting into a political rally and began to stir up politics, particularly in the school, the two members that had asked for the meeting felt that it could not be considered calmly, and, therefore, they withdrew their request to have this meeting, but "political" Doctor Foster got very busy among the Trustees, and he thought he had enough to win, so he got his members of the Trustees whom he knew he could insist upon, and requested them to call a meeting of the Board, and they did, and to his utter amazement, after he had called his own meeting, he was not retained by a vote of five to four, and of those members of the Board who split on the question, three Democrats and two Republicans voted against Dr. Foster, and two Democrats and two Republicans voted for him.

Now, if that is interfering with our state educational institutions, after Dr. Foster had turned his Alumni Association meeting into a political harangue, and after he attacked the Trustees, and after the Trustees met, and after he had failed, in view of what he had stirred up, to be retained, I feel that there is not a member on the other side of this Senate who, in his heart and in his conscience, feels that that was not the proper thing to do. Therefore, Mr. President, it does seem to me that we ought to have in this body a little spirit of fairness and of sportsmanship.

When this original resolution was up, I asked the Department of Education, that is today manned mostly by Republicans—as it always was, and they reported to me that this administration had made no more changes than were made in a single year under any administration. In other words, this Democratic administration had made no more changes in our state institutions and in our schools than were made from year to year under Pinchot, Fisher, or any other Governor.

Now, it does seem to me, Mr. President, that when a Democratic administration after forty-five years has elected a Governor, and the people of this State say that they want these institutions run by the party that is in power, and when that party comes into power and makes no more changes than were made in any year under a Republican administration, I say to you that it comes with bad grace and poor grace and poor sportsmanship, when an investigation is asked of a single President of a school that was not retained. It strikes me that we are making curselves ridiculous. It strikes me that it is not fair. Do you know what this will do to the town of Indiana? We have all lived in small towns at one time or another, perhaps, and if this committee goes up into Indiana, it will stir up neighbor against neighbor, family against family, and rehash what has already died down. In other words, they will go into a peaceful community like Indiana and will array neighbor against neighbor, and I say to you on the evidence you have heard, you should not do it.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I just want to set right the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, that if he were a candidate for Governor when Matthew Stanley Quay was political boss and supporting him for Governor, he would probably receive a message from Mr. Quay "Dear Mr. Thompson, don't talk." It is unfortunate that the Senator from Centre brought up this question about "What is the Constitution among friends?" The Senator from Centre dislikes ancient history; yesterday he was modernistic, so I would like to give it to him. He ought to remember that we are not operating under constitutional liberty, but under the New Deal, and the great apostle of the New Deal, President Roosevelt, and I remember distinctly reading in my paper that President Roosevelt sent a message to the committee considering the Guffey Coal Act, I think it was, that the legislation was probably unconstitutional, but not to be deterred from action by any such statement as that, to go ahead anyway. That is the New Deal way of going back to Matthew Stanley Quay.

Mr. REED (Washington). Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Beaver, Mr. Batchelor.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Beaver, Mr. Batchelor, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. REED (Washington). I would like to ask the Senator from Beaver if I am correct in my understanding of the meaning of this resolution, that it applies specifically to the Indiana State Teachers College.

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, it applies to the Indiana State Teachers College, but it might also apply to other colleges.

Mr. REED (Washington). Mr. President, is it not true that the original resolution also included the University of Pittsburgh?

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, I did not introduce the original resolution.

Mr. REED (Washington). Mr. President, but the Senator knows that is a fact, does he not?

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, I think that was cut out of the bill before it was passed; that is my recollection.

Mr. REED (Washington). Mr. President, I am asking the Senator from Beaver if it were not in the original resolution.

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, the Senator from Washington may be more familiar with it than I am.

Mr. REED (Washington). Mr. President, I think the Senator from Beaver should be more familiar with the resolution than I, in view of the fact that it was his resolution.

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, no, it was not my resolution, the Senator from Washington is mistaken.

Mr. REED (Washington). Mr. President, I would like to know whether or not in the best judgment of the Senator from Beaver, if the University of Pittsburgh was also named in the original resolution.

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, my best judgment is that it was named in the original resolution, but that it was cut out before the resolution was reported to the floor.

Mr. REED (Washingon). Mr. President, does the Senator from Beaver know why the University of Pittsburgh was later eliminated from the resolution?

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, my recollection is that it was eliminated in committee, I would have no objection to including it. I might call the attention of the Senator from Washingon, and also the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, to the fact that the University of Pittsburgh was investigated, and it was investigated by a committee composed entirely of Democratic members of the House.

Mr. REED (Washington). Mr. President, but the University of Pittsburgh was in the original resolution and was later removed?

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, that is my recollection.

Mr. REED (Washington). Mr. President, does the Senator from Beaver know why it was removed?

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, I do not know other than what my recollection is, that it happened in committee, that is all I can say.

Mr. REED (Washington). Mr. President, when this resolution was before this body the first time, I voted against it, and I propose to vote against this resolution now, not for political reasons, but, in my opinion, for higher and better reasons. I believe when we start to investigate our public institutions when some official is removed, then we are establishing a very dangerous precedent which will give the people of this state very much trouble hereafter. I think this is a dangerous resolution on that account, and I think it should be voted down, and that is why I will vote against it.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I was amused by the remarks of the Senator from Philadelphia, Dr. Woodward, in trying to compare some of the activities of President Roosevelt with a statement that was made here today. If the Senator from Philadelphia, Dr. Woodward, wants to be specific and correct, he must also state that the President of the United States informed the committee that was considering the Guffey-Snyder Coal Bill that if there were any doubt as to the constitutionality of the Act, that there is a tribunal to decide that proposition, that they should report the bill and pass the bill, and let the Supreme Court of the United States, the tribunal established for that purpose, say whether or not it was constitutional. But now, Mr. President, mark the words of the resolution that we are asked to vote upon:

"Resolved, That in the event that the power hereby conferred upon the said Sub-Committee to subpoena witnesses and enforce its subpoenas during the recess of the Senate shall be held by any court to be unconstitutional, said Sub-Committee shall, nevertheless, continue its work and take the testimony of such persons as shall voluntarily appear before it."

These are identically the same words used in the resolution introduced by the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, for the appointment of a Senate Committee to investigate the Works Progress Administration. The difference between the conduct of the President of the United States and the Republican majority in this Senate is that when a tribunal of this Nation decides that the Act of any Legislature is unconstitutional, we who belong to the New Deal are Americans and we are willing to submit to the decision of the tribunal, but here we are asked to vote on a resolution that says "To hell with the decision of any tribunal," or whether any court declares it unconstitutional, "we are going on." That is the difference between what the President of the United States recommended to the committee that passed upon the Guffey-Snyder bill and this resolution before this Senate.

Mr. GRAFF. Mr. President, I do not know whether my godfather, the late Matthew Stanley Quay, ever made the remark "What is the Constitution among friends," but it seems to me, it very ill becomes the Senator from Centre to raise any question as to the disregarding of any Constitution, either Federal or State, after the debacle that we have been treated to, and are now meeting with, in Washington. It is one of the most flagrant and outrageous attempts, being made right along to disregard the Constitution, in a manner with which we are all familiar, and so I say again that it ill becomes the Senator from Centre to raise this question.

Now as to this resolution: I do not wish to prolong the debate on it, but as sponsor I am vitally interested, and I introduced the original resolution here in the Senate, which resolution was adopted on June 29th. At that time the Senate, in no uncertain terms, expressed itself in favor of this resolution by a vote of 30 to 17. This is not a political matter. I come from the area in which the State Teachers College in Indiana is located, and individuals regardless of party, a number of organizations, all appealed to me to introduce this resolution, and I assure you there were many, many Democrats who very strongly urged upon me the advisability of introducing this resolution. I had appeals from the Chamber of Commerce, the Kiwanis Club, the Alumni Association, representing 10,000 alumni of the institution, the Senior Class and the faculty.

The only thing that this resolution aims to do is to have a thorough and impartial investigation of the charges that there has been political interference with the orderly procedure of the administration of this Teachers' College in Indiana. The attempt of the Senator from Centre to becloud this issue, it seems to me, to be indefensible. No one who wants to be fair and square and on the up and up in this matter has anything to fear. We simply want to make an investigation and get to the bottom of this thing and if there are any irregularities, which, it seems to me, there is abundant evidence to prove that there are, we want to bring them out in the light of day, and if anyone has been under suspicion and is being accused wrongly he should have nothing to fear, but should like to have this thing cleared up.

I want to say, in conclusion, that I see no reason why anyone who wants to be fair and honest in this matter, has anything to fear, or has any real reason to object to the adoption of this resolution, and I hope the Senate will adopt it.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Armstrong.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Armstrong, Mr. Graff, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GRAFF. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, does the Senator not know that the Senator from Indiana, Mr. Bennett, in addressing this body, stated that Dr. Foster was up to his neck in politics before there was this administration?

Mr. GRAFF. Mr. President, I would like to answer the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, by saying that that is one of the reasons for this investigation.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, does the Senator from Armstrong wish to convey to this body that if the president of one of our State Colleges had been in politics and a Republican Senator would get up on this floor and tell the Senate that that is what he had been doing, and if that man had lost out by a vote of 5 to 4, he would tell this Senate that it is a matter for this Senate to get down in the gutter and investigate?

Mr. GRAFF. Mr. President, I simply want to reiterate what I have said on several occasions on this floor, that there have been charges and counter charges and the purpose, I would say again, of this resolution, is to bring about a fair and impartial investigation, let the chips fly where they may. This is not an investigation to whitewash anybody, nor to crucify anyone. We simply want to get to the foundation and the facts in this case, regardless of party politics.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, does the Senator from Armstrong say that this is a fair, impartial and non-political investigation when there is not a Democrat on the Education Committee?

Mr. GRAFF. Mr. President, there is, of course, as you know, a Democrat on this Committee, and I presume he was appointed with the thought that he was a member of the Committee on Education. If he is not, he is at least a member of the Democratic Party, and that is more than can be said of the Committee that investigated the University of Pittsburgh, where there was no Republican on the investigating committee. I think that the Committee will be fair and impartial.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, will the Senator from Armstrong agree that the Chairman of the Education Committee, if he wanted to be fair, would have appointed two Democrats and two Republicans, when they are going to delve into a State institution and our Education Department.

Mr. GRAFF. Mr. President, that is the prerogative of the President Pro Tempore of the Senate.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I am not interested in this controversy but I am interested in whether this proposition can be carried out. I am rising to a question of parliamentary inquiry. I am of the impression that the Committee on Education's functions expire on the first of December, and I am inquiring whether a sub-committee, appointed by a committee which expires, can function according to the rules of this Senate.

Please do not ask me to write that out on paper.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair answers the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, by saying that the terms of the Senators expire on December 1st, and any committee could function until that time, in the opinion of the Chair.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, then after the first of December, my inquiry is, if this committee could not function longer, neither could the sub-committee.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair has answered the question correctly.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. CAVALCANTE and Mr. SHAPIRO and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—27

Aron,	Graff,	Rankin,	Thompson (Westmoreland)
Batchelor,	Harris,	Reed, (Dauphin)	Trainer,

RECESS

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for thirty minutes.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

HOUSE MESSAGE

HOUSE CONCURS IN SENATE RESOLUTION NO. 8

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced informed the Senate that the House has concurred in Senate Resolution No. 8 as follows:

Whereas, There are at present waiting lists of approximately fifty-five thousand residents of the Commonwealth entitled to Old Age Assistance and

Whereas, The Commonwealth would have to expend the additional sum of one million seven hundred fifty thousand dollars called for by House Bill Number fifty-four in order to procure sufficient Federal money which together with the aforesaid sum of one million seven hundred fifty thousand dollars would be sufficient to furnish Old Age Assistance to those persons on said waiting lists during the remainder of the current biennium and

Whereas, It is the sense of the General Assembly not to provide this additional sum called for by House Bill Number fifty-four at this special session but to do so at its forthcoming regular session in one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven and

Whereas, It will therefore be necessary for the Department of Welfare in order to take up such waiting lists at the present time to accelerate payments from the existing appropriation for Old Age Assistance with the result that such appropriation will be exhausted by the first of April one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That it is the sense of this special session of the General Assembly that the Department of Welfare accelerate payments from its current appropriation for Old Age Assistance in order to match sufficient Federal moneys which together with the State appropriation will enable the department to furnish in the manner provided by law Old Age Assistance to all eligible applicants therefor including those who are now on the waiting lists in the various counties because of insufficient State funds and

Resolved, Further, That it is the sense of this General Assembly that the General Assembly at its forthcoming regular session in one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven appropriate at least one million seven hundred fifty thousand dollars to the Department of Welfare which together with contributions received from the Federal Government to match this sum will enable Old Age Assistance to be furnished to all eligible applicants therefor during the remainder of the one thousand nine hundred thirty-five and one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven biennium

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

An Act making an appropriation to the Water and Power Resources Board for payment into the Flood Control Fund for flood control purposes

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the sum of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($150,000) or so much thereof as is necessary is hereby specifically appropriated out of the General Fund to the Water and Power Resources Board for payment into the Flood Control Fund in the State Treasury for the purpose of making the same available for the purposes for which such Flood Control Fund is appropriated by law.

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the House is requested.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 38 (House Bill No. 54), on third reading, entitled:

A Supplement to Act Number fifty-seven-A approved the nineteenth day of July one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (Appropriation Acts of one thousand nine hundred thirty-five page forty-one) entitled "An act making an appropriation to the Department of Welfare for Old Age Assistance" making an appropriation for the payment of old age assistance to applicants in counties which do not have sufficient funds available to pay assistance to such applicants and suspending the provisions of this act in case Federal grants for old age assistance shall fail for any reason be recommitted to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, before the vote on the motion is taken, and for the information of the Senate, I would like to say that as you all know, recently we received a letter from the Secretary of Welfare, Commander Pennington, which involved the action of the Senate in putting these bills on the calendar, and the Committee on Appropriations was requested to take up with the Commander to find out whether or not the position he took at that time was the position that the Administration was taking on these bills, we having understood at the conference at the Executive Mansion, that the Attorney General and the Governor said it was not necessary to pass bills at this time.

I have, under date of August 5, a letter from Commander Pennington which I would like to read into the record:

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania
Department of Welfare
Harrisburg

August 5, 1936.

Honorable Frederick T. Gelder
Chairman, Senate Appropriations Committee
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania

Dear Sir:

On July 29th I addressed you requesting that the Senate Appropriations Committee report out House Bills No. 50 and 54, appropriating $600,000 for mother's assistance and $1,750,000 for old age assistance. At that time it was my belief that it was necessary that these funds be appropriated at once in order to make it possible for the State of Pennsylvania to avail itself immediately of the benefits of the Federal Social Security Act, and add approximately 55,000 additional cases to its active old age assistance list and approximately 7,000 cases to its active mother's assistance list.

Under the wording of the appropriations to the Department of Welfare for both these subjects, it is possible for us to anticipate expenditures which would otherwise be made at the end of the biennium and make those expenditures from now on. This will not interfere with our ability to obtain from the Federal Government funds for old age assistance in an amount equal to those which we would expend and for mother's assistance in an amount equal to one-third of the total expended in this state.

It must be understood, however, that unless the next General Assembly appropriates $1,750,000 before April 1, 1937 for old age assistance, our payments for old age assistance will cease entirely on or about April 1, 1937, both for those on the present and those on the added list and unless the next General Assembly appropriates $600,000 for mother's assistance before April 1, 1937, distribution to mother's assistance will cease entirely on or about April 1, 1937.

I feel that it is important that the Department of Welfare have the sense of this Legislature first on the acceleration of expenditures from the latter part of the biennium to the present part of the biennium and secondly that the Legislature commit itself on the necessity of the next General Assembly providing the two sums above mentioned. In other words it should be clear that what we are accomplishing is merely the postponement of the time of the appropriation.

Very truly yours,

JOHN D. PENNINGTON,
Secretary of Welfare.

Mr. President, action on these bills will be followed by a report from the Appropriations Committee on the resolution which was prepared by the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, and also another resolution which he intends to introduce covering Mothers's Assistance, when and if those two resolutions are passed, apparently it will be perfectly safe for us to defer action on these bills at this time. It may be interesting to the members of the Senate to know that on mothers' assistance at the present time there are 8,000 mothers with 25,000 dependent children on the payroll. There is a waiting list of about 7,500, and after this legislation goes through, it is our understanding that this entire waiting list will be taken care of if they are found eligible. At the present time there are 39,716 persons receiving old age assistance, making an expenditure of $852,630, a month. There are 74,506 persons on the waiting list, and the Department thinks 55,000 will be eligible for assistance. These too will have immediate attention from the Department, under a resolution, with the funds named available in the Department, plus that which we will receive from the Federal Government.

At the present time 8,405 blind persons are receiving pensions of $30.00 per month, or were as of July 1, 1936. There are 381 additional cases on the list for the present month, or a total of 8,800 persons, all but fourteen receiving pensions. There are now 1,000 blind persons eligible and waiting to be considered. With the $200,000. appropriation bill which was passed by this Senate and now on the Governor's desk, the entire list of those entitled to blind pensions will also be cared for at this session.

I wonder if the members of this Senate and the people of Pennsylvania can conjure up the amount of money the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is spending in this social service. If we took all these people who are receiving pensions for the blind, all these people receiving mothers' assistance and all of these people who are receiving old age assistance, and brought them into Harrisburg for a parade down Third Street, by the Capitol, it would certainly be an imposing spectacle, and I think it would convince the people of Pennsylvania, and of the other states throughout the nation that this state is not backward in its social service. This, Mr. President, has nothing whatever to do with the millions of dollars we are spending for direct relief.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The motion was agreed to.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO MOTHERS' ASSISTANCE FUND

Mr. SHAPIRO offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

In the Senate, August 6, 1936.

Whereas, The Federal Social Security Act requires the Mothers Assistance Law to be mandatory in all counties of the Commonwealth before Federal moneys will be available for this purpose; and

Whereas, House Bill No. 59, now in conference committee, will make the Mothers Assistance Law mandatory on all counties if enacted; and

Whereas, at least eight counties have been heretofore and are financially unable to participate with the Commonwealth in furnishing assistance to needy mothers under the Mothers Assistance Law; and

Whereas, there are waiting lists of mothers eligible for assistance in those counties operating under the Mothers Assistance Law because of insufficient State and county funds available for this purpose; and

Whereas, it is the sense of the General Assembly that the additional funds necessary to meet the contributions required of the aforesaid eight counties and to take up the aforesaid waiting lists, should be provided for at its forthcoming regular session in 1937: and

Whereas, it will therefore be necessary for the Department of Welfare in order to extend the benefits of the Mothers Assistance Law to the aforesaid eight counties and to take up the waiting lists in the other counties, to accelerate payments from the existing appropriations for Mothers Assistance in order to match sufficient Federal moneys for this purpose with the result that such an appropriation will be exhausted by the first of April, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven.

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur) that if it is the sense of this special session of the General Assembly, if House Bill No. 59, is enacted, that the Department of Welfare accelerate payments from its current appropriation for Mothers Assistance in order to match sufficient Federal moneys which, together with the State appropriation, will enable the department to furnish, in the manner provided by law, Mothers Assistance to all eligible applicants therefore in all counties of the Commonwealth; and

Resolved Further, that it is the sense of this General Assembly that the General Assembly, at its forthcoming regular session of 1937, appropriate sufficient money to the Department of Welfare, which, together with contributions received from the Federal government to match such money, will enable Mothers Assistance to be furnished to all eligible applicants therefore during the remainder of the 1935-1937 biennium.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39 which requires concurrent resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and that the Senate do now proceed to the immediate consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 40 (House Bill No. 50), on third reading, entitled:

A Supplement to the act approved the nineteenth day of July one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (Pamphlet Laws one thousand three hundred fifty-one) entitled "An act making appropriations to carry into effect the provisions of an act approved the tenth day of Jul9y one thousand and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws eight hundred ninety-three) entitled 'An act providing for assistance to certain mothers providing for the appointment of boards of trustees for the several counties of the Commonwealth and for the appointment of a State Supervisor and assistants and fixing the salaries of such State Supervisor and assistants defining the powers and duties of boards of trustees including the power of appropriating assistants and investigators and the distribution of funds at their disposal providing for the apportionment of the State appropriation among the several counties and requiring counties coming under the provisions of the act to appropriate certain moneys and providing penalties' as amended" making an appropriation for the payment of mothers' assistance to applicants in counties which do not have sufficient funds available to pay assistance to such applicants and suspending the provisions of this act in case Federal aid for dependent children shall fail for any reason be recommitted to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, this is Senate Bill No. 40 and I desire to say in respect to this bill that it is the Mothers' Assistance Bill, and the previous one was the Old Age Pension Bill. I think it is clear to all the members of the Senate that we are saving by both of these bills $350,000, because it is not necessary to pass them at this time, and I concur in all that was said by the Senator from Susquehanna, Mr. Gelder, with respect to the letter read and the comments that he made. We will be able to take care of all the Mothers' Assistance cases and all the Old Age Pension cases without passing these bills at this time.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to, and the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, sponsors of this measure would make us believe that this is a panacea for flood control in the Commonwealth. I do not wish to talk politics; I wish to talk business concerning this Bill. From Coydon to Emlenton, a distance of about one hundred miles, including the communities of Warren and Franklin, are on the banks of the Allegheny River.

First when the Allegheny River was at its flood stage Pittsburgh was not flooded, and vice-versa when the Allegheny River was not at its flood stage the flood at Pittsburgh occurred. This has been my observation as a life long resident on the banks of this Allegheny River, that the flood of Pittsburgh was not caused by the Allegheny River.

The large expenditures of public funds are unwarranted. This creates a menace to my district, and if the dam should break my entire district will be completely wiped out, not only the oil refineries and industrial producing districts, but 75 per cent of the inhabitants in my district will be drowned, property devasted and the lives of citizens exterminated.

This measure will tax the people of my district for their own extermination and property destroyed. The most fertile lands in my district at the site of the proposed dam will be inundated. Inhabitants living in this flood area will be compelled to move from their homes; railroads and hundreds of millions of dollars of expense will be required in their reallocation.

Hard surface State roads will also have to be removed and re-built, the Allegheny scenic highway at its most picturesque site from Pittsburgh to Olean will be destroyed.

Relocation of roads, streets and bridges. The Department of Highways and municipalities may enter into agreements with the board to relocate roads, streets, bridges and viaducts necessitated by the construction of any State or Federal flood control works and improvements and may agree therein to construct new roads, streets, bridges and viaducts and pay the cost of the same or any part thereof from the Motor License Fund or municipal moneys without any charge or only part of the cost charged against the moneys in the Flood Control Fund.

It is a colossal monstrosity with neither merit, prudence nor foresight.

Millions of dollars of public funds will be squandered in this unwarranted, unjust, iniquitous project proposed in this bill. I am just reiterating one phase of this bill which will embrace my own territory and I am of the opinion that in many other districts in the Commonwealth the same is adaptable.

This bill will create a Flood Control Board in Harrisburg sponsored by the Secretary of War at Washington.

The Water Resource Board will assume more centralized power at Harrisburg and Washington taking away Home Rule.

I hope you will all vote against the bill.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, as Chairman of the sub-committee to whom this bill was referred by the Committee on Judiciary General in the Senate, I wish to state to the members of the Senate that I gave notice to everyone who I learned was interested or affected in any manner by this bill, and that we gave everyone, as I say, an opportunity to remedy different defects that were in this bill. In passing I might say that I, myself, saw many defects in this bill. You are used to hearing the word vicious but I think as this bill came into the Senate it was one of the most vicious bills I ever saw and read, but by appealing to the people who seemed to manifest some interest, and we were willing and anxious to consider any recommendations they had to make, I think that it helped us all and that we have now a bill that is a good one. In view of the importance of the matter I call upon the members of this Senate to support this bill.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

HOUSE MESSAGE

SENATE BILL NO. 60 RETURNED WITH AMENDMENTS

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced returned to the Senate, Senate Bill No. 60, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to section one, article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

with the information that the House has passed same with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

The amendment was read as follows:

Amend section 1, page 2, by inserting after line 5, the following: "Income taxes and taxes measured by income shall be deemed to be excise taxes irrespective of the source from which the income is derived"

On the question,

Will the Senate concur in the amendment?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, this is the graduate income tax joint resolution, and it had to be offered at this Special Session because it is the last regular session. While a joint resolution passed both houses, the printer dropped a word out, which spoiled the sense of the joint resolution. Therefore we had to rip out and begin all over again. Then Mr. Fertig thought the original language was defective and asked us to add the amendment, which was done in the House, "That income taxes and taxes measured by income shall be deemed to be excise taxes irrespective of the source from which the income is derived." Mr. Fertig explained that the Supreme Court has never made up its mind clearly as to the difference between a property tax and an excise tax, and the addition of this language would be a help to the Supreme Court. The joint resolution passed the House 199-0 and I want to express my personal gratification because I have been very much interested in this subject since I came here.

Then I want to add a word, that it is very important measure for Allegheny County in order to continue the payrolls of those who administer relief in Allegheny County without a graduated income tax based on ability to pay, taxing the rich. I do not see how these 34 sheets, 30 names on a sheet, 1020 names to administer relief in Allegheny County, can be successfully financed. I made a calculation over the same period of time, I forget just how many weeks it was, made a comparison with my home county, which does all things so well, and administering relief in Allegheny County in that same period, with a fewer number of people on the roll was $400 in excess of the cost—

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, if he will yield to an interrogation.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I desire to ask the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, what the resolution provides for.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, the joint resolution provides for an amendment to the Constitution making constitutional graduated income inheritance tax.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, does it contain the provision exempting certain real estate?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, no it does not.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, it is just a plain graduated income tax resolution.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, quite right. While it is senseless to refer to Allegheny County, I have been reading some pages of the report of the Financial Division, and I thought—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, this has gotten to be a serious session, and I make the point of order that the Senator from Philadelphia is not talking on the question before the House.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I am perfectly willing to sit down, but I was showing the need for an income tax for Allegheny County.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I insist upon my point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair rules that the point of order is well taken. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, will confine himself to the question.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I will simply ask one question: I hope the Senator from Monroe will allow me to ask one question for information: On the payrolls there are people that are called ushers, there are 38 ushers at $90 a month each....

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I think that the Chair should call in the sheriff.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I will sit down.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate concur in the amendment?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—36

Aron,	Kahle,	Rankin,	Sones,
Bean,	Lanius,	Reed,	Staudenmeier,
Coyne,	Law,	(Dauphin)	Thompson,
Daly,	Mallery,	Reed,	(Centre)

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

BILL SIGNED

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE (Mr. John G. Homsher) announced that the Chief Clerk having reported that the following bill had passed both houses of the General Assembly and the same being correct, the title was publicly read as follows:

Senate Bill No. 60 entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to section one, article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Whereupon,

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE (Mr. John G. Homsher) in the presence of the Senate signed the same.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, recurring to the question of ushers, I can understand that in the home of our new era statesmen Messrs. Guffey, Lawrence and Jones, that we require a larger staff to administer the New Deal in their homes. There are 38 ushers at $90.00 a month each. I had an idea of following the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, in drawing a picture of the next forty or fifty years of Democratic supremacy in this State that those people from time to time put another usher on the payroll. It helps to usher in the new day of the Democratic supremacy of this State, but the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, has a splendid vocabulary, and it would be a personal favor to me if he would rise and defend this word usher. The only usher I ever heard of is Archbishop Usher, who determined that from the creation of the world to B. C. was 4,004 years, and I could not see much hope that he would be alive those 4,004 years B. C., which means Before Cavalcante.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced presented communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor of the Commonwealth, which was read as follows and referred to the Committee on Executive Nominations:

NOMINATION OF E. KENT KANE WITHDRAWN

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, August 6, 1936.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In accordance with the authority and power vested in me as Governor of the Commonwealth, I do hereby recall my nomination made to your Honorable Body under date of August 6, 1936, for the appointment of E. Kent Kane as a Notary Public in the Borough of Kane, McKean County.

GEORGE H. EARLE.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, for the purpose of the record, I desire to state that E. Kent Kane is the representative from McKean County, and that the recalling of this nomination is in no sense a reflection upon Mr. Kane, but is due to the discovery that he, being a member of the House of Representatives, is not entitled to be appointed a Notary Public under the Constitution. I desire to make that explanation in fairness to Mr. Kane.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, am I to understand that Kane is not Abel?

HOUSE MESSAGES

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO MOTHERS ASSISTANCE

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced informed the Senate that the House has concurred in Resolution from the Senate as follows:

In the Senate, August 6, 1936.

Whereas, The Federal Social Security Act requires the Mothers Assistance Law to be mandatory in all counties of the Commonwealth before Federal moneys will be available for this purpose; and

Whereas, House Bill No. 59, now in conference committee, will make the Mothers Assistance Law Mandatory on all counties if enacted; and

Whereas, At least eight counties have been heretofore and are financially unable to participate with the Commonwealth in furnishing assistance to needy mothers under the Mothers Assistance Law; and

Whereas, There are waiting lists of mothers eligible for assistance in those counties operating under the Mothers Assistance Law because of insufficient State and county funds available for this purpose; and

Whereas, It is the sense of the General Assembly that the additional funds necessary to meet the contributions required of the aforesaid eight counties and to take up the aforesaid waiting lists, should be provided for at its forthcoming regular session in 1937; and

Whereas, It will therefore be necessary for the Department of Welfare in order to extend the benefits of the Mothers Assistance Law to the aforesaid eight counties and to take up the waiting lists in the other counties, to accelerate payments from the existing appropriation for Mothers Assistance in order to match sufficient Federal moneys for this purpose with the result that such an appropriation will be exhausted by the first of April, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That it is the sense of this special session of the General Assembly, if House Bill No. 59 is enacted, that the Department of Welfare accelerate payments from its current appropriation for Mothers Assistance in order to match sufficient Federal moneys which, together with the State appropriation, will enable the department to furnish, in the manner provided by law, Mothers Assistance to all eligible applicants therefor in all counties of the Commonwealth; and

Resolved Further, That it is the sense of this General Assembly that the General Assembly, at its forthcoming regular session of 1937, appropriate sufficient money to the Department of Welfare, which, together with contributions received from the Federal government to match such money, will enable Mothers Assistance to be furnished to all eligible applicants therefor during the remainder of the 1935-1937 biennium.

OFFICERS OF STEEL CORPORATION REQUESTED TO READ SECTIONS 7 AND 8 OF NATIONAL LABOR RELATIONS ACT

He also presented extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives which was twice read as follows and referred to the Committee on Federal Relations.

In the House of Representatives, July 14, 1936.

Whereas, There has been launched a drive to unionize the steel employes of the United States; and

Whereas, Many steel employes are employed in the steel plants located within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; and

Whereas, The public of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania have an interest in the safety and well being of all its citizens including those employed in the steel industry; and

Whereas, Those in authority of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania have declared that the civil rights, liberties and freedom of the employes will be as vigorously protected as has been property interests heretofore so that there shall be no undue advantage taken by one side over in the other unionization plans; and

Whereas, Under the broad and sweeping liberties and freedom of America, it has always been regarded as elementary, that employers and employes possessed the right to form their own respective organization for their mutual and individual advantage; and

Whereas, The steel industry itself organized all the steel employers into the American Iron & Steel institute and this was done for the employer's own advantage and without interference from the employes; and

Whereas, It is equally important to the employes of the steel industry to organize themselves into their own form of unionization without interference from the employer; and

Whereas, So that no one would have any further doubt on the right of employes to unionize, the Congress of the United States in 1935 passed the "National Labor Relations Act," sometimes referred to as the "Wagner Labor Act"; therefore, be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania request the directors and officers of the American Iron and Steel Institute and the officers of the individual corporations engaged in the steel industry in Pennsylvania to read sections seven and eight of the National Labor Relations Act, Public Law No. 198, 74th Congress; and be it further

Resolved, That for the convenience of the aforesaid persons, sections seven and eight of the aforesaid act are as follows:

"Employees shall have the right to self-organization, to form, join, or assist labor organizations, to bargain collectively through representatives of their own choosing, and to engage in concerted activities, for the purpose of collective bargaining or other mutual aid or protection.

"It shall be an unfair labor practice for an employer:

(1) To interfere with, restrain, or coerce employees in the exercise of the rights guaranteed in section 157 of this title.

(2) To dominate or interfere with the formation or administration of any labor organization or contribute financial or other support to it: Provided, That subject to rules and regulations made and published by the Board pursuant to section 156 of this title, an employer shall not be prohibited from permitting employees to confer with him during working hours without loss of time or pay.

(3) By discrimination in regard to hire or tenure of employment or any term or condition of employment to encourage or discourage membership in any labor organization: Provided, That nothing in this chapter, or in sections 701 to 712 of Title 15, or in any code or agreement approved or prescribed thereunder, or in any other statute of the United States, shall preclude an employer from making an agreement with a labor organization (not established, maintained, or assisted by any action defined in this chapter as an unfair labor practice) to require as a condition of employment membership therein, if such labor organization is the representative of the employees as provided in section 159 (a) of this title, in the appropriate collective bargaining unit covered by such agreement when made.

(4) To discharge or otherwise discriminate against an employee because he has filed charges or given testimony under this chapter.

(5) To refuse to bargain collectively with the representatives of his employees, subject to the provisions of section 159 (a) of this title."

(July 5, 1935, c. 372, Secs. 7 and 8, 49 Stat. 452); and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to each of the officers of the American Iron & Steel Institute and to the president of each of the following corporations exercising the privilege of doing business in Pennsylvania:

Mr. ZIESENHEIM, offered the following resolution which was twice read:

In the Senate, August 6, 1936.

Whereas, For several weeks while this Senate has been earnestly struggling with the problem of unemployment relief and devising ways and means to raise by taxation public funds to pay relief assistance, organized and unrestrained demonstrations have occurred continuously in the galleries during sessions of the Senate, to the serious delay of public business; and

Whereas, Such demonstrations have not aided the cause of those unfortunate and worthy citizens who are the victims of economic forces beyond their control, who have actually been unable to secure work, and who are entitled to public assistance; and

Whereas, The persons responsible for these demonstrations have caused serious damage to the galleries of the Senate and the property of the Commonwealth, which must be repaired at the expense of the taxpayers, who, at the same time, are maintaining those responsible for this damage; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate shall issue his requisition to the Department of Property and Supplies, after the adjournment of this session of the General Assembly, to have the galleries of the Senate Chamber repaired;

Resolved, That the Secretary of Property and Supplies shall transmit to the Senate at the Regular Session of 1937 a statement showing the cost to the taxpayers of the Commonwealth for the repair of said galleries;

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the Secretary of Property and Supplies by the Chief Clerk of the Senate.

Mr. ZIESENHEIM. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39 which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the Unemployment Insurance Bill in Pennsylvania is killed. I feel compelled to place on record the fact as to how its death was brought about and the consequences flowing therefrom. The amendments offered by the Republican majority to House Bill No. 55, Senate Bill No. 41, the Unemployment Insurance Bill, created the two following major difficulties:

1. Under the bill as passed by the House, administration of the Unemployment Insurance Act was placed under the control of the Department of Labor and provided for an impartial Board of Review consisting of three members, one of these members representing Labor, one representing Industry and one the Public. The Board was to be appointed by the Governor with the advice and consent of the Senate.

2. The benefits provided for under the Act were to be distributed by the Unemployment Service Bureau in the Department of Labor and Industry. Under the amendments introduced by the Republican majority of the Senate the following was provided:

(a) The administration of Unemployment Insurance was placed in the hands of a Board of five members appointed as follows:

One by the Governor with the advice and consent of the Senate. One by the President Pro Tem of the Senate, one by the Speaker of the House, one by the Auditor General and one by the State Treasurer.

(b) The Employment Service Bureau of the Department of Labor is ripped out of that Department by the Republican Majority Amendment and transferred to a place under the jurisdiction of the five members of the above Unemployment Insurance Board created by the Republican Majority Amendment. No provision is made by the Republican Majority Amendments to set up an impartial Board with equal representation for Labor, for Industry and for the public. When this Bill was presented to the Conference Committee its only purpose was to attempt to iron out the difficulties. The Committee consisted of Senators Coyne, Chapman and myself, and Representatives Moomaw, Dent and Wickersham, and was therefore made up of three Democrats and three Republicans. After several conferences the following compromise was suggested by the Democratic conferees:

1. That the plan of administration suggested by the Democratic House as well as the plan suggested by the Republican majority in the Senate be abandoned and an impartial board be set up consisting of three members to be appointed by the Governor by and with the consent and approval of the Senate. The appointed Board to represent respectively Labor, Industry and the Public. That all employes of the Board be appointed on the merit system; that the appointment of the members of the Commission be made by the Governor before the Bill is passed by the Senate at an informal conference to be held with the Governor and Committee of the Republican majority of the Senate. The Republican majority to be given the right to nominate one member of the Board for a six year term. The Republican conferees refused to accept this compromise and this gives full credence to the claim that the Republican majority is and always has been opposed to the adoption of Unemployment Insurance. The attitude of the Republican members of that Committee and the persistence of the Republican conferees in supporting a plan which is violation of all precedent to the State and contrary to the plans so far adopted by those states which have passed unemployment insurance laws, is proof positive of the fact that the Republican majority never intended to approve an Unemployment Insurance Bill and were merely looking for an excuse to avoid such approval.

Since the adoption of the Constitution in 1874 the Governor of the Commonwealth has always appointed administrative bodies. The Administrative Code of 1929 provides for this method and for the past 40 years, as long as Republican Governors occupied the chair, that procedure was followed.

At the public hearing on this bill several hours were devoted to arguments on the constitutionality of the Federal Social Security Act, and a lawyer who resented the fact that outsiders were telling his State what laws to pass, nevertheless came here to tell us what laws not to pass. A representative of industry made the same argument and publicly stated that they preferred to have the workers of Pennsylvania lose $22,000,000 of taxes which would otherwise go to the Federal government, than to pass this legislation which he called questionable.

The appointment of the members of the Board by the fiscal officers of the State was unheard of in Pennsylvania or elsewhere until last year when it was first introduced into the so-called Authority Bill which was declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania. In view of the fact that under the Republican Majority Amendment on this subject, the term of office of the Board was coextensive wth the term of office of the appointers. Two members of the Board appointed, except the member appointed by the Governor, would be obliged to retire from office before December 1, 1936 and the term of two others would expire on the first Monday of May, 1937. That is because the terms of the President pro tem and the Speaker of House expire December 1st, 1936 and the present Auditor General and State Treasurer will retire from office on the first Monday in May, 1937. It follows that the activities of practically the whole Board would end before they even began. In the month of December and until the new Legislature acted there would be two vacancies on the Board.

The Employment Service Bureau of the Department of Labor and Industry was created 15 years ago by Republicans. It has been an active agency, performing the service of placing unemploye in various industries and operating through thirteen offices throughout the State of Pennsylvania. Approximately 350,000 persons were placed in private industry through this service last year, and in addition thereto it operates as a transfer agency transferring persons on relief to the WPA projects. For this service last year it received from the Federal Government over $900,000 and under a contract with the Federal Government will receive this year $450,000 and approximately as equal amount for next year. It was this service that the Republican Majority Amendment proposed to rip out of the Department of Labor and Industry with the consequent loss not only of its important activities which it could not exercise under the Unemployment Compensation Act but the large sums of money which it is receiving and would receive from the Federal Government. It should be noted that there could be no substantial objection to defer the ripping out of this service for a period of two years, because under the terms of the Unemployment Insurance Act there would be no active duties for the employment agency until two years after the date of the passage of the Act. The employment Agency is the body which under the Unemployment Insurance Act would distribute benefits to employes, and no benefits are distributable to employes under the law until two years after its adoption. The refusal of the Republican conferees to recede from their position in view of these facts which cannot be controverted is arbitrary, and, of course, is consistent with the plan to block unemployment insurance. No fair minded body believing in Unemployment Insurance could come to any other conclusion, but I am forced to the conclusion, as I have already said, that the Republican majority does not believe in and does not want unemployment insurance. What other conclusion could one reach when one conferee appointed by the Republican majority voted against the unemployment insurance in the Senate? I say this with all due respect to Senator Chapman, but I argue what compromise on procedure can be suggested to a man who does not believe in the principle. I say this further because the appointment of one of the members of the Board by the Republican majority amendment is given to the President pro tem for whom I have the highest regard and whose opinion I respect, but who too voted against Unemployment Insurance and does not believe in principle. And the votes of both of these gentlemen against the bill were not only against the bill as prepared by the Democratic House, but as amended by the Republican majority in the Senate. The result of all this is first that the workers in Pennsylvania will lose the benefits to be derived from approximately $22,000,000 which will nevertheless be paid by industry in Pennsylvania and transmitted to Washington.

Secondly, it deprives Pennsylvania of the buying power represented by the value of that fund. It postpones for a further additional year benefits to Pennsylvania workers under an Act because, as I have already pointed out, the benefits are not payable until two years after.

Fifteen States have already adopted Unemployment Insurance. The administration of the Acts in those states is either under he Department of Labor and Industry or under a commission whose members are appointed by the Governor. No state has ever suggested apointment of the members by fiscal officers. I want to say as emphatically as I can and without any desire to engage in personalities, that the responsibility for the death of this Act, the loss to Pennsylvania citizens, workers and industry is chargeable to the Republican majority. The facts which I have presented here warrant me in reaching this conclusion and in making this charge.

Unemployment Insurance is just as important as Old Age Pensions and Mothers' Assistance. Progressive States, such as Wisconsin and New York adopted Unemployment Insurance as a State program before Federal intervention. While I did not work or vote for the Governor of Pennsylvania, in fairness it must be admitted that the majority of the people voted for him and he was elected upon a platform which promised progressive social legislation. Approximately 1,500,000 people in Pennsylvania voted for this progressive program and less than 30 Republican Senators have been able to thwart the will of the majority of the people. I wonder if the people will permit this to go unchallenged or unpunished?

The SPEAKER (Roy E. Furman) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Reverend O. F. R. TREDER, pastor of St. James Episcopal Church, Bedford, Pa., offered the following prayer.

All praise and glory and thanksgiving, more than we can utter, be unto Thee O God; worthy art Thou, O God, to receive the glory and the honor and power, for Thou didst create all things, and because of Thy will they are and were created. We pray Thee that Thou wilt so reveal Thyself in us, that through us men may be drawn to the love of Thee; that Thou wilt pour Thy spirit more and more into the life of men; giving us clean laughter and good sportsmanship, kindness, generosity, and gentleness, honor courtesy, and self control; that Thou wilt reveal Thyself in fellowship; that a world which rests on competition, may learn from Thee the nature of the Father, and by the power of Thy spirit live in love according to His will. Set free, O Lord, the souls of Thy servants from all restlessness and anxiety; give us that peace and power which flow from Thee; and keep us in all perplexities and distresses, in all griefs and grievenances, from any fear or faithlessness; teach us, good Lord to serve Thee as Thou deservest; to give and not to count the cost; to fight and not to heed the wounds; to toil and not to seek the rest; to labor and not to ask reward, save that knowing that we do Thy will.

And may the grace of courage, gaiety and the quiet mind, be ours. In the closing hours of this session of General Assembly we pray Thee to pardon whatever Thou hast seen amiss in us; and to strengthen and prosper that which has seemed good and salutary in Thy sight, for in Thy Name we have met and in Thy Name we have toiled. God, bless us all, now and ever. Amen

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to file the preliminary report of the Joint Legislative Committee appointed pursuant to House Resolution No. 110, Session of 1935, to investigate public relief in Pennsylvania.

The SPEAKER. The report will be noted in the Journal and printed in the Appendix to the Legislative Journal.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

There will be a meeting of the Committee on Constitutional Amendments immediately in Room 325.

There will be a meeting of the Committee on Judiciary General immediately in Room 321.

There will be a Democratic caucus immediately in the House caucus room.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of information.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, as I understand it, there has been a Democratic House caucus called and two committee meetings immediately upon recess. As one of these committee meetings happen to be Judiciary General and there are a number of Democrats on that committee—at least there were at the last count—it seems to me that the rest of us might be sitting here, waiting for the next two hours while the Democratic caucus is going on if they try to hold the committee meeting at the same time as caucus. Might we not, therefore, have some statement of the schedule so that we may know what the plans are and conserve our time accordingly?

The SPEAKER. The Chair requests the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, to answer the question of information raised by the gentleman from Delaware.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, for the information of the members and in response to the inquiry of the gentleman from Delaware, I wish to say that the Democratic members of the Committee on Judiciary General will attend that meeting irrespective of the Democratic caucus.

RECESS

The SPEAKER. If there are no objections the Chair is about to declare recess during the meeting of the Committees. Are there objections? The Chair hears none and declares a recess during the meeting of the committees.

AFTER RECESS

The SPEAKER (Roy E. Furman) in the Chair.

The time of recess having expired the House was called to order.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

The SPEAKER asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. WESTRICK on account of illness in the family.

Mr. Boyer asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. STEWART.

SENATE MESSAGE

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, August 4, 1936.

Whereas, there are at present waiting lists of approximately 55,000 residents of the Commonwealth entitled to Old Age Assistance; and

Whereas, the Commonwealh would have to expend the additional sum of $1,750,000 called for by House Bill No. 54 in order to procure sufficient Federal money which, together with the aforesaid sum of $1,750,000 would be sufficient to furnish Old Age Assistance to those persons on said waiting lists during the remainder of the current biennium; and

Whereas, it is the sense of this General Assembly that this additional sum called for by House Bill Number fifty-four should be provided for by the General Assembly at its forthcoming regular session in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven and

Whereas, it will, therefore, be necessary for the Department of Welfare, in order to take up such waiting lists at the present time, to accelerate payments from the existing appropriation for Old Age Assistance with the result that such appropriation will be exhausted by the first of April, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven:

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur), That it is the sense of this Special Session of the General Assembly that the Department of Welfare accelerate payments from its current appropriation for Old Age Assistance in order to match sufficient Federal moneys which, together with the State appropriation, will enable the department to furnish in the manner provided by law, Old Age Assistance to all eligible applicants therefor, including those who are now on the waiting lists in the various counties because of insufficient State funds; and

Resolved further, That it is the sense of this General Assembly that the General Assembly at its forth-coming regular session in 1937 appropriate at least $1,750,000 to the Department of Welfare which, together with contributions received from the Federal Government to match this sum, will enable Old Age Assistance to be furnished to all eligible applicants therefor during the remainder of the 1935-1937 biennium.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

SENATE MESSAGE

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, August 6, 1936.

Whereas, the Federal Social Security Act requires the Mothers Assistance Law to be mandatory in all counties of the Commonwealth before Federal moneys will be available for this purpose; and

Whereas, House Bill No. 59, now in conference committee, will make the Mothers Assistance Law mandatory on all counties if enacted; and

Whereas, at least eight counties have been heretofore and are financially unable to participate with the Commonwealth in furnishing assistance to needy mothers under the Mothers Assistance Law; and

Whereas, there are waiting lists of mothers eligible for assistance in those counties operating under the Mothers Assistance Law because of insufficient State and county funds available for this purpose; and

Whereas, it is the sense of the General Assembly that the additional funds necessary to meet the contributions required of the aforesaid eight counties and to take up the aforesaid waiting lists, should be provided for at its forthcoming regular session in 1937; and

Whereas, it will therefore be necessary for the Department of Welfare in order to extend the benefits of the Mothers Assistance Law to the aforesaid eight counties and to take up the waiting lists in the other counties, to accelerate payments from the existing appropriation for Mothers Assistance in order to match sufficient Federal moneys for this purpose with the result that such an appropriation will be exhausted by the first of April, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven.

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur) that it is the sense of this special session of the General Assembly if House Bill No. 59 is enacted, that the Department of Welfare accelerate payments from its current appropriation for Mothers Assistance in order to match sufficient Federal moneys which, together with the State appropriation, will enable the department to furnish, in the manner provided by law, Mothers Assistance to all eligible applicants therefor in all counties of the Commonwealth; and

Resolved Further, that it is the sense of this General Assembly that the General Assembly, at its forthcoming regular session of 1937, appropriate sufficient money to the Department of Welfare which, together with contributions received from the Federal government to match such money, will enable Mothers Assistance to be furnished to all eligible applicants therefor during the remainder of the 1936-37 biennium.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented for concurrence bill numbered and entitled as follows:

SENATE BILL No. 119. (HOUSE BILL No. 173.)

An Act relieving real and personal property of recipients of mothers' and old age assistance from liability for assistance received.

Referred to the Committee on Judiciary General.

RESOLUTION NO. 44

Mr. PFAFF. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 44, Printer's No. 234.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, July 13, 1936.

Whereas, There has been launched a drive to unionize the steel employes of the United States; and

Whereas, Many steel employes are employed in the steel plants located within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; and

Whereas, The public of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania have an interest in the safety and well being of all of its citizens including those employed in the steel industry; and

Whereas, Those in authority of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania have declared that the civil rights, liberties and freedom of the employes will be as vigorously protected as has been property interests heretofore so that there shall be no undue advantages taken by one side over the other in the unionization plans; and

Whereas, Under the broad and sweeping liberties and freedom of America, it has always been regarded as elementary, that employers and employes possessed the right to form their own respective organization for their mutual and individual advantage; and

Whereas, The steel industry itself organized all the steel employers into the American Iron and Steel Institute and this was done for the employer's own advantage and without interference from the employes; and

Whereas, it is equally important to the employes of the steel industry to organize themselves into their own form of unionization without interference from the employers; and

Whereas, So that no one would have any further doubts on the right of employes to unionize, the Congress of the United States in 1935 passed the "National Labor Relations Act", sometimes referred to as the "Wagner Labor Act"; therefore, be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania request the directors and officers of the American Iron and Steel Institute and the officers of the individual corporations engaged in the steel industry in Pennsylvania to read sections seven and eight of the National Labor Relations Act, Public Law No. 198, 74th Congress; and, be it further

Resolved, That for the convenience of the aforesaid persons, sections seven and eight of the aforesaid act are as follows:

"Employes shall have the right to self-organization, to form, join, or assist labor organizations, to bargain collectively through representatives of their own choosing, and to engage in concerted activities, for the purpose of collective bargaining or other mutual aid or protection.

"It shall be an unfair labor practice for an employer—

(1) To interfere with, restrain, or coerce employes in the exercise of the rights guaranteed in section 157 of this title.

(2) To dominate or interfere with the formation or administration of any labor organization or contribute financial or other support to it: Provided, That subject to rules and regulations made and published by the Board pursuant to section 156 of this title, an employer shall not be prohibited from permitting employes to confer with him during working hours without loss of time or pay.

(3) By discrimination in regard to hire or tenure of employment or any term or condition of employment to encourage or discourage membership in any labor organization: Provided, That nothing in this chapter, or in sections 701 to 712 of Title 15, or in any code or agreement approved or prescribed thereunder, or in any other statute of the United States, shall preclude an employer from making an agreement with a labor organization (not established, maintained, or assisted by any action defined in this chapter as an unfair labor practice) to require as a condition of employment membership therein, if such labor organization is the representative of the employes as provided in section 159 (a) of this title, in the appropriate collective bargaining unit covered by such agreement when made.

(4) To discharge or otherwise discriminate against an employe because he has filed charges or given testimony under this chapter.

(5) To refuse to bargain collectively with the representatives of his employes, subject to the provisions of section 159 (a) of this title."

(July 5, 1935, c. 372, Secs. 7 and 8, 49 Stat. 452.); and, be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to each of the officers of the American Iron and Steel Institute and to the president of each of the following corporations exercising the privilege of doing business in Pennsylvania: Jones and Laughlin Steel Co., Pittsburgh, Pa.; Carnegie Steel Co., Pittsburgh, Pa.; Republic Steel Co., Pittsburgh Pa.; Bethlehem Steel Co., Bethlehem, Pa.; Crucible Steel Co. of America, 405 Lexington Ave., New York City; Pressed Steel Car Co., Pittsburgh, Pa.; McClintic Marshall Corp., Bethlehem, Pa.; Allegheny Steel Co., Pittsburgh Pa.; National Tube Co., Pittsburgh, Pa.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. SCANLON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Fitch.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FITCH. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. SCANLON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia what is the intent of this resolution.

Mr. FITCH. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this resolution is plainly written. It is for the sole purpose of trying to better the conditions of the people of Pennsylvania—nothing else.

There have been many changes and events since this resolution was written and controversies have arisen which are familiar to every member of this House. This is probably the first time in the history of this House that such a resolution has been introduced. As I say, it is for the sole purpose of bettering the conditions of the people of Pennsylvania, and it is also for the purpose of ascertaining whether we will concur in a law that is already on the statute books of this country.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. FITCH and Mr. PFAFF and were as follows:

So the question was determined in the affirmative and the resolution was adopted.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON JUDICIARY GENERAL ON IMPEACHMENT OF JUDGE B. C. ATLEE

Mr. CAPUTO. Mr. Speaker, I wish to file the report of the Committee on Judiciary General on the impeachment of Judge B. C. Atlee, and ask that it be made a part of the record.

The SPEAKER. The report will be noted in the Journal and printed in the Appendix to the Legislative Journal.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, in an instance of this kind may a member from the floor of the House object to the filing of the report in the Legislative Journal?

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes to advise that a member may not object to the filing of a report. It is the constitutional duty of the Speaker to see that the report is filed.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a further question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, is it lawful for a Committee sent out to find whether articles of impeachment should or should not be drawn to say in the report that they have the right to censure anybody?

The SPEAKER. In answer to the parliamentary inquiry of the gentleman from Allegheny: the statements in the report are only the findings of the Committee and not part of the action of the House.

STATEMENT BY MR. HOMER S. BROWN

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am sure you appreciate the feeling that I have in this matter. The feeling is deeper than I can express. I have been associated with the members of the House during the past fourteen weeks and, prior thereto, in the regular session, and I want to conscientiously say that anything I state in my remarks is only stated because I feel that right at this turning point, with the adjournment of the Legislature, the challenge of constituted law and order is at stake.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the report of this committee is one of the most deliberate pieces of infamy and whitewash that I have ever heard of anywhere in this nation. May I just for a brief minute call to your attention certain facts? One fact in particular, and I will not rehearse and take the time of the House to state all that the Judge did say,—it is well known to all of us,—but Judge did say if the citizens had lynched this man they would have been justified. There is one principle of law so ingrounded in the fundamental law of this nation that when this principle is removed the last bulwark of protection for the citizens of this nation has been removed. That principle of law goes back to 1215, when the Barons wrung from King John that great provision of the Magna Charta that no freeman could be penalized without being called into judgment by his peers or by the law of the land. Then, five hundred years after that, we see in the Declaration of Independence and addressed to the world by those who struggled to form this country one of the cardinal provisions in that great document, "He hath denied to us in many instances trial by jury."

Then, we see in the Constitution of the United States, in the fifth article of the Tenth Amendment that "No person shall be deprived of life, liberty or property without due process of law." Then following that, after the Dred Scott decision, we see enacted and reenacted, reconsidered and reassured in the Fourteenth Amendment that "No person shall be deprived of life, liberty or property without due process of law." Then we see it reenacted in our State Constitution in two distinct provisions. In one provision it says "Trial by jury shall be as heretofore." In another provision it goes on to use substantially the same language that was used in the Constitution of the United States, in the Declaration of Independence, in Magna Charta, and as far back as the history of the common law goes.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, what else do we find in the Constitution of Pennsylvania? We find in the Constitution of Pennsylvania, in Article VII, probably the most sacred oath that a man can take, and this oath was taken by this Judge: "I do solemnly swear or affirm that I will support, obey and defend the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of Pennsylvania." Now, the committee finds, and I would not make this contention if the committee had not found that the Judge had made these statements in their entirety, and no member of this House will contend that when a Judge appeals to mob violence that such statements are not absolutely in contradiction of the provisions of the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of Pennsylvania.

Mob violence and lynching have been the scourge, have been the blackest spot on the pages of this nation's history. Since 1889 over 3,200 persons have been lynched and burned at the stake. It has become the great American pastime. Let me just tell you of one or two instances that have occurred in Pennsylvania,—in Coatesville perhaps fifteen or twenty minutes from the Judicial bench that this Judge graces—they had one of the most disgraceful lynchings that has happened in this country. We have had lynchings so disgraceful, so barbaric that the newspapers would not print the details of these orgies. We have had women hanged to trees. One woman in particular, in an instance of which I have knowledge, a Negro woman, pregnant with child, who simply dared to protect her brother from the mob, was carried out and shot and hanged from a tree. Then, as she hung there, one of the mob with a knife ran forward and split open her abdomen and the yet unborn babe fell to the ground, and the mob rushed forward and stamped it to death.

Mr. Speaker, it is hard for me to conceive that right within the shadow of the grave of Thaddeus Stevens that this Judge, this demagogue should rise up and make these statements, and then to have this Legislature say to him, "While you have committed a crime, you are forgiven. Go back home, and if you want to, do it again."

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I speak not only for myself. Look at the contrast. Only the day before yesterday in Alabama where Scottsboro has become an international issue a Judge there said in Court, when a mob wanted to take the prisoner, "If you take him, you will only take him over my dead body. I am here to enforce the law," whereas the Judge in Pennsylvania said "The citizens ought to lynch you, and I say that recognizing the fact that I am here to administer the law."

I don't know how you feel about it and I don't know what you are going to do about it, but let me warn you Mr. Speaker and members of the House, that the greatest menace to constituted authority and to law and order and to the Constitution of the United States is the demagogue within our ranks and not from without. Some day the mask of hypocrisy will be removed. I am appealing to you here alone, I recognize that. I have no parties to help me. I recognize that. But I say that the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of Pennsylvania were founded before any parties were founded, and some day the parties will have to come back to them.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in extending my remarks, in pleading with you, if need be, in the interest of upholding justice and equality before the law, the law for which we have struggled and for which we have died, I say that this report ought to be stricken from the record.

I should like to extend my remarks by filing as a part of my remarks the majority report of the sub-committee that was sent out and worked and labored and made a report which was rejected by the Committee on Judiciary General.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman will be noted in the Journal and the report extended as part of his remarks in the Appendix to the Legislative Journal.

STATEMENT BY MR. SHEPARD

Mr. SHEPARD asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, as co-sponsor of this impeachment resolution, I want to add my protest to that of Representative Brown to the filing of this report and I most vigorously protest this whitewash that the committee has given this Judge, who has made such a dastardly attack upon the laws of this Commonwealth.

I think we should have done one of two things. We should either have had impeachment proceedings voted in this House or we should have folded our hands and said "We don't care anything about the law," and simply have gone on and done nothing about it. It seems to me that to compromise in the face of such a clear cut issue as this is a reflection upon the sense of justice and fair play that we care for so much—that is, when we talk about it. I must vigorously protest the filing of this report.

MOTION TO STRIKE FROM RECORD

Mr. SHEPARD. Mr. Speaker, I move that the report be stricken from the record, and I ask for a roll call.

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. TROUT. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. TROUT. Mr. Speaker, my point of order is that a report of a committee cannot be stricken from the record.

The SPEAKER. In answering the point of order raised by the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Trout, on the motion made by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Shepard, to strike the report of the Committee on Judiciary General from the record, the Chair rules that a motion to strike out is the same as a motion to expunge from the record.

The Constitution, Article II, Section 10, requires each House to keep a Journal of its proceedings. The proceedings of this House are never expunged unless something improper has been said or something improper has been entered.

This matter was submitted to the Committee on Judiciary General, which Committee has performed its duty and made a report. This report is proper and is now a part of the record.

The Chair is of the opinion that the motion is out of order and so rules.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, under the provisions of the Constitution saying that the House shall keep a record of its proceedings, is not the House the authority as to what its proceedings are, and if the House feels that certain matters are not proceedings under the Constitution, cannot those matters be stricken from the record?

The SPEAKER. The parliamentary inquiry raised by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Brown, has been ruled upon in the decision on the point of order raised by the gentleman from Lancaster. This is not an action on the part of the House but is an action on the part of the committee in making a report to the House.

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I did not understand the decision. I heard what the Speaker said, but my inquiry was: Cannot the House determine what its proceedings shall or shall not be, with the exception of legislation that is before it? That is provided for specifically under the Constitution. Cannot the House be more specific in matters other than matters provided for in the Constitution, such as bills, and be the sole judge of its own proceedings?

The SPEAKER. In reply to the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Brown, the Chair wishes to state that the House can determine its own proceedings, but it must do so in accordance with the Constitution and the rules of the House.

The Chair has ruled on the point of order that the filing of this report is a part of the proceedings of this House and must necessarily go into the record.

MOTION TO ADOPT MAJORITY REPORT OF SUB-COMMITTEE

Mr. SHEPARD. Mr. Speaker, I move that the majority report of the sub-committee of the Judiciary General Committee, as submitted by Mr. Brown, be adopted by this House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, the report of the Committee on Judiciary General has been filed. There can be no other report of that committee filed at this time—there is no other.

The SPEAKER. In reply to the point of order raised by the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, that the report filed by the Committee on Judiciary General is the only report before this House, the point of order is well taken. There is no other report before the House. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Brown, did submit, as a part of his remarks, a report which he designated as a majority report, but the only official report is the report submitted by the Committee on Judiciary General, and the alleged majority report is not signed.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, is it necessary to obtain permission of the House in order to file a report?

The SPEAKER. In reply to the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, the Chair feels that the question is too broad to rule upon. It would depend on many things: the authority back of filing a report and the questions upon which a report is filed.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, in order that the question may not be so broad, I would ask was it necessary for the committee on whose behalf the gentleman from Beaver reported to first obtain permission of the House to file a report before the report could be filed?

The SPEAKER. The Chair states that it was not necessary to get the permission of the House. It was their duty to file a report on this particular question.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, was not the House the judge as to whether that report should be received at some particular time, or was the committee the sole arbiter of the proceedings of the House? If the committee was not the sole arbiter and the House was the sole arbiter, then the House could say when, at what time, and in what manner that report should be received.

The SPEAKER. In reply to the gentleman from Cambria, the Chair wishes to state that the House does have the right to instruct committees on filing their reports, but in this instance no instructions were given to the committee by the House.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Berks, Mr. Hoopes, will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, by what procedure can those members of the House who are dissatisfied with this report and do not wish it to appear as the action of the House, obtain action of the House upon this question.

The SPEAKER. Replying to the parliamentary inquiry raised by the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Hoopes, the House has taken no action except to receive and file this report. If the House is not satisfied with these proceedings, they can entertain a new motion or a new resolution in the matter.

MOTION TO REJECT REPORT

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House do not adopt the report of the Judiciary General Committee as its action in this matter.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman's motion is too late. The report has been accepted and filed in the record of the House. The motion is out of order.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I asked that the Speaker tell me by what method those members who want to have the House take further action on this matter can do so?

The SPEAKER. The Chair has answered that question by stating that a new resolution can be presented.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, is no motion of any kind upon this question in order at the present time?

The SPEAKER. There is nothing in order except the introduction of new proceedings.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a further question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, did I understand the Speaker to rule that the only way that we can take action is by the introduction of a resolution? Isn't a motion in order at any time?

The SPEAKER. In reply to the parliamentary inquiry raised by the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Hoopes, the Chair has already ruled that the report of the committee has been accepted and filed by the House. If the gentleman from Berks wishes to institute new proceedings, it must be by resolution or by a petition in writing.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, if I remember correctly, the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Brown, immediately upon the presentation of this report and before it was accepted, arose and asked what action could be taken. If I remember correctly, he was told that there was no action to be taken by the House, and now I understand in answer to my inquiry, when I made the motion a moment ago, I am informed it is too late. It would appear to me that there is never any time in the receiving of this report that a member of this House could get in any motion. Is that the Chair's ruling on this point.

The SPEAKER. In reply to the gentleman from Berks, the report of the Committee was accepted and filed before any member of the House asked for recognition. The Chair is of the opinion that the gentleman from Allegheny asked the permission of the House to make a statement, which was granted.

STATEMENT BY MR. JACKSON

Mr. JACKSON asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I do not wish to take up any more of your time, but I do feel that I would be remiss should I not say a few words in this matter, adding to what my colleague, Mr. Brown, said a few moments ago about the impeachment of Judge Atlee.

I want to say this: I did not sign a petition, but I agree with every word that he has said. Such action by the Committee of this House would tend to result in a breakdown of our government. This judge should be impeached; there should be no compromise with justice. The disgrace of lynching should be blotted out in this country. I disagree that this House, after having received such evidence as has been brought before it as a jury, should give a whitewash in a case like this, and I want to endorse the statements made by my colleagues, Mr. Brown and Mr. Shepard.

STATEMENT BY MR. COOPER

Mr. COOPER asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I arise for the purpose of adding my contribution to what has already been said in the remarks made by Mr. Shepard, and my other colleagues. I feel that Judge Atlee, in making the statement that has been attributed to him, and which, I understand, he has not denied, has transcended all the properties of judicial procedure, and has gone further than any other judge I ever read about or heard of North of the Mason-Dixon line. I cannot understand how a man learned in the law and living in Pennsylvania, the home of Thaddeus Stevens and Ben Franklin, and the home of the Constitution and the Declaration of Independence, can so forget himself as to make such remarks that a man ought to be lynched. While he glossed it over and said it was due to the heinousness of the crime, nevertheless he was seemingly catering to mob violence, and he did not know when the mob would be running through the streets of Columbia lynching some negro. I think he went too far afield; I think he should be censured, and I think that no Judge in the United States should make any such remarks concerning my race, which gets swift enough judgment as it is, and God knows it cannot live with mob violence.

RECESS

Mr. WICKERSHAM. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House now take a recess.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The SPEAKER (Roy E. Furman) in the Chair.

The time of the recess having expired the House was called to order.

REPORT OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEE ON HOUSE BILL No. 156

Mr. BROWNFIELD. Mr. Speaker, I desire to submit the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 156.

The SPEAKER. The report will lie over for printing.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I was laboring under the impression that the concurrence of the Senate on House Bill No. 69 had been assured by the leaders in the Senate. The Clerk of the Senate being introduced returned resolution from the House of Representatives as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 22, 1936.

Whereas, The cost of transportation of pupils to the school districts in Philadelphia County is a matter of grave concern to its citizens, and it is believed that it is far greater than the circumstances require, therefore be it

The SPEAKER. The report will be noted in the Journal and printed in the Appendix to the Legislative Journal.

RESOLUTION No. 59

Mr. REISING. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 59, Printer's No. 243.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, August 4, 1936.

Whereas There have been various reports indicating that certain industries in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania are resorting to coercion and intimidation by requiring their employes to register in and vote for the candidates of a certain political party and

Whereas Such intimidation and coercion is repugnant to the free exercise of the right of franchise and totally unAmerican in principle therefore be it

Resolved That the Speaker of the House of Representatives shall appoint a legislative committee composed of five members of the House of Representatives whose duty it shall be to make a thorough impartial and searching investigation to ascertain whether any industry in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is resorting to political coercion and intimidation and requiring its employes to register in and vote for the candidates of a particular political party in return for the security of their employment

Resolved That the said committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before them and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee and to produce such books papers records and documents as the committee may deem necessary Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of the courts of this Commonwealth Each member of said committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the committee

Resolved That said Committee shall make a report to the House of Representatives as early as possible at this or the next Session of the General Assembly

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Beaver, Mr. Reising.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Beaver permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. REISING. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman from Beaver if he believes that the words "whether any industry of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is resorting to political coercion and intimidation" will cover the WPA?

Mr. REISING. I do, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SOWERS. Thank you. Does the gentleman from Beaver, Mr. Reising, further believe that the committee so appointed, if this resolution should be adopted, would be able to investigate the WPA without a court injunction restraining it?

Mr. REISING. Mr. Speaker, so far as it may be a State proposition, I will say yes. As far as it being a Federal proposition, I will say no.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

The SPEAKER declared the ayes appear to have it. Whereupon, a division was called for and one hundred and nine members, or more than a majority, having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative, and the resolution was adopted.

RESOLUTION No. 53

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 53, Printer's No. 235.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, July 27, 1936.

Whereas, There are sinister forces which have been active during the special session of the Legislature to force upon the people of Pennsylvania a tax program for unemployment relief purposes to fall heaviest upon those least able to pay; and

Whereas, These forces obtained amendment [in the Senate] of certain tax measures submitted at the present special session of the Legislature which, in their original form, were designed to impose taxes upon those best able to pay and which, in their amended form, bear too heavily upon those least able to pay; and

Whereas, It is a settled principle that to be equitable, a government must assess taxes upon the basis of ability to pay; and

Whereas, It will be necessary at the convening of the next regular session of the General Assembly for measures to be introduced to raise moneys for unemployment relief purposes; and

Whereas, Methods and means must be devised and safeguards obtained to avoid further imposition of taxes upon the small real estate owner, the farmer, the tenant and small business men; and

Whereas, It is evident that special interests who wish to escape their fair share of community responsibility will attempt to crack the whip as they so evidently have done during this special session of the Legislature; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Speaker of the House of Representatives, the body of the General Assembly which is charged by the Constitution of the Commonwealth with the duty of originating tax measures, appoint a committee of five members who shall investigate the ways, means and methods of evolving a tax program which will place the burden upon those best able to pay and who shall further investigate the means, methods and devices that were employed during this special session by the opponents of a program of taxation based upon ability to pay in order to shift the burden upon those least able to bear it, and further investigate and report to the next regular session of the General Assembly a tax program designed to fulfill the above general purposes; and be it

Resolved, That the said Committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its Chairman, requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before it and to answer any question touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the committee may deem necessary. Provided, That the committee shall not have the power to subpoena any Federal official or any records of the government of the United States. Such subpoenas may, except as herein otherwise provided, be served upon any person and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of the Courts of this Commonwealth. Each member of said committee shall have the power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the committee. Any person who shall wilfully refuse or neglect to testify before such committee and to produce any papers, books or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases; and be it further

Resolved, That in the event that the power hereby conferred upon the said committee to subpoena witnesses and enforce its subpoenas during the recess of the House shall be held by any Court to be unconstitutional, the said committee shall nevertheless continue its work and take the testimony of such persons as shall voluntarily appear before it.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I regret exceedingly that on the resolution that has just passed, Resolution No. 59, I was not present, because I understood that the proceedings were going to be delayed until I got back. However, that is immaterial. Resolution No. 53 that I just heard read contains a whereas clause dealing with the question about the levying of taxes upon those least able to pay. I want to say very frankly that that resolution is false and absolutely contrary to the facts.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Sarraf, will state his point of order.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is talking about a different resolution entirely.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken. The gentleman will confine his remarks to the resolution before the House.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the inability of the gentleman from Allegheny, Doctor Sarraf, to understand any argument is quite understandable by me.

On this Resolution No. 53, Mr. Speaker, although I may appear to be in levity, I am serious, believe or not, I want to point out to this House that the taxes imposed by this Assembly and by the Republican Senate or the Senate as a whole, have been upon the industrial companies of Pennsylvania. We did not tax those least able to pay, and your attempt imputes to the Senate of Pennsylvania the fact that they imposed taxes upon the masses of the people is absolutely incorrect.

What taxes did we pass? We passed the corporate net income tax, and we passed it at ten percent to provide eleven million dollars for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. We passed the three mill personal property tax to provide eighteen million dollars upon people who hold securities. We passed the corporate loan tax of three million dollars. Eighteen and three are twenty-one. Doctor Sarraf may understand that. Twenty-one and eleven is thirty-two, so that thirty-two million dollars of the taxes that we passed were not upon the masses of the people. In addition to that we passed $500,000 upon the inheritance tax. That is not a tax upon those least able to pay. I say that the membership of this House ought to stick to the record, ought to stick to the facts, and not introduce willy nilly resolutions with a lot of whereas clauses that you know are untrue, that you know are false, but yet you introduce them in order to get them into the record.

What else did we tax? We taxed the utilities of Pennsylvania. We passed the gross receipts tax. I challenge any one of you, whether in levity or seriousness, to point out to me where the Republican Senate passed a single tax that was upon those least able to pay.

I say, members of the House, that this resolution carries with it a false premise, and I want to say this, in addition, Mr. Speaker, what did the Republican Senate do to the masses of the people? I will tell you. Instead of imposing $25,000,000 of additional taxation, unnecessary taxation, upon the masses of the people, they stopped the Democratic Administration from taxing the people unnecessarily $25,000,000—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny will state his point of order.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is not talking on the resolution before the House.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken. The gentleman will confine his remarks to the resolution before the House.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, may I just have your attention for a minute? It is my job to get this on the record, and after I get it on, you may do as you please, but here is what I want to say to you. You passed Senate Resolution No. 59. I am frank to tell you that I intended to oppose that, but number 53 is the same thing—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny will state his point of order.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, the resolution before the House is Resolution No. 53.

The resolution the gentleman is talking on is Resolution No. 59.

The SPEAKER. For the information of the gentlemen from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin, the resolution is Resolution No. 53. The gentleman will continue his discussion on Resolution No. 53.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, Resolution No. 53, on page 2, says this,—for the specific information of the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Moran: "Whereas it is evident that special interests who wish to escape their fair share of community responsibility will attempt to crack the whip as they evidently have done during this special session of the Legislature, now therefore be it resolved."

I would like to know and I would like to have some Democrat explain to me where we cracked the whip. The corporate net income tax did not show that we cracked the whip. The gross receipts tax did not show that we cracked the whip. The tax on utilities did not show that we cracked the whip. The personal property tax to bring in twenty-one million dollars did not show that we cracked the whip. The $500,000 inheritance tax did not show that we cracked the whip. Where we cracked the whip was when we cracked it at the Democratic Governor of this Commonwealth, who attempted to impose upon the masses of the people $25,000,000 more taxes than were necessary. We would have had to pass the gasoline tax, we would have had to pass the cigarette tax—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny will state his point of order.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. SPEAKER, the gentleman has been asked to speak on the resolution before the House. I insist that the gentleman speak on the resolution before the House.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Phildelphia, Mr. Witkin, will confine any further remarks that he wishes to make on this resolution to Resolution No. 53, Printer's No. 235.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, speaking most seriously, the gentleman's point of order is not well taken because I am confining myself to this resolution. I have read a portion of that resolution that refers to special interests wishing to escape taxation. I have pointed out to the best of my ability that the special interests have not escaped taxation, but on the contrary have assumed the entire burden of taxation.

This resolution provides that a committee shall be appointed to investigate a tax program that will place the burden upon those best able to pay. I contend that the whereas clause in this resolution is faulty, it is untrue, and it belies itself, and I am talking on the resolution, because I say that the special interests of this Commonwealth, to use the vernacular of this House, have not escaped their burden of taxation. On the contrary, I contend and I argue most respectfully and most seriously that the entire program of taxation of $45,000,000 that was provided in this Legislature is taxation upon what you call special interests. I say that it is a tax on corporations. I say that it is a tax upon people holding personal property. I say that it is a tax upon inheritances. I say it is a tax upon utilities of this Commonwealth, and therefore, I take it it is improper for any resolution that contains a whereas clause such as this does to pass this House, because it should not pass. I further contend that the special interests that they speak of avoiding taxation have not so done. I further contend that the Republican Party in the Senate have done for the masses of the people that which the Democratic Party in their platform said they would do but which they utterly failed to do. If we had adopted Governor's program of $70,000,000 of taxation in lieu of $45,000,000 we would have been faced with the burden of providing $25,000,000 more taxes. We would have been compelled to place a tax on gasoline, we have been compelled to place a tax upon cigarettes,—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny will state his point of order.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is not talking on the resolution.

The SPEAKER. The chair will again remind the gentleman that the resolution before the House is Resolution No. 53, Printer's No. 235. The gentleman will confine his remarks to that resolution.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I am, and I say to the Speaker of the House, and I say this most respectfully, because personally I like him. One of the whereas clauses in this resolution says this:

"Whereas it will be necessary at the convening of the next regular session of the General Assembly for measures to be introduced to raise moneys for unemployment relief purposes."

Therefore, we are discussing the taxes which may have to be raised in the future. Whether it is necessary to have such a resolution, I contend it is not, because I contend that if we keep our expenditures within our limitations we will not have to raise more taxes, we do not need this resolution. I say we have proven that in this session because if we impose upon the people the taxes necessary we would only impose the taxes that we did, but if we impose upon the people unnecessary taxes we would have been confronted in this Legislature with the imposition of $25,000,000 additional taxes. I say that that would have been reckless taxation upon the people. We would have had to go down to the masses of people.

When his Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, indicated that he might be favorable to the imposition of a tax upon cigarettes, I say that he was agreeing to accept what Senator Woodward properly called a small scale sales tax. I am against a tax on gasoline. I am against a tax on cigarettes, and I am against a tax on the man on the street. There is not a man within the sound of my voice who can possibly tell how we could have raised $25,000,000 that the Governor asked for without taxing the man on the street. You have taxed the corporations, you taxed the utilities, you taxed inheritances, you taxed the owners of personal property, and if you keep on debauching the expenditure of public funds you must reach in your endeavor to tax, the man on the street, and you will have to include the taxes on the farmer for using an automobile upon his farm. You would have to include the taxes on the cigarette smoker who smokes cigarettes, and you would have to increase the tax on the income of the average man who earns one thousand dollars or more. The Republican Party have save the people from these taxes. We have saved $20,000,000 being expended for political purposes to build up a corrupt political machine.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I desire during my discussion on this very momentous problem that the gentleman from Phildelphia, Mr. Witkin, pay particular attention.

He has sent a challenge to the Democratic Party to provide an example wherein the whereas clauses in this resolution can be justified. During his talk on this resolution the gentleman from Phildelphia made a very exact analysis of the tax program which has just been passed by this House and concurred in by the Senate. I recommend that analysis to every member of this House who is seeking reelection. I recommend that analysis to every new Democrat who will sit in the seats of the Republican minority. The $45,000,000 were the taxes raised, and through the persistence of the Democratic House, not one penny was placed upon the burden of those least able to pay.

Let me point this out: we were not successful because—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia will state his point of order.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is talking on Resolution No. 59.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will confine his remarks to Resolution No. 53.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, we were not successful because, in the first place, the sinister influences that are referred to in this resolution invaded the body of the bill which would have vitiated the exemptions that are now provided to corporations in the signing of income tax returns. If the gentleman from Philadelphia doesn't understand what I mean by "vitiate," I'll explain that it means wiped out.

In the second place, I desire also to again answer the challenge of the gentleman from Philadelphia by calling to the attention of this House another instance in which those selfsame sinister influences referred to in this resolution accomplished their purposes. We had introduced in this House the personal property tax, one measure which would have raised $40,000,000, or over, ninety percent of the tax program, but by the removal of parts of that bill that provided for the vitiation of exemptions, exemptions to the holders of securities in Pennsylvania companies, they reduced the estimate of that bill from $40,000,000 to $18,000,000.

I realize that in these closing minutes of this Legislative session and in the closing minutes of the service of the gentleman from Philadelphia to this Commonwealth as a member of this House, that we are prone to indulge in estimates and considerations that find no part in action. An analysis of the tax program we have passed, as I have indicated, places one hundred percent of the tax on those best able to pay, and I say to this House if we are able at the next session of the Legislature to again pass a program which is similar to the one we have passed this time, the unemployed will be provided for, and the functions of this Commonwealth will continue without any undue oppression to the great masses of citizens who compose this great State of Pennsylvania.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Moran.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Moran, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Allegheny tell me who cracked the whip to defeat the old-age assistance bill of 65 years?

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I will answer the question of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, by saying that the men who have cracked the whip in defeating the old-age pension were none other in Pennsylvania than Joseph R. Grundy and Mr. Pew.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Allegheny whether he took his orders from Grundy and Pew when he voted against old-age assistance at 65 years?

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I will answer that question by saying no. Neither has any other Democrat. I say that Mr. Grundy and Mr. Pew were really the people who defeated the old-age security in Pennsylvania, and I further say that the dominating Mr. Sowers is trying to put everybody on the spot by introducing a measure providing for lotteries, which would probably put $80,000,000 into the treasury of the State of Pennsylvania, which I don't know and neither does he—a most cowardly way to take care of the old aged, the mothers' pension, and so on. A lottery will be nothing more than taking care of the big interests and putting the burden of taxation upon the little home owner, the wage earner, the small business man.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Allegheny if he took orders from George III to vote "no" on the old-age assistance at 65?

PREVIOUS QUESTION

Mr. JOHN J. BAKER. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

The SPEAKER. The Chair does not hear any seconds The interrogation will proceed.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Allegheny, whether he took his orders from David Lawrence and George Earle on the proposition of voting against old-age assistance at 65?

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, no I did not. I do not take my orders from anybody, especially the vested interests in the State of Pennsylvania.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman care to tell the House what sinister, malign influence induced the Governor's statement against the lottery bill.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. JAMES W. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny will state his point of order.

Mr. JAMES W. PATTERSON. The interrogation of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, is entirely out of order, inasmuch as it has no relation to the matter before the House.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken. The gentleman will confine his remarks to the resolution before the House.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a roll call.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

MOTION TO AMEND

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, before this roll is called upon Resolution No. 53, I now move that there be stricken from this Resolution on page 2, line 3, the following clause:

"Whereas it is evident that special interest who wish to escape their fair share of community responsibility will attempt to crack the whip as they so evidently have done during this special session of the Legislature, now therefore be it resolved—"

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. O'KEEFE. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. O'KEEFE. Mr. Speaker, the roll call having been asked for, does that not settle the debate?

The SPEAKER. The roll call has not been started, but if the gentleman from Philadelphia wishes to amend the resolution the Chair will request that the amendments be submitted in writing.

MOTION TO LAY RESOLUTION ON TABLE

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I move you that Resolution No. 53, Printer's No. 235, be laid upon the table. I am merely asking that in order that I may be given an opportunity to put in writing the amendment which I have orally made, and I will voice no objection to the immediate consideration of the resolution after I have presented the amendment in writing, and I ask my Democratic friends to give me an opportunity to put this in writing.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman from Philadelphia will immediately sit down and write out the strike out amendment, I feel sure that the House would be willing to give him three minutes, which I think is sufficient time in which he can do it.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. MOOMAW. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Franklin, Mr. Moomaw, will state his point of order.

Mr. MOOMAW. Mr. Speaker, there is a motion before the House to lay on the table, therefore there can be no debate.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, as I understand it, the Speaker has now ruled that the motion to lay on the table is about to be voted upon. Is that correct?

The SPEAKER. That is correct.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a roll call, I ask for a slow roll call, and I will then ask for a verification, and by that time I will have finished writing it out, and I will then present the amendment.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WITKIN and Mr. WINNER.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Phildelphia will state his point of order.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, prior to the previous question being moved, I attempted to offer an amendment to strike from this resolution a particular clause. The Speaker of this House told me that the amendment would have to be made in writing. I then asked the indulgence of the Chair to make it in writing, and the Speaker granted me that indulgence. I now ask for the opportunity and demand it as a right to offer an amendment to strike from that resolution that particular clause, and I ask, Mr. Speaker, that the motion for the previous question be ruled out of order, you having told me that if I put this amendment in writing, it would be considered and I now demand that consideration.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from York will state his question of information.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, contrary to the usual rules of parliamentary procedure, I wish to give the information. The gentleman from Philadelphia made a motion to amend Resolution No. 53. The gentleman from Philadelphia then made a motion that it be laid on the table in order that he might be given an opportunity—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia will state his point of order. The Chair requests that just one point of order be raised at one time.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is making a statement and he arose to a question of information. When you ask for information you don't give facts, you ask for light— you either ask for light or keep silent.

Mr. COHEN. The gentleman from Phildelphia is correct.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from York and the gentleman from Philadelphia please approach the desk.

Mr. COHEN. In view of the last minute concessions on the part of the gentleman form Philadelphia, I am glad to oblige him by withdrawing my motion for the previous question.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker it was not so much obliging —it was under a threat. I now offer the following amendment.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend House Resolution No 53, Printer's No. 253 by striking out the "Whereas" clause on page 2 line 3, commencing with the word "Whereas" and all of line 3, 4, 5, 6 and 7 ending with the word "it".

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

RESOLUTION

DISCHARGE OF COMMITTEE

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, in accordance with the decision of the Chair this afternoon, I present the following resolution.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, August 6, 1936

Whereas, a petition asking for the impeachment of Benjamin C. Atlee, President Judge of the Common Pleas Court of the second Judicial District consisting of Lancaster County was presented to this House on July 13, 1936, and referred to the Committee on Judiciary General on July 14, 1936, and has been in the hands of said Committee for more than ten Legislative days, now therefore be it

Resolved, That the Committee on Judiciary General be discharged from further consideration of said petition.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

RESOLUTION LAID ON TABLE

Mr. TROUT. Mr. Speaker, I move that this resolution be laid upon the table.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. HOOPES and Mr. TRONZO.

Mr. JAMES W. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The SPEAKER. The roll will be verified.

The Clerk read the affirmative roll.

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to inquire whether I am recorded as voting "aye".

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman vote?

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to know how the vote is recorded.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is not recorded.

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to have my vote recorded as voting "no".

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, did I understand the Speaker just now to say that the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Eberharter, was not recorded?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is now recorded.

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Do I have the right, Mr. Speaker, to ask the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Eberharter, whether he did not vote on the first call of the roll?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is entitled to vote any way he desires if he is within the Hall of the House when the roll is called. The gentleman has now declared his intention of being recorded on the negative roll.

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I should like to ask the Speaker, very politely, if the Speaker will please answer my question of parliamentary inquiry, which is, whether or not I have the right to ask the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Eberharter, whether or not he voted on the first call of the roll?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman does have the right to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny if the gentleman will permit himself to be interrogated on the question of his vote.

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Eberharter.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EBERHARTER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I should like to ask the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Eberharter, how he voted on the first call of the roll in this particular matter that is pending before the House?

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Brown, desires to know whether or not I wish to be recorded as voting "no" or whether I wish to be recorded as voting "aye", I will say this: that I desire to be recorded as voting "no" after considering the question that is before the House.

Now, I do not wish to state for the benefit of the members of the House or the gallery or the record whether or not I gave due consideration to my vote before it was cast, but I wish to be recorded at this time as voting "no" on the resolution and on the motion.

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I should like to ask the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Eberharter, whether or not he voted on the first call of the roll.

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Allegheny Mr. Brown has asked whether or not I voted on the first call of the roll. I don't know whether or not there has been more than one call of the roll. However, it is my desire to put myself on record as voting in the negative on this question, and the roll and the record will show my position insofar as this particular question is concerned.

Now, if the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Brown, desires to change my position, which is "no", in the negative on this vote proposition, I am willing to do so and if he continues to press his argument or his interrogation, I will certainly comply with his implied request that I change my position, which is that I am voting in the negative on this motion.

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. I should like to ask the gentleman from Allegheny if it is not a fact, Mr. Speaker, that on the first call of the roll, when his name was called by the Clerk of this House, he answered "yes."

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Brown, I will say this, that on the roll call I did not answer "yes" and I did not answer "yes" on any roll call that was ever put before this House.

The affirmative roll was verified.

The negative roll was read and verified.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

So the question was determined in the affirmative and the motion was agreed to.

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. BLUMBERG filed the following reasons for his vote:

In voting "aye" on this motion to lay on the table, I do so because, although having voted for impeachment in the Judiciary General Committee, I feel myself bound by the action of the Committee in the report filed by it; after the Committee accepted the apology of Judge Atlee, and agreed that the report of the Committee against impeachment and containing a censure and reprimand represent the report of the Committee, of which I am a member.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. BLUMBERG, from the Committee on Constitutional Amendments, re-reported as amended, House Bill No. 164 (Senate Bill No. 75), entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by adding thereto section one C.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Delaware will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, can the gentleman from Philadelphia offer this report from the Committee on Constitutional Amendments without the consent of the House?

The SPEAKER. It will require the unanimous consent of the House to offer the report and it will also require the unanimous consent of the House for its immediate consideration.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I object.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objection.

HOUSE RULES 14 AND 41 SUSPENDED

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Rules 14 and 41 be waived, set aside, for the specific purpose of the reporting and the immediate consideration of Senate Bill No. 75.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Philadelphia did not ask to suspend the rule for the purpose of submitting the bill at this time.

The SPEAKER. In reply to the point of order of the gentleman from Delaware, the gentleman from Philadelphia has asked for the suspension of Rule 14, which provides for the order of the day.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Cambria will state his point of order.

Mr. ANDREWS. The point of order is that the suspension of Rule 14 and of Rule 41 does not dispense with the necessary procedure of formulating the calendar. This bill, reputedly on third reading, is not upon the calendar. This House does not have a calendar and neither does the suspension of Rule 14 nor of Rule 41 obviate the necessity for a calendar.

The SPEAKER. In reply to the point of order raised by the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, the Chair wishes to read House Rule No. 41.

"All bills and joint resolutions reported affirmatively shall be placed on the calendars in the order in which they were reported to the House."

It is true that we do not have a calendar. Therefore, the motion to suspend Rule 41 would be in order, dispensing with placing the bill on the calendar. The Chair will be glad to receive any information the gentleman may have relative to this matter.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, do I understand the Chair to rule that the suspension of Rule 41 obviates the necessity for the Resident Clerk to prepare a Calendar and the presentation of the printed calendar to the House for consideration.

The SPEAKER. That is correct. Rule 41 provides for the placing of the bill on the calendar. A motion for the suspension of this rule will not require the Resident Clerk to place the bill on the calendar.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, am I correct in believing that the only question before this House at this time is the granting of unanimous consent for the presentation of the report of the committee.

The SPEAKER. The only thing before this House at this time is a motion to suspend Rules 14 and 41 for the purpose of the reporting and the immediate consideration of Senate Bill No. 75.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, is it in order to suspend two rules for two different purposes by the same motion?

The SPEAKER. The Chair is of the opinion that the motion is in order, but if the maker of the motion desires, or if any member so desires, the question can be divided.

DIVISION OF QUESTION

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I ask that the question be divided.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Berks, Mr. Hoopes, asked that the question on the motion of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Blumberg, be divided. The Chair will, therefore, lay before the House the question on the motion to suspend Rule 14, for the specific purpose of reporting Senate Bill No. 75.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. HOOPES and Mr. ANDREWS.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. LYNCH. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. LYNCH. Mr. Speaker, Rule No. 91 states that no persons shall occupy the seats of members. I desire that that rule be enforced.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman insist?

Mr. LYNCH. I do, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The Chair has a request that Rule No. 91 be enforced. The Chair wishes to read Rule 91 for the information of the House:

"None but members of the Senate, their officers, the Governor and heads of the State departments, Judges of the Courts, of this Commonwealth, and families of the members of the present House and Senate, former members of the Legislature when introduced by a member of the present House, and others who may be specifically introduced by a member, by permission of the Speaker, shall be permitted to come upon the floor of the House during its session; and no person shall be permitted to occupy the seats of the member; or interrupt a member by speaking to him in his seat, while the House is in session; and it shall be the duty of the Sergeant-at-Arms to give notice to any person offending against this rule."

The Chair must necessarily order anyone who is not entitled to the privileges of the floor to immediately leave the floor.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, did I understand the Speaker to say in the rule that he just announced that if they have the permission of the Chair they could sit with the legislators?

The SPEAKER. The rule says that no person shall be permitted to occupy the seats of the members.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, will you be kind enough to read the House rule again as you have just read it?

The SPEAKER. The Chair will again read Rule 91:

"None but members of the Senate, officers, the Governor and heads of the State departments, Judges of the courts, of this Commonwealth, and families of the members of the present House and Senate, former members of the Legislature when introduced by a member of the present House, and others who may be specifically introduced by a member, by permission of the Speaker, shall be permitted to come upon the floor of the House during its session; and no person shall be permitted to occupy the seats of the members; or interrupt a member by speaking to him in his seat, while the House is in session; and it shall be the duty of the Sergeant-at-Arms to give notice to any person offending against this rule."

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I understand, as you have just read the rule, that they may occupy seats by permission of the Speaker, is that correct?

The SPEAKER. The Speaker cannot give permission for persons to occupy the seats of the members. The Speaker can give permission for people to come upon the the floor of the House, upon the sides, but not in the seats of the members.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

STATEMENT BY MR. TURNER

Mr. TUNRER. asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I do not see how it is possible for us either to follow the roll call or the verification under the condition existing in this House. I think the conditions here are disgraceful. We have sat here fourteen weeks, and here we are within a short time of adjournment, and the confusion that is obtaining in this House is certainly not conducive to the transaction of legislative business or any other business of this House. It seems to me that the men who are now wandering about the floor of the House, spending their time conversing, could very well sit down for a few minutes and attend to the business of this House.

Mr. SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken. The Chair again requests that order be maintained in the House.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, if the Chair through its courteous request for order in the House cannot maintain it, then I insist that the Sergeant-at-Arms be called upon to maintain order.

The SPEAKER. The members will take their seats.

Mr. JOHN E. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, if I recall the session of 1933, I think that order here, in comparison with it is very commendable. It is much better than it was in the session of 1933, under the Republican majority.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I agree with the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, to this extent, that possibly there has been conversation, and possibly there has been unnecessary conversation, but it seems to me that the Speaker of the House has during tonight's session seen to it that the rolls were properly recorded and the rolls were properly called. Although there may have been levity and although there may have been some unnecessary conversation, I think that the Speaker of this House maintained proper order and decorum, and I believe that the vote that has just been recorded has been in accordance with the wishes of the members of this House. I for one want it noted on the record that the Speaker of this House has throughtout this session and during the present roll call maintained proper order and decorum in this House.

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes to thank the gentleman from Phildelphia, Mr. Witkin for his remarks.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

So the question was determined in the affirmative and the motion was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. Rule 14 has been suspended for the specific purpose of reporting from Committee House Bill No. 164, (Senate Bill No. 75).

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. BLUMBERG, from the Committee on Constitutional Amendments re-reported as amended, House Bill No. 164, (Senate Bill No. 75), entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by adding thereto section one C.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will now lay before the House the question on the motion to suspend Rule 41 for the specific purpose of the immediate consideration of House Bill No. 164, (Senate Bill No. 75).

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The question was determined by a rising vote, one hundred and six members, or more than a majority, having voted in the affirmative the motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 164 (Senate Bill No. 75), as follows:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by adding thereto section one C

Section 1 Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met That the following amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is hereby proposed in accordance with the eighteenth article thereof

That article nine of the Constitution of Pennsylvania is hereby amended by adding thereto the following section

Section 1C Political subdivisions shall annually reduce their respective tax levies on the assessed valuation of real estate so that the combined rates of all taxes (exclusive of taxes for debt service) for the year one thousand nine hundred and forty-three and any subsequent year on any parcel of real estate shall not exceed a total of ten mills The General Assembly shall enact legislation fixing the annual reductions to be made by classes of political subdivisions previous to the tax year one thousand nine hundred and forty-three and the maximum tax millage within said ten mill limitation which may be levied by any class of political subdivisions for the tax year one thousand nine hundred and forty-three and thereafter

The assessment or valuation of real property for tax purposes made for the year one thousand nine hundred and forty-three and thereafter shall be made only at the fair market value

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

MOTION TO COMMIT BILL TO COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE

Mr. ANDEWS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee of the Whole House for the purpose of amending the measure, line 2 page 2 by substituting the word "twenty" for the word "ten."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I do not believe in the eleven years that I have been here that I have ever arisen to oppose my friend from Philadelphia, Mr. Blumberg. I do not know of a man in this House for whom I have higher regard and for whom I would do more politically and personally than for the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Blumberg. I am with him until hell freezes over, but I cannot be with him in opposing the motion of the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews.

It is absolutely ridiculous and foolhardy for us to endeavor to say to a county, "You shall limit your taxes on real estate to a certain amount," when we know down deep in our hearts that unless they raise that amount of taxes they cannot run the county government. I do not know of a more painful duty that I have ever had than to oppose the man that I love the best, but I am going to ask the members of this House to vote in favor of the motion of the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews.

I voted to support the motion to suspend the rules because my friend and colleague Mr. Blumberg thought it was the right thing to do, but I also believe that we ought not to vote hypocritically, we ought not to endeavor, in order to coerce voters, to do that which we know cannot be done. Philadelphia—real estate board or no real estate board—can possibly get along with the taxes provided in this bill. Therefore, why should we vote affirmatively because it happens to be the first vote, and then hope that the next Legislature will vote to the contrary? I say to the membership of this House that we ought to support this motion and raise it to twenty mills, because without the twenty mills we cannot support county government. I relcase everyone of my Philadelphia friends, I release everyone of my Republican friends from voting in accordance with my speech.. Let them vote as they think right for their county, but, much as I hate to do so, I cannot conscientiously vote for this bill in its present form, and I say to you members of the House, that it is regrettable to me that after serving for eleven years, side by side with a man who helped to make me a good legislator, if I am one, to vote against him. I ask this House to vote in favor of the motion of the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, much as I hate to do it.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I made this motion in order that this House may be consistent and in order that the integrity of the Committee on Constitutional Amendments may be maintained. The issue involved in this bill was pending in the Committee on Constitutional Amendments, and was debated pro and con over a period of months. The Committee on Constitutional Amendments instructed its Chairman to report a bill to this floor carrying twenty mills as the figure. That was prior to the time when the real estate interests, interested in suburban developments and playing for millions, appeared upon the scene. Contrary to the instructions of the committee, the printed bill appeared upon this floor as fifteen mills and not twenty mills, and then, as a result of arguments with which I am not acquainted, the committee which had stood for twenty mills brings in a report. What for? Its second guess, fifteen mills? No, ten.

Now, gentlemen of the House, I say to you in all seriousness that something very remarkable has occurred. If a committee meeting in session one day can advisedly report to this floor a bill bearing twenty mills as a figure, and only a few days later come in with a bill for ten mills, I think that in deference to the judgment of the Committee, its uninfluenced judgment, undictated judgment, because when the committee, Mr. Speaker, reported twenty mills, it reported its own convictions, and I am convinced and I am sure that many members of the House are convinced, that when the committee reported ten mills it did not report its convictions. I am prepared, as I believe other gentlemen of the House are prepared, to argue in defense of twenty mills as against ten mills, when the proper time comes, and I hope that the members of this House, in line with the original recommendation of the Committee will consent to go into a Committee of the Whole for the purpose of bringing this bill back to the form in which the Constitutional Amendments Committee reported it.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I had no intention of saying anything upon the merits of the bill, but felt that it was of sufficient importance in these closing hours of the session to have the attention of the House called to it, and therefore, I consented to make the motion to waive the rules so that this bill could properly be brought before the House.

The only reason that I rise to speak now is because I cannot, as a member of the Committee on Constitutional Amendments, sit by and hear innuendoes and veiled remarks which tend towards the assumption, to say the least, that sinister motives have been employed in getting this bill before you or in changing the millage set forth in the bill, or that powerful interests exercised any influence or control over the Committee whatever.

Until three days ago I was not acquainted with the bill. I became acquainted with it at a meeting of the Committee three days ago. At that time I personally made the motion to report the bill out with a millage of twenty mills. The Committee upheld that motion, there having been two sets of amendments offered, one at fifteen and one at twenty. The Chairman in reporting the bill to the House inadvertently sent the bill out with the amendment providing for fifteen mills, and so the bill was printed for fifteen mills. When the error was discovered, and because also the gentleman from Cambria decided that a public hearing was necessary on the bill, the bill was recommitted to the Committee for the purpose of hearing and further consideration. This Committee at its meeting this morning had a full Committee meeting and again considered the merits of the bill and by a vote decided that the bill be returned to the House with a millage of ten mills. While I may personally differ as to the correct limitation to be placed in this proposed constitutional amendment, I do believe that there is more that just that limitation involved. I believe that there is a great principle involved in this proposed constitutional amendment.

I appreciate very much what my best friend and colleague Mr. Witkin, has said about me, and I also regret that in these closing hours of the session he must stray from the correct legislative proceeding and vote against my thought. Up until now he has followed me, as he said, without any deviation, and so he was always right, and it is too bad in these closing hours that he must make a final mistake. Gentlemen, as I see this motion, we have before us a constitutional amendment which requires passage at two successive sessions of the Legislature, and then provide, what we in the democratic form of government believe to be the highest form, the solution to a problem, by a referendum to the people. Both major parties in the Commonwealth have agreed in their platforms, and the Governor of Pennsylvania repeated the pledge in his inaugural address, that the taxes on real estate be lowered. There was a time when the wealth of the Nation, the wealth of the State, was almost totally in real estate, and it was therefore necessary to tax real estate in order to defray the expenses of government, but with the more diversified form of wealth which we have enjoyed as a result of the vast prosperity up until the present depression, with the great increase in the cost of government, it has become necessary to more adequately distribute the burden of the cost of government. We cannot go on forever and kill the goose that lays the golden eggs. We cannot tax out the value of our real estate wealth. A high rate of taxation, carried to its extreme, is equivalent to confiscation, and the surest way to destroy the value of your real estate in the State is to tax it out of existence.

This proposed Constitutional Amendment, whether the limitation be ten or twenty mills, is a step towards a principle. It will bring before the people this oft discussed question, what are we going to do in the future about paying the cost of government? Are we going to leave out of our consideration for taxation the vast wealth of the State in personal property? Well, all of us know that we won't be able to do it. This session has passed the Woodward income tax amendment, which if passed by two successive sessions and adopted by the people, will mean we will have a graded income tax in the State, and I am sure we are tending in that direction, but at least this bill is necessary to bring the question before the citizens of the State. Whether the next session adopts ten or does not adopt ten, whether it accepts fifteen or twenty, is immaterial, but you are crystalizing sentiment, and you are coming to the time when the people of this Commonwealth will have to determine a tax policy once and for all. I therefore consider this constitutional amendment to be a very important matter. While I do not have any large interests, not being a large real estate owner, only owning my own small homestead, I still believe as a legislator, that we have got to face this question, and a bill of this importance should not be permitted to die because of technical objections that may be raised by my very astute and good friend, Mr. Andrews. I therefore ask that the motion made by my friend from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, be defeated.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I made my remarks and I won't repeat them, but if there is an attack made upon the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Blumberg, that sinister motives have prompted his vote, I am frank to say that I am with Mr. Blumberg of Philadelphia. I know that no sinister motives have ever prompted him in any legisation that has ever come before this House. I do not know whether the gentleman from Cambria Mr. Andrews, in referring to powerful interests or sinister motives referred to the gentleman from Philadelphia or not, but I have listened to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Blumberg. I do not agree with him. I cannot agree with him in his conclusions, but I am with him in the premise that he has no particular interest in this bill. When he said he owned his own homestead he forgot to say that there was a mortgage on it. I happen to know that there is. Therefore, I have resolved, after listening to my friend, that although I think he is wrong I am not going to vote against him and I am going to ask this House to permit me to vote present and not vote the way I think, although I am convinced that any attack upon the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Blumberg, as to sinister motives is highly improper and I am going to stick with him, right or wrong.

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WITKIN. I will Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin, advise this body if this bill is passed at the twenty mill rate, whether it would permit an increase in taxes in Philadelphia County, or not?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman to repeat his question, because in my judgment it is not a proper question, but I will be glad to answer it if he can make sense out of it.

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, I am sorry if the gentleman from Philadelphia, who I know is very learned in the law, has not grasped what I am speaking of, but I would like to know if the gentleman from Philadelphia believes if this bill is passed at a twenty mill rate, it will not give the people in charge of taxing Philadelphia real estate opportunity to increase the tax rate?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. President, I am frank to say to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Tumlety, that I have never refused to answer a question, but I am frank to say that the manner in which the question is asked is not understandable by me, and I would like the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Tumelty, to frame the question so that I can give him a "yes" or "no" answer, and then make my explanation accordingly.

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, I will ask the gentleman from Philadelphia if he knows what the millage rate is in Philadelphia at the present time?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, it is higher than twenty mills.

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman take my word for it, it is 26.25?

Mr. WITKIN. It is 26.25 and thousand.

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Philadelphia know that the required debt service mileage is in Philadelphia county?

Mr. WITKIN. No, I do not, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman take my word for it if I told him it was 8.72?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I cannot say that I will, unless the gentleman tells me that he knows it is a fact. I will always take him at his word. I thought it was a little less than 8.72.

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, the statistics that I have have not been compiled by myself but I have it from someone else that the 8.72 is required for the total debt service, which would leave about 18. plus or 18. minus, that would be necessary, and not twenty mills.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman whether he means 18. plus dollars or mills?

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, I am speaking of mills. Eighteen mills and not twenty mills is all that would be necessary in Philadelphia County to stick to our present rate.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, as I understand it, this bill would merely set the limit at twenty mills. It could be anything less than twenty but not more than that. What worries me, if any particular county's budget would be set to require more than twenty mills, and the county, in order to balance its budget, would have to levy more than twenty mills, the county would be out of luck under this bill, and there would be no way under heaven or on earth by which the county could possibly could rectify its own budget and balance it.

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, now I believe we have got to the point where the gentleman from Philadelphia can understand my original question. Would the twenty mill rate, as provided for in this bill, give those in charge in Philadelphia an opportunity of increasing the tax, rate, increase the millage? In other words, they could increase it to twenty-eight, if it were put through at twenty. We have it at 26.25, is that right?

Mr. WITKIN. No, if this were put back at twenty, they could not increase it to twenty-one. If they were to be limited at twenty. They would have to increase the assessment on the properties, and that would be an indirect way of doing that which they have refused to do directly. In other words, if the limitation was twenty mills—

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin, realize that these twenty mills suggested in this bill is other than the debt service which I have told him is 8.72?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, yes.

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Philadelphia admit then that we could go to 28.72 rather than 26.25 as we have at the present time, if this bill were passed at 20.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, you could do that right now without any limit, and this bill limits it, so that you cannot go beyond it. In other words, under the present law you can do it without any limitation. This bill limits it. It is an attempt to interfere with the county budget. I say this, we have no right to endeavor to interfere by limitation upon a county budget. One county may be in one position and another county may be in another position, and the ten mills as provided in this bill is ridiculous There isn't a man in this House that can conscientiously say that ten mills is the limit that a county can put on real estate. The only possible reason that a man could vote for the ten mills is to be able to go back home and say that he has voted the proper limit.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia will state his point of order.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman having finished his answer, the point of order is that the gentleman is indulging in his highly accomplished form of oratory instead of answering interrogations.

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, finally I would like to say that I do not regret the fact that I interrogated the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, the interrogation by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Tumelty, has convinced me that the House ought to resolve itself into a Committee of the Whole in order to raise it from ten mills to twenty because by the very figures that he has propounded, to wit, 8.72 and 18.23 or the total that it is now of 26.25, in Philadelphia, has conclusively pointed to the fact that we must go beyond twenty mills in the city of Philadelphia, and, therefore, by his interrogation and by the information that he has accurately before him, given to him by somebody as an accurate set of facts, he has established the fact that we must have at least twenty mills or more in the County of Philadelphia in order to have the proper millage.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I would like to say a brief word regarding the reference made by the minority leader to his very good friend, and my very good friend, the gentleman from Philadelphia. My position in the matter is this, that I believe that suburban realtors interested in development have deluded the farmer, and I think that the big interests who deluded the farmers into thinking that this ten mills was a good thing for him, also deluded the committee I am not questioning the integrity of the committee. I am questioning its judgment. I think that is a fair thing to do. There is no question of integrity involved but there is a question as to practical judgment.

Mr. JAMES W. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

The SPEAKER. The Chair does not see sufficient seconders.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I can appreciate the intention of the gentleman from Allegheny to cut off debate, but I can assure him I am going to be very brief in my remarks and I will confine my remarks in agreement with both the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, and the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin. I think that it is of sufficient importance to tell the House about it. It seems to me that this particular measure, making a constitutional limitation upon a tax millage to ten mills for all purposes, school, county, borough and poor, is so ridiculous that we ought not to give it serious consideration. When I see an apparent majority of this House prepared to vote for it, it seems to me it is time for somebody to call a halt and ask whether you realize what it means. Many of you are in school districts where you have more than twenty mill, to say nothing about your boroughs, your counties and your poor taxes. Of course, it is very well to say that we want to reduce the taxes on real estate. Of course we all do. But until you find some method of doing it and putting it into affect, to put a provision like this in the Constitution is going to wreck havoc. They tried it in Ohio, they tried it in Michigan. What happened? They have a sales tax in both of those States. Do you want to make it so short you will have to have a sales tax? We have been in session for fourteen weeks and we do not seem to be able to find enough money to give the unemployed sixty-four cents a day. Yet you want to cut local taxes to such an extent that the State will have to appropriate something like $200,000,000 that will be necessary to take the place of it. How are you going to do it? The very statement of the question shows how ridiculous it is, and I sincerely hope that you will support the motion to go into a Committee of the whole and give the matter careful consideration.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House I know that this is a bad time to enter into a debate, but it is also a bad time to try to force through this Legislature a matter as serious as this. I wonder if the members of this House realize how much money a ten mill tax on real estate of Pennsylvania will raise. A ten mill tax upon real estate of Pennsylvania today will realize less than $100,000,000. At the present time the taxation on real estate raises approximately $330,000,000. Now, it is true that there is some of that $330,000,000 that could be raised in addition to this amount, something less than $100,000,000 as a result of taxation for the purpose of debt, but there would still be the necessity upon the government, the local government of this State, to either reduce their expenditures over one-third or else have the Legislature of Pennsylvania raise in taxes in some manner or other an amount of over $130,000,000.

I think it is mighty peculiar for us as a Legislature to ask the people to do a thing that we now have the authority to do. I never heard of such a proposition before. We now have the authority to set the amount of millage that can be charged by the school boards or by the county or by any other local district, and yet, big brother legislators as we are, we go to the people and say to them, "You compel us to do what we have the authority to do." Why not face this proposition in an intelligent manner? We all know that real estate carries a heavier burden than it really ought to carry. This very day we have passed a resolution for an amendment to the Constitution, and there are several others, I think, in the mill, whereby we hope to have graded taxation, and we hope, as a result of that, taxation can be placed upon those more able to pay, and will in some extent help out the real estate taxation and will reduce it. That is a proper step. But what would happen in case the people would turn down that proposition and make the graded income tax impossible? What would happen in a case like that? Where could we possibly get the money to carry on our local government? I think it is foolish for us to hamstring our local governments and to proceed in this manner, urging a constitutional amendment, and asking the people to compel us to do what we now have authority to do.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, we ought to face this matter, this problem, in an intelligent manner and proceed in the right manner to raise taxes where we can raise them in order to relieve real estate from its burden, but not put the cart before the horse, and limit the amount of taxation which can be raised on real estate by asking the people to compel us to limit it, and then go on and pass the buck to the next Legislature. I think this resolution should be voted down, but if we have to adopt one, I would sooner adopt it with twenty mills than ten, which would make the carrying on of local government impossible without at least $100,000,000 more from the Legislature.

Mr. KILROY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WITKIN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. KILROY. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin, believe that the author of this bill, Senator Ziesenheim, when he introduced it, was in error when he said we should limit it at ten percent?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I do.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, may I say to my friend from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin, that I certainly release him from any obligation he feels he has to vote along with me.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I will vote "no". I will vote "aye" on this and against the bill.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. ANDREWS and Mr. HALUSKA, were as follows:

MOTION TO COMMIT BILL TO COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE

Mr. WICKERSHAM. So the question was determined in the negative and the motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, the bill now having been reported to the floor of the House, is the bill susceptible to final action?

The SPEAKER. The question now is on third reading and final passage of the bill.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, has the bill reached its final reading yet?

The SPEAKER. It has not.

MOTION TO PASS BILL OVER

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I move that we now pass over Senate Bill No. 75, Printer's No. 43, and take up at this time the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 156.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

MOTION TO LAY ON TABLE

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, I move that the motion made by the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, be tabled for the present.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I second that motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

Mr. ANDREWS. What is the previous question, Mr. Speaker?

The SPEAKER. The previous question is on third reading and final passage of Senate Bill No. 75. The other motions are secondary.

MOTION TO LAY ON TABLE

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I move that Senate Bill No. 75 be placed upon the table and I ask for a roll call.

The SPEAKER. There is nothing in order at the present time but the moving of the previous question.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, there can be no motion for the previous question when the question has not been put to the House and a motion to table is in order at any time.

The SPEAKER. In answer to the point of order raised by the gentleman from Cambria, this House has suspended two of its rules for the purpose of immediately considering Senate Bill No. 75. As Senate Bill No. 75 is the business before this House, the previous question being moved by the gentleman from York naturally brings us to the third reading and final passage of this bill.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, a motion for the previous question does not preclude a motion to table.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is not well taken. The motion for the previous question precludes all other motions.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I will not appeal from the decision of the Chair although the decision of the Chair, in my opinion, is wrong.

The motion was seconded by Messrs. Simon, VanSickle, Sinwell, Coakley, Robinson, Mentzer, Sumney, Eberharter, John A. Smith, Ominsky, Finnerty, Moran, Klingler, Brumbaugh, Shugarts, Frank P. Hamilton, Moore, Schrope, Allen, John J. Downey and others.

On the question,

Shall the main question be now put?

It was agreed to.

On the question, recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

Mr. ANDREWS. I ask that the Speaker obtain order in the House, and that the members be required to answer clearly and distinctively to their names.

The SPEAKER. The members will answer clearly and distinctly when their names are called.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. HOLLAND filed the following reasons for his vote:

Knowing that this bill is purely a political one and in the class of a "pink bill" I am voting "aye" with the hope that the next session, more business-like deliberations will be given this bill.

I do not think this bill was introduced with sincerity.

Mr. SCHAEFFER filed the following reasons for his vote:

I am voting "no" for the following reasons:

1. The same is unreasonable.
2. The motive of the sponsor is not clear.
3. The same will work a hardship, if enacted, upon growing communities and municipalities desiring or acquiring needed improvements.

Mr. SIMON filed the following reasons for his vote:

I am opposed to the tax limitation in this bill and am voting "aye" only because it contains a referendum clause that permits the electorate to decide the question.

Mr. VanALLSBURG filed the following reasons for his vote:

No man in this House is more anxious to relieve farmers and home-owners of Pennsylvania from an unjust share of the burden of taxation than I.

A reasonable over-all tax limitation law has real merit, but Senate Resolution No. 75, which provides for a ten mill limitation without provision for millions of dollars for state subsidies to the local units of government of the state admittedly has become a football in a game being played for political advantage, which has neither merit nor an iota of sincerity of purpose to taxpayers. Its enactment surely would break down local government, destroy home rule, and result in the enactment of an obnoxious sales tax, as it did in Ohio and Michigan.

With this explanation I voted "yes" on this resolution for the sole purpose of preventing any charge of not being in sympathy with an honest endeavor to lower taxes on real estate.

STATEMENT BY MR. JOHN E. SMITH

Mr. JOHN E. BROWN asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am not going to take very much of your time. I have been asked by some friends to raise some funds for and on behalf of our unemployed who are now with us. We are going to adjourn and we are going to return to our homes, and I want to say that there are 630 or more unemployed now in this Capitol, that there are babies sleeping on the marble floors down there, and I know you do not want that.

Now, we are going to have our pay tomorrow, and I would like to see the hat passed around. If the members of this House would put in a half dollar a piece, it would be a good start. I would ask, Mr. Speaker, that the page boys take the boxes around and receive donations and that the same be handed to the Chief Clerk for proper distribution among the unemployed.

I move you, Mr. Speaker, that the page boys be asked to take the boxes in each aisle and deceive any contributions the members may care to make. I will take one box myself.

The SPEAKER. The Chair rules that the motion of the gentleman from Washington is out of order. The rules of the House do not permit the taking up of a collection in the House during the session. The gentleman can make arrangements outside of the Hall of the House to take up collections if he so desires.

HOUSE BILL No. 69 TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 69, Printer's No. 232, together with the message which was laid upon the table be taken from the table.

The motion was agreed to.

Section 7 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

On the question,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

Mr. BROWNFIELD. Mr. Speaker, I ask that the report of the Committee of Conference be adopted.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am not going to oppose the adoption of this report at this time, but I want to call the attention of the members to the fact that in the whereas clause on page 3, it says, "For the period ending January 31, 1937," and also on page 4, in section 1, in the appropriation clause, it refers, "during the period ending January 31, 1937."

I am very much afraid that the inclusion of those clauses in the bill may make it possible to force allocation of funds by the Relief Board at a proportionate amount each month for the unemployed, and as the total appropriation is much less than the total amount required at the present rate of expenditure, it may result in forcing a lot of people arbitrarily off of relief. I hope that that will not be the case and rather than vote against the relief appropriation bill, I am going to vote for it, but I call your attention to what I consider a very serious danger in the bill.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I want to assure the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Hoopes, that this bill, just as I assured him at the end of the regular 1935 session on the General Appropriation Bill, where we appropriated money to the National Guard, that everything will be all right.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

STATEMENT BY MR. MOOMAW

Mr. MOOMAW asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it is quite apparent that this session is going to be closed in a very short time, if not in a few minutes.

Many weeks ago, in fact on May 19th, there was passed in this House the Unemployment Compensation Bill, the key measure to the social security program for this Special Session. The bill was passed by this House practically unanimously. That measure remained in committee in the State until public opinion demanded that it be removed from committee and placed upon the Senate calendar for vote. It came out of committee amended practicially beyond recognition. Whether the amendments inserted by the Senate were an attempt to deliberately kill the bill or not is a matter for the people of Pennsylvania to decide. The House in its mandate by practically unanimously passing the bill demanded that the bill be brought out in the form in which it passed this House. However, as you have seen by the prints, as it came out on the Senate Calendar, it was mutilated to a point where it was not even workable. I was a member of the committee on conference to which this bill was assigned and, to say the least the Democratic members of that conference committee made every effort and every possible and reasonable and sensible compromise to enact this measure into law. The bill as it was originally presented rightfully placed the control of unemployment compensation in the hands of the Department of Labor and Industry, where you will all admit, regardless of political affiliations, it belongs. The Senate amended it to put the administration into the chasm of politics and mire it in Republican control. The amendments of the Senate, as you probably know, would have placed this most important piece of legislation in the hands of a five member commission, one appointed by the Governor with the advice and consent of the Senate, one by the Speaker of the House, one by the President Pro Tempore of the Senate, one by the Auditor General and one by the State Treasurer. Why they omitted the Secretary of Internal Affairs I do not know, other than to be sure that this measure would be under Republican control. The original bill placed it in the hands of the Department of Labor and Industry with a commission or board of appeal acting entirely independently and appointed by the Governor, as all other commissions in the history of Pennsylvania have been appointed. In conference the Democratic conferees suggested the placing of this bill or this law in the hands of a committee of three appointed by the Governor, with dated terms of two, four, and six years, respectively, to administer the act, and when the State employment agencies would be called to really work upon this law for them act under this commission, namely after January 1, 1938. This suggestion was not agreeable to the Republican conferees, indicating that their only desire was to plunge unemployment compensation for the State of Pennsylvania deeply in the chasm of politics, where the Republicans could control it, and in the hands of the Republican Party which without a doubt has been against social legislation and particularly unemployment compensation since it has first shown itself on the horizon, after having been passed by the Roosevelt Administration in Washington.

I appeal to the members of the Republican Party and particularly to those members of the conference committee that we still have a few moments left in which to reconsider their action. In deliberately killing this piece of social legislation, it will jeopardize the workers of Pennsylvania to the extent of $20,000,000 for the year 1936. It has been placed properly and directly on the doorstep of the Republican Party, it is their baby, and it is their responsibility for any losses that the workers of Pennsylvania may suffer by their not enacting this measure into law at this session of the Legislature.

LEAVE TO PRINT STATEMENT BY MR. DENT

Mr. DENT asked and obtained leave to print the following statement:

Mr. Speaker, the two differences which exist between the Republicans and Democrats on the question of the unemployment insurance bill, which is House Bill No. 55, Senate No. 41, are these:

1. Under the Bill as presented by the House the administration of the unemployment insurance is placed under the Department of Labor and Industry, with a board of three appointed by the Governor to administer the Act; one to represent labor, one to represent industry and one to represent the public. These appointments to be subject to the approval of the Senate. The amendment by the Republican majority of the Senate provides for the administration of the bill through a commission of five, one to be pointed by the Governor with the approval of the Senate, one to be appointed by the President pro tem of the Senate, one to be appointed by the Speaker of the House, one by the Auditor General and one by the State Treasurer. No provision is made in the Republican amendment for representation on this Board of labor, industry or the public. This difference was to be taken up by a Conference Committee appointed by the House and the Senate.

This Committee consisted of Senators Coyne, Chapman and Shapiro and Representatives Moomaw, Dent and Wickersham, the representation of the Committee being an equal number of Republicans and Democrats. After failing to reach agreement the following compromise was suggested by the Democratic committee members:

First, that the administration of the Unemployment Insurance Bill be taken from the Department of Labor and Industry and set up under a separate commission of three to be appointed by the Governor, one to be representative of labor, one to be representative of industry and one to be representative of the public. All employes of the Commission to be appointed on a merit basis. The appointment of this Commission to be made by the Governor before the Bill is passed by the Senate, after an informal conference to be held by the Governor with Republican members of the Senate. The Republican members to be given the right to nominate one of the commissioners who had the longest term of service—six years. The Governor to appoint the remaining two for a period of two and four years respectively, the Governor's appointments to be discussed with representatives of the Republican Senate before being made. The Governor agrees to withdraw any nomination made by him upon cause shown by the Republican Senators. The State Employment offices under the provision of the amendment offered by the Republican Senators were to be removed from the Department of Labor and Industry where they have served for fifteen years, and were to be placed under the Unemployment Insurance Commission. That would be satisfactory providing that these offices remain under the Department of Labor and Industry for two years to retain the benefits we are now receiving from the Federal Government. The State of Pennsylvania will receive approximately $450,000 this year and approximately $450,000 next year as the Federal Government's share of the cost of operating this agency. It was important not to lose this, because the employment service has given valuable service throughout the State of Pennsylvania through its thirteen offices in providing jobs for the unemployed. Approximately 35,000 persons were placed last year through the Employment services under the Department of Labor and Industry.

Fifteen states which have passed unemployment insurance legislation use either of two methods for its administration—through the Department of Labor and Industry or under a Civil Service Commission. In all of the States, with either method in use, the appointments are made by the Governor.

This was a compromise by the Democratic members of the Conference Committee but was refused by the Republican members of the Committee. To say that this is unfortunate is putting it mildly. The result is that the workers in Pennsylvania will lose the benefits to be derived from approximately $22,000,000 in taxes which will be levied upon industry in Pennsylvania and put into a general fund of the United States Treasury, to be distributed over the whole country without any benefits being derived by the people of Pennsylvania.

The appointment of the administrators by the Republican majority as set up in amendments by them is unknown and unheard of. It would bring to a stop all of their activities and compel appointment of a new and inexperienced board within six or eight months. The terms of the members of the commission expire when the persons appointing them leave office. The office of the President pro tem of the Senate expires December 1, 1936. The term of the Speaker of the House expires at the same time. The Auditor General and State Treasurer go out of office on the first Monday of May, 1937, and the terms of those appointed on the Commission by those above mentioned officers also expire.

It is evident that the Republican majority does not understand, or understanding it, must have deliberately set out to destroy the possibility of unemployment insurance in Pennsylvania. In this connection it must be brought to the attention of the public and must be remembered in connection with this controversy.

1. The conference committee consisted, as I have said, of Senator Coyne, Senator Chapman and Senator Shapiro. Senator Chapman voted against the unemployment bill. The appointment of one of the members would be given to the President pro tem of the Senate, Senator Homsher who voted against the Bill. It must be remembered that he voted against this bill even after the amendments had been inserted by the Republican Senate majority.

Any sane person with any knowledge of the importance of the subject of unemployment insurance can realize that this attitude of the Republican majority was antagonistic, and that the Conference Committee had no hope of arriving at a compromise. The only thing that can account for this attitude is that the Republican Party deliberately set out to kill the bill.

LEAVE TO PRINT STATEMENT BY MR. WICKERSHAM

Mr. WICKERSHAM. asked and obtained leave to print the following statement:

Mr. Speaker, the Democratic Administration has killed the Unemployment Insurance Bill for purely political purposes. It has scorned all efforts directed toward a compromise and insist that the administrative machinery remain under the control of the Governor and the Department of Labor and Industry, where politics would be the controlling factor in all important decisions.

An Administration that has already shown an unusual aptitude for injecting politics into Mother's Assistance, could be depended upon to follow the same course with Unemployment Compensation. The problem of Unemployment Compensation is too important, too vital to the people, to permit its administration by a Board or Department subservient to the political whims of a Governor who places the personal gain of himself and his henchmen above all other interests.

The Unemployment Insurance Act, as amended and passed by the Senate, provided for civil service to insure non-partisan and non-political administration. It provides for transfer of the Public Employment Offices to the Commission and distribution of unemployment comsation through such offices as contemplated by Section 303, clause (a), (2) of the Federal Social Security Act. It provides for administration by an independent commission, divorced from control by any State Department. Of the fifteen states that have passed Unemployment Compensation Acts up to this time, only two have placed administration control under State Departments.

The Act as passed by the Senate has been flatly rejected by the Democratic Administration. In an effort to compromise, the Republican conferees submitted a proposal to abandon both the Democratic and Republican plans for the administration of the Act and substitute in lieu thereof and independent commission of three members, with minority representation, the commissioners to be elected by state-wide vote. This, too, has been rejected by the Democratic Administration. The only conclusion that can be drawn from such action that this administration does not want Unemployment Insurance to become a law in Pennsylvania.

In a vain attempt to deceive the Conference Committee, a representative of the Department of Labor and Industry submitted to it a memorandum to the effect that if the administration of Unemployment Compensation was not given to that Department, Pennsylvania would lose the federal benefits provided for in the Wagner-Peyser Act. Such a statement is false and convicts the Department of deliberate deception or hopeless incompetence. Not only has our independent research revealed this falsehood, but our position has been confirmed by an opinion given us by the Director of the Legislative Reference Bureau, John H. Fertig. Such action by the Department of Labor and Industry is another convincing proof that it should not be entrusted with the administration of Unemployment Compensation.

The Republican Members of this Senate, realizing the importance of Unemployment Compensation, have attempted to provide the best bill possible under the circumstances. If this bill is allowed to die, if all efforts of compromise fail, the blame should be placed where it belongs—on the Democratic Administration of Pennsylvania.

The SPEAKER. The report will be filed and printed in the Appendix to the Legislative Journal.

LEAVE TO PRINT STATEMENT BY MR. SPROUL

Mr. SPROUL asked and obtained leave to print the following statement:

Mr. Speaker, my friend, the gentleman from Philadelphia Mr. Burke, on May 5th, in discussing the cost of relief, stated he was sure the Governor would be glad to hear of suggestions helpful toward reducing such cost. I take it this invites anyone's answer and offer ideas which occur to me as sound, practical, businesslike means of effecting some reduction. These conclusions are partially made from talking to an investigator with experience; some are his suggestions, others are inferences of mine. I approach the matter in the same manner as any businessman would study his problems.

There has been much said concerning data available to us giving accurate costs. I agree that the figures given are the result of our present relief spending program but are figures given suggesting a saving in expenditure aside from grants? Has proper study been made of a business saving without considering relief purely from the case worker's stand point? Do we have mostly case supervision or executive supervision over case supervision? Proper regard should be had for Civil Service among experienced case workers instead of having them subject to hiring and firing at will, making them afraid of their jobs.

Their case conclusions should not be influenced by their own employment. The trend is toward case workers exercising executive supervision. Their work should be in the field where they are qualified to work. I have been told there are about twelve supervisors over each hundred workers (or visitors), and believe that number is excessive and should be reduced. Case workers might tend to put people on relief so their own jobs are perpetuated. This tendency should be avoided.

Now as to the visitor's work: Where formerly a case worker visited about two hundred cases in a period of six weeks their visits are now cut down to about one hundred every two months for the reason that two-thirds of the case worker's time spent in writing up mostly unnecessary details and one-third upon reports thus reversing the schedule to its former status. I believe in thorough investigation but a business supervisor should be in charge. Complaints are heard in many localities that persons can not be hired for two or three days at a time because of these persons refusal to work, preferring to stay on relief. Now, there is a reason for that. It takes from seven to fifteen days to get a person on relief. If these persons offered work could get back on relief promptly instead of suffering this delay, more would be willing to work on a per diem basis. A credit should be allowed to these day workers which would save the Commonwealth thousands of dollars and persons who were physically able to work and yet refused should be reported and have their relief allotment reduced. Another reduction in expense would be to combine the work of agencies visiting the same home such as Blind, Old Age, Mother's Assistance, and relief case workers. If these different recipients or applicants were visited by one or two representatives instead of the several, I feel sure a material saving would result.

To sum up my remarks, if more attention and thought were given toward reducing expenses in overhead and management, considerable saving would ensue. A method should be devised so that no able person could be in the position of choosing to stay on relief rather than accept any proffered employment. The taxpayer is footing the enormous bill of those who have benn offered partial occupation and who formerly lived comfortably on it.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House I realize that the hour is late, but may I ask your indulgence with me for just a few moments. I know the remarks that I am going to make may not meet with your views, but as this will be the last speech that I shall ever be privileged to make on the floor of this House, I would ask your kind attention.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I thank you for your quietness and I sincerely trust that you will bear with me for just a few moments.

I have been privileged to represent my legislative district since 1925. These closing hours bring to an end my legislative career in Harrisburg of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. I want to say very frankly to you and I want to say it deeply and with the greatest degree of sincerity as one man speaking to another, that it is rather a sad occasion for me. I have been here, I have met with my fellowmen from all parts of the State, I have fought with my political friends and with my political enemies. I am about to retire.

I want to express my sincere sense of appreciation, first, to the Republican membership of this House. They have honored me by making me their floor leader. I want to say to those men that I appreciate the loyalty with which they have stood with me through every battle that we have fought here. I hope that those whose names I do not mention will remember that even though I do not mention their names, I have always considered that they are part and parcel of whatever little success the Republican minority in this House has been able to attain. But there are one or two or perhaps three gentleman in this House toward whom I would consider myself most derelict in my duty were I not to refer to them.

The first gentleman to whom I want to refer as being one of the bulwarks of the Republican organization and who has helped me considerably in every trial and tribulation that I have had is a gentleman whom I consider one of the most studious and conscientious legislators that Pennsylvania has ever had. You may disagree with him, you may not think that he is always right, but I do want to say that he is sincere, he is honest, he has been a member of the steering committee, and we have looked to him on many occasions for advice and help, and he has always given to me good, sound advice and excellent help. I refer to the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner.

There are other men in the Republican Party here to whom I should refer, like Gordon Mason of Luzerne, and Charley Baldi of Philadelphia, and many another man in the Republican delegation who has helped me to carry on in the battles we have had. The entire Steering Committee has so done.

I hope those of you who are now listening, and I appreciate your attention, will bear with me when I speak but a few words for one man in particular, of whom I cannot help but make a few remarks. I came to the Legislature in 1925. I was a novice and knew very little about legislation, and the leaders of the Republican Party said at that time to a friend of mine, "Take this young man under your wing and help him," and that man so did from the very day I walked into this House. He taught me parliamentary procedure, he took me under his wing, and he helped to make of me, whether it was well done or whether it was not well done, whatever it happens to be, what I am to day in this Legislature. He has been my constant friend and my constant companion. I owe him a political debt, I owe him a friendly debt, and God willing I hope to be able with whatever power is given to me by the Almighty to pay back to him that which he has done for me in this Legislature. I refer to the best friend I have ever had in Harrisburg, to my constant companion, to the man who has ever stood by my side, my good friend from Philadelphia, Arnold Blumberg.

There is just one other remark I want to make, and that is, I want to say to my Republican friends of the Republican Caucus that I appreciate deeply and sincerely the honors that you have conferred upon me. Your nomination of me as the candidate for Speaker of the House of Representatives is an honor that I shall cherish, and is an honor that I shall take with me until my parting days, an honor that I shall hand down to those who follow me in my walk of life, and I sincerely thank each and every Republican member of this House for that honor, and I say so not by way of flattery and not by way of merely using idle words, but because I feel it.

I have fought for the Republican Party to the best of my ability. I may have made mistakes, I may have been wrong, but I can assure the members of my party if ever I made a mistake in their interests or against their interests, it was not due to the fact that I was disloyal, but it was merely due to the fact that man is prone to make mistakes. I hope and trust that the man who succeeds me as leader of the Republican membership here shall merely do that which I have tried to do, and that is to fight hard and squarely.

I am not conceited or immodest when I say this one word: I have tried in the eleven years that I have been here to stand for one principle and that is to keep my word and to keep faith with my fellow men. I do not know of any career for a young man where greater advantages can ever be given to him, and were I endeavoring to preach, I would say but one word to any man who comes to this House, and that is, always put your cards on the table and shoot squarely. I do not care what the times may be, I do not care whether he belongs to the Democratic Party or whether he belongs to the Republican Party, so long as he is a man who will not even permit his party make him break his word. I am a great believer in the fact that power and wealth are but fleeting possessions, which may disappear overnight, but there is one attribute in this world that men never lose, and that is their own individual character.

May I say but a word to my Democratic colleagues of this House, and that is that I have received at the hands of the Speaker of this House fair treatment. I may not have been in accord with all of his decisions; I may not have agreed with him in the treatment accorded the minority of this House by his decisions, but I sincerely and honestly believe that in his heart he has been fair. I have never failed to receive his recognition. To the Democratic majority of this House I want to say that I part from you with the full sense of the fact that at the hands of the majority I have received fair treatment. You have given the Republican Party the opportunity to express itself. I do not say—and I say this very frankly—that I have agreed with all the rules and regulations that you have passed in this session, and I will say, very frankly, as I said at the beginning of the session, that I do not agree with the policy of airplaining or sending bills through this House without proper consideration, but I will say that the Speaker of this House, and the majority leader of this House, and the majority members of this House have always given me the opportunity of expressing the opinions of the Republican minority in this House. Some of your decisions, some of your actions, some of the things that you have done with bills, and some of the legislation that you have passed I have strongly opposed, and I do not now apologize for that opposition, but you have given me the right to express my thoughts, and when efforts were made to gag, a great number of the Democrats in this House immediately stopped that gagging.

There is only one other thing, I believe, I would like to say to you, and that is this: I went through the campaign in the past year and in that campaign I fought for the success of the Republican Party. The people of Philadelphia, whether wisely or not, honored me by electing me as a County Commissioner. In that campaign I was attacked. I was attacked by members of the Democratic Party in this House. Men, I do not mind being attacked. The only thing that I resented was that that attack was not the truth. One of the members of the House, whose name I shall not mention, took the radio and made public addresses in which he misconstrued the facts, in which he charged me with voting a certain way on certain bills when down deep in his heart he knew that I did not vote that way on those bills. I resented that, because I would not play the game that way. I believe if a man voted "yes" on a bill that his opponent may criticize him for that vote and rake him over the coals, but I do not think he can go far in life if when a man votes "yes" and you know he voted "yes" that you tell the people that he voted "no." That I object to, for that I criticize. That I find fault with but from the members of the Democratic majority I have received fair treatment, I have received fair treatment from the majority leader of this House, and I have no fault to find in that respect. I shall leave the Legislature with a great deal of thanks to the many members I have met. I have come in contact with people from all over the State. I have seen them come and go here. I have watched many a man.

I want to make one other observation and I will close. When I first became a member of this House in 1925, whenever a member arose on the floor of this House to endeavor to refute the sincerity or honesty of any man directly or indirectly by the most remote innuendo, even his own friends have deplored that fact. In this House unfortunately we have engaged in personalities. I may have been guilty of that offense myself. If I have I apologize for having been guilty of that offense, but we ought not to show animus, because after all life is but a short span, the Almighty gives us but a short life in this great world of ours. We ought to try and fight our battles without imputing false or improper motives to our fellow men. You may be wrong, but if you think that you are right, then you have the right to fight for it. I believe that when a man is elected by a particular party he ought to stick to that party, because the party is bigger than any man who has ever lived. If the Republican Caucus wanted me to vote a certain way although I believed them to be wrong, I also believe that the Caucus is bigger than the party, because the principle of our government, down to and including the lowest of an organization up to the President of the United States—this government of ours is a party government and the party is bigger than any man within it. You have the right to stick by your party. As I leave here, I merely want to say to you that I have no personal bitterness, no personal animosity. We should not entertain bitterness or animosity toward a man because he expresses his convictions, and we should not attack the leader of either the majority or the minority because he voices the feelings of his party. We should realize that he speaks those things of which his party wants him to speak.

I close by saying to you that I leave with no hard feelings toward any man of the Democratic Party or any man of the Republican Party and I hope none of you think ill of me.

I am leaving here tonight, as I have said, with no bitterness towards a single man, because down deep in my heart I bear no animosity or bitterness toward any man living. I feel that all men have a right to think and speak as they believe. I leave tonight, after eleven years of service in this Legislature, with the feeling that during those eleven years I have battled and battled hard. Always when you battle try to battle fairly and squarely.

I leave you with this thought: God willing, whether the next House be a Democratic House or whether it be a Republican House, let us dedicate ourselves to the proposition that there will be no indulging in personalities, that we will be on a common ground, that we will fight our battles, that we will win or lose with a smile, and when we walk out of that door we are just again fellow men.

Once more, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I say to you all God speed. I am going back to Philadelphia. I hope to come up here during the Legislative sessions. I will not come here as a member. I just want to make one observation and then I will close.

Eleven years ago I succeeded Jefferson W. Smith, an old man in his sixties. I was the leader of the thirteenth ward in this primary and I was permitted to select my successor, and I want to say to the members of the House that the man whom I select to succeed me and whom I hope will win is the man whose place I took eleven years ago and that is that fine and honorable man, Jefferson W. Smith.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I thank you and I hope and trust that you will consider that I have not tried to lecture you improperly but that you will take it as coming right down deep from my heart. Au Revoir.

RESIGNATION OF HON. MORTON WITKIN

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, in order that the record may be straight, I now present to you my resignation as Representative of the Eighth Legislative District of the City of Philadelphia to take effect at the close of this day's session.

The SPEAKER. The Chair accepts with regret the resignation of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin.

The resignation will be noted in the Journal and printed in the Legislative Journal.

August 6, 1936.

Honorable Roy E. Furman,
Speaker of the House of Representatives,
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

Dear Mr. Speaker:

I hereby tender my resignation as a member of the House of Representatives from the Eighth Legislative District of the City of Philadelphia, to take effect at the close of this day's Session.

Respectfully submitted,

MORTON WITKIN.

Mr. MASON. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the Republican delegation of the House has given to me the most difficult task in my legislative career, that of saying goodbye to Mort. I well recall just two years ago, January of 1935, when we as members of the Republican minority, gathered in our first caucus to determine upon whom we should place the mantle of floor leader. We realized that this man must have certain qualifications, that he must be trained in legislative procedure, must be capable, must be aggressive, must be honest and above all, that man's word must be his bond. And we turned to Morton Witkin of Philadelphia, and he accepted the thankless task that had been offered to him by us.

The records of the regular session of 1935 and of this Special Session now closing show how well Mr. Witkin filled that task that we had given to him, and his record in prior years since 1925 shows full well what type of representative he has been, and how well and earnestly he has striven in these legislative halls. Some of the newer members of the House perhaps are not thoroughly imbued with the legislative traditions of this chamber but we who in point of time are older men know full well that the very walls of this House re-echo with the memories of the tasks and refresh the memories of members on both sides of the House and above all the prayers that were offered, and we who are lucky enough to be able to tread these legislative halls again will refresh our memories of the various associations we have had.

Yes, in 1937, when the Speaker's gavel calls the House to order, there will be the shadowy picture of the former Speaker standing above you, and from the very walls themselves and at the various seats you will see in your own imagination and in your own memory men who have returned to private life still standing there as they stood before, and the legislative battles, the interrogations, the speeches, question of personal privilege will all bring back those battles and interrogations as of other days.

Mort, you are leaving us, we are not leaving you. Were it within our power, we would not permit you to leave the legislative halls, we would be selfish enough to try to keep you here, so that we would have the benefit of your friendship, your capability and your leadership, but we know full well that you must go on to higher things. There is only one thing that we want to be certain of, that you will retain in your mind and in your heart of legislative memories, even though you may be miles away from these halls, and that the various names of each and every one of our colleagues will always be fresh before you, and that their friendship for you will always be remembered by you.

There is little else that I can say, but speaking for the group that are around me now, the group that have fought with you and stood back of you through all these years, from your oldest friend, your most sincere critic and admirer, Arnold Blumberg, to the newest Republican member of the House, let me say this, good luck and God speed you to a long, successful and happy career.

Mr. FORREST. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, addressing my few remarks to the Republican floor leader and speaking on behalf of our members, I do not arise to sing a swan song, for I dare say, Mort, that this moment opens the doors of greater opportunity. Nor do I stand here like Mark Anthony, "I come not to bury you but to praise you," because your deeds will outlive any words that I may be able to utter. Nor do I come to philosophize, because, as well may be said, "Well done, thou good and faithful servant." I know that that is not your desire. I rise merely to express a thought in which words are inadequate and human voices are inarticulate to express the profound feeling of gratitude of the members of this House for the service that you have performed for the Republican Party, yes, to the people of Pennsylvania, during these last eleven years which you have spent in these halls.

I bespeak, I dare say, the sentiment of every member of this House when I say that your leadership has been most invaluable during a most trying time. You are to be complimented upon your tolerance and your patience in helping us and in aiding us in our problems which we have met in these sessions. I dare say that all of us will say that your frankness and honesty has not been surpassed except by your impeccable good faith which I know you hold so dearly and on occasions I know that you have sacrificed and jeopardized your political advantage to hold that honesty.

Therefore, on behalf of this group of the Republican Party I present to you this small token, which in an humble expresses our esteem, and may God give you speed.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, you have been most indulgent, and I am frank to say, that I do not often get sentimental or emotional, and I do not often lose the ability to use words, but, believe me, when I say to you that my heart is too filled to be able to make any extended thanks. However, I say to my Republican colleagues that from the bottom of my heart I thank you, I love you, for this kind momento. There is no gift that you could have selected by the searching of the furthermost recesses of your heart, which would be more acceptable than the gift you have given me, to wit, the signature of each and every member of the Republican Party, of your confidence and trust in me, and I only hope as life goes on I shall be able to continue to so conduct myself as to have merited the confidences which by this gift you have given to me. I thank you.

RESOLUTION

THANKS AND CONGRATULATIONS EXTENDED TO HON. MORTON WITKIN

Mr. CLIFF S. PATTERSON offered a resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, August 6, 1936.

There is a certain fellowship engendered through association as members of a common organization or body, which even the most acrimonious of differences cannot destroy. This is indeed true of membership in the House of Representatives of this Commonwealth, divided as it is between the major political parties.

Our esteemed comrade, "Mort" Witkin, has tendered his resignation as a member of this House. It is with sincere sorrow that we bid him goodbye. Some of us have at times considered him a thorn in our sides, but we hate to see him go.

Resolved, That a vote of thanks be given to Mr. Witkin for his long and faithful service as a member of the General Assembly, together with the hearty wishes of his fellow-members for long continued success and usefulness both in public and private life. We bid him adieu and God-speed.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be transmitted by the Chief Clerk to the Honorable Morton Witkin.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I listened with a great deal of attention to the delightful and inspirational speech of the minority floor leader, and I think that in his remarks he has exposed a hitherto unrevealed side of his life, that while at times we frankly confess on this side of the House his keen logic, his withering interrogations, his rapier-like satire has on many occasions burned us up a bit, but during it all many of us felt that beneath the rough exterior there beats a heart as human and as sympathetic as any heart in the land. The warm red blood of the race which he represents flowing and comingling with the life currents of other peoples has in all of the world produced men to stir with quickening speech, to thrill with ecstatic song, to die with superb bearing, to live for their families, to have faith in their friends, and, through it all, to wear a smile that carries sunshine and warmth wherever it beams. This is the race from which Mort Witkin has sprung and eminently does he illustrate its noblest traits. I know of no man to whom I could point as a truer example of real American manhood, possessing, as he does, a standard of honesty and decency that no ambition could cause him to violate. I have always been impressed with his persistence and his consistent encouragement that is essentially of the common soldier in the army that he lead on the other side.

We are told that Sir Christopher Wren built St. Paul's Cathedral, and also Michael Angelo built St. Peter's, but we hear nothing of the common soldiers, the common workmen, who plotted their weary way with pick and shovel. History heralds the proud admiral who wins the sea fight, but we hear nothing of the men who manned the blood soaked decks of the battleships. Without them victory would have been impossible. We hear stories and sing the praises of generals with their gleaming swords and shining spurs, but we hear nothing of the common soldier knee deep in the mud of the trenches. No historian emblazons his name on the pages of history, but in simple devotion to duty he plays his part and makes victory possible.

I have always admired Mort Witkin because he has never said that he knew it all, he has never said that he himself was the cause of the success that the minority party in this House has had. He has always acknowledged the splendid cooperation of the men in that great little band that he has on the other side. I would like to think of what Bob Ingersoll, a contemporary of Abe Lincoln, said on the occasion of the death of his brother. Bob had an undying affection for his brother, and when he died he delivered a splendid eulogy at the graveside. Here is what he said in part: "He added to the sum of human joy, and if everyone for whom he had done some loving service were to place a blossom on his grave he would sleep tonight beneath a wilderness of flowers."

We can paraphrase that and make it applicable here by saying here that if everyone for whom Mort Witkin had done some loving service were to attend an informal testimonial such as this is, there is not a building in the State of Pennsylvania that would be adequate to accommodate the crowd. On many occasions we sat here, and many times we felt that we were bested in argument because of the keen logic, the withering interrogation of the man who leaves the forces on the other side. But with it all, we always had for him a great deal of admiration and respect. His manner of handling himself on the floor and on his feet won our love, compelled our respect and challenged our admiration. I would like to think of what the late Speaker said about the House of Representatives. You recall that in the last day of the regular session, in a setting not unlike this, and about the time, that the late Speaker got up there and said, "I like to look upon the General Assembly as a sort of mirror, a kind of screen, in which is reflected the entire life of the State of Pennsylvania. Here we get every idea and every ideal of the great Commonwealth that is represented here in two hundred and eight House members. And here is where we come, and in a democratic, peaceful way we fight it out." And then, on the last day, notwithstanding that we feel sometimes, when the battle is hot, that many of us are going to yield to the gladitorial urge within us, but on the last day there is always that pang of sorrow, that feeling of regret. We are glad to say this morning that that is the feeling we have had for Mort Witkin. I know that I am expressing the sentiment of the people on this side of the House, the majority party, when I say to this gentleman that we wish him God speed. We know that with his splendid fighting spirit, his great knowledge of government, his keen desire to get ahead, that is going to carry him far in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in politics.

In closing I wish to say just this, that I think of the old passage, "Seest thou a man diligent in his business, he shall stand before kings," which is an adequate description of Mort Witkin. We wish him God speed and many years of health and of happiness.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I feel that I should say a few words relative to the gentleman from Philadelphia who is departing from our midst. I have been tremendously touched by the fact that the eleven years of his service in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania should end in such a setting as this, but I am also tremendously touched by the fact that the gentleman from Philadelphia goes with the sincere appreciation, not only of the majority membership of this House, but of the Democratic Administration. I dare say that there is no man in the entire Republican Assembly either in this House or in the Senate, who is held in higher esteem by the Democratic Administration than the gentleman from Philadelphia. Our dealings with him have been on the highest plane, consistent with the representation of the Democratic Party and the representation of the Republican Party, and when we felt the necessity of sometimes trying to ameliorate a recalcitrant Senate, it was to the gentleman from Philadelphia, that the leadership of this House, and the Administration appealed. I say that when the gentleman from Philadelphia leaves this House for further service in the Commonwealth, in the County of Philadelphia and in the Nation, he bears with him the sincere respect, and the honest admiration of the Democratic Administration of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was unanimously adopted.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I cannot help but rise to say this, that one had a right to expect glowing words and tribute from the Republican Party, being a member of that party, but to have such a resolution introduced by the Democratic Party, my opponents, to me goes down with me to the day I die. Believe me when I say to you,—and put this on record,—that tears come to my eyes because I know of no finer tribute that could come from my opponents than that the son of Russian immigrants who came to this country, should have been permitted to achieve the honor of both parties of this House.

NOTIFICATION THAT SENATE IS READY TO ADJOURN SINE DIE

The Committee on the part of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate is ready to adjourn sine die at 12:00 o'clock noon this day.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the Committee on the part of the Senate.

RESOLUTION

HONORARY LIFE MEMBERSHIP TENDERED TO HON. JOHN M. FLYNN

Mr. BLUMBERG offered a resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, August 6, 1936.

The dean of this House is serving his last term as the representative of his district. Elected first in 1902, the Honorable John M. Flynn was re-elected for each succeeding term by the voters of Elk County. He has served in this House continuously for a period of thirty-four years, a record in which any man may take pride, and one which, so far as is known, has not been equalled or excelled in the history of Pennsylvania.

The same acumen which made him a successful business man, likewise made him an influential legislator. He is a man known, respected and loved throughout this Commonwealth, an outstanding political figure, a real statesman.

It is with heartfelt regret that we, who, through association as members of the House of Representatives, have profited by his seasoned experience and kindly guidance, contemplate his absence from these halls during future legislative sessions. None of us, as legislators, and but few of us as individuals, remember a time when "Jack" Flynn was not an important member of this body; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Honorable John M. Flynn be tendered an honorary life membership in the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, with all rights and privileges, save only such as are reserved to elected members by the Constitution and laws of this Commonwealth and by the rules of this House; and be it further

Resolved, That we, who have served with Mr. Flynn through the many legislative days of the current term, hereby express our sorrow and sense of loss over his retirement, but at the same time, rejoice with him in the well-earned rest from the exacting duties of public office. We wish him continued health and happiness, and assure him that our respect and devotion shall be his always; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to Mr. Flynn by the Chief Clerk of this House.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have been given the task of saying something in behalf of this resolution at a time when it is extremely difficult for me to find words to say what I would like to say, in view of many speeches that have been made the flowing oratory and the well turned phrases expressing the opinions of the members of the House as to those who are leaving our ranks at this time.

There are other men who are departing from our midst after a number of years of service, and I know that it is no feeling of disregard of the splendid service that they have given to the Commonwealth in their time here that something has not been added to the proceedings this evening, that we might say Au Revoir to them in the same terms, but when a man has served for thirty-four years, as Jack Flynn has served, and when his contribution to the affairs of the House, when his contribution to the people of Pennsylvania—whether we have agreed always with his policies or not— have been of the character of those of Jack Flynn, it seems but fitting that this House should adpot a resolution of this kind and express to him not only our appreciation but what must be the wishes of the people of the Pennsylvania, and our well wishes for a continued, happy, prosperous and well being future.

A number of the members of this House have provided a fund, with which will be purchased a suitable gift to be presented to Mr. Flynn to mark his service, in order that he may carry away with him something that he can keep through the rest of his life as a memory of the associations here and of the good fellowship that has existed. Good fellowship, after all, and the friendship we have made are the only rewards we can have for the time that we spend here. I know that each and every one of you tonight, as you have expressed your opinions of my colleague, to whom I am deeply grateful for the words that he spoke in reference to me—I know that each and every one of you too, as you have met your colleagues and associates here, whether they be on the one side or the other, will carry away with you a memory, not of the battles we have had, not any of the bitternesses of which my colleague spoke, but that you will carry throughout the rest of your life something undefinable, something you cannot exactly tell, something that you cannot exactly put into words, but something that will always draw you closer, and something, as you meet each other, or as you hear something about your former colleagues, will have for you a peculiar significance, that will reach inside of you and will not be superficial.

So Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I want to second the resolution tonight. Jack Flynn stands out as a sterling citizen. Jack Flynn has contributed much to the work of this House in the years that I have been here. I have many times disagreed with him but I have respected his opinions, I have felt that it was solid, I have felt that it was tinctured with the judgement that comes from years of experience. I have felt that he has fought for those things which he believed to be right and those things which he believed to be for the best interests of the people of Pennsylvania. So, whether we be Republicans or Democrats, whether we believe in the theories of government that he has endeavored to put into practice and endeavored to write into the statute books of Pennsylvania, whether we agree with him or not, I think we all can tonight wish him well. We can all say that we regret that we cannot all have the same opinions here, for, after all in this melting pot of ideas of men called from sixty-seven different counties in the State, with their differing problems, out of that melting pot come the laws that govern this great Commonwealth and have made it great; that have developed its resources; that have developed its farms; that have developed its industries. So, whether we agree with him or not, we can feel that the advantage of the people in having that difference of opinion, if it be an honest opinion, can be bent only for the best interests of the Commonwealth.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was unanimously adopted.

Resolved, That the thanks of the Members of the House of Representatives be extended to the Honorable Marshall L. Shepard for his services as Chaplain of the House during this Extraordinary Session.

THANKING REV. OSCAR F. R. TREDER

Mr. SHEPARD offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, August 6, 1936.

The daily invocation of Divine blessing and guidance is a matter of great comfort and inspiration to the Members of the General Assembly. Communion with our Maker and Redeemer, always a solemn ceremony, may be made an added joy in the leadership of a saintly man and by an able delivery.

During the present Special Session, it has been our pleasure and privilege to be frequently led in prayer by our estimable brother, Rev. Oscar F. R. Treder, Rector of St. James Episcopal Church in Bedford; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives tender a vote of thanks to Rev. Treder for the many times he has offered the prayers of this House; and be it further Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be forwarded by the Chief Clerk to Rev. Treder at Bedford.

THANKING OFFICERS AND EMPLOYES OF HOUSE

Mr. NOTHNAGLE offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, August 6, 1936.

Resolved, That the thanks of the Members of the House of Representatives be tendered to all the officers and employes of the House, for the efficient and courteous manner in which they attended to the duties of their respective positions during this Extraordinary Sesson of 1936.

THANKING PRESS

Mr. BALDI offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, August 6, 1936.

Resolved, That the thanks of the members of the House of Representatives be extended to the representatives of the Press, for the fair and impartial manner in which they reported the proceedings of this Extraordinary Session of 1936.

THANKING CHIEF CLERK WILLIAM P. GALLAGHER

Mr. BURKE offered a resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, August 6, 1936.

Resolved, That the thanks of the Members of the House of Representatives be extended to William P. Gallagher, the Chief Clerk, for the courteous, able and efficient manner in which he attended to the duties of his office, and for the many favors which he extended to the members of the House during this Extraordinary Session of 1936.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, as this occasion progresses, it has become exceedingly difficult for anyone speaking to use the appropriate expressions. I know my repertoire has been exhausted for the last half hour. In carrying out the precedent of extending our congratulations and thanks and paying our tribute to the various officers of this House, I think we are sometimes prone to be a little superficial, and the fact that we are carrying out the custom probably induces a lack of generosity. But on this occasion I wish to dispel from your mind any lack of generosity that may exist on my part. I feel in presenting this resolution that I am participating in the honor which we are offering to Mr. Gallagher. I know that there is no one in this House who appreciates more the fine store of experience that he has always left at the disposal of all of the members. He possesses the highest virtue that any man may possess, that of affability, and it was this affability that lent warmth to some of the sessions we have had in this House, and I feel honored in singing my swan song in this House, that the subject of my words is a man who is my real friend.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I hesitate to arise a second time, but I do feel that we ought not to permit the passing of this resolution without saying something from the Republican side for the splendid courtesies, the wonderful cooperation, and the genial good will of the Chief Clerk of this House. We have been received with the greatest of courtesy by him. Our requests have been promptly filled. I have seen no occasion when there was any difference made by him as between any members of the House, and I am sure that the Republican members of this House concur wholeheartedly in this resolution and express to him our deep appreciation for the service that he has rendered.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I want to add my sincere appreciation for the service which I have received from the Chief Clerk. I find that he is ever-willing to help and that he has been very kind and patient with me at all times. I certainly want to join with the majority and the minority parties in thanking him for this service.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was unanimously adopted.

THANKING DEMOCRATIC FLOOR LEADER

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in offering this resolution, the remarks that I made a few moments ago govern, and I shall not repeat them, but they refer to the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, and I ask unanimous consideration of this resolution at this time.

The resolution was twice read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, August 6, 1936.

Resolved, that this House commend and congratulate the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, for his intelligent, able and forceful labors as the majority floor leader in this chamber during the session now closing, and expresses its appreciation of the service he has rendered through his untiring efforts in the interest of legislation for the public welfare.

THANKING DEPUTY SECRETARY OF COMMONWEALTH

Mr. ALEXANDER offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, August 6, 1936.

The arduous and exacting duties of a State legislator are often simplified and lightened by the helpfulness and cooperation of attaches of the administrative department of the State government, upon whom we must frequently depend for information, and from whom we are often glad to accept other services helpful in the furtherance of the legislative business.

Among those who have been especially helpful during the present protracted summer session of the General Assembly, and who has spared himself neither time nor effort in his willingness and cheerfulness in receiving and serving the members of this body, is the genial deputy secretary of the Commonwealth, Mr. J. Warren Mickle, of Bedford County; therefore be it

Resolved, That the members of the House of Representatives hereby tender their respects and thanks to Mr. Mickle for his cooperation and real assistance in handling the many difficult matters that have been before this House; and be it further

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread on the minutes and a copy thereof be transmitted to Mr. Mickle by the Chief Clerk of the House.

The SPEAKER. The Chair now turns over the gavel to the Chief Clerk.

CHIEF CLERK (William P. Gallagher) in the Chair.

THANKS EXTENDED TO THE SPEAKER

Mr. ANDREWS offered a resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, August 6, 1936.

The fair and impartial administration of the business of this House during the special session, the decorum which was preserved under most trying conditions, justified the wisdom of its choice of a Speaker.

A session conspicuous for its spirit of partisanship, for its honest divergence of views, for its adventurous spirit leading into new legislative paths, called for high qualities of leadership in the office of Speaker. Under these trying difficulties, his voice silenced no rightful protest, nor stilled a voice raised in the cause of justice. He maintained at all times the dignity of this House, and that decorum which is the right of the legislative body of a sovereign state to expect, therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives extend to its Speaker, the Honorable Roy E. Furman, its sincere thanks for his courtesy, fairness and consideration, as well as its congratulations on the successful administration of the office of Speaker during this special session of the General Assembly;

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the Honorable E. Furman by the Chief Clerk of this House.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Chief Clerk, I have heard upon occasions of those who furnished dinner to weary legislators, and I am wondering why it has not occurred to some of them to order breakfast. After a tempestuous voyage, Mr. Chief Clerk, we have arrived at this quiet haven, and soon I think it will be twelve o'clock, Thursday.

I have been given the happy portion of having a limited part in these proceedings. I wonder why we do not hold these lodges of sorrow and sessions of praise at more frequent intervals during our legislative careers. The part given me, just one part in this ceremony, Mr. Chief Clerk, was given I presume on the theory that my affections and appreciations are only suitable of engrossing one subject, but I assure you, you are wrong. I can entertain all of the cordial feelings and relations for the minority leaders which all of the others have expressed. I think if there are any two men in the House who have understood each other, it has been the minority leader and myself. I have always respected him and I have never tried to push him in a corner, and I have always appreciated the fact that he did not try to push me.

Mr. Chairman, when we fought it out at this special session, there were some people who were inclined to believe or to wonder whether we had placed a great head or at least a mature head on a pair of Greene County shoulders. As the days have gone by we have found that it has been a great head and a mature head, upon a pair of Greene County shoulders. It has been my fortune to serve in this House under three Speakers, under the late Grover Talbot, under the late Wilson Sarig and under our present Speaker, and I am proud to say that during that procession I have seen the standard maintained as set by the first Speaker, under whom I served, Grover Talbot. The tradition runs to this effect, that when a man, a member of a party, becomes the Speaker, he ceases to become a factionalist and becomes a parliamentarian, and that his duties cease to run solely to one side of the House, but it is his business to see that both sides of the House are accorded fair and equal treatment.

Mr. Chairman, I think one of the proudest pages in the history of legislatures in recent days is the fact that our Speaker, in times that threatened tempests and riots, stood steadfast, and that the House of Representatives of the State of Pennsylvania, unterrified by any threat, maintained order stands to its credit throughout the confines of this State. And for that stand, for that steadfast dignity, that stand which appreciated the dignity of this House, we have primarily our Speaker to thank, in that in maintaining order he showed a high range of statesmanship. I could say other things about our Speaker and about all of these members of the House, our majority leader, all of the ones that I hold in affection. You know I sometimes say that I stand on the floor of this Huse and get more attention and less votes than any member I ever saw, but I do, in passing to the desk, Mr. Chief Clerk, this resolution, want to pay my tribute not only to the gentlemen on this side of the House, who refused me as an outsider in the beginning of this session, gradually admitted me to the fold, and finally, as the majority leader has said, at the tail end of a session, picked me out, and to the members on that side of the House, with whom I have maintained the most cordial relations, on the basis concerning which the minority leader spoke, that the plighted work stands for the plighted word.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Chief Clerk and members of the House, if there is one man in this House whom I should not like and about whom I should not say anything worth while, it is the Speaker of the House. He is the only man who in my political career has succeeded in licking me. I was a candidate against him and he won. Therefore, I don't know why I should be asked to say anything nice about him. However, we win or we lose. You all know that when I ran against him I didn't have much hope of winning. I want to say this about the Speaker of the House, I want him to know and I want the House to know that if I did not mean what I am about to say I would not say it, I wouldn't say it because we are in the closing days of the session, and because we are then handing out flattering remarks to one another. I want to say about Roy Furman, the Speaker of the House, in my opinion he is a typical young American, who has come to the floor of this House and who has won his spurs and achieved the Speakership of this House by reason of his ability to display those qualities of leadership that he possesses. During the unfortunate illness last session of the Legislature of Representative Frank Ruth it came to Roy Furman to act as majority floor leader of this House. I want to say that, being the minority leader at the time, I was always able to deal with him with my cards upon the table. He was frank, he was honest, he never resorted to trickery. He was constantly the leader on an honest and fair basis. He won the respect not only of the Democratic membership of this House, but he always maintained and kept the respect of the Republican membership of this House. We knew he was a leader, and he was and is a young man. I predict for him a great future. I am frank to say I hope that as a member of the Democratic Party he never presides as Speaker over this House. I cannot but hope that the Republican Party shall elect the Speaker. I do say this of him, he has been a fair Speaker. He has, as I said before, ruled against us on many an occasion but he has always afforded us recognition. He has never stifled us, he has been fair and honest in his deliberations. I want to re-echo the remarks made by the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, that when the time came in this House that people were marching upon the Capitol, and when it appeared that unruly demonstrations were to govern this branch of the Legislature, it was his fortitude, it was his courage, it was his sense of that which was right and honest, that maintained order in this hall of this Legislature, and for that maintenance of order and decorum in this hall, if he had never done anything else, he would be entitled to our everlasting thanks and gratitude.

I want to say in conclusion to you, Roy Furman, that the Republican membership of the House join with your Democratic colleagues of the House in wishing you in the life that lies before you the greatest amount of joy, the greatest amount of happiness, and if I may be permitted to use the words of the late John M. Patterson, one of the leading judges of the Common Pleas Court of Philadelphia County, "May the darkest shadow that shall ever cross your path or the path of any of your loved ones be that of a dancing sunbeam."

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Chief Clerk and members of the House, we of the majority are deeply appreciative of the opportunity of paying this tribute to our Speaker. It is very gratifying at the close of a session to feel that the selection of a Speaker at the beginning of a session was justified, and I feel, as we close this session that the Democratic majority can get renewed inspiration from its choice of Roy Furman as the Speaker of this House of Representatives.

The problems that confront a Speaker at a special session are entirely different from those with which a Speaker is confronted in a general or regular session. In a general session the work gradually builds up, but in this extraordinary session, without any preparation, without any great amount of indication that he would be chosen to lead this House of Representatives, Roy Furman was immediately thrown into the cauldron of political and economic differences. He was immediately thrown into what has proven to be one of the most disputatious sessions that the General Assembly has ever seen. He was immediately thrown into a session of the Assembly that was confronted with grave social, economic and tax probems, and he was thrown into a session that was represented by an able and militant minority. He was thrown into a session that we are seeing out today, with a feeling that we have accomplished something for ourselves and for the people of the Commonwealth, and that accomplishment in no small degree is due to the honesty of effort and the integrity of thought, and to the endurance and willingness to work of our Speaker, Roy Furman. I must differ with the gentleman from Philadelphia. I say that the greatest of service that we members of this next General Assembly could give to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania would be to re-elect to the Speakership of this House the gentleman from Greene.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Chief Clerk and members of the House, it is with great pleasure that I join in praising the fairness of our Speaker, Roy Furman, with possibly one exception, which I fully discussed on this floor shortly thereafter, when, under very great provocation he did not grant me recognition. On all other occasions I have found him ever-ready to recognize me, even though he well knew that I was trying to throw a monkey wrench into the plans of the party that he represents. Only yesterday he gave an excellent example of his fairness when under considerable difficulty I was attempting to interrogate a member of the majority to make a point clear, and another member of the majority moved the previous question. The Speaker very graciously stated that if he would permit the interrogation to be continued a short time he felt that the previous question would not be necessary, and I believe that events justified the Speaker's action. He showed at that time and on many other occasions his desire to be absolutely fair, and that, after all, is the first duty of a presiding officer, and as the spokesman of a minority of one at this special session, I can whole heartedly join in the tributes which have been paid to our Speaker by the representatives of the majority and minority parties in this House.

Mr. SHEPARD. Mr. Chief Clerk and members of the House, I am happy that I woke up in time to add my tribute of respect and appreciation of the fine qualities that are represented in our Speaker, Roy Furman. I have often prayed for him, mentioned his name, because I felt that he needed it. A young man facing such a gigantic task to preside over this General Assembly has certainly needed divine guidance and I think that my prayers have been answered, when we consider the success that he has achieved. I bid him God speed and I hope that he shall return, and, God willing, I hope to return too, and bring my humble colleagues along with me here. We have fought in this House, and sometimes we have felt like we were members of the minority group, but nevertheless, Roy Furman has been fair to everybody in this House, and I hope that I shall have the privilege of voting for him at the next session as a member of the majority group. In saying goodbye to my good friend also, Mr. Morton Witkin, I hope that he shall have four years of successful administration in the County Commissioners' office, and as for his party I hope that it shall continue to be the minority party in this House.

Mr. WEISS. Mr. Chief Clerk and members of the House, I am happy as one of the young members to be a part of the program in honoring our Speaker. Enough has been said, in glowing terms about the wonderful qualities of his leadership as Speaker. I got to know him intimately while serving on the Local Government Commission, and I got to admire his fine, modest demeanor, and I can pay him no finer tribute than to say that he is an humble protege of the Honorable Wilson G. Sarig, late Speaker of this House. Elected by the Democratic majority of this House as one of the youngest Speakers in the history of this Commonwealth, he has displayed wisdom and keen deliberation in many important decisions that came before this body at this special session, and I say that his fair, impartial and unbiased judgment has been upheld by the admiration by the minority party of this House. In fact I must say that the minority party, with their enthusiastic cooperation in having and fostering this testimonial for our Speaker speaks volumes for the esteem in which he is held by that group. I can say that during the last weeks of this session, when thousands of the unemployed jammed the corridors of the Senate and the House, we in the House not only admired him, but the hundreds of visitors throughout the entire Commonwealth, who were spectators here, commented with admiration and respect upon the wonderful and judicious manner in which he upheld, not only order and decorum, but discipline in the House, and upheld the dignity of this body, and I might say that the more dignified Senate might take a leaf out of his book.

I want to say in closing, Roy Furman, this entire membership of this House is proud of you, and I say this to you in the presence of your charming wife and your sister and your many friends from Greene County, who will long remember this occasion.

I say, on behalf of the entire membership of this House, it gives me a distinct pleasure to give you a few tokens of our appreciation and esteem. I must say, as far as the selection of this gift is concerned I must yield and admit the admirable taste of the charming young lady from Philadelphia, Miss Anna Brancato, a member of this House. First, I want to give to Roy a wonderful timepiece for his wrist. I hope as time and the years go on it will enable him to observe, when the next session convenes, twelve o'clock, and we hope that that means twelve o'clock.

We also hope that this beautiful Westminister chimes, you will take home, I know your wife will enjoy it, and we hope that during the off session of the Legislature you will stick around the house with your family and hear this clock chime.

The SPEAKER. Members of the House, I want to say to you that I certainly appreciate what has been said and done here tonight for me. It is hard for me to speak, I can assure you.

This is one of the happiest occasions of my life, as was the fact that I was elected to the Speakership. I feel that it is the highest honor that the House of Representatives can bestow upon one of its members, and I appreciate the honor deeply. Whatever success may have come to me during this special session, I owe to the cooperation and help of the membership of this House and the employes of this House. It is impossible for one person to carry on any great work without assistance and help. I want to say, and I sincerely mean it, that the work of this House could not have been carried on in the manner in which it was if the membership had not been loyal to their duties and stayed here through the many long weeks attending to their particular duties.

I appreciate these tokens that you have given to me tonight, and as Mr. Weiss has said they will be very valuable to me because I now realize that you people knew I needed something to tell the time, or that I was unable to tell the time. I can assure you that within a few months I will be able to correctly know when the hour of twelve or nine or whatever time it may be, has arrived.

I want to thank the membership for their splendid cooperation during this session. I feel that I owe a vote of thanks to each and every member for what they have done, their diligence in their work, and I want to wish you happiness and success in your lives. I thank you.

PRESENTATION TO MRS. ROY E. FURMAN

Miss BRANCATO. Mr. Chief Clerk and members of the House, I consider it a distinct pleasure to have been selected to present these beautiful flowers to the real Speaker of the House of Furman, Mrs. Furman, and in behalf of the membership of this House I present you with these beautiful flowers.

The SPEAKER (Roy E. Furman) in the Chair.

PRESENTATION TO MISS ANNA M. BRANCATO

Mr. HAGERTY. Mr. Speaker, Mr. Franklin Moore has just sent an official notice to state that breakfast is ready at the Penn-Harris.

However, Mr. Speaker and fellow members, it gives me great pleasure and I deem it a privilege to be selected by my colleagues to present a small token of appreciation to one of our illustrious members.

This is in appreciation of her every effort in behalf of the people of Pennsylvania as well as in appreciation of her well known good sportsmanship and all round good fellowship to her colleagues from Philadelphia and the rest of the State.

Miss Brancato, may this small token always remind you of the many happy friendships we have made during our legislative sessions.

Miss BRANCATO. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I want to thank you from the bottom of my heart for the many kindnesses that you have given to me and I am really deeply greatful for everything. I want to say to you Au Revoir but not goodbye.

EXTRAORDINARY SESSION OF 1936

REASONS FOR PARDONS GRANTED BY THE GOVERNOR FROM JANUARY 15, 1935, TO DATE

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, May 4, 1936.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I have the honor to present herewith the reasons for pardons granted by me from January 15, 1935, to date.

GEORGE H. EARLE.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Berry Martin—No. 182
January Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Berry Martin, convicted of second degree murder in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Armstrong County, on March 26, 1927, be commuted from ten years to eight years, expiring on March 26, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1927, the applicant became involved in a quarrel with one Jockey Jones, who had a quarrelsome disposition. Believing Jones was about to draw a gun, the applicant shot and killed him. At the trial, the applicant was unable to prove that the deceased had a gun or that he was attempting to shoot the applicant. The applicant was convicted of murder of the second degree and was sentenced to the Western State Penitentiary for from ten to twenty years.

It appears to us, after careful investigation and from after-discovered evidence, that the deceased had a gun and had attempted to shoot the applicant. If this evidence had been available at the trial the degree of the crime at the greatest would have been voluntary manslaughter. Up to the time the applicant can be released, he will have served over eight years of his minimum sentence. We believe he has been sufficiently punished.

The applicant was never involved in any other trouble. His conduct and employment records during his incarceration have been excellent. The trial judge states: "In view of the fact that this defendant has served more than three-fourths of his minimum sentence and the circumstances surrounding the shooting, I would have no objection to the extension of clemency." The applicant is over fifty-six years of age.

The applicant will be on parole until 1947. Our recommendation is contingent upon his securing legitimate employment.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

CHARLES J. MARGIOTTI,
Attorney General.

PHILIP H. DEWEY,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

GEORGE H. EARLE
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Ernest Raymond Weber—No. 997
January Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Ernest Raymond Weber, convicted of manslaughter, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and G. J. D. of Luzerne County, on May 26, 1930, be commuted from six years to four years, ten months, expiring on March 26, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, when only nineteen years of age, became involved in a quarrel. He punched one of his assailants who fell to the ground and died as a result of a fractured skull sustained in the fall. The applicant pleaded guilty to manslaughter and was sentenced to serve a term of from twelve years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. He has now served almost five years of his sentence. We believe he has been sufficiently punished.

The Honorable Benjamin R. Jones, the Judge who sentenced the applicant, stated to a parole agent, who investigated the case, that he had no objection to the applicant's release and would be willing to give him a chance to reestablish himself and again become a law-abiding citizen. The District Attorney of Luzerne County states: "Under all the circumstances if the members of your Honorable Board believe that the applicant has been sufficiently punished, this office has no objection to the granting of the application." The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary report that the applicant had no previous criminal history and that his institutional record is satisfactory.

The applicant will be on parole until 1942. Our recommendation is contingent upon his securing legitimate employment.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE.
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

CHARLES J. MARGIOTTI,
Attorney General.

In re Application of Clarence E. Heitman—No. 1060
January Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Clarence E. Heitman, convicted of forgery, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Q. S., of Philadelphia County, on December 16, 1929, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant pleaded guilty to several charges of forgery in 1929. He was sentenced to serve a term of from five to ten years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. In 1932, his minimum term was commuted to three years and one month, and on January 19, 1933, he was released on parole. He was never involved in any other trouble. His conduct and employment records during his incarceration were excellent. Since his release on parole his conduct has been exemplary. The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary states: "Recommended for clemency. Although this man is out on parole at the present time, the officials of the institution have kept in close touch with his activities and feel that he is deserving of a pardon from parole."

The applicant has an excellent opportunity to be promoted by the firm which employs him. A pardon will in part remove the stigma of his conviction and will be of material assistance to his advancement.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

CHARLES J. MARGIOTTI,
Attorney General.

PHILIP H. DEWEY,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Bertram L. Succop—No. 1365
January Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Bertram L. Succop, convicted of malfeasance: misdemeanor, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Butler County, on Sept. 15, 1932, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was convicted on several counts of malfeasance. The jury recommended "that the very lightest possible sentence be given." The applicant was sentenced to imprisonment in the Allegheny County Prison for one year. In July, 1933, his sentenced was commuted from one year to five months and twenty days. He was released from the Allegheny County Prison on or about August 1, 1933. The acts which resulted in the applicant's conviction were on the orders of a superior. We believe he was involved in a system sometimes used in the conduct of municipal affairs. There was no proof the applicant directly or indirectly benefited from the misdemeanors. Prior to his conviction he enjoyed an excellent reputation and during his incarceration was a model prisoner. Since his release he has conducted himself in an exemplary manner and has established himself in business. We feel that there is a strong probability that he will not likely again engage in any other activity of a criminal nature.

Major General Edward C. Shannon, Commander of the 28th Division and former Lieutenant Governor of the Commonwealth, appeared before us and recommended the granting of a pardon. General Shannon stated that he had served in the World War with the applicant and commended him highly for his excellent war and service record.

A pardon will in part remove the stigma of the conviction from the applicant and his family, and will be of material assistance to his advancement.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

Secretary of the Commonwealth.

In re Application of Taylor M. Anderson—No. 1404
January Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Taylor M. Anderson, convicted of robbery in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Centre County, on March 2, 1932, be commuted from five years to three years, expiring on March 2, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant and two others held up and robbed the Citizens Building and Loan Association, of Philipsburg, Pennsylvania. Shortly after the commission of the robbery the applicant was captured. He was never involved in any other trouble and always had an excellent reputation. His wife and three children are in urgent need of his support.

Mr. W. M. Osler, of Franklin, Pennsylvania, a former business associate of the applicant appeared before us and stated that he would guarantee employment. Judge Fleming, who sentenced the applicant, states: "Relative to the application of Taylor M. Anderson for a pardon, I beg to say that I am inclined to believed that this man should have clemency extended him. I would concur, therefore, in the application for clemency for this man, believing that he has been sufficiently punished and that the cause of his trouble was his association with Williams, or Martin."

The applicant's conduct and employment records during his incarceration have been excellent. The applicant will be on parole until 1942.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

CHARLES J. MARGIOTTI,

In re Application of John M. Long—No. 1869
January Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of John M. Long, convicted of arson with attempt to defraud insurer, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Butler County, on December 2, 1933, be commuted from two years to one year, three months, expiring on March 2, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1933, the applicant pleaded guilty to arson with attempt to defraud the insurer. He was sentenced to serve a term of from two to twenty years in the Western State Penitentiary. He was never involved in any other trouble. His conduct and employment records during his incarceration have been excellent. We believe he has been sufficiently punished.

The trial district attorney states: "As I stated before I believe he (the applicant) has been sufficiently punished." The Chief of Police of Butler Township, who made the information and arrested the applicant advises us that he believes the applicant has served enough of his sentence and that he will henceforth conduct himself in a law-abiding manner.

We do not believe the applicant should be on parole for twenty years and recommend a pardon should be applied for in two years.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Reid A. Gilbert—No. 2117
January Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Reid A. Gilbert, convicted of aggravated assault and battery in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on April 5, 1932, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

On April 5, 1932, the applicant was convicted of aggravated assault and battery. He was sentenced on the same day to pay a fine of $1.00 and costs, make restitution of $100., and to serve thirty days' imprisonment in the county prison. On April 9, 1932, the sentence was reconsidered and the applicant was sentenced to make restitution of $100., and serve four days in the county prison from time of commitment, the costs and fine being remitted.

At the time of the commission of the crime for which the applicant was convicted, he was a police officer in the City of Philadelphia, and in patroling his beat broke up a group of young men who were gambling. The District Attorney's representative of Philadelphia County appeared before us at the open session and stated that he would recommend a pardon. A letter dated February 26, 1935, addressed to the Secretary of the Board, from the District Attorney's office in Philadelphia, reads as follows:

> "In accordance with the request of the Board of Pardons at its session on February 20, 1935, I am writing to inform you that the District Attorney's Office of this County has no objection to the granting of a pardon to the above named petitioner (the applicant).
> "In this case one Elmer Gallagher was the prosecutor, and it was stated to the Board that Gallagher had been arrested prior to the arrest of the petitioner. I have looked into the case of Gallagher and find that he was charged with larceny and receiving stolen goods, and that on May 31, 1928, he entered a plea of nolle contendere, and was adjudged guilty, and placed on probation for one year. There is nothing in the record in the Gilbert case to show that Gallagher's arrest was brought to the attention of the Court at the time of Gilbert's trial."

After a careful investigation of the facts in the case, there is considerable doubt in our minds as to the applicant's guilt. The applicant was never involved in any other trouble and had a clear record in the police department. The conviction made his dismissal from the police force mandatory and until a pardon is granted an application for reappointment will not be considered.

Gilbert has honorable discharges from the United States Army and from the Civilian Conservation Corps. A pardon will in part remove the stigma of the conviction from the applicant and will be of material assistance to his advancement.

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

In re Application of Jack Chaffee—No. 2118
January Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Jack Chaffee, convicted of burglary and larceny in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Monroe County in December 15, 1931, be commuted from six and one-half years to three and one-half years expiring on June 15, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1931, the applicant pleaded guilty to burglary and larceny, and was sentenced to the Eastern State Penitentiary for six and one-half to thirteen years. The Deputy Warden in charge of the New Eastern State Penitentiary at Graterford states: "His (the applicant's) conduct has been excellent since his transfer to this Institution and he has shown a wonderful spirit in his attitude in helping the discipline of this Institution by his ability in teaching inmate classes in our Educational Department." The district attorney of Monroe County states: "In my judgment the application for clemency in the above case is meritorious. From such information as is available, I believe that the applicant can safely be released from prison." The trial district attorney states: "If his story is believed, and his record if imprisonment as stated, and parole recommended by the prison board, I can see no good reason for opposing same at this time." Judge Samuel E. Shull sentenced the applicant and tells us, "What merits there might be to this application could best be passed upon by those who have had the defendant in charge during his incarceration. His offense occurred at this time we were having an epidemic of burglary and larceny in this community, but I have no knowledge as to whether or not this defendant was involved in anything more than the offense to which he entered a pleas of guilty."

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiery reports to us that the applicant has a satisfactory institutional record and no previous criminal history and recommend consideration. The Supervisor of Paroles also recommends a commutation of sentence.

The applicant will be on parole until 1944. Our recommendation is contingent upon his securing legitimate employment.

In re Application of Alphonso William Puskiung—No. 2123
January Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Alphonso William Puskiung, convicted of robbery in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on October 29, 1931, be commuted from five years to three years, five months expiring on March 29, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1931, the applicant pleaded guilty to holding up and robbing the Regal Shoe Store in Philadelphia. He was sentenced to serve a term of from five to ten years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. At the time of the commission of the offense the applicant was only eighteen years of age. He had never been involved in any other trouble and exhibits none of the traits of a habitual criminal.

In our opinion the applicant has reformed and is a fit subject to again take his place in society. By the time he can be released he will have served approximately three and one-half years of his sentence. We believe he has been sufficiently punished. His conduct and employment records during his incarceration have been excellent.

The applicant will be on parole until 1941. Employment has been assured.

In re Application of Joseph Thomas Casey—No. 2135
January Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Joseph Thomas Casey, convicted of aggravated assault and battery in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on October 21, 1919, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1919 the applicant was convicted of aggravated assault and battery and sentenced to serve a term of three months in the Philadelphia County Prison. The Philadelphia District Attorney's representative appeared before us at the open session and stated that it was his opinion that a pardon should be granted. In a letter dated February 26, addressed to the Secretary of the Board, he states:

"In accordance with the request of the Board of Pardons at its session on February 20, 1935, I am writing to inform you that the District Attorney's Office of Philadelphia County has no objection to the granting of a pardon to the above-named petitioner (the applicant)."

We are of the opinion that the person the applicant struck was the aggressor and that any blows the applicant struck were in self-defense. The applicant was never involved in any other trouble and has an excellent reputation in the community in which he lives.

The applicant is regularly employed but wishes to obtain a license to conduct an employment agency. A pardon will be of material assistance in obtaining a license and will in part remove the stigma of the conviction from the applicant and his family and will be of assistance in the applicant's advancement.

In re Application of Samuel Sugar (Zucchero)—No. 1025 March Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Samuel Sugar (Zucchero), convicted of receiving money without consideration from the proceeds of the earnings of a woman engaged in prostitution, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Crawford County, on November 28, 1930, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In November, 1930, the applicant was convicted of receiving money without consideration from the proceeds of the earnings of a woman engaged in prostitution. He was sentenced to serve a term of from five to ten years in the Western State Penitentiary. The United States Department of Labor has lodged a detainer for deportation at the Western State Penitentiary. The applicant is the son of Italian immigrants and came to this country as a child with his parents. He has not been naturalized and will be deported unless a pardon is granted. He has no friends or relatives in his native country. We believe that deportation would inflict a cruel and unnecessarily harsh punishment. The applicant was never involved in any other serious trouble. He has served approximately one-half of his minimum sentence. We believe he has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied that he is not a habitual criminal.

Legitimate employment has been secured and an excellent home has been provided for the applicant.

Sarver, convicted of robbery with offensive weapon, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Washington County, on April 7, 1930, be commuted from seven years to five years, one month, expiring on May 7, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant pleaded guilty to robbery in 1930. He was sentenced to serve a term of from seven to fourteen years in the Western State Penitentiary. He was never involved in any other trouble. His employment and conduct records during his incarceration have been excellent. We believe he has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied that he is not a habitual crminal. In re Application of Herman Girolami—No. 1118 March Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Herman Girolami, convicted of being armed with offensive weapons to rob, robbery, assault with intent to rob, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on December 9. 1929, be commuted from ten years to five years, five months, expiring on May 9, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was convicted of being armed to rob and conspiracy to assault with intent to rob, in 1929. He was sentenced to serve a term of from ten to twenty years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. One accomplice in the crime was placed on five years' probation, a second accomplice was released after serving twenty-nine months, a third accomplice finished a probationary period of two to four years and was deported, and a fourth accomplice was sentenced to serve a term of from five to ten years and received a commutation of sentence in February, 1934.

The applicant's conduct during his imprisonment has been excellent and he refused to take any part in the recent riots of the New Eastern State Penitentiary at Graterford. The applicant is the only one of a large family who has ever been involved in any trouble. The family enjoys an excellent reputation in the community in which they live. We do not believe the applicant to be a habitual criminal. The Deputy Warden in charge of the New Eastern State Penitentiary at Graterford states, "His (the applicant's) conduct has been excellent in my observation of him and in my opinion, he should be an asset instead of a liability to society should clemency be granted to him."

The applicant will be on parole until 1949. Employment has been assured.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1929, the applicant was sentenced to a term of from two to four years in the Western State Penitentiary for entering a building with intent to steal. In 1930, he escaped but surrendered himself to the authorities within a few days and was sentenced to serve a term of from two to four years for the escape charge. He has served the maximum sentence of the original charge and almost one and one-half years on the escape charge. We believe he has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied that he is not a habitual criminal.

In re Application of Malcolm Baracca—No. 1288
March Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1932, the applicant pleaded guilty to robbery and receiving stolen goods. He was sentenced to serve a term of from two to four years in the Western State Penitentiary. The sentence was commuted to a minimum term of one year and two months and he was released on parole the same month. In April, 1934, while on parole, he was sentenced to serve a sentence of sixty days in the Allegheny County Jail for driving an automobile while intoxicated. Upon his release, he was returned to the Western State Penitentiary to serve the remainder of the unexpired maximum term of the original sentence. By the time he can be released he will have served eight months for the violation of his parole. The assistant district attorney who tried the case on the bill charging him with driving an automobile while intoxicated, states, "In the case of the Commonwealth vs. Malcolm Baracca, who was tried in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Allegheny County in the month of June of this year, on a charge of driving while intoxicated, I beg to state I was the trial assistant in the case, and the evidence was very, very meagre; in fact, I was most surprised when the jury rendered a verdict of guilty. I understand now that at the time of his conviction, he was on parole and he is to be required to serve the balance of the term under the parole. I personally feel that this would be a grave injustice, because the character of the offense of which he was charged and the calibre of evidence produced at the trial certainly would not warrant such a step. I feel this man, if returned to society, would make a good citizen, as he is now married and was leading an exemplary life up until the time of this unfortunate incident. Anything you can do for this man will be personally appreciated by me." The trial judge states, "In view of the circumstances of this particular case, I consider the defendant has been sufficiently punished and that it would be unjust to compel him to serve for upwards of two or three years additionally. The penitentiary authorities inform me that under their rules they have no alternative but to detain him. The only remedy seems to be a pardon. I strongly recommend it." The supervisor of paroles also recommends commutation of sentence. We do not believe the applicant to be a habitual criminal.

The applicant will be on parole until 1937. Employment has been assured.

In re Application of William J. Rock—No. 1347
March Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of William J. Rock, convicted of robbery with offensive weapon, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Washington County, on January 23, 1932, be commuted from five years to three years four months, expiring on May 23, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant pleaded guilty to robbery, being armed with an offensive weapon. He was sentenced to serve a term of from five to ten years in the Western State Penitentiary. By the time he can be released he will have served approximately one-half of his minimum sentence. We feel he has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied that he is not a habitual criminal. The trial district attorney states:

"On May 13, 1933, on the occasion of a former application by the above named defendant, Judge Cummins, now deceased, advised your Board as follows: 'Recommend that above applicant be granted clemency when he has served two years of the minimum term imposed'.

"On September 6, 1934, this office, in advising the Pardon Board as to its position on this application, quoted the above letter of Judge Cummins and stated that we felt that there was merit to the application, that defendant was not likely to again offend, and we believed that the letter of the sentencing judge was entitled to the earnest consideration of the Board, inasmuch as that letter indicated the belief on the part of Judge Cummins that he probably had been a little too severe under the circumstances.

"We are therefore of the opinion that the recommendation of the sentencing judge could be acted upon favorably."

In re Application of Arthur Broughton—No. 1350
March Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Arthur Broughton, convicted of breaking and entering with intent to steal and larceny, in the Court of Fourth Judicial District of Tioga County, on February 24, 1930, be commuted from nine years to five years, three months, expiring on May 24, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1930, the applicant and several others pleaded guilty to several charges of breaking and entering and larceny. The applicant at that time was 19 years of age and was sentenced to serve a term of from nine to thirty years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. One accomplice received a sentence of from six to fifteen years. This sentence was commuted in 1932. Another accomplice received a sentence of from two to five years and he was released on parole in 1932. The crime consisted of stealing a number of chickens. The applicant has served over five years of his minimum sentence. We believe he has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary recommends commutation.

The applicant will be on parole until 1960. Employment has been assured.

In re Application of Chester McCue—No. 1418
March Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was sentenced to the Western State Penitentiary for from two to four years for felonious shooting. He was transferred to the Rockview Farm Prison, from which institution he escaped in the same year. He has served over the maximum term of his original sentence of four years. With the exception of his escape, his employment and conduct records during his incarceration have been excellent. The trial judge states: "After a careful study of this case, I am satisfied that executive clemency should, at this time, be extended to the petitioner (the applicant)". We believe the applicant has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

The applicant will be on parole until 1938. Employment has been assured.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Pasquale Puliti—No. 1511
March Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Pasquale Puliti, convicted of robbery, being armed with an offensive weapon, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on March 2, 1933, be commuted from five years to two years two months, expiring on May 2, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1933, the applicant, when 19 years of age, pleaded guilty to several charges of robbery. He was sentenced to serve a term of from five to ten years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. Because of his youth and his previous good record, he was transferred to the Pennsylvania Industrial School at Huntingdon, in February 1934. The applicant displays no characteristics of a habitual criminal and we believe there is little probability of recidivism.

The applicant will be on parole until 1953. Our recommendation is contingent upon his securing legitimate employment.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

CHARLES J. MARGIOTTI,
Attorney General.

PHILIP H. DEWEY,

The above recommendation is approved:

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Stanley Kolasienski Koloshinski
No. 1520
March Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Stanley Kolasienski Koloshinski, convicted of statutory rape, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Luzerne County, on May 20, 1929, be commuted from seven years six months to five years eleven months, expiring on April 20, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant pleaded guilty to statutory rape in 1929. He was never convicted of any other serious crime. He has served almost six years of his minimum sentence. His conduct and employment records during his incarceration have been excellent. We believe he has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

The applicant will be on parole until 1944. He has sufficient funds to maintain himself for some time after he is released.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

In re Application of Eugene Ehrhart—No. 1533
March Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Eugene Ehrhart, convicted of burglary; receiving stolen goods, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County, on April 22, 1932, be commuted from three and one-half years to three years, expiring on April 22, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1932, the applicant pleaded guilty to burglary and receiving stolen goods. He was sentenced to serve from three and one-half years to seven years in the Western State Penitentiary. We believe he has been sufficiently punished. Our reasons are as follows: (1) The applicant was never involved in any other trouble; (2) His conduct and employment records during his incarceration have been excellent; (3) He will have served by the time he can be released over three years of his minimum sentence. We are satisfied that he is not a habitual criminal.

The trial judge states, "In the matter of application of Eugene Ehrhart for rehearing, I believe it would be advisable to extend clemency at this time. Shortly after being sentenced a child was born to this man and he has now served almost three years of his three and one-half year minimum. I have no doubt that he will return to his family and endeavor to provide for them. The recitation of facts in the petition is substantially correct." The supervisor of paroles recommends a commutation of sentence.

The applicant will be on parole until 1939. Our recommendation is contingent upon his securing legitimate employment.

In re Application of McKinley Nelson—No. 1579
March Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of McKinley Nelson, convicted of voluntary manslaughter, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County, on March 17, 1933, be commuted from three years to two years one month, expiring on April 17, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1933, the applicant pleaded guilty to voluntary manslaughter. He was sentenced to serve from three to six years in the Western State Penitentiary. The report of the resident physician of the penitentiary states that the applicant "is suffering from Multiple Tuberculous abcesses as well as Pulmonary Tuberculosis. There is very little hope for his recovery." The applicant was never involved in any other trouble. The trial judge states: "However, I believe if the defendant (the applicant) is suffering from disease, as he states in his application, that clemency should be extended in view of the fact that the case was not an aggravated one." The assistant district attorney who tried the case states: "I certainly would not oppose the granting of his petition."

March Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1933, the applicant, when only seventeen years of age, pleaded guilty to conspiracy, extortion, and unlawful carrying of firearms. He was sentenced to the Eastern State Penitentiary to serve a term of from four to eight years. In February 1934, he was transferred to the Pennsylvania Industrial School. In re Application of George Lewis—No. 1649
March Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of George Lewis, convicted of violating liquor laws; escape (2 charges), in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Delaware County, on March 20, 1931, December 14, 1931, December 5, 1932, be commuted from three years, six days to two years, five months, expiring on May 5, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1931, the applicant was convicted of violating of liquor laws and was sentenced to serve a term of from one to three years in the Delaware County Prison. He escaped from that institution and was recaptured. He was sentenced to serve a term of from eighteen months to three years in the Delaware County Prison for breaking and escaping jail. He again escaped from jail but was captured the same day. In December, 1932, he was sentenced to serve a term of from one and one-half to three years in the Eastern State Penitentiary for the second escape. The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary states: "Recommended for commutation, although it is understood that this man has escaped from prison twice, due to his unusual institutional record this recommendation is made. This man has a very large family and he sends every cent of his earnings to his family." The supervisor of paroles also recommends a commutation of sentence. The applicant was never involved in any other trouble. We believe he has been sufficiently punished, and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

The applicant will be on parole until 1940. Our recommendation is contingent upon his removal to the State of New Jersey.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of George Windemaker, convicted of breaking and escaping penitentiary, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Centre County, on September 17, 1928, be commuted from three years to one year one month expiring on April 23, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1925, the applicant pleaded guilty to larceny, receiving stolen goods and operating an automobile without a license. The crimes consisted of the theft of two automobiles which were returned to the owners within three days. He was sentenced to serve a term of from three to seven years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. In 1927, he escaped from the Rockview Farm Prison to which institution he had been transferred. He was recaptured the following year with a stolen car in his possession. He pleaded guilty to the charges of breaking and escaping the penitentiary and larceny of an automobile. He was sentenced to serve a term of from three to seven years in the Western State Penitentiary, sentence to run concurrently. He has been incarcerated for over eight years for the larceny of three automobiles and breaking and escaping the penitentiary. We believe he has been sufficiently punished. His conduct and employment records during his

In re Application of Paul Bowman—No. 1699
March Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1928, the applicant pleaded guilty to several charges of breaking and entering. He was sentenced to serve a term of from ten to twenty years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. He has served over three-fourths of his minimum sentence. His conduct and employment records during his incarceration have been excellent. The trial district attorney states: "* * * I think it is only fair and just that Bowman's (the applicant's) sentence should be commuted, providing of course that Bowman's attitude and conduct while incarcerated warrants it. I have been informed by the penitentiary authorities that his conduct there has been of the best." The trial judge states: "My impression is that Edward McGovern was the leader of the criminal enterprise and that Paul Bowman was carried away by McGovern's persuasion. In any event, whether this is true or not, Paul Bowman is entitled to the same degree of clemency. I have been in touch with the applicant's mother and from what she says I think the applicant has been sufficiently punished." The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary states: Recommended for commutation. Has exceptional home contacts."

The applicant will be on parole until 1948. Employment has been assured.

In re Application of James Harshman—No. 1772
March Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1930, the applicant pleaded guilty to robbery. He was sentenced to serve a term of from ten to twenty years in the Western State Penitentiary. The reports which we have received indicate that applicant was a man of good habits and of considerable industry and was goaded into leaving home by the interference of his mother-in-law. This led to loss of work and eventually to the applicant engaging in this robbery. The applicant's parents are honest and hard-working citizens and none of the family were ever involved in any trouble and all have excellent reputations. The applicant shows no characteristics of a habitual criminal. We believe that he has been sufficiently punished. He was never involved in any other trouble and his conduct and employment records during his incarceration have been excellent.

The applicant will be on parole until 1950. Our recommendation is contingent upon his securing legitimate employment.

In re Application of John Cochran—No. 1773
March Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of John Cochran, convicted of voluntary manslaughter, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Washington County, on May 27, 1933, be commuted from four years to one year, eleven months, expiring on April 27, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1933, the applicant was convicted of voluntary manslaughter and was sentenced to serve a term of from four to eight years in the Western State Penitentiary. The facts of the case are as follows: The applicant at the time of the commission of the crime was a police officer in the city of Washington, Pa. The applicant was attempting to make an arrest and was being defied and resisted. The deceased reached in his pocket, in which he was carrying a gun, whereupon the applicant shot and killed him. The deceased, on a number of occasions, made remarks that an officer would never take him as long as he had a gun in his possession.

Judge Gibson states: "It appears to me that where a breach of the peace has been committed and the deceased was in the immediate vicinity and there defied the officer and was being taken to the police station to explain his conduct there, it is asking too much of an officer to hold that he must wait until he has been shot at by the prisoner or until the prisoner has actually drawn a deadly weapon, before the officer can use his weapon for his own protection. In this case the deceased was armed, and his conduct in striking at the officer and breaking away was consistent with his previously declared purpose that he would not be taken by any policeman while he had that gun in his possession; and under the circumstances it looks to me as though the sentence of not less than four or more than eight years in the penitentiary is an exceedingly heavy penalty imposed upon an officer who was apparently in good faith attempting to perform his duty, even though he may have been mistaken."

We are entirely in accord with Judge Gibson's comments. The applicant has been incarcerated for almost two years of his minimum sentence. We are satisfied that he is not a habitual criminal.

He will be on parole until 1941. Employment has been assured.

THOMAS KENNEDY,

In re Application of Samuel Freedman—No. 1786

March Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Samuel Freedman, convicted of assault, being armed with an offensive weapon to rob, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County, on November 24, 1930, be commuted from ten years to four years, six months, expiring on May 24, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1930, the applicant was sentenced to serve a term of from ten to twenty years in the Eastern State Penitentiary for being armed to rob and conspiracy. He will have served, by the time he can be released, four and one-half years of his minimum sentence. At the time he became involved in the trouble, he was only eighteen years of age. His conduct and employment records during his incarceration have been excellent. The report of the penitentiary shows that he is suffering from moderate severe heart lesion. We do not think the applicant is a habitual criminal. An excellent home has been provided for him if he is released and arrangements have been made for suitable employment.

The applicant will be on parole until 1950.

In re Application of Joseph Murphy—No. 1823

March Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Joseph Murphy, convicted of robbery, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and G. J. D. of Allegheny County, on September 16, 1927, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1927, the applicant was convicted of robbery and was sentenced to serve a term of from five to ten years in the Western State Penitentiary. In 1930, his minimum sentence was commuted to a term of three years and one month and he was released on parole. The applicant was never involved in any other trouble. His conduct and employment records during his incarceration were excellent. The trial judge states: "I have examined his (the applicant's application and so far as it is within my knowledge, I believe that the facts set forth are correct. I will have no objection to granting this man a pardon. The District Attorney of Allegheny County states, "The facts surrounding the robbery of which this applicant was convicted, as contained in his petition for pardon, are substantially correct. Inasmuch as this applicant was granted a commutation of sentence in 1930 and has since conducted himself as an orderly citizen, this department would have no objection to the granting of a pardon to this applicant."

A pardon will, in part, remove the stigma of the conviction and will be of material assistance to his advancement.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was convicted of robbery, being armed with offensive weapons in 1931. He was sentenced to serve a term of from five to ten years in the Western State Penitentiary. He has served over four-fifths of his minimum sentence. He was never involved in any other trouble and his conduct and employment records during his incarceration have been excellent. In re Application of Ira Ferry—No. 1858
March Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Ira Ferry, convicted of burglary and larceny, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Warren County, on November 22, 1932, be commuted from three years to two years, five months, expiring on April 22, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1932, the applicant pleaded guilty to burglary and larceny and was sentenced to a term of from three to eight years in the Western State Penitentiary. The trial district attorney states:

"This young man (the applicant) has been confined in the penitentiary for practically two years and both the Court and myself feel that the time that he has served upon his sentence has been sufficient punishment and, perhaps to have him continue there longer would be a disadvantage to him in his future deportment.

"We, therefore, recommend to your Honorable Board that you grant him this clemency that he asks at this meeting."

The applicant's employment and conduct records during his incarceration have been excellent. He has four dependents who are in urgent need of his support. By the time the applicant can be released he will have served over one-half of his minimum sentence. We believe he has been sufficiently punished.

The applicant will be on parole until 1940. Employment has been assured.

In re Application of Alfred S. Powell—No. 1885
March Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Alfred S. Powell, convicted of robbery together with other persons, larceny of automobile in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on December 20, 1929, be commuted from fifteen years to five years, five months, expiring on May 20, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1929, the applicant pleaded guilty to several charges of robbery. He was sentenced to serve a term of from fifteen to thirty years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. His conduct and employment records during his incarceration have been excellent. The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary recommend clemency because "1. Satisfactory institutional record, 2. Good home environment. Has served approximately six years of a sixteen year minimum sentence. Has considerable criminal history of arrests without punishment. Two partners in crime in this case have been granted clemency." We do not believe the applicant to be a habitual criminal and feel that he has been sufficiently punished.

The applicant will be on parole until 1959. Legitimate employment has been assured and an excellent home has been provided for him.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant pleaded guilty to breaking and entering and larceny in 1933. He was sentenced to serve a term of from two and one-half to five years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. He has served over one-half of his minimum sentence. His conduct and employment records during his incarceration have been excellent. He was never involved in any other trouble. In re Application of William Edwin Kilpatrick—No. 1937
March Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that William Edwin Kilpatrick, convicted of robbery, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Allegheny County, on October 30, 1919, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1919, the applicant was convicted of robbery. He was sentenced to the Allegheny County Jail for six months but was paroled after having served a little over two months. After a careful investigation, it appears that no robbery had been committed, but a fight occurred in which two of the applicant's friends assaulted a third friend. The applicant has been employed as a police officer for the Department of Public Safety in the City of Pittsburgh for the past eight years. All the reports which we have received indicate that the applicant has an excellent reputation. His superiors in the police department speak highly of his work, record and character. The Assistant District Attorney who tried the case recommends pardon. A recent ruling of the Department of Public Safety of Pittsburgh will cause the applicant to lose his position because of the conviction unless a pardon is granted. A pardon will not only permit him to retain his position but will, in part, remove the stigma of the conviction from the applicant and his family and will be a material assistance to his advancement.

In re Application of Elmer C. Cannon—No. 2143
March Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: the above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Elmer C. Cannon convicted of embezzlement; fraudulent conversion in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Phildelphia County, on February 5, 1930, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows.

In 1930, the applicant was a police officer in Philadelphia. He had charge of a clothing fund and when a shortage of approximately six hundred dollars was discovered he admitted appropriating the money to his own use to relieve financial distress caused by the illness of some members of his family. All of the money converted was repaid. On a plea of guilty, sentence was suspended and costs were imposed. The trial judge states, "The application of Elmer C. Cannon to the Board of Pardons seems to be meritorious and I believe it should be granted." The Supervisor of paroles concurs in this recommendation. Lemuel B. Schofield, Esquire, who was Director of Public Safety in Philadelphia at the time of the applicant's arrest, states, "A pardon for this man (the applicant) will be a real benefit and I know of no reason why it should not be granted." The applicant was never involved in any other trouble. We do not believe that he is a habitual criminal.

A pardon will, in part, remove the stigma of the conviction from the applicant and his family and will be of material assistance to his advancement.

March Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Ferdinand Walter Keller, convicted of robbery, in the Court of Common Pleas of Oyer and Terminer of Lackawanna County, on February 11, 1928, be commuted from fifteen years to seven years, three months, expiring on May 11, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1928, the applicant, when only 19 years of age, pleaded guilty to robbery. He was sentenced to serve a term of from fifteen to thirty years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. His conduct and employment records during his incarceration have been excellent. He was never convicted of any other crime. He has been incarcerated for over seven years and we believe he has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

The applicant will be on parole until 1958. Our recommendation is contingent upon his securing legitimate employment.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

CHARLES J. MARGIOTTI,
Attorney General.

PHILIP H. DEWEY,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

GEORGE H. EARLE,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Sam Mollise—No. 2151

March Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1931, the applicant was convicted of robbery and receiving stolen goods. He was sentenced to serve a term of from fifteen to thirty years in the Western State Penitentiary. One accomplice was acquitted, the second accomplice was sentenced to serve a term of seven months to one year in the Allegheny County Workhouse and the third accomplice was sentenced to serve from two to six years in the Allegheny County Workhouse. The applicant has served over four years of his minimum sentence. He was never involved in any other trouble. His conduct and employment records during his incarceration have been excellent. We are satisfied that he is not a habitual criminal and we believe he has been sufficiently punished.

The applicant will be on parole until 1961. Our recommendation is contingent upon his securing legitimate employment.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

CHARLES J. MARGIOTTI,

PHILIP H. DEWEY,

The above recommendation is approved:

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Nicholas Foanio—No. 2153

March Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Nicholas Foanio, convicted of highway robbery, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Northampton County, on October 18, 1932, be commuted from four years to two years six months, expiring on April 18, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1932, the applicant was convicted of highway robbery. He was sentenced to serve a term of from four to eight years in the Northampton County Prison. He was never involved in any other trouble. He will have, by the time he can be released, served over one-half of his minimum sentence. We believe he has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

The applicant will be on parole until 1940. Employment has been assured.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

CHARLES J. MARGIOTTI,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Andrew Joseph McCartney—No. 2155

March Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Andrew Joseph McCartney, convicted of robbery, being armed with offensive weapon, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on April 20, 1926, be commuted from ten years to nine years, expiring on April 20, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was convicted in 1926 of robbery, being armed with an offensive weapon. He was sentenced to serve a term of from ten to twenty years in the Philadelphia County Prison. The Superintendent of the Philadelphia County Prison states: "Replying to your letter of December 28, 1934, the application of Andrew Joseph McCartney is meritorious. He was a very good prisoner while incarcerated and his conduct was excellent. We feel that he can safely be released and that he will try to do the right thing."

The trial judge states: "I have no objection to your paroling him for the rest of his minimum term." The supervisor of paroles recommends a commutation. The applicant was never involved in any other trouble. At the time of his arrest, he was only nineteen years of age and by the time he can be released he will have served nine years of his minimum sentence. We do not believe him to be a habitual criminal and believe he has been sufficiently punished.

The applicant will be on parole until 1946. Our recommendation is contingent upon his securing legitimate employment.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

CHARLES J. MARGIOTTI,
Attorney General.

PHILIP H. DEWEY,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

GEORGE H. EARLE,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Phillip Frankfeld—No. 2158

March Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Phillip Frankfeld, convicted of inciting to riot and obstructing legal process, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Allegheny County on February 15, 1934, be commuted from two years to seven months, expiring on May 1, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1934, the applicant was convicted of inciting to riot and obstructing legal process. He was sentenced to serve a term of from two to four years in the Allegheny County Workhouse. Four alleged accomplices were placed on probation and one accomplice was sent to the Allegheny County Workhouse but was paroled after serving forty-six days. The facts of the case are as follows:

A group of friends and neighbors had gathered at a sheriff's sale of a farmer's personalty in Patton Township, Allegheny County. The crowd had already assembled when the applicant was invited and urged to address the group. No violence was used. Three bids were made for the property which was finally sold for $1.50 and returned to the original owner. The Superintendent of the Allegheny County Workhouse stated to an investigator of the Board of Pardons that the applicant has been a model prisoner and has been granted many special privileges and is not considered a criminal. Dr. Philip I. Bookstaber and a number of other persons appeared at the regular session of the Board and pleaded for clemency for the applicant. Many prominent citizens of the State and Country, unions, American Civil Liberty Union and thousands of individuals have recommended clemency.

We believe the applicant has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

CHARLES J. MARGIOTTI,
Attorney General.

PHILIP H. DEWEY,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

GEORGE H. EARLE,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Edgar Joseph Connolly—No. 2161

March Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the maximum sentence of Edgar Joseph Connolly, convicted of larceny of an automobile, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on February 14, 1927, be commuted from ten years to two years, two months, expiring on May 23, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1927, the applicant, when only 18 years of age, was sentenced to a term of from two to ten years in the Eastern State Penitentiary for the larceny of an automobile. He was released on February 14, 1929. In 1934, he was sentenced to a term of six months in the Philadelphia County Prison for the larceny of an automobile. Unless a commutation of the maximum sentence is granted, the applicant will be required to serve the remainder of the unexpired term of the original sentence. Judge MacNeille, who sentenced the applicant on the second charge, stated at the time of the sentence, "I don't know whether the district attorney will join but I will write to the Pardon Board and say I think in view of all the circumstances the sentence I pass upon him is all he ought to serve. I think he ought to be pardoned for anything in addition to this. * * * I should regret it if he should be obliged to serve a long term for violation of parole merely on account of the charge for which he was convicted before me. His offense for which I tried him was the taking of an automobile for the purpose of a ride. He apparently did not intend to keep it permanently, but did intend to return it."

The supervisor of paroles approves a commutation of the maximum sentence. We do not believe the applicant to be a habitual criminal. He will be on parole until 1937. Our recommendation is contingent upon his securing legitimate employment.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

CHARLES J. MARGIOTTI,
Attorney General.

PHILIP H. DEWEY,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Cleveland Burrell—No. 2163
March Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Cleveland Burrell, convicted of robbery, receiving stolen goods, entering a building, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Allegheny County, on January 24, 1930, be commuted from ten years to five years, four months, expiring on May 24, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1930, the applicant was convicted of robbery, receiving stolen goods and entering a building. He was never involved in any other trouble. His conduct and employment records during his incarceration have been excellent. The assistant district attorney who tried the case states, "After careful consideration of all the facts in connection with above case, I am in favor of the granting of applicant's petition for clemency. So far as our records are concerned, he has had no previous convictions and I believe that, under the circumstances, the sentence imposed was somewhat severe." We do not believe the applicant to be a habitual criminal.

The applicant will be on parole until 1950. Our recommendation is contingent upon his securing legitimate employment and a suitable place in which to reside.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

Secretary of the Commonwealth.

In re Application of Clinton Moorhead—No. 2164
March Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Clinton Moorhead, convicted of breaking and entering and larceny, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Columbia County, on March 7, 1932, be commuted from four years to three years and one month, expiring on April 7, 1933.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1932, the applicant pleaded guilty to breaking and entering and larceny. He was sentenced to serve a term of from four to eight years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. He was never convicted of any other crime. He has served three fourths of his minimum sentence. His conduct and employment records during his incarceration have been excellent. We believe he has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied that he is not a habitual criminal.

The applicant will be on parole until 1940. Employment has been assured.

In re Application of Melvin Miller Schlossman—No. 2168
March Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: the above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Melvin Miller Schlossman, convicted of felonious entry and larceny in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Lancaster County, on June 14, 1932, be commuted from four years to two years, ten months, expiring on April 14, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant pleaded guilty to felonious entry and larceny in 1932. He was sentenced to serve a term of from four to eight years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. The crime consisted of stealing seven chickens valued at approximately $9.00. The applicant has served almost three-fourth of his minimum sentence. We belive that the sentence of from four to eight years was not commensurate with the crime and feel that the applicant has been more than sufficiently punished.

The applicant will be on parole until 1940. Employment has been assured.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Joseph David, Jr.—No. 2171

March Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: the above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Joseph David, Jr., convicted of fornication and bastardy in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Allegheny County, on March 24, 1933, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1933, the applicant was convicted of fornication and bastardy and sentenced to pay $3.50 weekly for five years, $4.50 for nine years and $80.00 lying-in expenses. The applicant has always maintained his innocence. The prosecutrix has filed an affidavit with the Board in which she absolves the applicant from any and all blame. The district attorney of Allegheny County states, "In the above entitled case, the mother of the illegitimate child came into my office and maintained that your applicant was not the father of her child. I find this girl to be of very low mentality. While in my office she alleged that one Joseph Crowley, an uncle by marriage, was the father of her child and made an information against him. This information was nolle prossed by reason of the former conviction of above applicant. We felt it would be a waste of time and money to try the case. I am not satisfied to sustain a conviction based upon the testimony of this girl. I would, therefore, recommend to Your Honorable Board, that this pardon be granted." The Supervisor of Paroles recommends a pardon. After a careful investigation and consideration of the facts in the case, we believe the applicant innocent of the crime for which he was convicted.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

CHARLES J. MARGIOTTI,
Attorney General.

PHILIP H. DEWEY,

The above recommendation is approved:

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Charles A. Heckman—No. 2176

March Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Charles A. Heckman, convicted of fraudulent conversion and rehypothecation of securities without consent, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Lehigh County, on September 27, 1933, be commuted from one year, six months to one year, expiring on April 18, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1933, the applicant was convicted of fraudulent conversion and rehypothecation of securities. He was sentenced to pay a fine of $500 and costs of prosecution and imprisonment in the Lehigh County Prison for one year and six months. The facts of the case are as follows: The prosecutor had pledged bonds as collateral security for a note with the Allentown Trust Company, of which the applicant was president. The note contained no authorization for rehypothecation without consent. The applicant repledged the bonds with the Pennsylvania Company to secure loans of the Allentown Trust Company. The bonds were repledged without any reference to the prosecutor's note. Later a renewal note for the indebtedness was executed by the prosecutor, the renewal note containing an authorization to rehypothecate the securities pledged as collateral. The prosecutor lost nothing through the rehypothecation.

It appears to us that the repledging was done solely through an inadvertence and lack of knowledge of the particular acts governing the rehypothecation of securities and was entirely without any criminal intent or benefit to the applicant.

The applicant has served approximately one year of his sentence. His reputation in the community in which he lived is of the best. We have received many letters from respectable persons in Allentown, all urging the granting of clemency. The applicant was never involved in any other trouble and surely is not a habitual criminal. We believe he has been sufficiently punished.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

Secretary of the Commonwealth.

In re Application of Harry Beideman, Jr.—No. 2192

March Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Harry Beideman, Jr., convicted of robbery, being armed with an offensive weapon, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on March 2, 1934, be commuted from two years, to one year, three months, expiring on June 2, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was involved in a series of robberies. Two older accomplices were placed on probation. The applicant was sentenced to serve a term of from two to twenty years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. At the time of the commission of the crimes, he was only eighteen years of age. He was never involved in any other trouble. His conduct and employment records since his incarceration have been excellent. We believe he has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied that he is not a habitual criminal.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Angelli Clemente, convicted of murder, second degree, in the Courts of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Washington County, on February 10, 1919, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1919, the applicant pleaded guilty to murder in the second degree. He was sentenced to serve a term in the Western State Penitentiary of from ten to twenty years. In 1929, he was released on parole. His conduct and employment records, prior to, during, and subsequent to his incarceration have been excellent. The supervisor of paroles recommends a pardon. The Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary states: "Would recommend pardon on account of good record during imprisonment and six year period of parole."

A pardon will in part remove the stigma of the conviction and will be of considerable assistance to the applicant's advancement.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1929, the applicant was convicted of robbery. He was sentenced to serve a term of from twenty to forty years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. The applicant is a native of Spain and a deportation warrant has been lodged against him at the Eastern State Penitentiary. Our recommendation is for the purpose of, and contingent upon, his deportation to Spain.

In re Application of Alfredo Florio—No. 2199

March Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Alfredo Florio, convicted of robbery, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on April 28, 1933, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was convicted of robbery in 1933 and was sentenced to serve a term of two years in the Philadelphia County Prison. He was released to the custody of the immigration authorities who are holding him for deportation as the applicant is a native of Italy, and had been previously convicted of another crime involving moral turpitude, namely burglary and receiving stolen goods.

The applicant has no friends or relatives in his native country. His wife and child are citizens of the United States. The trial judge states, "There was no doubt that he was in the commission of the crime, but from the evidence it would appear that he only had a minor part to play. When these men were arrested they were placed in different cells in the station house, and an Italian police officer was placed in a nearby cell as a man charged with intoxication, who listened to the conversation of the other men in the cell rooms, and then testified against them in court. From his testimony, none of the occupants of the different cells addressed any conversation or remarks to Florio (the applicant), and he in turn made none to them. From the evidence in this case I do believe that he was less involved than any one of the others, and for that reason if the Board of Pardons sees fit to pardon this man, it would have my approval." The supervisor of paroles recommends a pardon.

We believe deportation would inflict a cruel and unnecessarily harsh punishment upon the applicant and his family. He has been assured of employment and has an excellent home to which he can go.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

In re Application of Victor John Errichetti—No. 2200
March Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Victor John Errichetti, convicted of being armed to rob conspiracy to rob, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on July 14, 1933, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1933, the applicant was found guilty on two bills charging him with being armed to rob and conspiracy to rob. He was sentenced to serve a term of three months to three years in the Philadelphia County Prison. The applicant took no active part in the robbery but permitted two others to use his father's automobile in the commission of the crime. The applicant was never involved in any other trouble and his conduct subsequent to his release has been excellent. The trial judge states: "This young man's (the applicant's) minimum sentence has long since expired, and I presume the only purpose of the application for a pardon is to clear his record. He was quite young when convicted before me and struck me as a weak rather than a bad character. I have no doubt of his guilt, but believe that he was led astray by bad companions. I do not think he had any previous record. In view of these facts, I would personally be in favor of granting the pardon."

The applicant's father is a licensed undertaker in Philadelphia and the applicant wishes to take an examination to become a licensed undertaker in order that he may assist in his father's business. A pardon will enable him to take the examination and will, in part, remove the stigma of the conviction and will be of material assistance to his advancement.

In re Application of Paul Pinto—No. 2202
March Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1929, the applicant pleaded guilty to several charges of being armed to rob, one charge of larceny of an automobile and one charge of operating an automobile without the consent of the owner. He was sentenced to serve a term of from fifteen to thirty years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. He was never convicted of any other crime. The director of educational activities of the Eastern State Penitentiary states: "For more than a year Paul (the applicant) was one of the outstanding students in our school, promoting himself to our highest level and studying special subjects outside the regular class work. During the past summer we added Paul to our teaching staff and for the past six months months he has been giving excellent service as one of our regular class teachers. We consider Paul one of our most dependable, conscientious and effective instructors. His attitude is invariably cheerful, quiet and cooperative. He is making a distinctly constructive contribution to the welfare of our institution. We see no reason to doubt the safety or wisdom of affording Paul an opportunity to demonstrate his fitness to resume his place in free society." We do not believe him to be a habitual criminal and feel that he has been sufficiently punished.

He has served over two years of his minimum sentence. His conduct and employment records during his incarceration have been excellent. We believe he has been sufficiently punished. March Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Romeo Toto, convicted of robbery, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on February 28, 1933, be commuted from three years to two years, four months, expiring on June 28, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1933, the applicant and two others were involved in a robbery. Applicant pleaded guilty to robbery and was sentenced to serve a term of from three to ten years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. He has served over two years of his minimum sentence. His conduct and employment records during his incarceration have been excellent. We believe he has been sufficiently punished. We are satisfied that he is a habitual criminal.

The applicant will be on parole until 1943. Our recommendation is contingent upon his securing legitimate employment.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

CHARLES J. MARGIOTTI,
Attorney General.

PHILIP H. DEWEY,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

March Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Michele Malvasia, convicted of robbery, being armed with weapons and striking and ill-using, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Erie County, on November 9, 1931, be commuted from four years to three years, five months, expiring on April 9, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant pleaded guilty to robbery in 1931. He was sentenced to serve a term of from four to eight years in the Western State Penitentiary. The Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary states: "If eligible to apply for parole would probably recommend, this being his first conviction for a serious offense, clear institutional record." The applicant has served four-fifths of his minimum sentence. We believe he has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied that he is not a habitual criminal.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Herman Stein—No. 2217
March Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Herman Stein, convicted of unlawful assembly, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Lancaster County, on January 25, 1935, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

On January 25, 1935, the applicant was sentenced to serve a term of six months' imprisonment and fined $500., for unlawful assembly. The facts of the case are as follows: In August, 1934, the sheriff of Lancaster County and several deputies went to Columbia, Pa., to assist in the removal of some silk from a mill. The mill was standing idle because of a strike. A crowd had gathered and was interfering with the removal of the silk. A number of stones were thrown by various persons and disparaging remarks were made about the sheriff and his deputies. The crowd had already assembled when the applicant a labor organizer from New York, appeared. At the time of this trouble, the applicant remained in the background and took no active part at all in the disturbance. There was no evidence that he had in any way brought about the unlawful assembly.

Any offense which the applicant may have committed did not rise any higher than that of some two thousand people who had gathered there. Fourteen persons were arrested and charged with riot, inciting to riot and unlawful assembly. The jury returned a verdict of guilty of unlawful assembly against seven of the defendants. Six were fined $25. and costs while the applicant was sentenced to six months' imprisonment and fined $500. The district attorney who represented the Commonwealth appeared before us and stated that there was no greater evidence against the applicant than against any of the other defendants. After a careful examination of all the facts in the case and questioning the district attorney who prosecuted the case, we are convinced that the applicant did not do any more than anyone else in the crowd and, if anything, was less culpable than any of the other defendants. No reason has been given or assigned for the sentence of six months and $500. fine and we can find none. We believe the sentence was too severe and not at all commensurate with the crime or the treatment of the other defendants and persons assembled.

The applicant has an enviable reputation and was never involved in any other trouble. Dr. Bookstaber, Mr. Harvey O'Connor, and many others appeared in behalf of the applicant for parole. Thousands of people who are interested in civil liberty have written to us and urged us to recommend a pardon.

The applicant will have served, by the time he can be released, about three months of his sentence. We have searched the record and listened carefully to the argument of the District Attorney to ascertain the reason for such uneven justice. We have found none, with the possible exception that applicant is a labor leader. We believe the applicant should be pardoned and so recommend.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

CHARLES J. MARGIOTTI,
Attorney General.

PHILIP H. DEWEY,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Raymond Carl—No. 2219

March Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Raymond Carl, convicted of breaking and entering, larceny and receiving stolen goods, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Huntingdon County, on December 5, 1935, be commuted from two years, four months to one year, five months, expiring on May 5, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant pleaded guilty in 1933 to breaking and entering, larceny and receiving stolen goods. He was sentenced to serve a term of from two years and four months to four years and eight months in the Western State Penitentiary. The applicant was never involved in any other trouble. His conduct and employment records during his incarceration have been excellent. The trial judge states: " * * * permit me to say that after careful consideration, I believe that this man (the applicant) has been sufficiently punished and I would recommend a parole at this time." The applicant has served over one-half of his minimum sentence. We believe he has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied that he is not a habitual criminal.

The applicant will be on parole until 1938. Our recommendation is contingent upon his securing legitimate employment.

In re Application of Simon Whaby—No. 2222

March Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1934 the applicant was convicted of receiving stolen goods. He was sentenced to serve from fourteen months to three years in the Western State Penitentiary. By the time he can be released, he will have served over one-half of his minimum sentence. The assistant district attorney who tried the case states that "I am of the opinion that the applicant has been sufficiently punished. A further incarceration will only work an unnecessary hardship upon his wife and five children and continue them on the public relief funds." The supervisor of paroles recommends a commutation of sentence.

Applicant will be on parole until 1937. Our recommendation is contingent upon his securing legitimate employment.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant pleaded guilty to breaking and entering and larceny in 1932. He was sentenced to serve a term of from three and one-half to seven years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. He has served over two-thirds of his minimum sentence. He was never involved in any other trouble. The report of the penitentiary states that his institutional, work and conduct records are satisfactory. We are satisfied that he is not a habitual criminal and believe he has been sufficiently punished.

The applicant will be on parole until 1939. Employment has been assured.

In re Applicantion of Herman R. Wissman—No. 2239
March Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: the above application having been heard upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Herman R. Wissman, convicted of entering a building, larceny in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County, on June, 26 1915, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1915, the applicant, when only fifteen years of age, was sentenced to the Pennsylvania Industrial School at Huntingdon for entering a building and larceny. Shortly after his release from the School, he joined the United States Army and served during the World War and was given an honorable discharge on April 13, 1919. In July of that year, he entered the service in the City of Pittsburgh as a police officer and was employed in such capacity until February 14, 1935. The Director of Public Safety of the City of Pittsburgh states that by reason of the ruling of the Department of Public Safety, he was suspended because of the Act of March 7, 1901, P. L. 20, Article III, Section 1.

After careful consideration and examination of the facts in this case, we believe the applicant is not a habitual criminal. A pardon will enable the applicant to be reinstated and will remove the stigma of the crime from the applicant and his family and will be of material assistance to the applicants advancement.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE

In re Application of Frank J. McNicholas—No. 2245
March Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1915, the applicant, when only sixteen years of age, was accosted by a man who was under the influence of intoxicating liquor. This man, unable to walk, grabbed the applicant in such a manner as to choke him. The applicant was unable to free himself by struggling and he hit the drunken man on the head with his fist, causing him to fall on the cement pavement, fracturing his skull which subsequently resulted in his death. The Coroner's jury found the death to be accidental and exonerated the applicant from all blame. However, the son of the deceased caused the applicant's arrest. He was indicted for involuntary manslaughter and upon the advice of his attorney, he pleaded guilty. He was ordered to pay the costs of prosecution and was placed on probation for a period of two years. In 1925, the applicant was appointed a sub-patrolman in the Bureau of Police in the City of Pittsburgh and continued in said employment until February 14th, when, by reason of the ruling of the Director of Public Safety, he was suspended because of the Act of March 7, 1901, P. L. Article III, Section 1. The applicant, at the time of his dismissal, had attained the rank of lieutenant. Thomas A. Dunn, Director of the Department of Public Safety of Pittsburgh states in a letter to us: "We are submitting for your consideration at your hearing, the Department of Public Safety's recommendation in the case of Lieutenant Frank J. McNicholas and giving you a copy of his record as a police officer. Under the ruling of the City Controller, because of a former conviction of his, his name could not be placed on the payroll, after this information was given to the Director of the Department of Public Safety until he was pardoned. Therefore, on account of his splendid record as an officer in the City of Pittsburgh, I hope that your Honorable Board will give cognizance to this man's plea by granting him a Pardon and the Department will be very much pleased to reinstate him in his former position."

The District Attorney of Allegheny County recommends a pardon. After a careful examination of the facts in the case, we believe the applicant was innocent of the crime to which he pleaded guilty upon advice of counsel.

A pardon will enable the applicant to be reinstated and will remove the stigma of the crime from the applicant and his family and will be of material assistance to the applicant's advancement.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

Secretary of the Commonwealth.

In re Application of William Murdock—No. 2250
March Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: the above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that William Murdock, convicted of breaking and entering, larceny, receiving stolen goods in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Lawrence County, on May 7, 1908, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1908, the applicant, when only 17 years of age, pleaded guilty to breaking and entering, larceny and receiving stolen goods. He was sentenced to the Pennsylvania Reform School. He was paroled from that institution in 1910. In 1919, he was employed as a patrolman in the City of Pittsburgh. On February 14, 1935, he was suspended by the Department of Public Safety of that City because of the conviction in 1908. He was never involved in any other trouble and has an excellent work record and enjoys a splendid reputation. The Director of Public Safety states:

"If your Honorable Body will grant him a Pardon I will be very glad to reinstate him as an officer in the Bureau of Police of the City of Pittsburgh.

"This man has served over 15 years and of course in five more years would be entitled to a pension under the rules of the Department and for that particular reason hope you extend him clemency and grant him a pardon."

Pardon would permit the applicant to be reinstated to the police force and would in part remove the stigma of the conviction from the applicant and his family and would be of material assistance to his advancement.

In re Application of Ralph Lawrence Dickerson—No. 247
April Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: the above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentence of Ralph Lawrence Dickerson, convicted of robbery, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on September 9, 1927, be commuted from forty to eighty years to from 10 to 20 years, expiring on September 9, 1937.

Our reason for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1927, the applicant and an accomplice entered and robbed an A. & P. Store in Philadelphia. Money was taken from the manager of the store and from one of the customers. In fleeing from the scene of the crime, the applicant threatened his pursuers with a revolver. The applicant and his accomplice did not deny their guilt.

The following sentences were imposed:

(1) 5 to 10 years for conspiring to enter the store to commit a felony; (2) 10 to 20 years for robbery, taking store's money from the manager; (3) 10 to 20 years for robbery, taking manager's own money; (4) 2½ to 5 years for assault and battery with intent to kill, pointing a pistol at a pursuer three blocks from store.

The sentences were made to run consecutively, making a total of from 40 to 80 years.

There is no question that the sentence is not proper. The district attorney states that the maximum penalty should not be more than 12½ to 25 years. The applicant contends that the maximum should not have been more than 10 to 20 years, arguing that only one crime had been committed. We are in accord with the applicant's contention.

In re Application of Lee Allen—No. 722
April Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Lee Allen, convicted of voluntary manslaughter, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County, on December 22, 1930, be commuted from six years to four years, six months, expiring on June 22, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1930, the applicant was convicted of voluntary manslaughter. He was sentenced to serve a term from six to twelve years in the Western State Penitentiary. The trial district attorney states, "While I beleive the applicant was extremely fortunate in securing a voluntary manslaughter verdict, I have no objection to the granting of his application. Prior to the murder of his son-in-law he had supported his wife and six children, who are now desperately in need of his help. In view of the fact, it is not my desire to work an unnecessary hardship upon his family at a time when the need for his support is the greatest."

Dr. Frank F. Sumney, a member of the House of Representatives, appeared before us and recommended commutation of sentence. The district attorney's representative stated that he had no objection to the granting of clemency. The applicant will have served, by the time he can be released, over four and one-half years of his minimum sentence. We believe he has been sufficiently punished. His conduct and employment records during his incarceration have been excellent.

The applicant will be on parole until 1942. He has a wife and six children who are in urgent need of his support. Employment has been assured.

April Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Alfred Hoffmann, convicted of conspiracy in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Monroe County, on July 23, 1931, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In January, 1931, labor troubles arose at Stroudsburg, Pennsylvania, The American Federation of Full Fashioned Hosiery Workers, upon request of the employes, sent the applicant to assist in organization. A strike ensued during the course of which many acts of violence were committed. The applicant was arrested and convicted on three counts of conspiracy. No other persons were ever convicted of any charges, although many residents of Monroe County were identified as having committed overt acts of violence. The applicant was sentenced to serve a term of two years imprisonment in the Monroe County Jail and fined $1525.00 and costs of prosecution. In 1932, Governor Pinchot, on recommendation of the Board of Pardons,commuted the sentence from two years to four months, and reduced the fine to $200.00. The applicant was released on parole and has been living in New York. His conduct has been exemplary. The conviction has made it difficult for the applicant to continue his work as a labor organizer. A pardon will in part remove the stigma of the conviction from the applicant and his family and will be of material assistance to his advancement and work.

In re Application of Walter Cooper—No. 1031
April Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Walter Cooper, convicted of conspiracy and extortion, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on October 14, 1925, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1925, the applicant plead not guilty to conspiracy to extort. The jury rendered a verdict of guilty and the court entered an order and adjudged that the applicant should enter his own recognizance in the sum of $1,000. to appear for sentence when required. The applicant was never called for sentence. The charges all arose out of a violation of the liquor laws when the applicant and an accomplice were police officers in the City of Philadelphia. The accomplice was granted a pardon in 1929. Judge Allesandroni, who was the trial district attorney states: "Both Raleigh and Cooper had a fair trial and their guilt established beyond question. After trial Judge Bartlett held the case under advisement a long time and then deferred sentence. Under the presnt state of affairs with one of the defendants already pardoned, I cannot see that justice would be violated in according Cooper the same consideration." The Honorable Alexander C. Green and the Honorable Clinton A. Sowers, who represented applicant, testified as to his good character.

The applicant was never involved in any other trouble and his conduct and employment records have been excellent. We do not believe him to be a habitual criminal. A pardon will, in part, remove the stigma of the conviction from the applicant and his family, and will be of material assistance to the applicant's advancement.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, when only sixteen years of age, participated in a number of robberies, committed within a period of approximately two months. He plead guilty to several charges of robbery and was sentenced to the Western State Penitentiary for from fifteen to sixty years. An accomplice, alleged to have been the leader of the gang, has been released. We believe the sentence imposed upon the applicant was grossly excessive because of his youth and do not believe the pentientiary a proper place for correction and punishment.

April Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Hudson Rhoads Hess, convicted of arson and setting fire to buildings, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Dauphin County, on March 27, 1931, be commuted from five years to four years, four months, expiring on June 2, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1931, the applicant plead guilty to several charges of arson and setting fire to buildings. He was sentenced to serve a term of from five to ten years in the Eastern

State Penitentiary. He was never convicted of any other crime. His institutional record is excellent.

The trial district attorney states, "Had it not been for him (the applicant), the rest of the participants in the crime would not have been apprehended. In the preparation of the trial of said cases, he was of great assistance to the Commonwealth, a fact which was appreciated by myself as District Attorney. My impression was at the time that his sentence was rather severe because of his previous reputation and because of the assistance he gave the Commonwealth."

His father has been employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad for twenty-seven years, owns his own home and is willing and anxious to care and provide for the applicant.

The applicant has served over four-fifths of his minimum sentence. We believe he has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

The applicant will be on parole until 1941. Employment has been assured.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

CHARLES J. MARGIOTTI,
Attorney General.

THOMAS A. LOGUE,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

In 1933, the applicant plead guilty to assault and battery with intent to kill. He was sentenced to serve a term of from three and one-half years to seven years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. The trial judge states, "I have * * * no objection to

In re Application of Joe Guiffrida—No. 2213
April Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Joe Guiffrida, convicted of burning with intent to defraud insurers and arson, in the Court of Quarter Sessions and Oyer and Terminer of Cambria County, on October 7, 1929, be commuted from sixteen years to five years, eight months, expiring on June 7, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant and an accomplice were convicted of burning with intent to defraud insurers and arson in 1929. Both were sentenced to serve terms of from sixteen to thirty-two years in the Western State Penitenitary. The minimum sentence of the accomplice was commuted to a term of five years and three months, and he was released on parole.

The applicant was never convicted of any other crime. The Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary state, "If eligible to apply for parole would probably recommend; it is felt that he has learned his lesson; it is his first conviction and he has shown an exceptionally cooperative attitude during confinement." The Warden of the Western State Penitentiary states, "He (the applicant) is an experienced barber and if released should be able to earn an honest livelihood." We believe the applicant has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied that he is not a habitual criminal.

The applicant will be on parole until 1961.

In re Application of Donald E. Meek—No. 2229
April Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Donald E. Meek, convicted of assault and battery, escape, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Fayette and Centre Counties, on June 5, 1933, November 2, 1933, be commuted from three years to one and one-half years, expiring on May 25, 1935, and from one year, eleven months, to one month, expiring on June 26, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1933, the applicant was sentenced to serve a term of one and one-half to three years in the Western State Penitentiary for aggravated assault and battery. He was transferred to the Rockview Farm Prison in 1933, and escaped from that Institution. He surrendered voluntarily. The trial district attorney states, "It is my candid opinion that this boy has served long enough to pay society the debt that he owes them for transgressing the law, and for the welfare of his mother and family, I believe that clemency should be extended to him. I am writing these few lines to you without the solicitation from anyone, because I believe that it is the right thing to do."

The applicant will be on parole until 1939. A parole investigation disclosed the fact that his wife is seriously ill and is in urgent need of his support.

In re Application of Juliano Santore—No. 2240
April Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Juliano Santore, convicted of murder, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on December 3, 1926, be commuted from life imprisonment to eight years, six months, expiring on June 3, 1935, and to be on parole for life.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1926, the applicant plead guilty to murder. He was adjudged guilty of murder of the first degree and was sentenced to the Western State Penitentiary for life.

A careful investigation of the case discloses that the applicant was probably guilty only of voluntary manslaughter, and the district attorney's representative appeared before us at the open session and stated that in his opinion the applicant was guilty of voluntary manslaughter. The applicant was never in any other serious trouble. His conduct and employment records during his incarceration have been excellent. He has served approximately eight and one-half years of his sentence. We believe he has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

The applicant will be on parole for life. He has sufficient funds to maintain himself for some time after release.

In re Application of Albert F. McCloskey—No. 2244
April Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Albert F. McCloskey, convicted of larceny, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Allegheny County, on September 30, 1919, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1919, the applicant plead guilty to larceny. He was sentenced to 30 days' imprisonment in the Allegheny County Jail. The District Attorney of the County of Allegheny states:—"The offence for which above applicant was prosecuted was, really, 'Operating a car without the consent of the owner.' The facts are, that applicant rode in a car which had been stolen by another defendant, and that the car was being used for joy-riding purposes.

Since the commission of above mentioned offense, this applicant has not been in court charged with any other crime. From my investigation of the case and the subsequent life of this applicant, I would strongly urge upon your board favorable consideration of his application."

The applicant has been a police officer in the City of Pittsburgh since 1926 but was notified on February 14, 1935, that, because of his record in 1919, it would be necessary for him to secure a pardon if he intended to be retained as a police officer.

The pardon will in part remove the stigma of the crime from the applicant and his family, and will be of material assistance to his advancement and enable him to be reappointed to the police force.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Lenerte Roberts, convicted of embezzlement and fraudulent conversion, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on May 1, 1933, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1933, the applicant plead guilty to embezzlement and fraudulent conversion. He was sentenced to serve a term of three years in the Philadelphia County Prison. After serving a little over a year of his sentence, he was paroled by the trial court. The applicant was never convicted of any other crime. At the present time he is gainfully employed and is conducting himself in an exemplary manner. The Honorable Marshall L. Shepard represented the applicant and testified as to his good character.

A pardon will, in, part, remove the stigma of the conviction from the applicant and his family and will be a material assistance to the applicant's advancement.

In re Application of Steve Feshenko—No. 2262
April Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was convicted of voluntary manslaughter in 1932. He was sentenced to serve a term of from five to ten years in the Western State Penitentiary. The trial District Attorney states, "I believe the defendant has served such a substantial portion of his sentence that, coupled with the jury's recommendation for leniency, and the family conditions, especially since the death of the mother, makes the present application meritorious and I therefore recommend that it be acted upon favorably." An investigator for the Washington County Poor Board states, "For humanity's sake he should be shown the greatest mercy if only for the benefit of his children. They are in a community where if they do not receive some parental care, or are made to realize that someone is interested in their future, they, too, may become a burden to society. Therefore, I hope you will receive this from one who is sincerely engaged in welfare work. I ask you in the name of God and humanity, with all the power your board may be able to invoke, to act favorably in this case."

The applicant was never involved in any other trouble. His conduct and employment records during his incarceration have been excellent. He has served over three years of his minimum sentence. We believe he has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied that he has not been a habitual criminal.

The applicant will be on parole until 1942. Employment has been assured.

In re Application of Walter Kaiser—No. 2263
April Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Walter Kaiser, convicted of larceny and receiving stolen goods, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Allegheny County, on September 29, 1906, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1906, the applicant was convicted of larcency and receiving stolen goods. He was sentenced to the Pennsylvania Industrial School and, after twenty months of confinement was granted a final discharge, after having made an excellent record in the institution.

The applicant was appointed a policeman in the City of Pittsburgh, over twenty years ago. His record with the Police Department was exemplary and after faithful and continued service he attained the position of Inspector of Police. However, as a result of the conviction in 1906, he was suspended from duty. A pardon will enable him to be reinstated.

The trial judge, the Honorable Robert S. Frazer, states: "I am not acquainted with Kaiser, but have made inquiry as to his record, and find that no other charge has ever been made against him, and that he bears a good reputation, and has been an efficient and faithful police officer of this city for a number of years, attaining the position of Inspector of Police. Under the circumstances I see no reason why the petition should not be granted, and join in this application. "Many responsible persons who know the applicant have recommended a pardon."

A pardon will in part remove the stigma of the crime from the applicant and his family and will be of material assistance to his advancement.

THOMAS KENNEDY,

In re Application of Fred Mentus—No. 2269
April Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Fred Mentus, convicted of aggravated assault and battery, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Greene County, on June 11, 1934, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was convicted of aggravated assault and battery in 1934. The charge arose out of a drunken brawl. He was sentenced to serve a term of from one to two years in the Western State Penitentiary. Eleven (11) other persons who were charged with assault and battery, the charges all having arisen out of the same offence, were acquitted. The applicant has served over ten months of his minimum sentence. He was never involved in any other trouble. His conduct and employment records during his incarceration have been excellent. He is the sole support of his parents.

We believe the applicant has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied that he is not a habitual criminal. In our opinion, the circumstances surrounding the commission of the crime and the applicant's previous good record, does not warrant the applicant's remaining on parole.

A pardon will in part remove the stigma of the crime and will be of material assistance to the applicant's advancement.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Stanley Bednas, convicted of robbery, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Lackawanna County, on February 7, 1925, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1925, the applicant, when only 17 years of age, was convicted of robbery. He was sentenced to serve a term of from ten to twenty years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. He was released on parole in February of this year. Because of the conviction, he will be deported to Austria unless a pardon is granted. The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary states:—"Recommended for pardon:—(1) Exceptional institutional record. (2) Good promise for readjusment to society."

The applicant has no friends or relatives in his native country. We believe that deportation would be an unnecessarily harsh and cruel punishment.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead guilty to murder of the second degree in 1929. He was sentenced to serve a term of from ten to twenty years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. He was never involved in any other trouble. The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary state, "Recommended for consideration. This recommendation is based upon the institutional record while incarcerated at Graterford and at Rockview. First arrest and conviction." The trial district attorney states, "In view of the length of time that this defendant has already served and his good previous record, I feel that the ends of justice would be met in this case if the Pardon Board would commute this sentence as prayed for."

The applicant has served over four-fifths of his minimum sentence. We believe he has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

The applicant will be on parole until 1947. He has saved over $700.00 since his incarceration and intends to go into business for himself in Virginia.

In re Application of Bernard Francis Mount—No. 2282
April Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Bernard Francis Mount, convicted of rape; aggravated assault and battery, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Bucks County, on April 12, 1929, be commuted from ten and one-half years to six years, two months, expiring on June 12, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was convicted of rape and aggravated assault and battery in 1929. He was sentenced to serve a term of from ten and one-half to fifteen years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. The applicant, by the time he can be released, will have served almost six and one-half years of his minimum sentence. The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary state, " * * * if the sole basis for granting clemency would be the institutional record and employment record while incarcerated this man should be granted consideration. The applicant was never involved in any other trouble. The trial district attorney has no objections to the granting of clemency."

A commutation of sentence was granted to an accomplice who was released on parole in 1934.

The applicant will be on parole until 1944. Employment has been assured.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Bennett LeHodges—No. 2293
April Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the death sentence of Bennett LeHodges, convicted of murder, first degree, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County on January 4, 1935, be commuted from death to imprisonment for life.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead guilty to murder in December, 1934. Judges Millar, Lewis and McDevitt heard the testimony and found the applicant guilty with penalty of death. Briefly the facts of the case are as follows:

The applicant went to a junk yard unarmed, not expecting to find anyone on guard, to steal some junk. Upon finding the victim, a night watchman, he struck him over the head with a pipe which he found on the premises and bound the watchman hand and foot. The applicant then stole some junk which he sold. The watchman languished for about six weeks in a hospital and died of the injuries.

We are inclined to believe that the applicant did not go to the junk yard with the intention of killing anyone and the fact that he bound the victim after striking him indicates that it was not his intention to kill. The applicant told the truth about the whole affair and cooperated with the police in solving the crime and convicting the persons who received the stolen junk. We believe the interests of justice will be served by a commutation of the death sentence to one of life imprisonment.

Judge Millar in a letter dated April 13, 1935, directed to us, states: "While I think the sentence was proper in the light of the testimony, and we heard all of it after the defendant plead guilty, nevertheless I am sincerely of the opinion that this is a matter which justifies the exercise of clemency. I was firmly convinced that this defendant would not have undertaken to steal the metal had it not been for his previous arrangement with Kamel, the junk dealer, to purchase what was stolen. Kamel was convicted with LeHodges' help and on his testimony. Unfortunately it was only possible to impose a sentence of eighteen months to three years. He, in my judgment, was the real culprit. These unfortunate negroes would not steal if no market were provided for the metal stolen. In view of all the circumstances I sincerely hope you will feel inclined to extend the clemency LeHodges asks for."

We are in accord with Judge Millar's recommendation.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

CHARLES J. MARGIOTTI,
Attorney General.

THOMAS A. LOGUE,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Gerald Enos—No. 471
May Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Gerald Enos, convicted of murder, second degree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Fayette County on July 6, 1928, be commuted from eight years to seven years expiring on July 6, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1928, the applicant and some of his friends engaged in a drunken brawl. One of his friends hit him over the head with a bottle and almost bit off his finger. The applicant fired a revolver, which he was carrying and killed his assailant. He was convicted of murder in the second degree, and was sentenced to serve a term of from eight to eighteen years in the Western State Penitentiary.

The applicant has served almost seven years of his minimum sentence. We believe he has been sufficiently punished. Our reasons follow: (1) Applicant was never involved in any other serious trouble. (2) His conduct and employment records during his incarceration have been excellent. (3) He has served approximately seven years of his minimum sentence. (4) We are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

The applicant's wife and two children are in urgent need of his support.

The Honorable Samuel A. Weiss recommends clemency.

The applicant will be on parole until 1946.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

CHARLES J. MARGIOTTI,
Attorney General.

THOMAS A. LOGUE,

The above recommendation is approved:

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Frank Taylor—No. 801
May Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Frank Taylor, convicted of larceny, attempted escape in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Lawrence County on May 14, 1929, be commuted from seven years to five years, ten months, expiring on May 3, 1935 and from four years to one month expiring on June 3, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1929, the applicant plead guilty to the larceny of an automobile. He was sentenced to serve a term of from one and one-half to seven years. He was released on parole on November 4, 1930. One month later he attempted to steal another automobile, and while being held in default of bail attempted to escape prison. For these crimes he was sentenced to serve a term of from four to eight years.

The trial judge states, "I understand this applicant to have served the minimum sentence imposed when he was last before our court. In imposing sentence I think we did not take into consideration the fact that he would have a long time to serve on his previous sentence, from which he had been paroled. I would have no objection to your acting favorably upon this application and granting a rehearing. On re-hearing, if your Honorable Board concludes that his conduct during his imprisonment has been such as to warrant favorable action upon his application for clemency, I would wish to be regarded as favoring such action."

The applicant's conduct and employment records during his incarceration have been excellent. He has served almost six years for the larceny of two automobiles and attempt to break jail.

The applicant will be on parole until 1944. Employment has been assured in West Virginia and our recommendation is contingent upon his removing to, and remaining in, that State.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

CHARLES J. MARGIOTTI,
Attorney General.

THOMAS A. LOGUE,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

In re Application of Hugh McCafferty—No. 841
May Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Hugh McCafferty, convicted of robbery and being armed with an offensive weapon, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on August 9, 1928, be commuted from fifteen years to seven years, expiring on August 9, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead guilty to several charges of robbery, being armed with an offensive weapon, in 1928. He was sentenced to serve a term of from fifteen to thirty years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. We believe he has been sufficiently punished. Our reasons follow: (1) The applicant was never involved in any other trouble. (2) He has an excellent institutional record. (3) He has served approximately seven years of his sentence. (4) We do not believe he is a habitual criminal.

The District Attorney's representative of Philadelphia County stated to us at the open hearing that he was in favor of clemency being extended.

The applicant will be on parole until 1958. Employment has been guaranteed, and a satisfactory home has been provided.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Joseph P. McDevitt—No. 912

May Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Joseph P. McDevitt, convicted of burglary, conspiracy and entering to steal, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on December 13, 1929, be commuted from ten years to five years, six months expiring on June 13, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1929, the applicant, when only seventeen years of age, was convicted of attempted burglary, conspiracy, and entering to steal. He was sentenced to serve a term of from ten to twenty years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. The applicant has served over five and one-half years of his minimum sentence. We believe he has been sufficiently punished.

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary states: "This boy was only 17 years of age when he was received in the institution. He has a satisfactory institutional record with the exception of one case of fighting in 1931. If he was being considered for parole he would probably receive favorable recommendation."

The trial judge has no objection to the exercise of clemency.

The applicant will be on parole until 1949. Our recommendation is contingent upon his securing legitimate employment or a satisfactory home.

THOMAS KENNEDY,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Christopher Tomaino—No. 955

May Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Christopher Tomaino, convicted of highway robbery in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Lackawanna County on December 15, 1930, be commuted from ten years to four years, six months, expiring on June 15, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead guilty to highway robbery in 1930, and was sentenced to serve a term of from ten to twenty years in the Eastern State Penitentiary.

The trial district attorney states, "* * * This was the applicant's first offense and previous to his conviction in this case he bore an excellent reputation in the community. He comes from a very highly respected family in the Borough of Archbald, Lackawanna County.

"I have corresponded with the applicant recently, and his letters would indicate that he is fairly well educated with a keen mind. The victim in the case has consulted me and informs that he feels the boy has been sufficiently punished and that he is desirous of seeing him released, feeling that the boy has learned his lesson and is now willing to become a useful member of society.

"The question to be decided by the Board, in my opinion, is whether or not the applicant has been sufficiently punished for his offense, having served approximately four and one-half years of his sentence. In view of his excellent reputation previous to his conviction, the high regard in which his family is held in the community, and the apparent sincerity with which he disavows any future criminal activity, I would be inclined to give him the requested clemency."

We believe the applicant has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied that he is not a habitual criminal.

The applicant will be on parole until 1950. Employment has been assured.

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

In re Application of Matthew Diana—No. 976

May Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1931, the applicant and his father-in-law became involved in a quarrel. The father-in-law drew a gun and in a struggle for its possession a number of shots were fired, killing the father-in-law. There had been numerous arguments between the applicant and the deceased, and the applicant had on several occasions asked for help from the police. The applicant was convicted of voluntary manslaughter and was sentenced to serve a term of from five years, eight months, to eleven years, four months. We believe he has been sufficiently punished. Our reasons are as follows: (1) The applicant was never involved in any other trouble and enjoyed an excellent reputation in the community in which he resided. (2) His institutional record has been satisfactory. (3) He has served approximately four years of his sentence. (4) We are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of George Schellinger, convicted of robbery in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Allegheny County on May 29, 1931, be commuted from ten years to four years, one month, expiring on May 29, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant pleaded guilty to several charges of robbery in 1931. He was sentenced to serve a term of from ten to twenty years in the Western State Penitentiary. He was never involved in any other trouble. His conduct and employment records during his incarceration have been excellent. He has served over four years of his minimum sentence. In re Application of Howard Frank Gross—No. 1411
May Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Howard Frank Gross, convicted of embracery in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Butler County, on June 25, 1932, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was convicted of embracery in 1932 and sentenced to serve a term of one year in the Butler County jail. He served approximately nine months of his sentence and was released on parole.

The trial district attorney states, in a letter of April 2nd, "* * * I am aware that Mr. Gross had an excellent record in the Pittsburgh police department for nearly nineteen years before his trouble in Butler County, and of the predicament that conviction places him in with regard to his service record. Also that he was somewhat in the position of taking orders in the matter in which he got in trouble. His sentence was satisfactorily complied with and he has faithfully adhered to his parole, and all conditions imposed. I therefore freely and willingly recommend favorable consideration of his application by your honorable Board."

In a letter of April 30th, he states, "I have read the application of Howard Frank Gross for pardon. His statement of facts is mainly correct. There was sufficient evidence to convict, but I have always felt that Gross was the 'goat,' that others above him pushed him into it. I certainly hope that your Honorable Board will grant him pardon."

The applicant was never involved in any other trouble, and since his relcase from prison he has conducted himself in an exemplary manner. Unless a pardon is granted, he will be discharged from his present position with the City of Pittsburgh.

A pardon will, in part, remove the stigma of the conviction from the applicant and his family and will be of material assistance to his advancement.

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

Secretary of the Commonwealth.

In re Application of Dominick Truli—No. 1466
May Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Dominick Truli, convicted of murder (second degree) in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County on March 17, 1931, be commuted from six years to four years, three months, expiring on June 17, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1931, the applicant plead guilty generally to murder. He was found guilty of murder in the second degree and was sentenced to serve a term of from six to twelve years in the Western State Penitentiary.

The resident physician of the Rockview Farm Prison states. "This man is 72 years of age, has a marked arteriosclerosis and chronic myocarditis, with alternation and numerous premature beats. On a number of occasions he has been in the hospital with a marked cardiac asthma."

The Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary states, "Owing to his heart condition, would recommend that he be released at the earliest possible date, in order that he may not die in prison."

The applicant is a native of Italy. Our recommendation is contingent upon his deportation to that country.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was convicted of murder of the second degree in 1928. He was sentenced to serve a term of from ten to twenty years in the Western State Penitentiary. He was never involved in any other trouble. His institutional record has been good.

The applicant is a native of Mexico and has agreed to return to his native country. The district attorney has no objections to a commutation providing the applicant returns immediately to Mexico.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead guilty in 1932 to larceny. The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary states, "This man has a satisfactory institutional record and at present time is employed in the garage at Graterford. He only has one previous arrest. If he was being considered for parole he would probably receive favorable recommendations." The supervisor of paroles recommends clemency.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead guilty to robbery in 1932. He was sentenced to serve a term of from five to twenty years in the Western State Penitentiary. He was never involved in any other trouble. The applicant had not been employed for two years prior to the commission of the crime. During the period of unemployment his savings were spent. He gave up a life insurance policy and sold his automobile. The electricity, gas and water were turned off in his home and he finally received notice to vacate his home. He did all he could to secure work but was not successful and resorted to crime as a last resort to supply his wife and child with the necessities of life. We believe the applicant has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

The applicant will be on parole until 1952. Employment and a home have been provided in Kentucky. Our recommendation is contingent upon his returning to and remaining in the State of Kentucky.

May Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead guilty to two charges of robbery in 1931. He was sentenced to serve a term of from twelve to twenty-four years in the Western State Penitentiary.

The trial judge states, "* * * if you believe he can and will obtain steady and honest employment it would seem to me his application would be meritorious and he could be safely released under parole."

The Board of Trustees of the Penitentiary states, "Because it is his first offense, because of his good prison record, and because of his age when committed here, would strongly recommend clemency."

The district attorney's representative stated to us at the open hearing that he believed the applicant was a fit subject for parole.

The applicant has served almost four and one-half years of his minimum sentence. We believe he has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied that he is not a habitual criminal. In re Application of Harry H. Hoffman—No. 1706
May Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, a widower and a practicing physician in Ashley, Pennsylvania, married a woman he met through a matrimonial agency in 1926. It appears that his wife was an adventuress and an extortionist, who attempted by the most vicious and despicable means to bring about domestic discord in order that the applicant would do something which would enable her to force him to give her the property which he had accumulated to prevent a scandalous divorce action and effect an amicable separation. The applicant was goaded into such a frenzy that early one morning in 1928, following an all-night tirade, he seized a hammer and struck his wife over the head, the blows proving fatal. He was convicted of murder of the second degree and sentenced to the Eastern Penitentiary for from ten to twenty years.

The applicant was never involved in any other trouble and enjoyed an excellent reputation in the community in which he lived and practiced. Many responsible persons have urged us to recommend clemency.

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary states, "This man has a very good institutional record. During the construction period at Graterford he performed outstanding work in the medical department. At the present time he is doing an equally efficient job in the mailing department. If he was being considered for parole would be undoubtedly recommended."

The applicant has served over six and one-half years of his minimum sentence. We believe he has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied that he is not a habitual criminal.

May Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Jerry Stolpi, convicted of robbery in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Luzerne County on October 10, 1932, be commuted from five years to two years, eight months, expiring on June 10, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was convicted of robbery in 1932. He was sentenced to the Eastern State Penitentiary for from five to ten years. He was never involved in any other serious trouble. One accomplice was never sentenced to imprisonment, and another accomplice, who was sentenced to serve a ter . of from three to six years in the Luzerne County Jail, was paroled after having served about six months.

Mrs. Fannie Sax Long, Chairman, Division of Correction and Restoration, State Federation of Pennsylvania Women, states, "In as far as I am able I shall try to help his re-establishment in society if you will act favorably in his case. I have known him since he was a school boy and believe that there is promise in him of decent citizenship if given an opportunity to prove it. Therefore I trust that you will give hi ma chance. Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1931, the applicant, when only sixteen years of age, plead guilty to several charges of robbery. He was sentenced to serve a term of from twelve and one-half to sixty years in the Western State Penitentiary. The Board of Trustees of that institution states, "Because of his extreme youth when committed here, because of his good prison record, and because it is his first conviction, would strongly recommend clemency." May Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Fred Hart, convicted of malicious mischief; felonious assault in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Fayette County on March 23, 1934, be commuted from one and one-half years to one year, three months, expiring on June 23, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was convicted of felonious assault and battery in 1934. He was sentenced to serve a term of from one and one-half to three years in the Western State Penitentiary. After a careful examination and investigation of the case there is considerable doubt in our minds as to his guilt.

The applicant has served approximately two-thirds of his minimum sentence. He was never involved in any other trouble. His conduct and employment records during his incarceration have been excellent. His wife and two children are in urgent need of his support.

The trial judge states, "I know of no reason why either one of these applications should not receive favorable consideration at your hands, and I therefore express the belief that they should have a rehearing and be granted clemency. My reasons for making this recommendation are: (a) The length of time already served; (b) The industrial difficulties out of which these occurrences grew have subsided; and (c) I believe now the ends of justice have been met by the punishment already undergone."

The Honorable Anthony Cavalcante recommended clemency.

We believe the applicant has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

The applicant will be on parole until March, 1937. Employment has been assured.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

CHARLES J. MARGIOTTI,
Attorney General.

THOMAS A. LOGUE,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

GEORGE H. EARLE,

In re Application of Fenton Fitzpatrick Houlihan—No. 2297
May Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Fenton Fitzpatrick Houlihan, convicted of sodomy, aggravated assault and battery to ravish, rape, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on November 8, 1926, be commuted from fifteen years to eight years, seven months, expiring on June 8, 1935.

He was sentenced to serve a term of from fifteen to thirty years in the Eastern State Penitentiary.

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary states, "* * * This man has a good institutional record. Has improved himself and advanced to shipper in Weave Department. If this man was being considered for parole he would probably be recommended notwithstanding his prior juvenile record of delinquency."

We believe he has been sufficiently punished.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead guilty to voluntary manslaughter in August of 1934. He was sentenced to serve a term of from two to four years in the Western State Penitentiary. The trial district attorney says, "Defendant's application for pardon correctly sets forth the facts, although not in detail. Deceased had threatened to kill defendant and had thrown the knives at him inside the storeroom, as he outlines in his application. The defendant, undoubtedly had great provocation, and in view of previous threats he might have exceeded the limits of self-defense when the killing was committed.

"In our opinion, the application has merit and should receive the earnest consideration of the Board."

After a careful investigation and consideration of the case, we are convinced the applicant has been sufficiently punished. The applicant has never been involved in any other trouble. His institutional record has been excellent.

The applicant will be on parole until 1938. A home has been provided for him.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as llows:

The applicant was convicted of statutory rape in 1932. e was sentenced to serve a term of from three to ten ears in the Eastern State Penitentiary. An accomplice, ntenced to serve a term of from four to ten years, was leased on parole about six months ago, after his sen- nce was commuted to a minimum term of two years, ne month.

The trial judge states, "In my judgment the applicant as properly convicted, but in view of the fact that the o-defendant has been released and the condition of the pplicant's family, I think that he might properly be own clemency. I do not recollect whether the other efendant was paroled or pardoned, but I would rec- mmend that this application be disposed of in the same aner as the other was."

Warden Healey of Luzerne County Prison, in which in- itution the applicant has been confined since 1933, states, We have at all times found Snowden willing to carry ut the rules of the institution, and from our observation, e are led to believe that if the Board of Pardons con- ders his application for clemency, allowing him to re- rn to Society, he will endeavor to support his family, ho are in dire need of his help, and prove himself a w-abiding citizen to his community."

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as ows:

The applicant plead guilty to breaking and entering and ceny in 1933. He was sentenced to serve a term of from to twenty years in the Eastern State Penitentiary.

The Chief Burgess and Chief of Police of West Hazleton ote, "We were present in Court when the defendant, John Kwashnock, was sentenced to twice the period of sentence imposed upon Walter Rymsza and John Bango. We believe that all the boys had been too severely dealt with, especially John Kwashnock because his sentence was twice as long as the other boys' sentences. Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead guilty to robbery and receiving stolen goods, in 1931, and was sentenced to serve a term of from five to ten years in the Western State Penitentiary.

The trial district attorney states, "* * * I have read the details of the crime, as set forth by the applicant and have gone over the matter with County Detective John M. Gross, who was County Detective under me at the time of the commission of this crime. The applicant has given you the details truthfully, I believe.

It has not been my practice to recommend a pardon against the judgment of the Court imposing sentence. In this case, however, in view of the truthful statement of facts by the applicant, I would not feel justified in opposing this application. I know nothing contrary to what he has said and he is at least to be commended for his truthfulness."

The applicant was never involved in any other trouble and has served over three-fifths of his minimum sentence. His conduct and institutional records during his incarceration have been excellent. We believe he has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied that he is not a habitual criminal.

In re Application of Dudley J. Myers—No. 2312
May Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead guilty to robbery, being armed with an offensive weapon, in 1932. He was sentenced to serve a term of from five to ten years in the Western State Penitentiary. He was never involved in any other trouble. His institutional record has been excellent. The trial district attorney states, "The above named defendant, on his plea of guilty to robbery armed with a weapon, was sentenced to pay the cost, a fine of $1.00, and to undergo imprisonment in the Western State Penitentiary for a term of not less than five nor more than ten years. A co-defendant, William Kozel, on his plea of guilty, was sentenced to stand committed to Huntingdon, and another co-defendant, William Rock, was given the same sentence as the above named defendant and his application for clemency was granted, and he has been released.

"The application sets forth in brief the facts as presented to the court at the time of sentence. We believe this defendant occupies much the same position as Rock, and that his application is entitled to the earnest consideration of the Board."

We believe the applicant has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

In re Application of Lloyd Lowman—No. 2338
May Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Lloyd Lowman, convicted of larceny, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Indiana County, on March 26, 1935, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was working his way through high school in Indiana, Pennsylvania. He was employed in a service station in Indiana. Sometime in January some older acquaintances of his suggested that he permit them to take tires from the service station for their cars. The applicant's only part in the larceny of the tires was to allow his acquaintances to remove them. This was done on a number of occasions. He readily admitted his guilt, was sentenced to pay one half the costs of prosecution and make restitution of goods taken and was sentenced to the Pennsylvania Training School in Morganza.

The applicant was never involved in any other trouble. Many responsible people of Indiana recommend a pardon. Senators Albert Reed and Edward B. Bennett appeared before us and urged the granting of a pardon. The applicant will graduate on May 28th. Professor J. A. Lubold, Principal of the Indiana High school, states:

"Those of us who have worked with this young man (the applicant) believe that any action taken by the Board which would place him into a position of probation, or which would result in his pardon, would be well founded and justified. We have known this young man to be of good character. He was a well mannered and well behaved boy about High School. He attended to his work in the class room. He was active in specialized activities such as athletics. His associations about school and within the community have been clean and wholesome. We are anticipating the possibility of having this young man graduate with his class, May 28th. Arrangements have been made with the Academic Department of the Morganza Training School so that he may complete his work for graduation. Any favorable reaction to Lloyd's application will be appreciated by us."

Senator Bennett has arranged for employment for the applicant for the summer months and it is the applicant's intention to go to college in the fall. The District Attorney in telegrams addressed to the Secretary of the Board stated: "Facts set out in Lloyd Lowman application substantially correct. This office not opposing Lloyd Lowman application."

After a careful examination of all the facts in the case we believe the applicant should never have been sentenced to any institution and are confident that he will never engage in any other activities of a criminal nature.

In re Application of Gus Nazzaro—No. 256

June Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the maximum sentence of Gus Nazzaro, convicted of robbery, being armed with an offensive weapon, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County, on June 2, 1930, be commuted from twenty years to five years, two months, expiring on August 2, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was convicted of robbery, being armed with an offensive weapon, in 1930. He was sentenced to serve a term of from five to twenty years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. On July 29, 1932, he was transferred to the Berks County Prison. While working on the outside of the prison he and several others were furnished with liquor and after becoming intoxicated they drove away in a truck they had been using in their work. Upon becoming sober, they returned to the prison in a taxicab. The applicant was sentenced to serve a term of four months for escape, the sentence to run concurrently with the original sentence.

Judge Schaeffer and Judge Shanaman recommend clemency, stating that the jail break should not be a bar to clemency and that this is a proper case for parole. The applicant would already have been released on parole except for the escape. He was never involved in any other trouble.

The applicant has an excellent home to which he can go and reasonable assurance of employment. He will be on parole until 1950.

In re Application of John DuBoy—No. 555

June Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of John DuBoy, convicted of entering, receiving stolen goods, assault and battery to rob, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Fayette County, on October 14, 1930, be commuted from ten years to four years, ten months, expiring on August 14, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead guilty to several charges of robbery and was sentenced to serve a term of from ten to twenty years in the Western State Penitentiary. The Board of Trustees of that institution state: "If eligible to apply for parole, would probably recommend: first conviction, excellent prison record."

The applicant has served almost one-half of his minimum sentence. We believe he has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

One of the applicant's accomplices was released on parole in 1933, and another accomplice had his sentence commuted and was released on parole.

The applicant will be on parole until 1950.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Frank Knox Hockman—No. 576
June Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Frank Knox Hockman, convicted of robbery, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Clarion County, on March 7, 1927, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1927, the applicant was convicted of robbery. He was sentenced to serve a term of from ten to twenty years in the Western State Penitentiary. In 1931, his sentence was commuted to a minimum term of four years, nine months, and he was released on parole. His conduct since his release has been exemplary.

The district attorney states: "* * * I have had some experience with Mr. Hockman since he was paroled and all our dealings have been satisfactory and to the best of my knowledge his reputation locally has been very good since his parole."

Judge Rimer states: "* * * it seems to me that there is no objection to restoring him to full citizenship by pardon."

At the present time, a number of contracts will be offered to the applicant for short stories if a pardon is granted. He already has earned a considerable amount of money by writing for several magazines.

A pardon will in part remove the stigma of the crime from the applicant and his family and will be of material assistance to his advancement.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

CHARLES J. MARGIOTTI,
Attorney General.

THOMAS A. LOGUE,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Charles Russogulo—No. 642
June Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Charles Russogulo, convicted of murder in the first degree, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County, on April 5, 1918, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1917, three other men and the applicant shot and killed a man and wounded another. The applicant alleged that these men were members of a blackmail gang who had threatened their lives if a certain sum of money was not paid. At the time of the trial the applicant was unable to present sufficient evidence to convince the court and jury of these facts, and the conviction followed. However, the office of the district attorney of Allegheny County states that after-discovered evidence tends to verify the allegations of the applicant. There is a reasonable doubt in our minds that the offence which the applicant committed was first degree murder.

In January, 1932, Governor Pinchot, upon the recommendation of the Board of Pardons commuted the applicant's sentence to a minimum of thirteen years, nine months, and the applicant was released on parole. Since then he has conducted himself in an exemplary manner.

Rev. Father O'Connell of Pittsburgh, who is very well acquainted with the applicant recommends a pardon. A pardon will in part remove the stigma of the crime from the applicant and his family and will be of material assistance to his advancement.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

CHARLES J. MARGIOTTI,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Edwin Joseph Del Marmol—No. 930
June Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Edwin Joseph Del Marmol, convicted of robbery, being armed with an offensive weapon, in the Courts of Oyer and Terminer and general jail delivery of Philadelphia County, on September 26, 1927, be commuted from ten years to eight years, expiring on September 26, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1927, the applicant, when only eighteen years of age, plead guilty to several charges of robbery, being armed with an offensive weapon. He was sentenced to serve a term of from ten to thirty years in the Eastern State Penitentiary, like sentences having been imposed upon two accomplices. The sentence of one accomplice was commuted and release on parole was effected in June, 1934. By the time the applicant can be released he will have served eight years of his minimum sentence.

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary states, "For the last three years in the institution he has had an exceptional record. Has been employed in the fire department during the day time and in the position of trust as emergency plumber at night. If he was eligible for parole he would probably receive favorable consideration."

We believe the applicant should be given an opportunity at this time rather than to exact the full minimum penalty imposed. An excellent home has been provided. The applicant will be on parole until 1957.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

CHARLES J. MARGIOTTI,

In re Application of James Tarsnane—No. 954
June Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of James Tarsnane, convicted of robbery, being armed with an offensive weapon, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on September 26, 1927, be commuted from ten years to eight years, expiring on September 26, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1927, the applicant, when only nineteen years of age, plead guilty to several charges of robbery, being armed with an offensive weapon. He was sentenced to serve a term of from ten to thirty years in the Eastern State Penitentiary, like sentences having been imposed upon two accomplices. The sentence of one accomplice was commuted, release on parole was effected in June, 1934. By the time the applicant can be released he will have served eight years of his minimum sentence.

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary states, "During the disturbance at Graterford last August he was one of the few men who reported for work on the following day. Because of his excellent institutional record he would probably receive favorable consideration if eligible for parole."

We believe the applicant should be given an opportunity at this time rather than to exact the full minimum penalty imposed. An excellent home has been provided and employment has been assured. The applicant will be on parole until 1957.

In re Application of Leon Williams (Odogus)—No. 1033
June Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was convicted of robbery, being armed with an offensive weapon, in 1930. He was sentenced to serve a term of from five to ten years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. On December 12, 1932, he was transferred to the Berks County Prison. While working on the outside of the prison he and several others were furnished with liquor and after becoming intoxicated they drove away in a truck, which they had been using in their work. Upon becoming sober, they returned to the prison in a taxicab. The applicant was sentenced to serve a term of four months for escape, the sentence to run concurrently with the original sentence.

Judge Schaeffer and Judge Shanaman recommend clemency, stating that the jail break should not be a bar to clemency and that this is a proper case for parole. The applicant would already have been released on parole except for the escape.

The applicant has an excellent home to which he can go and reasonable assurance of employment. He will be on parole until 1940.

In re Application of Terry Evans—No. 1148
June Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Terry Evans, convicted of larceny by trick and robbery, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Allegheny County, on January 25, 1928, be commuted from eleven and one-half years to seven years, seven months, expiring on August 25, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1928 the applicant plead guilty to larceny by trick. He was sentenced to serve a term of from one and one-half to three years in the Western State Penitentiary. He was convicted of robbery, being armed with an offensive weapon on this charge and was sentenced to serve a term of from ten to twenty years in the same institution.

The applicant was never involved in any other serious trouble and his conduct and employment records during his incarceration have been excellent.

A commutation of sentence for deportation was granted on March 15, 1933. However, the applicant was not deportable and he could not be released. He has served over two years additional time. We believe he has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

The applicant will be on parole until 1951. Employment has been assured.

In re Application of Pete Belich—No. 1253

June Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Pete Belich, convicted of rape, fornication, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Beaver County, on September 29, 1932, be commuted from five years to two years, eleven months, expiring on August 29, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was convicted of rape in 1932. He was sentenced to serve a term of from five to fifteen years in the Western State Penitentiary.

Three accomplices were placed on probation and ordered to pay the prosecutrix $1,000.00 jointly. The prosecutrix appeared before us at the hearing and stated that the applicant had not committed rape on her and requested a commutation of his sentence. The parole agent's report indicates that the prosecutrix has a very poor reputation and the head of the hospital where she was taken for treatment said that "she was the toughest girl I ever saw."

The Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary state: "As he has but one previous conviction, and his prison record is good, if eligible for parole, would probably recommend." The previous conviction happened when he was only thirteen years of age.

The applicant will be on parole until 1947.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Elizabeth Mangol—No. 1270

June Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Elizabeth Mangol, convicted of murder of the second degree, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on June 25, 1931, be commuted from ten years to four years, three months, expiring on August 20, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

On the night of April 27, 1931, the applicant arose from bed and turned on the gas jets in the oven and stove in her kitchen and returned to bed. The next morning, neighbors, upon detecting the fumes, summoned the police and found the applicant, her husband and two daughters unconscious. Her husband died almost immediately, and one daughter, the following day. A plea of guilty was entered, and the applicant was adjudged guilty on both bills of murder of the second degree, and was sentenced to serve a term of from ten to twenty years.

It appears that at the time of the commission of the crime the applicant was being treated for menopause and was described as highly neurotic, having hallucinations, with fear and persecution complexes.

Judge McNeille states: "I had a great deal of sympathy for Mrs. Mangol, but at the time I sentenced her I felt that she would be a menace to her family and to society. Of course, I can only speak as of the time I sentenced her, as I know nothing about her since then. However, I am satisfied with whatever judgment you may have after your hearing and investigation."

From the reports received from Dr. Frederick S. Baldi, the chief physician of the Philadelphia County Prison, it appears the applicant's physical condition at the present time is good.

The applicant has an excellent home to which she can go, and has a sufficient amount of money to maintain herself for some time. The applicant will be on parole until 1951.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

In re Application of Otto Parsons—No. 1372

June Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Otto Parsons, convicted of voluntary manslaughter, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Allegheny County, on June 26, 1931, be commuted from six years to four years, two months, expiring on August 26, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead guilty to voluntary manslaughter in 1931. He was sentenced to serve a term of from six to twelve years, in the Western State Penitentiary. The facts in the case are as follows:

The deceased, a police officer, assaulted the applicant without any apparent reason and felled him by striking him over the head with a mace. The deceased fired several shots but each time the applicant knocked the gun down and the bullets went wild. During the struggle for the applicant's gun, the gun was discharged twice, fatally wounding the officer. The first persons to get to the scene of the crime found the applicant lying on the pavement unconscious with the wounded officer lying on the applicant.

The applicant has served over two-thirds of his minimum sentence. His institutional record is excellent. We believe he has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

The applicant will be on parole until 1943.

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead guilty to several charges of robbery and receiving stolen goods and felonious assault and battery, in 1927. He was sentenced to serve a term of from thirteen to twenty-six years in the Western State Penitentiary.

The applicant was never involved in any other serious trouble. He has an excellent institutional record. We are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal and believe he has been sufficiently punished. The Supervisor of Paroles recommends clemency.

In re Application of James Osborne—No. 1555
June Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of James Osborne, convicted of robbery, being armed with an offensive weapon, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on December 3, 1932, be commuted from four years to two years, eight months, expiring on August 3, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was convicted of robbery, being armed with an offensive weapon, in 1932. He was sentenced to serve a term of from four to eight years, in the Eastern State Penitentiary.

The report from the parole agent who investigated the case states that there is some doubt as to the applicant's guilt. The applicant was never involved in any other trouble. We believe the applicant has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied that he is not a habitual criminal.

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary states: "This man has a satisfactory institutional record at Graterford and Rockview. If he was eligible for parole would undoubtedly receive favorable consideration on the recommendation of the officials of Rockview Penitentiary."

Employment has been assured and he has an excellent home to which he can go. The applicant will be on parole until 1940.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead guilty in 1930 to robbery, being armed with an offensive weapon. He was sentenced to serve a term of from ten to sixty years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. While he plead guilty to a number of offences, the offences all took place within a period of two or three months. He had never been involved in any other trouble and has a satisfactory institutional record. He has been incarcerated for over five years. We believe he has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

In re Application of Harry Rivel—No. 1740

June Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Harry Rivel, convicted of robbery, being armed with an offensive weapon, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County, on February 10, 1932, be commuted from eight years to three years, seven months, expiring on September 10, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was convicted of robbery, being armed with an offensive weapon in 1932. He was sentenced to serve a term of from eight to twenty years in the Eastern State Penitentiary.

The person robbed stated that the man who held him up wore a tan overcoat and a brownish purple suit. The applicant, when arrested, about twenty minutes after the commission of the robbery, was dressed very poorly in an old pair of pants and a brown sweater. He was not identified as the person who participated in the robbery.

One admittedly guilty person received a sentence of from one to five years in the Philadelphia County Prison, and another, a sentence of from two to twenty years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. The applicant was convicted on the testimony of one of the admittedly guilty persons, who some time after his arrest and incarceration was adjudged insane and transferred to the State Hospital for Criminal Insane. The applicant was arrested on several occasions but convicted of only one serious charge. The facts in this case lead us to believe that there is grave doubt as to his guilt. In any event, the one admittedly guilty person has been discharged, and the other would have been except for his insanity. We feel that it would be unjust to keep incarcerated one whose guilt is questionable while persons, whose guilt is known, have been released.

Dr. Francis D. Patterson has guaranteed that the applicant will be employed with the Pennsylvania Railroad, and an excellent home has been provided. The applicant will be on parole until 1952.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,

In re Application of Morris Tobin—No. 1764

June Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Morris Tobin, convicted of conspiracy to publish fraudulent railroad tickets, in the Courts of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on September 30, 1932, be commuted from ten years to three years, expiring on September 30, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead guilty to fraudulenty publishing railroad tickets. He was sentenced to the Eastern State Penitentiary for from ten to twenty years.

We believe he has been sufficiently punished. Our reasons follow: (1) This was the applicant's first offense. (2) He was not the principal conspirator. (3) Accomplices who were employes of the railroad company were not prosecuted. (4) Conduct and employment records during his incarceration have been excellent. (5) The sentences of three of the accomplices have been commuted upon the recommendation of the Board of Pardons, and they have been released on parole.

The trial judge states: "Viewing all the facts pertaining to the cases of these two brothers, I would recommend to your Board that clemency be granted after they have each served a term of three years, feeling that under all the circumstances the law would be vindicated by this term of imprisonment."

We are in accord with the trial judge's recommendations.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead guilty to murder of the second degree in 1928. He was sentenced to serve a term of from eight to sixteen years in the Eastern State Penitentiary.

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary states: "This man has a satisfactory institutional record at Graterford and Rockview institutions. If he was eligible for parole he would probably receive favorable consideration due to the recommendation of the prison authorities at the Rockview Penitentiary.

He was never involved in any other serious trouble. We believe he has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead guilty to robbery in 1931. He was sentenced to serve a term of from twelve and one-half to sixty years in the Western State Penitentiary.

The trial judge states: "* * * if your Board is convinced of the applicant's sincerity in his claim of reformation, and you find that he has opportunity for decent employment of likely regular type, I would think his application could be deemed meritorious."

The Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary states: "Because of his youth and good prison record, and because it is his first conviction, would strongly recommend clemency." The Supervisor of Paroles recommends clemency.

The Rev. A. DiStasi has offered and guaranteed to supervise and look after the applicant's conduct.

Murphy, convicted of robbery, in the Courts of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Westmoreland County, on September 8, 1932, be commuted from five years to three years, expiring on September 8, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead guilty to robbery in 1932. He was sentenced to serve a term of from five to twenty years in the Western State Penitentiary. By the time he can be released he will have served over three years of his minimum sentence. The applicant was never involved in any other trouble and has an excellent institutional record. In re Application of Quentin Sterling—No. 1911
June Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Quentin Sterling, convicted of assault, being armed with an offensive weapon to rob, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Berks County, on March 21, 1931, be commuted from seven and one-half years to four years, five months, expiring on August 21, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead guilty to assault, being armed with an offensive weapon to rob. He was sentenced to serve a term of from seven and one-half to fifteen years in the Eastern State Penitentiary.

The trial judge states: "My information is that Sterling was never in any trouble but for which he was sentenced. Since his sentence was imposed, I have come to the conclusion that the sentence was unduly severe by reason of his prior good record, and I am personally in favor of his parole at an early date."

The applicant was never convicted of any other crime and his institutional record has been very good. He has served almost four and one-half years of his minimum sentence. We believe he has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied that he is not a habitual criminal.

The applicant will be on parole until 1946. Employment has been assured.

In re Application of Gerard C. Richardson—1930

June Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Gerard C. Richardson, convicted of robbery, being armed with an offensive weapon, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Luzerne County, on September 8, 1932, be commuted from seven and one-half years to two years, eleven months, expiring on August 8, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1932, the applicant, when only seventeen years of age, plead builty to robbery, being armed with an offensive weapon. He was sentenced to serve a term of from seven and one-half to fifteen years in the Eastern State Penitentiary.

The applicant was never involved in any other trouble and has a satisfactory institutional record. We believe he has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

The trial judge states: "* * * I beg to advise you that since the hearing of the original application in this case, Captain William A. Clark of Troop B, Pennsylvania State Police, at my request, conducted an investigation to the case and has advised me that he is of the opinion that clemency might properly be shown this applicant. I concur in this recommendation and think that under the circumstances, the applicant's request might be granted."

The applicant will be on parole until 1947.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

CHARLES J. MARGIOTTI,
Attorney General.

THOMAS A. LOGUE,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Samuel Tobin—No. 2013

June Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Samuel Tobin, convicted of conspiracy to publish fraudulent railroad tickets, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on September 30, 1932, be commuted from ten years to three years, expiring on September 30, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead guilty to fradulently publishing railroad tickets. He was sentenced to the Eastern State Penitentiary for from ten to twenty years.

We believe he has been sufficiently punished. Our reasons follow: (1) This was the applicant's first offense. (2) He was not the principal conspirator. (3) Accomplices who were employes of the railroad company were not prosecuted. (4) Conduct and employment records during his incarceration have been excellent. (5.) The sentences of three of the accomplices have been commuted upon the recommendation of the Board of Pardons, and they have been released on parole.

The trial judge states: "Viewing all the facts pertaining to the cases of these two brothers, I would recommend to your Board that clemency be granted after they have each served a term of three years, feeling that under all the circumstances the law would be vindicated by this term of imprisonment."

We are in accord with the trial judge's recommendations.

The applicant will be on parole until 1952.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

CHARLES J. MARGIOTTI,
Attorney General.

THOMAS A. LOGUE,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Warren J. Hainley—No. 2068

June Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Warren J. Hainley, convicted of felonious entry, larceny, receiving stolen goods, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Lebanon County, on January 10, 1931, be commuted from six years, to four years, seven months, expiring on August 19, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was convicted of felonious entry and larceny and receiving stolen goods, in 1931. He was sentenced o serve a term of from six to twelve years in the Eastern State Penitentiary.

The present district attorney states that the application appears to have considerable merit. The warden of the Lebanon County Prison, in which institution the applicant has been confined since 1933, states: "Warren J. Hainley has been confined in the Lebanon County Jail for two years. During that entire period he has been a 'trusty'. * * * His conduct has been satisfactory in every detail * * * He has been an ideal prisoner and in my experience with him I would not hesitate to trust him with any job within my power to assign to him * * * Hainley is a young man worthy of serious consideration".

The applicant has served over four and one-half years of his minimum sentence. He has never been involved in any other trouble. We believe he has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal. Employment has been assured. The applicant will be on parole until 1943.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,

In re Application of John Martin—No. 2082
June Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of John Martin, convicted of burglary, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Chester County, on May 31, 1932, be commuted from five years, to three years, three months, expiring on August 31, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead guilty to burglary in 1932. He was sentenced to serve from five to ten years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. He has served over three-fifths of his minimum sentence.

With the exception of having been confined in the Pennsylvania Industrial School in 1915, the applicant was never involved in any other trouble. His institutional record has been satisfactory. We believe he has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

The applicant will be on parole until 1942. Employment has been assured.

In re Application of Ralph Ziccardi—No. 2110
June Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Ralph Ziccardi, convicted of murder of the second degree; voluntary manslaughter; felonious assault, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Venango County, on October 3, 1933, be commuted from six years, to two years, four months, expiring on September 1, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1933, the applicant was convicted of murder of the second degree, voluntary manslaughter, and felonious assault. He was sentenced to serve a term of from six to twelve years in the Western State Penitentiary. After a careful examination of the facts in the case, we are convinced that the applicant was acting in self-defense.

The report of our parole officers states that the persons shot and killed were known as men of bad repute with police records.

The applicant was never involved in any other trouble and enjoyed an excellent reputation. His institutional record has been very good. He has served over two years of his minimum sentence. We believe he has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied that he is not a habitual criminal.

The applicant will be on parole until 1945. He has an excellent home to which he can go and employment has been assured.

In re Application of Lester J. Brachendorf—No. 2132
June Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Lester J. Brachendorf, convicted of statutory rape, assault and battery, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, Quarter Sessions of Lancaster County, on October 27, 1933, be commuted from two years, to one year, ten months, expiring on August 27, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead guilty to statutory rape in 1933. He was sentenced to serve a term of from two to four years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. He was never involved in any other trouble and his institutional record has been excellent.

Warden Foust of the Lancaster County Prison to which institution the applicant was transferred in January, 1934, appeared before the Board and recommended and urged the granting of clemency. By the time the applicant can be released he will have served within two months of his minimum sentence. We believe he has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

The applicant has an excellent home to which he can go and a wife and five children who are in urgent need of his support. Employment has been assured.

The applicant will be on parole until 1937.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Anthony Orlando—No. 2139
June Session, 1935

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the maximum sentence of Anthony Orlando, convicted of robbery, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County on March 25, 1926, be commuted from ten years, to six years, expiring on August 17, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was convicted of robbery in 1926, and was sentenced to serve a term of from five to ten years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. In December, 1927, he was transferred to the Rockview Farm Prison and was released on parole at the expiration of his minimum sentence in 1931. He was convicted of robbery in 1932, in Newark, N. J., and was sentenced to serve a term of from three to five years in the New Jersey State Prison. Upon his release he was returned to the Western State Penitentiary for his parole violation.

The Assistant District Attorney for the County of Philadelphia states "At the meeting of the Board yesterday, the Attorney General asked me to read over the testimony in the case of State of New Jersey vs. Anthony Orlando, wherein the defendant was charged with robbery.

"In accordance with the request made, I have carefully read all of the testimony in the case referred to, and I do not see how it was possible for the jury to have reached a verdict of guilty in the New Jersey case."

Judge McDevitt, who tried the case against the applicant, states in a letter addressed to the applicant that he cannot recommend to them (the Board of Pardons) what they can do, but if the matter were before him on petition, he would be at a loss to understand how the applicant was convicted on such testimony.

The applicant has served approximately a year for his parole violation. We believe he has been sufficiently punished. The applicant will be on parole until 1939.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

CHARLES J. MARGIOTTI,
Attorney General.

THOMAS A. LOGUE,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of G. E. Jones—No. 2222
June Session, 1935

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of G. E. Jones, convicted of receiving stolen goods, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Beaver County on March 16, 1935, be commuted from one and one-half years, to five months, expiring on August 16, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was convicted of receiving stolen goods on March 18, 1935. He was sentenced to serve a term of from one and one-half to three years in the Western State Penitentiary. The facts of the case are as follows: The applicant and his brother were partners in a garage business, specializing in buying and selling wrecked cars. Around May, 1934, they bought a wrecked car and turned it over to another party to repair. The car returned and the applicant's brother decided to keep the car for his own use and drove it for about nine months. It was then discovered by the police that the body had been changed, as well as the serial and some secret numbers. The serial number on the motor, however, corresponded with the serial number on the title. The evidence upon which the applicant was convicted was very flimsy, and there was scarcely any evidence to connect him with the crime.

The assistant district attorney who tried the case is not opposed to clemency. We believe the applicant has been sufficiently punished. The applicant will be on parole until 1938.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Charles W. Miasel—No. 2272
June Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Charles W. Maisel, convicted of fraudulently making a written instrument and bringing stolen property into the State, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on June 4, 1934, be commuted from four years, to one year, two months, expiring on August 4, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead guilty to fraudulently making a written instrument and bringing stolen property into the State. On June 4, 1934, he was sentenced to serve a term of from four to thirteen years in the Eastern State Penitentiary.

The applicant has served over one year of his minimum sentence, and has a good institutional and employment record. No one suffered any loss, as he only attempted to sell bonds which had been stolen. Pending his trial, and while he was under bail, he was employed in a fiduciary capacity by the Welfare Department in New York City, handling large sums of money.

The accomplice, who has never been brought to trial, is now in the hands of the Federal authorities in Florida. The applicant has agreed to testify against the accomplice if brought to trial.

While we are satisfied that the applicant knew that he was dealing with stolen property, we are also convinced that he had no connection with the stealing of the property and was being used by other parties. By the time he can be released he will have served over one-fourth of his minimum sentence. We believe he has been sufficiently punished.

Employment has been assured in Illinois. The applicant will be on parole until 1947.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE.
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

In re Application of Raymond Heimlich—No. 2276
June Session, 1935

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application, having been heard upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Raymond Heimlich, convicted of taking a female under the age of sixteen years for the purpose of sexual intercourse, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on December 29, 1933 be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead nolle contendere to charges of taking a female under the age of sixteen years for the purpose of sexual intercourse. He was adjudged guilty and was sentenced to serve a term of from two and one-half to five years in the Eastern State Penitentiary.

Judge McDevitt, the trial judge, states: "If the affidavits accompanying this application and purporting to be made by Wanda Ilando and Margaret Morris are true, the petitioner should be pardoned and they should be arrested for perjury." Later, he stated: "I had the two girls in court yesterday and they told practically the same story that is contained in their affidavits. If they are telling the truth, of course Heimlich should be pardoned."

The district attorney's representative, who appeared before us at the hearing, stated that he is satisfied that the applicant is not guilty.

A report from the parole agent who investigated the case states: "Recital of facts as incorporated in petition are unexaggerated. Petitioner is very obviously an innocent victim of the conduct of evil designing chance acquaintance."

After a careful examination of all the facts and reports in the case, we are satisfied that the applicant was innocent and accordingly we recommend a pardon. Employment has been assured and he has an excellent home to which he can go.

In re Application of Julius Rasmus—No. 2284
June Session, 1935

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application, having been heard upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Julius Rasmus, convicted of robbery, breaking and entering, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Columbia County, on December 22, 1930, be commuted from ten years, to four years, eight months, expiring on August 22, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead guilty to robbery and breaking and entering and was sentenced to serve a term of from ten to twenty years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. He was only nineteen years of age at the time of the commission of the crime. He never was involved in any other trouble.

The trial judge and the trial district attorney have no objection to the granting of clemency. He has served over four and one-half years of his minimum sentence. We believe he has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

The applicant has an excellent home to which he can go and there is a reasonable probability of his securing employment.

In re Application of W. Nelson Truax—No. 2335
June Session, 1935

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application, having been heard upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that W. Nelson Truax, convicted of false entries by officer of bank, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Delaware County, on June 23, 1933, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was convicted of making false entries and material omissions in books of a bank; false pretense; making and exhibiting false entries and papers by bank officers, and fraudulently making, altering and uttering a written instrument with intent to defraud. He was sentenced to serve a term of from two to five years in the Delaware County Jail. He was paroled on September 18, 1933.

The assistant district attorney who tried the case writes, "The Court paroled him after he had served less than three months of his sentence, and the reason they did so was apparent in that they were convinced Mr. Traux had been sufficiently punished by his conviction and short period of incarceration. This office does not have any objection to the granting of a pardon to the defendant in this case and believes that such action on the part of your Honorable Board would serve the ends of Justice entirely."

The applicant was never involved in any other trouble and enjoys an excellent reputation in the community in which he lives. Many prominent persons have written to us and have urged us to recommend clemency.

The pardon will in part remove the stigma of the crime from the applicant and his family and will be of material assistance to his advancement.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead guilty to the larceny of a number of chickens in 1932. He was sentenced to serve a term of from four to eight years in the Eastern State Penitentiary.

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary states: "This man has a good institutional record at Graterford and Rockview. If he was eligible for parole would undoubtedly receive favorable consideration on the recommendation made by the Rockview Farm officials."

The applicant has served approximately five-sixths of his minimum sentence and we believe he has been sufficiently punished. Employment has been assured.

The applicant will be on parole until 1940.

In re Application of Walter Rhoades—No. 2365
June Session, 1935

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Walter Rhoades, convicted of rape, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Pike County on December 17, 1934, be commuted from two and one-half years to nine months, expiring on September 17, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was convicted of rape in 1934. He was sentenced to serve a term of from two and one-half to five years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. After a careful examination of the records in the case there is considerable doubt in our minds as to the applicant's guilt. He was never involved in any other trouble, and his institutional record has been excellent.

Several weeks ago, through an unfortunate accident, the applicant lost an eye. An accomplice, who probably was technically guilty of rape, died a short time ago in the penitentiary.

We are satisfied that the applicant is not a habitual criminal and will never become involved in any other trouble. He will be on parole until 1939. Employment has been assured.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1924, the applicant plead guilty to robbery, being armed with an offensive weapon. He was sentenced to serve a term of from two and one-half to five years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. On April 3, 1925, he was transferred to the Western State Penitentiary. He was released on parole on December 20, 1926. On January 14, 1929, he was sentenced to serve a term of ten years in New York State for carrying a pistol. He was paroled from Great Meadow Prison in New York, on September 13, 1934, and was on the same day returned to the Western State Penitentiary to serve the remainder of the unexpired portion of his original sentence.

We believe the applicant has been sufficiently punished for his parole violation.

The applicant has an excellent home to which he can go in New Jersey. Our recommendation is contingent upon his removal to that State. He will be on parole until March, 1937.

In re Application of Casmire Zielaskowski—No. 2368
June Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

zSir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the maxmum sentence of Casmire Zielaskowski, convicted of assault and battery with intent to ravish, false impersonation of a police officer, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Berks County on June 18, 1932, be commuted from five years to three years, two months, expiring on August 18, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was convicted of assault with intent to ravish and false impersonation of police officer, in 1932. He was sentenced to serve a term of from two and one-half to five years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. On May 24, 1933, he was transferred to the Berks County Prison. While working on the outside of the prison he and several others were furnished with liquor and after becoming intoxicated they drove away in a truck they had been using in their work. Upon becoming sober, they returned to the prison in a taxicab. The applicant was sentenced to serve a term of four months for escape, the sentence to run concurrently with the original sentence.

Judge Schaeffer and Judge Shanaman recommend clemency, stating that the jail break should not be a bar to clemency and that this is a proper case for parole. The applicant would already have been released on parole except for the escape.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1922, the applicant when only seventeen years of age, withheld a sales slip in a cigar store in the amount of $2.50. He was charged with having stolen $17.00 and offered to make restitution. He plead guilty to larceny, was placed on probation for two years, ordered to pay the costs of prosecution and make full restitution. This was done the same day of sentence.

The applicant was never involved in any other trouble and has been conducting himself in a commendable manner. He is employed at the present time in the Department of Public Safety in the City of Pittsburgh, as Assistant Bertillon Operator.

The Honorable Samuel H. Gardner, who was assistant district attorney at the time, the Honorable Ralph Smith, the Honorable Andrew T. Park, District Attorney, and others recommend the granting of a pardon.

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Charles Fashion, convicted of voluntary manslaughter and felonious assault in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Blair County on March 12, 1932, be commuted from six years to three years, five months, expiring on August 12, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1932 the applicant was convicted of voluntary manslaughter and felonious assault. He was sentenced to serve a term of from six to twelve years in the Western State Penitentiary.

The applicant killed his brother alleging that his wife and his brother had been intimate for some time, the brother living in his home. During a quarrel after the discovery of his wife's and brother's intimacies, his brother hit him and in a daze he shot and killed the brother. No other motive for the killing has been given by the Commonwealth. The applicant has served almost three and one-half years of his minimum sentence. We believe he has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

The applicant will be on parole until 1942. Employment has been assured.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

NOT SITTING,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Alexander Capiello—No. 2394
June Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Alexander Capiello, convicted of rape and incestuous fornication in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on June 6, 1930, be commuted from seven and one-half years to five years, two months, expiring on August 6, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1930 the applicant and his brother plead guilty to rape and incestuous fornication. They were sentenced to serve terms of from seven and one-half to fifteen years in the Eastern State Penitentiary.

The report of the Municipal Court shows that the sister, upon whom the rape was supposed to have been committed, had not been harmed physically, although there is no question but that the applicant and his brother had taken certain liberties with her.

The trial judge states: "* * * I am convinced that there was no doubt of their guilt (the applicant and his brother), but considering their age at the time of their commission of the crime, if the Board sees fit to commute their sentence, I have no objection to it." The district attorney's representative who appeared before us at the open session, stated that he was not opposed to the granting of clemency.

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary states: "This man has had a satisfactory institutional record. Was employed as a teacher at Graterford,—present time employed as clerk in Philadelphia institution. If eligible for parole would probably receive favorable consideration."

The applicant was never involved in any other trouble and was only eighteen years of age when sentenced. We believe he has been sufficiently punished. An excellent home and employment has been provided. He will be on parole until 1945.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

CHARLES J. MARGIOTTI,
Attorney General.

June Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Mike Capiello, convicted of rape and incestuous fornication in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on June 6, 1930, be commuted from seven and one-half years to five years, two months, expiring on August 6, 1935.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Chester L. Gipe—No. 2400
June Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Chester L. Gipe, convicted of forgery in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Franklin County, on October 10, 1931, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1931 the applicant plead guilty to forgery and was sentenced to serve from two and one-half to five years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. At the expiration of his minimum term he was released on parole. Since, then, he has been gainfully employed and has conducted himself in an exemplary manner.

The trial judge states: "I have a great deal of sympathy for this young man and feel that his fall came through a weakness which was not known when he was placed in a position of trust in the bank and that the temptation proved too great for him through the influence of a stronger mind. He had a most excellent record while in the penitentiary, I am informed, and has been working and doing well since he was paroled from that institution. I feel that the Board could well grant to him the pardon for which he is applying, so that he may go out and make some success in life. He is yet a young man and I believe will succeed if he is given the opportunity. For these reasons I am very willing to recommend to the Board the granting of a full pardon in this case."

The district attorney, in a letter to the applicant states: "I will not make any objections to your application for pardon and I hope you will succeed in getting it; however, it is my policy to make no recommendations in any cases."

The applicant was never involved in any other trouble. On February 16, 1935, he was awarded a prize at the Eastern State Penitentiary for being the most outstanding and promising parolee released from the penitentiary during the year 1934.

A pardon will in part remove the stigma of the crime from the applicant and his family and will be of material assistance to his advancement.

In re Application of Joseph Vitaliano—No. 2401

June Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the life sentence of Joseph Vitaliano, convicted of murder, first degree, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Northampton County on March 25, 1925, be commuted from life imprisonment to ten years, five months, expiring on August 25, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was convicted of murder of the first degree in 1925, and was sentenced to death. The death sentence was commuted to life imprisonment. He was never involved in any other trouble.

The applicant is a native of Italy, 72 years of age, and is ready and willing to pay his own transportation to his native country. The district attorney and the Board of Trustees of Eastern State Penitentiary have no objections to commutation of sentence for deportation. Our recommendation is contingent upon his return to and remaining in Italy.

In re Application of Howard B. Allen—No. 2411

June Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Howard B. Allen, convicted of conspiracy to cheat and defraud in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Allegheny County, on March 28, 1933, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was Superintendent of Motor Vehicles at the Allegheny County Garage. He authorized three county employes to charge gasoline at certain designated stations for their own cars which were being used in work for the county. The applicant made this authorization on the orders of one of the county commissioners. The applicant did not profit by the transaction. A demurrer was entered to the evidence, and the applicant was adjudged guilty of making false entries and conspiracy to cheat and defraud. He was ordered to make restitution to the county in the sum of $550.00 and pay one-half the costs. Two of the three persons who received the gasoline were also adjudged guilty and upon appeal the Superior Court held that there was not a scintilla of evidence that defendants tried to defraud the county, that all the evidence showed that the gas used in the cars was used for county purposes and that the Commonwealth failed to produce any evidence of conspiracy or to show any fraudulent conversion. The trial court was reversed and these two persons were discharged. The facts upon which the applicant was adjudged guilty were the same as those in which the Superior Court passed in the other two cases. We are in accord with the Superior Court.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Joshua Matthews, convicted of voluntary manslaughter, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County on May 19, 1933, be commuted from three years to two years, three months, expiring on August 19, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was convicted of voluntary manslaughter in 1933. He was sentenced to serve a term of from three to ten years in the Eastern State Penitentiary.

The District Attorney's representative, who appeared before us at the hearing, stated that the killing occurred in self-defense and recommended favorable consideration. The applicant has served over two-thirds of his minimum sentence. He was never involved in any other trouble and has an excellent institutional record.

We believe he has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

The applicant will be on parole until 1943.

In re Application of John Pidcock—No. 2416

June Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of John Pidcock, convicted of arson, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Bucks County, on September 5, 1933, be commuted from ten years to one year, eleven months, expiring on August 5, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant when only seventeen years of age, plead guilty to arson. He was sentenced to serve from ten to twenty years in the Eastern State Penitentiary.

The trial District Attorney states: "My feelings about this case was that the boy was properly convicted but I also felt that the Judge was unduly severe in the sentence which he imposed."

The applicant was never involved in any other trouble and has a satisfactory institutional record. We believe he has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied that he is not a habitual criminal. He has an excellent home to which he can go.

The applicant will be on parole until 1953.

In re Application of Earl Nicholson—No. 2419

June Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Earl Nicholson, convicted of statutory rape, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Fayette County, on March 6, 1934, be commuted from three years to one year, five months, expiring on August 6, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead guilty to statutory rape in 1934. He was sentenced to serve a term of from five to six years in the Western State Penitentiary. It appears that the prosecutrix had a very poor reputation as to chastity. We believe that if the information which our parole agent has given us had been presented to the court, he would not have been convicted.

The applicant has served almost one-half of his minimum sentence. He was never involved in any other serious trouble. We believe he has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

He will be on parole until 1940.

In re Application of Alfonse Pacella—No. 2421

June Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Alfonse Pacella, convicted of aggravated assault and battery, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Allegheny County, on November 30, 1931, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was a patrolman on the police force of the City of Pittsburgh, in 1931. While covering the beat with a fellow policeman, they became involved in a fight and the applicant used his mace rather freely. He was convicted of aggravated assault and battery on November 30, 1931, and was sentenced to serve a term of ninety days in the Allegheny County Workhouse.

Prior to his conviction and subsequent thereto, the applicant was never involved in any trouble.

A pardon will in part remove the stigma of the conviction from the applicant and his family and will be of material assistance to his advancement.

The District Attorney's representative who appeared before us at our open session was not opposed to the granting of clemency.

In re Application of Daniel F. Mulligan—No. 2429

June Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Daniel F. Mulligan, convicted of receiving stolen goods, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Luzerne County, on December 5, 1927, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was convicted of receiving stolen goods. He was sentenced to serve a term of one and one-half years in the Luzerne County Prison. The applicant must receive only fifteen hours more credits before being awarded an A. B. Degree at Pennsylvania State College.

The trial District Attorney states: "The facts related by the applicant with reference to his profession, his family relations and responsibilities are correct, and his efforts to rehabilitate himself and better equip himself in his profession are commendable. In view of the fact that the applicant served a term in the Luzerne County Prison and is at liberty at the present time, and especially in view of the fact that he has made a serious effort to re-establish himself in the community, I do not know of any reason why the petitioner should not receive favorable consideration."

The Supervisor of Paroles recommends a pardon.

A pardon will in part remove the stigma of the crime from the applicant and his family and will be of material assistance to his advancement.

Moersbacher, convicted of illegal transportation of intoxicating liquors, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Montgomery County, on November 21, 1923, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1923, the applicant was convicted of illegal transportation of intoxicating liquors. He was sentenced to serve a term of four months' imprisonment in the Montgomery County Prison. He was never convicted of any other crime.

The trial judge states: "* * * In my opinion the application is most meritorious."

The applicant is established in business and enjoys an excellent reputation. A pardon will in part remove the stigma of the crime from the applicant and his family and will be of material assistance to his advancement.

In re Application of Paul Della Pelle—No. 1727

July Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Paul Della Pelle, convicted of arson, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Chester County, on March 13, 1933, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1933, the applicant was part owner of a mushroom establishment at Kennett Square, Pennsylvania. He was in straightened financial circumstances and to get some money he set fire to the building for the purpose of getting the insurance. No lives were endangered. He plead guilty to arson and was sentenced to serve a term of from three to six years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. He has served almost two and one-half years of his minimum sentence. He was never involved in any other trouble, and his conduct and employment records during his incarceration have been excellent.

The applicant has a wife and three children who are in urgent need of his support. Employment has been assured by a mushroom concern, and the employment being seasonal his early release must be effected to enable him to take advantage of the employment offer. Accordingly, we recommend a pardon rather than a commutation of sentence.

We do not believe the applicant to be a habitual criminal and there are reasonable grounds to believe that he will never become involved in any other crime.

In re Application of David Disque—No. 843
September Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the life sentence of David Disque, convicted of murder, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County, on June 5, 1922, be commuted from life imprisonment to minimum of twelve years, six months, expiring on October 25, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant and three others in July of 1921 broke into the home of one, Sarah Parr, the grandmother of one of the group. No weapons were taken to the scene of the crime, but a rubber hose was picked up in the yard, and after binding Mrs. Parr, she was struck with the rubber hose in order to make her tell where money was hidden. Mrs. Parr was eighty-four years of age and died the same day as the result of bodily injuries inflicted and shock.

The applicant and one of the accomplices, Henry Reinschreiber, were found guilty of murder of the first degree and were sentenced to be electrocuted. These sentences were subsequently commuted to life imprisonment. The two other accomplices plead guilty to murder of the second degree and were sentenced to serve terms of from ten to twenty years. One of these accomplices died in prison and the other was released on parole on September 29, 1931. Reinschreiber's sentence was commuted in May of 1933, and he was released on parole. Of the four accomplices the applicant is the only one still confined.

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary states: "If this man was eligible for parole he would probably receive favorable consideration because of excellent institutional record and attitude, as well as the fact that all other participants in the crime have been released."

The Supervisor of Paroles recommends the application.

We believe the applicant has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied that he is not a habitual criminal.

The applicant will be on parole the remainder of his life. Employment has been assured.

In re Application of John Shaffer—No. 1012
September Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of John Shaffer, convicted of robbery, larceny, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Allegheny County, on April 3, 1930, be commuted from ten years to five years, eight months, expiring on December 8, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1930 the applicant and two accomplices plead guilty to several charges of robbery and larceny. All were sentenced to serve terms of from ten to twenty years in the Western State Penitentiary. The one accomplice died in February, 1924, and the other's sentence was commuted and he was released on parole in June of this year. The District Attorney's representative who appeared before us at the open hearing recommended a commutation of sentence. The Supervisor of Paroles recommends clemency. The Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary states: "If this inmate were eligible for parole, we probably would recommend him for parole because his present sentence constitutes his first conviction and he has an excellent prison record."

The trial judge made no objections to the granting of clemency.

The applicant has served over five and one-half years of his minimum sentence. He was never involved in any other trouble and his institutional record is excellent. Accordingly, we believe that he has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

September Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Patrick Valenti, convicted of rape, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Luzerne County, on April 11, 1931, be commuted from five years to four years, seven months, expiring on November 11, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1931, the applicant plead guilty to rape. He was sentenced to serve a term of from five to ten years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. The trial judge states: "I sentenced these defendants. They have about eight months to finish their terms. During their confinement, Valenti lost his father, Howell's parents, mother and father, are in ill health and Burgio's mother is quite ill.

"I am told that these young men have behaved themselves during their imprisonment. I have received communications on various occasions from them and have no objection to favorable action upon their petition and would be pleased if these young men were paroled. I understand that employment is waiting for all of them."

The District Attorney has no objection to the granting of clemency.

Warden Healey, of the Luzerne County Prison, to which institution the applicant was transferred, states: "I personally believe, that if the Board can see fit to consider this deserving case, these young men will enter society again, and remain law abiding citizens for the balance of their lives. September Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of John Leo Keenan, convicted of murder in the second degree, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County on January 26, 1932, be commuted from seven years to three years, ten months, expiring on November 26, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant and an accomplice in 1932 attempted to rob a store. The applicant was carrying a revolver and in the excitement of the hold-up, when the clerk in the store resisted, the gun was fired killing the applicant's accomplice. The applicant plead guilty to murder in the second degree and was sentenced to serve a term of from seven to twenty years in the Western State Penitentiary.

The Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary states: "If this inmate were eligible for parole, we probably would recommend him for parole because his present sentence constitutes his first conviction and he has a good prison record, September 6, 1935."

The trial judge says: "This is an extraordinary case. I remember this young man distinctly and am of the opinion that his case may be a proper one for clemency. * * * I should think he would be safe to be allowed at liberty under parole."

The District Attorney's representative appearing before us at open hearing, stated that he was in favor of granting clemency.

The defendant has served almost four years of his minimum sentence. We believe that he has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied that he is not a habitual criminal.

The applicant will be on parole until 1952. Employment has been assured in Ohio and our recommendation is contingent upon his removal to that State.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

CHARLES J. MARGIOTTI,
Attorney General.

THOMAS A. LOGUE,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

GEORGE H. EARLE,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Ralph Orzechowski—No. 1483
September Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Ralph Orzechowski, convicted of breaking and entering, robbery, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Columbia County on December 22, 1930, be commuted from ten years to five years, expiring on December 22, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant and several others plead guilty to several charges of robbery and breaking and entering. The applicant was sentenced to serve a term of from ten to twenty-years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. The trial district attorney and the trial judge have no objections to the granting of clemency. The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary states: "This man has a satisfactory institutional record at Philadelphia and in the Luzerne County Prison. If this man was eligible for parole he would probably receive favorable consideration because he has no previous criminal record."

We believe the applicant will have been sufficiently punished if he serves five years of his minimum sentence and we recommend that the minimum sentence be commuted to five years.

The sentence of Julius Rasmus, an accomplice, was commuted this year, and we are recommending a commutation of sentence for two others accomplices, William Joseph Tunilla and Joseph Bubrowswi, this month.

We are satisfied that the applicant is not an habitual criminal. He will be on parole until 1950.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

CHARLES J. MARGIOTTI,
Attorney General.

THOMAS A. LOGUE,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

GEORGE H. EARLE,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Andrew J. Ignasiak—No. 1852
September Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Andrew J. Ignasiak, convicted of forgery, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Erie County on April 24, 1933, be commuted from four years to two years, six months, expiring on October 24, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead guilty to forgery in 1933. He was sentenced to serve a sentence of from four to eight years in the Western State Penitentiary. He has served approximately two and one-half years of his minimum sentence. He was never involved in any other trouble and his conduct and employment records during his incarceration have been excellent.

Honorable James P. Rossiter, Honorable Norbert J. Fitzgerald, Honorable Thomas W. Barber and other reputable citizens have recommended a commutation of sentence.

We believe the applicant has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

The applicant will be on parole until 1941.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

CHARLES J. MARGIOTTI,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Edward G. Strickler—No. 1879
September Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Edward G. Strickler, convicted of embezzlement, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Franklin County, on June 6, 1931, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows.

The applicant plead guilty to embezzlement in 1931. He was sentenced to serve a term of from five to ten years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. The sentence was commuted in September of 1934 and the applicant was released on parole on October 27th of that year. The applicant was never involved in any other trouble. His conduct and employment records during his incarceration were excellent. Since his release he has conducted himself in an exemplary manner.

The trial District Attorney states: "Since Mr. Strickler was paroled, I have seen him frequently, observed his habits and conduct and I am satisfied there can be no complaint in that respect."

The trial judge states: "* * * I feel now as I felt at the time that the petition was presented by this man in reference to his parole, that he has paid the full penalty for anything which occurred in his lifetime and that there was no reason that I could see then why a parole should not be granted to him; nor can I see any reason why a full pardon should not be granted to him. Since his return home on parole he has conducted himself as a good citizen, has been working wherever it was possible to obtain employment and I believe that he is now entitled to a full and complete pardon from your Board. * * *"

A pardon in part will remove the stigma of the crime from the applicant and his family and will be of material assistance to his advancement.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

CHARLES J. MARGIOTTI,
Attorney General.

THOMAS A. LOGUE,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Louis Finger—No. 1888
September Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Louis Finger, convicted of larceny of automobile, conspiracy, assault with intent to rob, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on July 21, 1933, be commuted from three years to two years, three months, expiring on October 21, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead guilty in 1933, to larceny of an automobile and conspiracy to assault with intent to rob. He was sentenced to serve a term of from three to ten years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. Two accomplices received lighter sentences and both have been released for some time.

The Supervisor of Paroles recommends clemency and the Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary states: "This man has a satisfactory institutional record. If eligible for parole would probably receive favorable consideration."

The applicant has served practically three-fourths of his minimum sentence. We believe he has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied that he is not a habitual criminal.

The applicant will be on parole until 1943. Suitable employment has been assured.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

In re Application of Jack Williamson—No. 1930
September Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Jack Williamson, convicted of robbery in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Westmoreland County, on September 8, 1932, be commuted from five years to three years, three months, expiring on December 8, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1932, the applicant plead guilty to robbery, and was sentenced to from five to twenty years in the Western State Penitentiary.

The District Attorney states: "Since at the last Session of your Honorable Board, David Lewis, the ring leader of this group, was paroled there is no advantage in our opposing the applications of these two men who were mere accomplices. Any action your Honorable Board desires to take in this matter will be satisfactory to this office."

The Supervisor of Paroles recommends clemency. The Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary states: "If this inmate were eligible for parole, we probably would recommend him for parole because this is his first imprisonment and because of his good prison record * * *."

We believe the applicant has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

The applicant will be on parole until 1952. Employment has been assured him.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

Secretary of the Commonwealth.

In re Application of Harry R. Cook—No. 2103
September Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Harry R. Cook, convicted of assault and battery to rob, assault with intent to murder, conspiracy, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Jefferson County, on December 20, 1930, be commuted from twenty-three and one-half years to five years, expiring on December 20, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead guilty to aggravated assault and battery with intent to rob, assault with intent to murder and conspiracy, all arising out of the assault of one man wih the intention and accomplishment of obtaining money.

The trial judge states: "* * * Our citizens want him [the applicant] pardoned. The facts set forth in his application are correct, and under all the circumstances I am sure the ends of justice have been met and I strongly urge and recommend that Harry R. Cook be pardoned."

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary states: "If this inmate were eligible for parole, we probably would recommend him for parole because his present sentence constitutes his first conviction and he has an excellent prison record (the sentence of his accomplice J. L. Lindermuth, B-2385, was commuted, and he was released on parole on August 7, 1934)."

The applicant has never been involved in any other trouble and we believe he will have been sufficiently punished if he serves five years of his minimum sentence.

The applicant enjoyed an excellent reputation prior to the commission of the crime. We are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

The applicant will be on parole until 1977. Employment has been assured and arrangement have been made for a satisfactory home.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

CHARLES J. MARGIOTTI,
Attorney General.

THOMAS A. LOGUE,

The above recommendation is approved:

In re Application of Howard J. Cornish—No. 2397

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Howard J. Cornish, convicted of robbery, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on June 25, 1928, be commuted from ten years to seven years, four months, expiring on October 25, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1928, the applicant, when only eighteen years of age, plead guilty to robbery. He was sentenced to serve a term of from ten to twenty years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. He was never involved in any other trouble.
